اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَجِّزْ جَعْدَهُ

○ إِنَّمَا وَلِيُّكُمُ اللَّهُ وَرَسُولُهُ وَالَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا الَّذِينَ يُقِيمُونَ الصَّلَاةَ وَيُؤْتُونَ الزَّكَاةَ وَهُمْ رُكَّعُونَ ○

But rather, your Guardian is Allah, and His Rasool, and those who are believers, those who establish the Salat and are giving the Zakat while they are performing Ruku (Surah Al Maida 5:55)

“(It is narrated) from Imam Ali ibn Al-Husayn ^(a.s) and Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) having said (about) [5:55]:
‘It was revealed regarding Ameerul Momineen Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^(a.s).” – Tafseer Abu Hamza Al Thumali

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى فَاطِمَةَ وَبَيْتِهَا وَبَعْلِهَا وَبَنِيهَا
وَالسُّنَّتِ فِيهَا مَعَارِجُ حَطِّ عِلْمِكَ

﴿ وَ قَالَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ : فَاطِمَةُ بَضْعَةٌ مِنِّي مَنْ آذَاهَا فَقَدْ آذَانِي وَ مَنْ آذَانِي فَقَدْ آذَى اللَّهُ ﴾

The Prophet ﷺ said: "Fatima ^(s.a) is a part of me; whoever harms her, has harmed me, and whoever harms me has harmed Allah ^(SWT)".

Bihar Al-Anwar, Vol. 30, p. 353

يَا مُوَلَاتِي يَا فَاطِمَةُ اغْيِثِينِي

أَسْأَلُكَ يَا فَاطِمَةُ الزَّهْرَةَ الصَّدِيقَةَ الْكُبْرَى

○ حَسْبُنَا اللَّهُ وَنِعْمَ الْمَوْلَى وَنِعْمَ النَّصِيرُ ○

Sufficient for us is Allah, and [He is] the best Disposer of affairs and the best Helper (Surah Al-Imran 3:173)

﴿ وَ قَوْلُهُ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ: أَفْضَلُ الصَّدَقَةِ أَنْ يَعْلَمَ الْمَرْءُ عِلْمًا ثُمَّ يُعَلِّمُهُ أَخَاهُ ﴾

The Prophet ﷺ said: "The best form of charity is for a person to gain knowledge and then teach it to his brother".

﴿ وَقَالَ مُعَاوِيَةُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ لِلصَّادِقِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: رَجُلٌ رَاوِيَةٌ لِحَدِيثِكُمْ يَبُتُّ ذَلِكَ فِي النَّاسِ وَ يُشَدِّدُهُ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ وَ قُلُوبِ شِيعَتِكُمْ وَ لَعَلَّ عَابِدًا مِنْ شِيعَتِكُمْ لَيْسَتْ لَهُ هَذِهِ الرَّوَايَةُ أَيُّهُمَا أَفْضَلُ قَالَ الرَّوَايَةُ لِحَدِيثِنَا يَشَدُّ بِهِ قُلُوبَ شِيعَتِنَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ أَلْفِ عَابِدٍ ﴾

Mu'awiyah ibn Ammar asked Imam Al-Sadiq ^(a.s.): "A man who narrates your Hadith, spreading it among the people and strengthening it in their hearts and the hearts of your followers—compared to a devout worshipper among your followers who does not possess such narration—which of the two is superior?"
Imam Al-Sadiq ^(a.s.) replied: "The one who narrates our Hadith and strengthens the hearts of our followers through it is superior to a thousand worshippers."

﴿ حَدَّثَنَا عَنْ عَبْدِ السَّلَامِ بْنِ صَالِحٍ الْهَرَوِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ أَبَا أَحْسَنِ الرِّضَا عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ يَقُولُ: رَجِمَ اللَّهُ عَبْدًا أَحْيَا أَمْرَنَا فَقُلْتُ لَهُ فَكَيْفَ يُحْيِي أَمْرَكُمْ قَالَ يَتَعَلَّمُ عُلُومَنَا وَ يُعَلِّمُهَا النَّاسَ فَإِنَّ النَّاسَ لَوْ عِلِمُوا مَحَاسِنَ كَلَامِنَا لَاتَّبَعُونَا قَالَ فَقُلْتُ لَهُ يَا ابْنَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ فَقَدْ رَوَيْتَنَا عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَنَّهُ قَالَ مَنْ تَعَلَّمَ عِلْمًا لِيُمَارِيَ بِهِ السُّفَهَاءَ أَوْ يُبَاهِيَ بِهِ الْعُلَمَاءَ أَوْ لِيُقْبَلَ بِوُجُوهِ النَّاسِ إِلَيْهِ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ فَقَالَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ صَدَقَ جَدِّي أَ تَنْذِرِي مِنَ السُّفَهَاءِ فَقُلْتُ لَا يَا ابْنَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ فَقَالَ هُمْ قُصَاصٌ مِنْ مُحَالِفِينَا وَ تَنْذِرِي مِنَ الْعُلَمَاءِ فَقُلْتُ لَا يَا ابْنَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ قَالَ هُمْ عُلَمَاءُ آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَلَيْهِمُ السَّلَامُ الَّذِينَ قَرَضَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ طَاعَتَهُمْ وَ أَوْجَبَ مَوَدَّتَهُمْ ثُمَّ قَالَ أَ تَنْذِرِي مَا مَعْنَى قَوْلِهِ أَوْ لِيُقْبَلَ بِوُجُوهِ النَّاسِ إِلَيْهِ قُلْتُ لَا قَالَ يَغْنِي بِذَلِكَ وَ اللَّهُ إِدْعَاءُ الْإِمَامَةِ بِغَيْرِ حَقِّهَا وَ مَنْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ ﴾

From Abd al-Salam ibn Salih al-Harawi, who said:

I heard Abu al-Hasan al-Ridha ^(a.s.) say: "May Allah have mercy on the servant who revives our matter."

I asked him: "How can one revive your matter?"

He replied: "By learning our knowledge and teaching it to others. If people were to know the beauty of our words, they would surely follow us."

I then said: "O son of the Messenger of Allah, it has been narrated to us from Abu Abdillah ^(a.s.) that He said: 'Whoever learns knowledge to argue with the ignorant, boast among scholars, or to attract people's attention toward himself, will be in the Fire.'"

Imam Al-Ridha ^(a.s.) replied: "My grandfather spoke the truth. Do you know who the ignorant are?" I said: "No, O son of the Messenger of Allah." He said: "They are the storytellers from among our opponents. And do you know who the scholars are?" I said: "No, O son of the Messenger of Allah." He said: "They are the scholars of the family of Muhammad ﷺ, those whose obedience Allah has made obligatory and whose love He has mandated."

The Imam then continued: "Do you understand the meaning of the phrase 'to attract people's attention toward himself'?" I said: "No."

He said: "By Allah, it refers to claiming Imamate without its rightful position. Whoever does so is in the Fire."

INTRODUCTION

The Book of 'Man La Yahduruhi Al-Faqih', was authored by the esteemed Shaykh Al Jaleel, Shaykh Al-Saduq Abu Ja'far Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn ibn Babawayh al-Qummi [d.381 ^{AH}]. The translation of this work into English has been done by a humble servant of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}, Haydar Ali Shaykh ibn Muhammad. BAB UL QAIM PUBLICATIONS (B.U.Q) is the publishing house of this book, dedicated to providing unrestricted academic access to this valuable work, and making its content free to all. B.U.Q mission is to foster a culture of learning Hadiths, ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to access and share this knowledge. B.U.Q aims to spread this wisdom and teachings widely, as knowledge of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s} is a legacy for all of humanity.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the name of Allah ^{SWT}, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful.

Praise be to Allah ^{SWT}, O' One who clarified the path to the standards of Islam and made Sunnah a guide to the laws and rulings. He sent His beloved Messenger ^{saws} amongst the creation as extension of his utmost mercy to all of humanity. He revealed the Qur'an as an explanation for everything, concluding his Hujjah through it, and enlightening the path for all people.

Allah ^{SWT} then illuminated the Infallible lanterns through our Prophet Muhammad ^{saws}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, and through his brother, successor and comprehensive inheritor, Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, and his infallible progeny ^{a.s}, who are the fountains of knowledge of the Sovereign Exalted Allah ^{SWT}. They are the foundations of the religion and the pillars of certainty. Through them, we have come to know the boundaries of lawful and unlawful and the acts of devotion, and through them alone, we are saved from the brink of eternal ruin, incomprehensible in magnitude and grandeur. Through them alone, we may live a worthy, fulfilling, and elevated life, far from humiliation, misery, and destruction, and so that we may not live in disgrace like exploited cattle or neglectful beasts.

May Allah's ^{SWT} blessings be upon His trustworthy Messenger ^{saws} and his pure progeny ^{a.s}, who are the custodians of the religion, within whom are the comprehensive treasures of the Qur'an and the secrets of the Most Merciful. When they speak; they are the unfathomable knowledge, When they are silent; they are the inimitable truth, When they walk, they are unparalleled, When they rest, they are unrivalled and supreme. In every hardship, they are the solace and strength that sooth our pain; for every illness, they are the everlasting and mending cure; and in every darkness, they stand alone, radiant and unwavering; the beacons of salvations that guide us. None is created like them, and they are created like none – absolutely matchless in their complete embodiment, secondary only to the sole supreme dominion of the One Allah ^{SWT}, the Al-Mutakabbir and Al-Adheem.

As for this book, 'Man La Yahduruhi al-Faqih', it is known by the scholars and the common folk. It is like the full moon, untouched by the hands of detractors, and few works can compare to it or approach it. Whoever traverses its paths and plains, finds refuge in the stronghold and fortress of Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}. The reader, no matter how much they delve into the vastness of its ocean and immerse themselves in the sweetness of its words and meanings, will find therein their sought-after aim and fulfilled desire. The one confused by conflicting statements seeks refuge in the firm pillars of this book, from misguidance and calamities.

So, blessed is the one who is guided by the light of its guidance, and how honored is the one who follows its path – the true path of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}. Such a person will ease their journey of the hereafter, effortlessly picking at the fruits of the gardens and drink from the pure springs on the Day of Resurrection. The companion of this book will find grace on the day of their departure and true happiness when they rest, by Allah's ^{SWT} will. It will shield them from the troubles of their day and protect them from the dangers of the night. Through it, one will rise in the ascents of dignity and reside in the delight of Imaan and unfathomable eternal bliss.

The author, Shaykh Al-Jaleel Al-Saduq —may Allah's ^{SWT} abundant mercy be upon him—compiled this book with his tireless diligence, accurate judgment, sharp intellect, profound knowledge of narrations, extensive awareness of subtleties, keen perception of hidden aspects, deep understanding of jurisprudence and rulings, matters of the lawful and unlawful, and mastery in the discipline. He avoided error and doubt, composed the book skillfully, and conveyed it effectively. He derived his knowledge from its purest sources and obtained light from its niches and infallible lanterns of guidance. He followed the pure Infallible Imams ^{a.s}, guided by the Prophet ^{saws} and his family ^{a.s}, drawing from their infinite universe of knowledge, enlightened by their guidance, and clinging to the rope of their allegiance, never straying from their light.

Therefore, the seeker, delving through the folds of the cherished and eternal pages of this book, finds a clear methodology, evidence-backed jurisprudence, a solid foundation, wise and prudent reasoning, the correct school of thought, the straight truth, deep wisdom, bright proofs, eloquent speech, proper logic, along with landmarks, knowledge, exquisite insights, fascinating anecdotes, light, beauty, wisdom, and noble traditions, all guiding to the only true path and leading to the straight way – only through the Infallible Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}.

My motivations behind unbridling this ocean of knowledge for the believers was many fold. To compile this book in the manner that you see, my unwavering inspirations to endure the adversity and effort in its preparation was; foremost, the service to my master - Imam al-Zaman, Imam Muhammad ibn Hassan Al-Mahdi; Al-Qa'im; Al-Hujjah; Al-Muntazar; Al-Khalaf al-Salih; Al-Maw'ud; Baqiyatullah; Sahib al-Zaman and satisfaction of His Infallible Forefathers ^{a.s}.

Secondly, I wanted leave behind this ocean of knowledge as a legacy in honor of my parents and the believers, that they may find guidance, wisdom, and strength in its pages. May it serve as a source of enlightenment, guiding them through the trials of life and helping them to grow in virtue and understanding. This work was a means of investment into my eternal life, and may this serve as mediation for the many sins of myself, my parents and the believers – that we may not remain bereft of the intercession of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s} and the famed mercy of Allah ^{SWT}. My aim was to unlock this treasure and share its knowledge and wisdom, for it to be a means of seeking elevated Imaan, spreading the light of guidance and forgiveness for the sins, an offering of charity that may echo beyond the grave, bringing mercy and peace to the souls of my parents and believers.

Lastly, the effort behind these works stems from the inspiration I have drawn from my esteemed teachers and role models, both past and present, whose dedication to knowledge has ignited a lasting flame within me - may Allah ^{SWT} extend his mercy over them. Their shining commitment serves as a beacon, encouraging me to undertake projects of this magnitude despite my own felt inadequacies. I have reflected deeply and considered at length, finding this task immense and myself insufficient, and I have often feared my capacity to be deficient for the scale of the task.

Yet, as a service to the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}, I remain steadfast and eager to serve their cause until my last, striving to spread their boundless knowledge using every tool at my disposal. I acknowledge the challenges and complexities inherent in such work and apologize for any errors that may arise. The burden is heavy, requiring sacrifice, extensive time, and diligence, but with determination and reliance on His divine support, I have taken on this task. My goal is to grow progressively more comprehensive and precise, piecing together these efforts to form a unified and expansive contribution - may Allah ^{SWT} reward us for the efforts we expend for the Truth and allows this work to be a source of benefit for generations to come.

I firmly believe in the immense greatness and profound significance of this book. It is a work that truly warrants translation and widespread dissemination among the masses, ideally undertaken by scholars far more learned and capable than myself. Yet, for now, such a pivotal text must rely on the humble efforts of servants like myself. Insha'Allah, it will receive the justice it rightfully deserves in due time. Perhaps by this effort, we will inscribe a new page in the annals of loyalty to our great Infallible Imams ^{a.s}, and to their teachings.

I raise my hands in supplication to Allah ^{SWT} that He grants me the gratitude for the guidance and success He has bestowed, keeps me away from misguidance and error, and allows me to complete this work as a tribute to Shaykh Abu Ja'far al-Sadiq - may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him - for he is a true genius scholar, as shown by exemplary effort he expended in authoring this book.

We humbly requests all Momineen to recite Surah Al-Fatiha for the souls of our dearly departed Marhoomeen. May Allah ^{SWT} elevate their status in Alam-e-Barzakh, surround them with His boundless mercy, and forgive their sins. We also pray that Allah ^{SWT} bestows His infinite mercy upon our parents and teachers, who inspired and guided us to follow the noble Path of the AhlulBayt ^{a.s} and encouraged us to dedicate ourselves to spreading their timeless teachings.

A heartfelt dua request for the soul of Marhoom Muhammad Hanif Shaykh ibn Ghulam Abbas, May Allah ^{SWT} shower him with everlasting mercy and fill his resting place with light.

﴿إِمَامُ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ الصَّادِقِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : سِتَّةٌ يَلْحَقْنَ الْمُؤْمِنَ بَعْدَ وَفَاتِهِ وَلَدٌ يَسْتَغْفِرُ لَهُ وَ مَصْحَفٌ يُخَلِّفُهُ وَ غَرْسٌ يَغْرِسُهُ وَ صَدَقَةٌ مَاءٍ يُجْرِيهِ وَ قَلِيبٌ يَحْفَرُهُ وَ سُنَّةٌ يُؤْخَذُ بِهَا مِنْ بَعْدِهِ﴾

Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

"Six things follow a believer after his death: a child who seeks forgiveness for him, a Quran he leaves behind, a tree he plants, a charity of water he provides, a well he digs, and a good tradition that is acted upon after him."

Man La Yahduruhi Al-Faqih, Vol. 1, H. 555

TRANSLATOR'S FOREWORD

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the name of Allah ^{SWT}, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful.

It is with profound gratitude and humility that I present this translation of Man La Yahduruhi Al-Faqih, a cornerstone of Shia Islamic jurisprudence authored by the esteemed Sheikh Al-Saduq (may Allah ^{SWT} sanctify his soul). This monumental work, deeply rooted in the wisdom of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}, serves as a timeless guide for believers in their faith, worship, and daily life.

The task of translating such a pivotal text was both an honor and a responsibility. Sheikh Al-Saduq's intent in compiling this 'Man La Yahduruhi Al-Faqih' book was to provide a practical and accessible reference for those who may not have direct access to a jurist. Recognizing its enduring relevance, I undertook this translation with the hope of bringing its profound teachings to a broader audience, ensuring that the divine guidance it encapsulates reaches those who seek it, removing the language barriers.

This translation is the result of meticulous study and careful effort. I relied on original Arabic manuscripts to ensure authenticity and accuracy of text, cross-referencing multiple editions of translations of the text to capture its depth and nuances. To enhance the reliability of the translation, I referred to classical Arabic dictionaries and lexical works to clarify complex terms and their contextual meanings. Additionally, I benefited from other notable translational works and other modern tools at our disposal today, comparing them with the original text to maintain the integrity and consistency of the message.

Throughout the process, I endeavoured to remain faithful to the original text, preserving the depth and essence of Sheikh Al-Saduq's words while rendering them in a manner accessible to contemporary readers. Where necessary, I have included only little clarifications and annotations to provide context for certain terms and concepts, always with the utmost respect for the original work.

I am also profoundly aware of my own limitations and the challenges inherent in such a task. Any shortcomings or errors are mine alone, and I ask for forgiveness of both Allah ^{SWT} and the readers. I humbly invite readers to share their feedback, corrections, or insights, as this translation is not an end but a step toward a greater understanding of this revered work.

May this effort, however small, serve as a source of guidance and benefit for all who engage with it. I pray that Allah ^{SWT} accepts this humble contribution, and that it earns the approval of the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}.

With sincere gratitude,
Haydar Ali Shaykh bin Muhammad

DISCLAIMER

To those who have expressed concerns regarding qualifications to compile and share this treasure of hadith, we appreciate your perspective and recognize the role that scholarship and expertise play in this field. At the same time, we also observe a significant gap in efforts to make the teachings of the AhlulBayt ^{a.s} more accessible to the broader community. This gap has inspired individuals like us to step forward and contribute in whatever humble capacity we can.

Our intention is not to position ourselves as scholars but to serve as facilitators in sharing these invaluable teachings with a wider audience. We respect those who possess greater knowledge and expertise and would support their efforts if they took the lead in this essential work. In the meantime, we will continue our efforts with sincerity and humility, guided by the teachings of the AhlulBayt ^{a.s}, striving to be a small channel through which their light can reach those who seek.

In our understanding, we strive to fill primary role as students of religion to faithfully present the pure traditions of the AhlulBayt ^{a.s} to the people. We understand our responsibility is to convey these sacred teachings exactly as they were received, without addition or omission. We understand that the exclusive right to serve as the Hujjah (divinely appointed proof) upon the believers rests solely with Allah's chosen representatives: the Prophet Muhammad ^{saws} and the Infallible Imams ^{a.s}.

Therefore, we have limited ourselves to only transmit the essence of the Hadiths while leaving the detailed Sharh (commentary) of the Hadith to the scholars. They may offer clarity on the language, context, and circumstances in which the Hadiths were conveyed. However, we still firmly believe in the miracle of the words of the Aimmah ^{a.s}, to be understood by all believers; by the novice and the expert alike. Our true reward and success lie in adhering to this role — conveying the words and meanings of the Aimmah ^{a.s} as intended.

AUTHOR BACKGROUND

The distinguished Shaykh Abu Ja'far Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn ibn Babawayh al-Qummi, widely recognized as "Al-Saduq", is renowned for his profound religious influence during the fourth century of the Islamic era, his prominence was unanimously acknowledged by the Muslim community, and he was deeply revered and respected.

Shaykh al-Tusi, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, mentioned him in "Al-Fihrist" and "Al-Rijal," noting: "Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn was a master of hadith memorization, well-versed in jurisprudence and the science of narrators, and a meticulous critic of narrations. Among the scholars of Qom, none were equal to him in terms of memory and extensive knowledge."

The renowned scholar Abu al-Abbas al-Najashi stated: "Abu Ja'far resided in Ray, where he was a leading elder and jurist, a prominent figure among the community in Khurasan. He visited Baghdad and was heard by the scholars of the community during his youth."

Many other notable figures, including Ibn Idris in "Al-Sara'ir," Ibn Shahrashub in "Al-Ma'alim," al-Muhaqqiq al-Hilli in "Al-Mu'tabar," Ibn Tawus in "Iqbal al-A'mal," al-Allamah in "Al-Khulasah," and Ibn Dawud in his "Rijal," praised him. His name was also mentioned by historians like al-Khatib al-Baghdadi in "Tarikh Baghdad" and al-Zarkali in "Al-A'lam."

Born and raised in Qom, he later travelled to various regions, such as Ray, Sitarabad, Gorgan, Nishapur, Mashhad (at the shrine of Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s}), Marw al-Rudh, Sarakhs, Ilak, Samarqand, Farghana, Balkh (beyond the river), Hamadan, Baghdad, Kufa, Fid, Mecca, and Medina.

His father, Ali ibn al-Husayn—may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on them both—was a prominent figure among the scholars of Qom, known for his leadership and high standing. During a time when Qom was home to numerous eminent scholars and narrators, he stood out. Despite his scholarly prominence, he lived modestly as a merchant, trading in the market with humility and self-sufficiency. Al-Tusi and al-Najashi documented his numerous works across various subjects, and Ibn al-Nadim mentioned him in their works.

Al-Saduq was born in response to a supplication by Imam Muhammad ibn Hassan al-Mahdi ^{a.s}, according to historical sources, which attested to his blessed and virtuous character. No praise could truly capture his stature, for even the esteemed Mulla Muhammad Taqi al-Majlisi remarked; "He is a pillar of religion." It is unsurprising that jurists regard his words as akin to transmitted texts and reliable reports. He authored approximately three hundred works, as documented by Shaykh al-Tusi and others. Regrettably, most have been lost over time, with "Madinat al-Ilm" being one of the greatest among them, now lost. Scholars like al-Majlisi searched for it in vain.

Our Scholarly heritage is rich, yet much has been lost to time due to neglect. It is our duty to preserve, revive, and disseminate these treasures to counter the claims of those who question the legacy of our religious scholarship. May we awaken to this task and honor our scholarly heritage with renewed dedication.

[AL SADUQ]

The honourable Shaykh Al-Jaleel, and jurist, Abu Ja'far Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn ibn Musa ibn Babawayh al-Qummi, the author of this book—may Allah ^{SWT} sanctify his soul—wrote:

After praise to Allah ^{SWT}, it happened that fate drove me to the lands of exile, and destiny brought me to the land of Balkh, specifically the town of Ilaq. There arrived the noble Sharif al-Din Abu Abdullah, known as Ni'mah—Muhammad ibn al-Hasan ibn Ishaq ibn [al-Hasan ibn] al-Husayn ibn Ishaq ibn Musa ibn Ja'far ibn Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn ibn Ali ibn Abi Talib (peace be upon them all).

With his companionship, my happiness was prolonged, my heart was comforted by his memory, and my honor was elevated by his affection, due to his noble character combined with virtues such as modesty, piety, calmness, dignity, religiosity, chastity, godliness, and humility.

He mentioned to me a book authored by Muhammad ibn Zakariya al-Razi, the physician, titled Man La Yahduruhu al-Tabeeb (For Him Who Has No Access to a Doctor), which he found to be effective in its purpose. He requested that I compile for him a book on jurisprudence, covering lawful and unlawful matters, and the statutes and rulings, comprehensively surpassing all I had previously written on the subject, and title it Man La Yahduruhu al-Faqih (For Him Who Has No Access to a Jurist). The intention was for it to serve as his reference, foundation, and guide—one through which he could achieve reward, along with those who read, copy, or act upon its contents.

This was in addition to his copying most of what I carried with me from my works, listening to them, narrating them from me, and familiarizing himself with their entirety, which amounted to two hundred and forty-five books.

I agreed to his request (may Allah ^{SWT} grant him continuous success) because I found him deserving of it. I compiled this book by omitting the chains of narration to avoid excessive length, while ensuring its benefits were plentiful. I did not intend to follow the approach of other compilers who include all they have narrated. Instead, I included only what I issue fatwas upon, deem to be authentic, and believe to be a proof between me and my Lord ^{AZ}—exalted be His remembrance and elevated be His power.

Everything in this book is derived from well-known books that are relied upon and referenced, such as the book of Hariz ibn Abdullah al-Sijistani, the book of Ubaydullah ibn Ali al-Halabi, the works of Ali ibn Mahziyar al-Ahwazi, the books of al-Husayn ibn Sa'id, the Nawadir of Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Isa, the Nawadir al-Hikmah compiled by Muhammad ibn Ahmad ibn Yahya ibn Imran al-Ash'ari, the Kitab al-Rahmah by Sa'd ibn Abdullah, the compilation of our Sheikh Muhammad ibn al-Hasan ibn al-Walid (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with them), the Nawadir of Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr, the books of al-Muhasin by Ahmad ibn Abi Abdullah al-Barqi, the letters of my father (may Allah be pleased with them), and other foundational texts and compilations.

The paths to these works are well-known in the catalog of books I have narrated from my teachers and predecessors (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with them). I have exerted my utmost effort in this task, seeking Allah's ^{SWT} assistance, placing my trust in Him, and asking forgiveness for any shortcomings. My success is only through Allah ^{SWT}. Upon Him I rely, and to Him I turn. He is sufficient for me, and He is the best trustee.

CHAPTERS ON LEGAL CASES AND RULINGS

أَبْوَابُ الْقَضَايَا وَالْأَحْكَامِ

CHAPTER 1 – CHAPTER ON THOSE TO WHOM JUDGMENT IS PERMISSIBLE AND THOSE TO WHOM IT IS NOT PERMISSIBLE

بَابُ مَنْ يَجُوزُ التَّحَاكُمُ إِلَيْهِ وَمَنْ لَا يَجُوزُ

HADITH 3216 – 3220

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3216 - رَوَى أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَائِذٍ عَنْ أَبِي خَدِيجَةَ سَالِمِ بْنِ مُكْرَمِ الْجَمَّالِ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ جَعْفَرُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: «إِيَّاكُمْ أَنْ يُحَاكِمَ بَعْضُكُمْ بَعْضًا إِلَى أَهْلِ الْجَوْرِ وَ لَكِنْ أَنْظِرُوا إِلَى رَجُلٍ مِنْكُمْ، يَعْلَمُ شَيْئًا مِنْ قَضَايَانَا فَاجْعَلُوهُ بَيْنَكُمْ فَإِنِّي قَدْ جَعَلْتُهُ قَاضِيًا فَتَحَاكَمُوا إِلَيْهِ».

Hadith.3216 - Ahmad ibn A'idh narrated from Abu Khadijah Salim ibn Mukram al-Jammal, who said: Abu Abdullah Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s) said:

"Beware that none of you should take another to judgment before the people of tyranny. Instead, look for a man among you who knows something of our judgments, and appoint him as a judge between you, for indeed I have appointed him as a judge. So refer to him for judgment."

Hadith.3217 - Mualla ibn Khunays narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s).

He said: I asked Imam ^(a.s) about the saying of Allah ^(SWT), the Mighty and Majestic:

"Indeed, Allah ^(SWT) commands you to render trusts to their owners and when you judge between people, to judge with justice." (Surah An-Nisa 4:58)

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "It is incumbent upon the Imam ^(a.s) to hand over what is with him to the next Imam ^(a.s) who comes after him. The Imams ^(a.s) have been commanded to judge with justice, and the people have been commanded to follow them."

Hadith.3220 - Hariz narrated from Abu Basir, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} that he said:

"Any man who has a dispute with his brother over a right, and he calls him to a man from among your brothers to judge between them, but he refuses and insists on taking him to these (unjust judges), is like those about whom Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, said:

'Have you not seen those who claim to have believed in what was revealed to you and what was revealed before you? They wish to refer their judgment to Taghut, while they were commanded to reject it'" (Surah An-Nisa 4:60).

CHAPTER 2 – CHAPTER ON THE CATEGORIES OF JUDGES AND THE METHODS OF RULING

بَابُ أَصْنَافِ الْقُضَاةِ وَ وُجُوهِ الْحُكْمِ

HADITH 3221

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3221 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «الْقُضَاةُ أَرْبَعَةٌ ثَلَاثَةٌ فِي النَّارِ وَ وَاحِدٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ رَجُلٌ قَضَى بِجَوْرِ وَ هُوَ يَعْلَمُ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ وَ رَجُلٌ قَضَى بِجَوْرِ وَ هُوَ لَا يَعْلَمُ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ وَ رَجُلٌ قَضَى بِحَقٍّ وَ هُوَ لَا يَعْلَمُ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ وَ رَجُلٌ قَضَى بِالْحَقِّ وَ هُوَ يَعْلَمُ فَهُوَ فِي الْجَنَّةِ » وَ قَالَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «الْحُكْمُ حُكْمَانِ حُكْمُ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ وَ حُكْمُ أَهْلِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَمَنْ أَخْطَأَ حُكْمَ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ حَكَمَ بِحُكْمِ أَهْلِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ وَ مَنْ حَكَمَ بِدِرْهَمَيْنِ بَغْيٍ مَا أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ فَقَدْ كَفَرَ بِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى .»

Hadith.3221 - Abu Abdullah Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s) said:

"The judges are four: three are in the Fire, and one is in Paradise.

A man who judges unjustly while he knows is in the Fire.

A man who judges unjustly while he does not know is in the Fire.

A man who judges justly while he does not know is in the Fire.

And a man who judges justly while he knows is in Paradise."

Al-Sadiq ^(a.s) also said:

"Judgment is of two kinds: the judgment of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, and the judgment of the people of ignorance.

Whoever deviates from the judgment of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has judged by the judgment of the people of ignorance.

And whoever judges for two dirhams contrary to what Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has revealed has indeed disbelieved in Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted."

بَابُ اتَّقَاءِ الْحُكُومَةِ

HADITH 3222 – 3223

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3222 - رَوَى سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «اتَّقُوا الْحُكُومَةَ فَإِنَّ الْحُكُومَةَ إِنَّمَا هِيَ لِلْإِمَامِ أَلْعَالِمِ بِالْقَضَاءِ الْعَادِلِ فِي الْمُسْلِمِينَ كَنَبِيِّ أَوْ وَصِيِّ نَبِيٍّ».

Hadith.3222 - Sulayman ibn Khalid narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} who said:

"Beware of judging, for judgment is only for an Imam who is knowledgeable in judicial matters and just among the Muslims, like a prophet or the executor of a prophet."

CHAPTER 4 – CHAPTER ON THE DISLIKE OF SITTING WITH JUDGES IN THEIR GATHERINGS

بَابُ كَرَاهَةِ مُجَالَسَةِ الْقُضَاةِ فِي مَجَالِسِهِمْ

🕒 HADITH 3224 - 3226 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3224 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ قَالَ: مَرَّ بِي أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ وَ أَنَا جَالِسٌ عِنْدَ الْقَاضِي بِالْمَدِينَةِ فَدَخَلْتُ عَلَيْهِ مِنَ الْغَدِ فَقَالَ لِي «مَا مَجْلِسُ رَأَيْتُكَ فِيهِ أُمِسَ»
قَالَ قُلْتُ لَهُ جُعِلْتُ فِدَاكَ إِنَّ هَذَا الْقَاضِيَّ بِي مُكْرِمٌ قَرِيبًا جَلَسْتُ إِلَيْهِ فَقَالَ لِي «وَمَا يُؤْمِنُكَ أَنْ تَنْزِلَ اللَّعْنَةُ فَتَعُمَّكَ مَعَهُ»
وَفِي خَبَرٍ آخَرَ: «فَتَعُمَّ مَنْ فِي الْمَجْلِسِ».

Hadith.3224 - Muhammad ibn Muslim narrated:

Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} passed by me while I was sitting with the judge in Madinah.

The next day, I went to him, and Imam ^{a.s} said to me: "What was the gathering I saw you in yesterday?"

I said to Him ^{a.s}: "May I be your ransom! This judge honors me, so I sometimes sit with him."

Imam ^{a.s} said to me:

"And what ensures you that the curse will not descend and encompass you along with him?"

[AL SADUQ]

And in another narration: "...and encompass everyone in the gathering?"

CHAPTER 5 – CHAPTER ON THE DISLIKE OF RECEIVING PAYMENT FOR JUDGING

بَابُ كَرَاهَةِ اخْذِ الرِّزْقِ عَلَى الْقَضَاءِ

HADITH 3227

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3227 - رَوَى الْحَسَنُ بْنُ مَحْبُوبٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ سِنَانٍ قَالَ : سُئِلَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَنْ قَاضٍ بَيْنَ قَرِيَّتَيْنِ يَأْخُذُ مِنَ السُّلْطَانِ عَلَى الْقَضَاءِ الرِّزْقَ فَقَالَ «ذَاكَ سُحْتٌ».

Hadith.3227 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abdullah ibn Sinan who said:

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a judge between two villages who takes a salary from the ruler for judging.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "That is unlawful (suht)."

CHAPTER 9 – CHAPTER ON AGREEMENT UPON TWO JUST INDIVIDUALS IN JUDGMENT

بَابُ الْإِتِّفَاقِ عَلَى عَدْلَيْنِ فِي الْحُكْمَةِ

HADITH 3232 – 3233

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3232 - رَوَى عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ الْحَصِينِ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي رَجُلَيْنِ اتَّفَقَا عَلَى عَدْلَيْنِ جَعَلَاهُمَا بَيْنَهُمَا فِي حُكْمٍ وَقَعَ بَيْنَهُمَا فِيهِ خِلَافٌ فَرَضِيَا بِالْعَدْلَيْنِ فَاخْتَلَفَ الْعَدْلَانِ بَيْنَهُمَا عَلَى قَوْلٍ أُيِّيهَا يَمْضِي الْحُكْمُ قَالَ «يُنْظَرُ إِلَى أَفْقَهِيهِمَا وَأَعْلَمِيهِمَا بِأَحَادِيثِنَا وَأَوْرَعِيهِمَا فَيُنْفَذُ حُكْمُهُ وَلَا يُلْتَفَتُ إِلَى الْآخَرِ».

Hadith.3232 - It is narrated from Dawud ibn al-Husayn, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, regarding two men who appointed two just individuals between them to judge a dispute, and they both agreed to the judgment of these two just individuals. However, the two just individuals disagreed in their judgment.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The one who is more knowledgeable in jurisprudence, more learned in our narrations, and more pious should be considered, and his judgment should be implemented. The opinion of the other should be disregarded."

Hadith.3233 - Dawud ibn al-Husayn narrated from Umar ibn Hanzala, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said: I asked about two men who each selected a person and agreed that they would act as arbiters regarding their rights. However, they disagreed in their judgments, and both differed in their understanding of our traditions.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The ruling should be based on the judgment of the one who is more just, more knowledgeable in jurisprudence, more truthful in narrating hadith, and more pious. The ruling of the other should not be considered."

I said: What if both of them are equally just and approved by our companions, and neither is superior to the other?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "In such a case, their narrations from us regarding the matter they have judged should be examined. What is unanimously agreed upon by your companions should be taken from our rulings, and what is singular and not well-known among your companions should be disregarded. Indeed, what is unanimously agreed upon is our ruling, and there is no doubt in it. Matters are of three kinds: a matter whose correctness is clear and should be followed, a matter whose error is clear and should be avoided, and a matter that is ambiguous, whose judgment should be referred to Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious."

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: "That which is lawful is clear, and that which is unlawful is clear, and between them are doubtful matters. Whoever avoids the doubtful matters has saved himself from falling into the unlawful, and whoever indulges in the doubtful matters has committed the unlawful and will perish without realizing it."

I said: What if both narrations from you are well-known and have been transmitted by trustworthy individuals?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Consider the one whose ruling aligns with the Book of Allah ^{SWT} and the Sunnah and contradicts the general public, and adhere to it."

I said: May I be your ransom! If we find that one of the narrations agrees with the general public while the other contradicts it, which one should we follow?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Follow the one that contradicts the general public, for therein lies guidance."

I said: May I be your ransom! What if both narrations agree with the general public?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Look at what their rulers and judges are inclined towards; leave that and take the other."

I said: What if their rulers and judges agree with both narrations?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If that is the case, then delay acting upon it until you meet your Imam, for holding back in doubtful matters is better than plunging into destruction."

Hadith.3236 - A man stayed as a guest with Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} for a few days. Then he presented a legal dispute to him, which he had not previously mentioned to Imam Ali ^{a.s}. So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said to him: "Are you a litigant?" He replied: "Yes." Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Then leave us, for the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) forbade hosting a litigant except when his opponent is also present."

"O Shurayh, observe those who procrastinate, delay payments, oppress others, and deny people their rights despite having wealth and resources. Take the rights of the people from them and sell their properties and houses if necessary.

I heard the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) say:

'Delaying payment by a wealthy Muslim is injustice to another Muslim.'

As for the one who has no wealth, property, or house, there is no recourse against him.

Know that no one can enforce the truth upon people except one who restrains them from falsehood. Treat the Muslims equally in your appearance, speech, and seating so that your relatives do not hope for favoritism, nor do your enemies despair of your justice.

Return the oath to the claimant along with evidence, for this is clearer for truth and firmer in judgment.

Know that Muslims are trustworthy over one another, except for one who has been punished for a crime and has not repented, one who is known for false testimony, or one who is under suspicion.

Beware of irritation and annoyance in the court, which Allah ^{SWT} has made a place of reward and the best form of provision for those who judge with justice.

Grant the claimant time to bring witnesses if they are absent. If he produces them, give him his right, and if not, decide the case against him.

Beware of executing a judgment involving retaliation, legal punishments, or any right of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, without presenting it to me first.

And do not sit in the court until you have eaten something, if Allah ^{SWT} wills."

Hadith.3244 - In the narration of Yunus ibn Abd al-Rahman, from some of his companions, from Abu Abdillah ^(a.s.):

I asked him about evidence when it is presented to establish a right—whether it is permissible for the judge to rule based on the testimony of the witnesses.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "There are five matters in which people must act according to apparent judgment: leadership positions, marriages, slaughtered animals, testimonies, and lineage.

So, if a man's outward appearance is trustworthy, his testimony is accepted, and his inner state is not investigated."

Hadith.3245 - In the narration of al-Nadr ibn Suwayd, attributed to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family):

A man swore an oath that he would weigh an elephant.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said:

"He should place the elephant in a boat, then observe the water level reached by the boat and mark it. After that, he should remove the elephant and load the boat with iron, copper, or anything he wishes until it reaches the marked water level. Then, he should take out the loaded material and weigh it."

Hadith.3246 - In the narration of Amr ibn Shimr, from Jafar ibn Ghalib al-Asadi, who reported: Two men were sitting during the time of Umar ibn al-Khattab when a man passed by them in chains. One of the men said: "If there is not such-and-such weight in his chains, then my wife is divorced three times."

The other man said: "If there is such-and-such weight in his chains as you said, then my wife is divorced three times."

They went to the owner of the chained slave and said: "We have sworn oaths regarding such-and-such, so release the chain of your slave so that we may weigh it."

The owner of the slave said: "My wife will be divorced if I release the chain of my slave."

So, they went to Umar and told him the story.

Umar said: "The owner has more right over his slave. Go to Ali ibn Abi Talib - perhaps he has something regarding this matter."

They went to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} and told him the story.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "How simple this is!"

Imam ^{a.s} called for a large basin and ordered the chain to be tied with a string and placed in the basin. Then Imam ^{a.s} put the man's feet and the chain into the basin and filled it with water until it was full.

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Lift the chain."

When they lifted the chain out of the water, the water level dropped. Imam ^{a.s} then called for pieces of iron and placed them into the water until the water level returned to its original position.

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Weigh these pieces of iron—they are equal in weight to the chain."

[AL SADUQ]

The author of this book (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him) said:

Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} used this method to resolve the case and free the people from the rulings of those who permit divorce through oaths.

Hadith.3247 - Ahmad ibn A'idh narrated from Abu Salamah, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, regarding two slave men who were authorized to buy and sell with the wealth of their masters. A dispute arose between them, and they fought. Each ran to the master of the other. They were equal in strength. One purchased the other from his master, and the other did the same, purchasing his opponent from his master. Then each of them grabbed the collar of the other, saying, "You are my slave; I have purchased you."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "They should be judged based on the point where they separated. The path should be measured, and whichever one was closer to his master, he is considered to have reached first and thus has precedence over the one farther away. But if both distances are equal, they are returned to their respective masters."

Hadith.3248 - In the narration of Ibrahim ibn Muhammad al-Thaqafi:

Two men entrusted a woman with a deposit and said to her, "Do not give it to either of us until we both come together to collect it." Then they left and were absent for a while.

One of them came to her and said: "Give me my deposit, for my companion has died." She refused, but he repeatedly came to her until she finally gave it to him.

Later, the other man came and said: "Give me my deposit." She replied: "Your companion took it and claimed that you had died."

They brought their case before Umar, who said to her, "I see no way except that you are liable."

The woman said: "Make Ali ^{a.s} judge between me and him."

So Umar said to Imam ^{a.s}: "Judge between them."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "This deposit is still with her, and you both instructed her not to hand it over to either of you until you were both present. Bring your companion to me."

Thus, Imam ^{a.s} did not hold her liable.

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "They only intended to deceive the woman and take her wealth."

During the time of Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, a man had two female slaves, and both gave birth on the same night—one to a son and the other to a daughter.

The mother of the daughter took her child and placed her in the cradle that contained the son, and she took the son for herself.

The mother of the daughter claimed, "The son is mine," and the mother of the son also said: "The son is mine."

They brought their case before Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

Imam ^{a.s} ordered that their milk be weighed and said:

"Whichever of the two has the heavier milk, the son belongs to her."

Hadith.3250 - Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

A man struck another man on the head during the time of Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}. The injured man claimed that he could no longer see with his eyes, could not smell any fragrance, and had lost his speech, becoming mute.

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said: "If he is truthful, then he is entitled to three blood-money compensations."

It was asked: "O Commander of the Faithful, how can it be verified whether he is truthful?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "As for what he claims about his eyes, that he cannot see, it can be verified by asking him to look up at the sun. If he is healthy, he will be unable to stop himself from closing his eyes, but if he is truthful and cannot see, his eyes will remain open.

As for his claim about his nose, that he cannot smell, it can be verified by bringing something pungent close to his nose. If he is healthy, the smell will reach his brain, his eyes will water, and he will turn his head away.

As for his claim about his tongue, that he is mute and cannot speak, it can be verified by pricking his tongue with a needle. If he is able to speak, the blood will flow red, but if he is mute, the blood will flow black."

Hadith.3251 - Sad ibn Tarif narrated from Al-Asbagh ibn Nubatah who said:

A woman was brought before Umar ibn al-Khattab, and witnesses testified against her that she had committed adultery. Her story was that she was an orphan raised in the house of a man who had a wife. The man would frequently be away from home. The orphan grew up to be beautiful, and the man's wife feared that her husband might marry the orphan upon his return.

So, the wife called some women from her neighborhood, restrained the orphan, and violated her with her finger.

When the husband returned, his wife accused the orphan of indecency and brought forth witnesses from her neighbors to support her claim.

The case was presented to Umar ibn al-Khattab, but he did not know how to judge it. He said to the man, "Take her to Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s.}."

They came to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s.} and told him the story.

Imam ^{a.s.} said to the man's wife: "Do you have witnesses?"

She replied: "Yes, these are my neighbors who testify to what I say."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s.} then drew his sword from its sheath and placed it in front of him.

Imam ^{a.s.} ordered each witness to be taken into a separate room.

Then Imam ^{a.s.} called the man's wife and interrogated her from every angle, but she insisted on her accusation.

Imam ^{a.s.} sent her back to the room and then summoned one of the witnesses.

Imam ^{a.s.} knelt before her and said: "Do you know who I am? I am Ali ibn Abi Talib, and this is my sword. The man's wife has confessed and returned to the truth. I have granted her safety. Now, speak the truth, or I will fill this sword with your blood."

The woman then turned to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s.} and said: "O Commander of the Faithful, I seek safety in exchange for speaking the truth."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s.} said to her: "Speak the truth."

She said: "No, by Allah ^{SWT}, the orphan did not commit adultery. However, the man's wife, when she saw her beauty, charm, and appearance, feared that her husband might be attracted to her.

So she gave her intoxicants to drink, called us, and we restrained her. Then, she violated her with her finger."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest! Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest! I am the first to separate witnesses, except for (Prophet) Daniel ^{a.s}."

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} sentenced the man's wife to the punishment for false accusation and obligated her and those who assisted her in violating the orphan girl to pay her a dowry of four hundred dirhams.

Imam ^{a.s} also separated the woman from her husband and married the orphan girl to him, paying her dowry from the husband's wealth.

Upon witnessing this judgment, Umar ibn al-Khattab said: "Tell us, O Abu al-Hasan, about the story of Prophet Daniel ^{a.s}."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Daniel was a young orphan who had neither father nor mother. An elderly woman from the Children of Israel took him in and raised him.

There was a king among the Children of Israel who had two judges. The king had a pious and righteous friend who had a beautiful wife.

This man used to visit the king and speak with him.

One day, the king needed to send someone on a mission, so he said to the two judges, 'Choose for me a man whom I can send on this task.'

They said: 'Send this man (the pious friend).'

So, the king sent him."

The man said to the two judges, "I entrust my wife to your care and advise you to treat her well."

They replied: "Yes."

After the man left, the two judges began visiting the house of the pious man and fell in love with his wife. They tried to seduce her, but she refused.

They said to her, "If you do not yield to us, we will testify against you before the king that you have committed adultery, and you will be stoned."

She replied: "Do as you wish."

So, they went to the king and testified against her, claiming that she had committed adultery.

The woman was well-known for her piety and virtue, and the matter deeply troubled the king, for he admired her.

The king said to them, "Your testimony is accepted, but delay her punishment for three days, and then stone her."

He then announced throughout his city, "Attend the execution of so-and-so, the devout woman, for she has committed adultery, as testified by the two judges."

The people began talking about the matter extensively.

The king asked his minister, "Do you have any solution to this situation?"

The minister replied: "No, by Allah ^{SWT}, I have no solution for this matter."

On the third day, the minister went out, as it was the last day for the woman. Along the way, he saw a group of naked boys playing, and among them was Daniel.

Daniel said: "O children, come here! Let me be the king, and you, so-and-so, be the devout woman. Let these two boys be the judges who testified against her."

He gathered some dirt and made a sword out of reeds. Then he said to the children, "Take this one and place him in one spot, and take the other and place him in another spot." The minister was watching all of this.

Then Daniel called one of the boys who was acting as a judge and said to him, "Speak the truth, for if you do not speak the truth, I will kill you."

The boy said: "Yes," while the minister listened attentively.

Daniel then asked him, "What do you testify against this woman?"

The boy replied: "I testify that she committed adultery."

Daniel asked: "On what day?"

The boy said: "On such-and-such a day."

Daniel asked: "At what time?"

The boy replied: "At such-and-such a time."

Daniel asked: "In what place?"

The boy said: "In such-and-such a place."

Daniel asked: "With whom?"

The boy said: "With so-and-so, the son of so-and-so."

Then Daniel said: "Return this one to his place and bring the other one."

They returned the first boy and brought the second one.

Daniel questioned him about the same details, but his answers contradicted those of the first boy.

At this, Daniel said: "Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest! Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest! They have testified falsely against her."

He then called out to the children, "The two judges have testified falsely against this woman. Come and witness their execution."

The minister rushed to the king and informed him of what had happened.

The king sent for the two judges, brought them in, and separated them. He questioned them just as Daniel had questioned the boys, and they contradicted each other, just as the boys had.

The king then announced their guilt to the people and ordered their execution."

Hadith.3252 - Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

During the time of Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, a man was found slaughtered in a deserted place. Nearby, there was another man holding a knife covered in blood. He was arrested and brought before Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

The man confessed, saying that he had killed the victim.

However, another man approached and said to them, "Release him, for I am the one who killed your companion."

He too was arrested and brought along with the first man before Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

When they presented their case, Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked the first man: "What made you confess?"

He replied: "O Commander of the Faithful, I am a butcher. I had slaughtered a sheep near the deserted place, and I urgently needed to relieve myself. So, I entered the deserted place with a knife in my hand, stained with blood. These people saw me, accused me of killing their companion, and arrested me. I thought that denying it would be of no use, since there was a man slaughtered and I was holding a bloodied knife, so I confessed."

Then Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ^{a.s} asked the second man: "What do you say?"

He replied: "I am the one who killed him, O Commander of the Faithful."

Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Take them to my son, Imam Hasan ibn Ali ^{a.s}, so he may judge between you."

They went to Imam Hasan ibn Ali ^{a.s} and presented the case.

Imam Hasan ibn Ali ^{a.s} said: "As for this one, if he has killed a man, he has also given life to this one (the butcher). And Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says: 'And whoever saves a life, it is as though he has saved all of mankind.' (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:32)

There is no punishment upon either of them, and the blood money should be paid from the public treasury to the heirs of the deceased."

Hadith.3253 - Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

During the time of Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, a man passed away, leaving behind a son and a slave. Each of them claimed to be the son and accused the other of being the slave.

They brought their case before Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} for judgment. Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ordered that two holes be made in the wall of the mosque. Then he instructed each of them to place his head into one of the holes, and they did so.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "O Qanbar, unsheathe the sword."

Then Imam ^{a.s} secretly told Qanbar not to carry out what he was about to command.

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said: "Strike the neck of the slave!"

Hearing this, one of the men quickly pulled his head out of the hole.

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} then took hold of him and said to the other, 'You are the son, and I have now freed this one and made him your freed servant (mawla).'"

Hadith.3254 - Amr ibn Thabit narrated from his father, from Sad ibn Tarif, from Al-Asbagh ibn Nubatah, who said:

A woman was brought before Umar ibn al-Khattab. She had married an old man who died while lying on top of her after consummating the marriage. Later, she gave birth to a child.

The old man's sons accused her of adultery and testified against her.

Umar ordered that she be stoned.

As they were leading her away, they passed by Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s}.

She called out: "O cousin of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}! I am wronged, and this is my evidence."

Imam {a.s} said: "Present your evidence."

She handed him a letter, and Imam {a.s} read it.

Then Imam {a.s} said: "This woman is informing you of the date of her marriage, the date of consummation, and how it occurred. Return the woman."

The next day, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} summoned some children who were of the same age as the woman's child and told them to play.

They played until they became distracted.

Then Imam {a.s} called out to them suddenly, and they all stood up, including the woman's child, who stood leaning on both his palms for support.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} called the child forward, confirmed his paternity, and ruled that he inherit from his father.

He then ordered the brothers, who had falsely accused the woman, to be lashed one by one as the punishment for false accusation.

Umar asked Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s}: "How did you reach this judgment?"

Imam {a.s} replied: "I recognized the frailty of the old man from the way the child leaned on his palms to stand up."

Hadith.3255 - Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} entered the mosque, and a young man approached him, crying, while a group of people around him tried to silence him.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: "What makes you cry?"

The young man said: "O Commander of the Faithful, Shurayh judged against me in a case, and I do not understand it.

These men went on a journey with my father, but they returned without him. When I asked them about him, they said he had died. Then I asked them about his wealth, and they said he left no wealth. I brought them before Shurayh, and he made them swear an oath.

But I know, O Commander of the Faithful, that my father left with a great amount of wealth."

So Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said to them: "Return."

Imam ^{a.s} gathered all of them, including the young man, and took them back to Shurayh.

Then Imam ^{a.s} said to him: "O Shurayh, how did you judge between these people?"

Shurayh said: "O Commander of the Faithful, this young man claimed that these men went on a journey with his father, but they returned while his father did not. He asked them about his father, and they said he had died. Then he asked them about his father's wealth, and they said he left nothing. I asked the young man if he had any evidence for his claim, but he said no. So, I made them swear an oath, and then I ruled in their favor."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "O Shurayh, how could you judge in such a case like this?"

Shurayh asked: "How should it be judged, O Commander of the Faithful?"

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "O Shurayh, by Allah ^{SWT}, I will issue a ruling in this matter that no one before me has ruled except Prophet Dawud ^{a.s}."

Imam ^{a.s} then said: "O Qanbar, call for the guards of the Thursday patrol."

Then Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} summoned the guards, assigning one guard to each of the accused men.

Imam ^{a.s} looked at their faces and said: "What do you say? Do you think that I do not know what you have done to the father of this young man? If so, then I would indeed be ignorant."

Imam ^{a.s} then said: "Separate them and cover their heads."

They were separated and each was placed by one of the pillars of the mosque with their heads covered by their garments.

Then Imam {a.s} called for Ubaydullah ibn Abi Rafi, his scribe, and said: "Bring me a scroll and an inkwell."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} sat in the seat of judgment, and the people gathered around him.

Imam {a.s} said: "When I say 'Allahu Akbar,' then you all say 'Allahu Akbar.'"

Then Commander of the Faithful {a.s} said to the people: "Make space."

Imam {a.s} called one of the accused, seated him in front of him, uncovered his face, and said to Ubaydullah: "Write down his confession and what he says."

Imam {a.s} then began questioning him, saying: "On what day did you leave your homes, with the father of this young man accompanying you?"

The man replied: "On such-and-such a day."

He {a.s} asked: "In which month?"

The man replied: "In such-and-such a month."

He {a.s} asked: "To what point in your journey had you reached when the father of this young man died?"

The man replied: "To such-and-such a place."

He {a.s} asked: "In which dwelling?"

The man replied: "In the dwelling of so-and-so, the son of so-and-so."

He {a.s} asked: "What illness did he suffer from?"

The man replied: "Such-and-such illness."

He {a.s} asked: "For how many days was he ill?"

The man replied: "For such-and-such days."

He {a.s} asked: "Who was taking care of him? On what day did he die? Who washed his body? Where was he washed? Who shrouded him? In what was he shrouded? Who prayed over him? And who lowered him into his grave?"

When Commander of the Faithful {a.s} finished questioning the first man about all the details he wanted, Imam {a.s} said "Allahu Akbar," and the people echoed "Allahu Akbar" with him.

This caused the remaining men to become anxious, as they were certain that their companion had confessed and implicated them.

Then Commander of the Faithful {a.s} ordered that the first man's head be covered and that he be taken to prison.

He then called for the second man, seated him before him, uncovered his face, and said:

"You thought that I would not know what you have done?"

The man replied: "O Commander of the Faithful, I am just one of the group, and I was unwilling to kill him."

Thus, he confessed.

One by one, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} called the others, and each of them confessed to the killing and taking of the wealth.

Then Imam {a.s} summoned the first man, who had been sent to prison, and he too confessed.

Commander of the Faithful {a.s} obligated them to pay the blood money and return the stolen wealth.

Shurayh then asked: "O Commander of the Faithful {a.s}, what was the judgment of Prophet Dawud {a.s}?"

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "Prophet Dawud {a.s} once passed by a group of children who were playing and calling each other by names. One of them called out, 'Mat ad-Din' (Religion has died). Prophet Dawud {a.s} summoned the child and asked: 'What is your name?'"

The child replied: 'My name is Mat ad-Din.'

Dawud {a.s} asked: 'Who gave you this name?'"

The child replied: 'My mother.'

So Prophet Dawud {a.s} went to the child's mother and asked: "O woman, what is the name of this son of yours?"

She replied: "His name is Mat ad-Din (Religion has died)."

He asked: "Who named him with this name?"

She said: "His father."

He asked: "How did that happen?"

She said: "His father went on a journey with a group of people while I was pregnant with this child. The group returned, but my husband did not. I asked them about him, and they said he had died. I asked: 'What wealth did he leave behind?' They said: 'He left no wealth.' I asked: 'Did he leave any will?' They said: 'Yes. He said that you are pregnant, and whatever child you bear, whether male or female, name it Mat ad-Din.'" So I named him as instructed."

Dawud ^{a.s} then asked her, "Do you know the people who went on the journey with your husband?" She said: "Yes."

He asked: "Are they alive or dead?"

She replied: "They are alive."

He said: "Take me to them."

He went with her, brought the group from their homes, and judged between them with the same ruling as Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s}.

He held them accountable for the wealth and the blood.

Then he said to the woman, "Name this son of yours Ash ad-Din (Religion has lived)."

Later, the young man and the group disputed over the exact amount of wealth the father had left. So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} took his ring, gathered several other rings, and said:

"Draw lots with these rings. Whichever of you draws my ring is truthful in his claim, for it is the lot of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, and it never fails."

Hadith.3256 - Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} judged in the case of a woman who came to him and said: "My husband has had relations with my bondwoman without my permission."

Imam ^{a.s} said to the man: "What do you say?"

The man replied: "I did not approach her except with her permission."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "If you are truthful, we will stone him. But if you are lying, we will administer the prescribed punishment (lashes) on you."

At that moment, the call for prayer was made, and Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} stood up to pray.

While Imam ^{a.s} prayed, the woman reflected and saw no benefit in having her husband stoned, nor in facing the punishment herself.

She left and did not return, and Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} did not inquire about her afterward.

Hadith.3257 - Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} judged in the case of a man who was brought by two others who said: "This man has stolen a coat of armor."

The accused pleaded with Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} to examine the evidence carefully and said: "By Allah ^{SWT}, if the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) were here, he would never cut off my hand."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: "Why?"

The man replied: "Because my Lord ^{AZJ}, the Almighty, would have informed him of my innocence, and He ^{saws} would have declared me innocent based on that knowledge."

When Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} saw how the man pleaded, Imam ^{a.s} called the two witnesses and said to them: "Fear Allah ^{SWT}, and do not have this man's hand cut off unjustly."

Imam ^{a.s} continued to appeal to them and then said: "Let one of you cut off his hand while the other holds it."

As they prepared to execute the sentence, they stirred the people, causing a commotion in the crowd.

In the chaos, they released the accused man and fled, blending into the crowd.

The accused man then returned and said: "O Commander of the Faithful, these two men testified against me falsely. When the crowd was stirred, they released me and fled. If they were truthful, they would neither have fled nor let me go."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Who can lead me to these two witnesses so that I may punish them?"

3258 - رَوَى الْأَصْبَغُ بْنُ نُبَاتَةَ عَنْ أَمِيرِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : أَنَّهُ قَضَى «أَنْ يُحَجَرَ عَلَى الْغُلَامِ الْمُفْسِدِ حَتَّى يَعْقِلَ» وَ قَضَى عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ فِي الدِّينِ «أَنَّهُ يُحْبَسُ صَاحِبُهُ فَإِذَا تَبَيَّنَ إِفْلَاسُهُ وَ الْحَاجَةُ فَيُخَلَّى سَبِيلُهُ حَتَّى يَسْتَفِيدَ مَالًا» وَ قَضَى عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ فِي الرَّجُلِ يَلْتَوِي عَلَى غُرْمَائِهِ «أَنَّهُ يُحْبَسُ ثُمَّ يُؤْمَرُ بِهِ فَيَقْسِمُ مَالَهُ بَيْنَ غُرْمَائِهِ بِالْحِصَصِ فَإِنْ أَبَى بَاعَهُ فَقَسَمَهُ بَيْنَهُمْ».

Hadith.3258 - Al-Asbagh ibn Nubatah narrated from Commander of the Faithful ^(a.s) that he ruled: "A corrupt young man should be placed under guardianship until he matures and becomes rational."

Imam ^(a.s) also ruled regarding debt:

"The debtor should be imprisoned. If his insolvency and need are proven, he is released until he acquires wealth."

Imam ^(a.s) further ruled in the case of a man who evades his creditors:

"He should be imprisoned, and then ordered to divide his wealth among his creditors proportionally. If he refuses, his property is sold, and the proceeds are distributed among them."

CHAPTER 14 – CHAPTER ON INTERCESSIONS IN RULINGS

بَابُ الشَّفَاعَاتِ فِي الْأَحْكَامِ

HADITH 3260
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3260 - رَوَى السَّكُونِيُّ بِإِسْنَادِهِ قَالَ قَالَ أَمِيرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «لَا يَشْفَعَنَّ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي حَدٍّ إِذَا بَلَغَ الْإِمَامَ فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَمْلِكُهُ فِيمَا يُشْفَعُ فِيهِ وَ مَا لَمْ يَبْلُغِ الْإِمَامَ فَإِنَّهُ يَمْلِكُهُ فَاشْفَعْ فِيمَا لَمْ يَبْلُغِ الْإِمَامَ إِذَا رَأَيْتَ النَّدَمَ وَ إِشْفَعْ فِيمَا لَمْ يَبْلُغِ الْإِمَامَ فِي غَيْرِ الْحَدِّ مَعَ رُجُوعِ الْمَشْفُوعِ لَهُ وَ لَا تَشْفَعْ فِي حَقِّ امْرِئٍ مُسْلِمٍ أَوْ غَيْرِهِ إِلَّا بِإِذْنِهِ».

Hadith.3260 - Al-Sakuni narrated through his chain of transmission that Commander of the Faithful ^(a.s) said:

"None of you should intercede in the enforcement of a legal punishment (hadd) once it has reached the Imam, for the Imam has no authority to waive it through intercession.

However, before it reaches the Imam, it is still under the control of those involved, so intercede in cases that have not yet reached the Imam, if you see signs of remorse.

Intercede in matters that have not reached the Imam, as long as they do not involve a legal punishment, and if the one being interceded for shows repentance.

Do not intercede in the right of any Muslim—or anyone else—except with their permission."

They said to each other, "You keep what is with you, and I will keep what is with me."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that if they both agree and are content with the arrangement."

Hadith.3272 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from al-Ala', who reported from Muhammad ibn Muslim:

I heard Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} say:

"I was once with a judge in Medina when two men approached him.

One of them said: 'I hired this man's animal to take me from such-and-such place to such-and-such place, but it did not reach the destination.'

The judge asked the owner of the animal, 'Did you take him to the place he hired you for?'

He replied: 'No, my animal became exhausted and could not complete the journey.'

The judge then said to the owner of the animal, 'You are not entitled to any fare since you did not deliver him to the destination he hired your animal for.'"

Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

"I called both of them to me and said to the hirer, 'You are not entitled to take back all the fare you paid for the animal.'

And I said to the owner, 'You are not entitled to take the full fare for your animal.'

Instead, I told them, 'Consider how much of the journey remains and how much of it has been completed. Then come to a mutual agreement about the fare based on that.'

So they did as I instructed and settled the matter."

I was sitting with a judge, and Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} was also present.

Two men approached the judge. One of them said: "I hired this man's camels to transport my goods to a certain mine. I stipulated that he must get me there on a specific day because there is a market there, and I feared missing it.

I also stipulated that if I was delayed, I would deduct a specific amount from the fare for each day of the delay.

However, he delayed me for several days beyond the agreed time."

The judge said: "This condition is invalid. Pay him his full fare."

When the man left, Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} turned to me and said: "His condition is valid as long as he does not deduct the entire fare."

They divided equally what was in their possession, as well as what was absent.

Later, one of them lost his share of the absent wealth, while the other received his share in full.

I asked: "Should the one who received his full share compensate the other?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Yes, he should compensate him. He cannot take all the wealth for himself."

Hadith.3279 - It is narrated from Sabbah Al-Muzani, who raised it (in chain of narration):

Two men came to Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s}.

One of them said:

"O Commander of the Faithful, this man and I went out together. I brought three loaves of bread, and he brought five loaves of bread. We had lunch together, and a man passed by us, so we invited him to join us for lunch. He came and ate with us.

When we finished, he gifted us eight dirhams and left.

I said to this man: 'Divide the dirhams with me.'

He said: 'I will not do so except based on the proportion of the shares of the bread.'

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said: 'Go and reconcile between yourselves.'

The man replied: 'O Commander of the Faithful, he refuses to give me more than three dirhams while he takes five dirhams. Judge between us.'

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said to him: 'O servant of Allah ^{SWT}, do you know that three loaves of bread equal nine thirds?'

He said: 'Yes.'

Imam ^{a.s} continued: 'And do you know that five loaves of bread equal fifteen thirds?'

He said: 'Yes.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'You ate from your nine-thirds eight-thirds, leaving you one-third.

And this man ate from his fifteen-thirds eight-thirds, leaving him seven-thirds.

The guest ate seven-thirds from this man's bread and one-third from your bread.

Thus, each of you consumed eight-thirds.

This man is entitled to seven dirhams, one dirham for each remaining third of bread he contributed, and you are entitled to one dirham for the one-third you contributed.

So, take one dirham, and give this man seven dirhams.'"

3280 - رُوِيَ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي يَغْفُورٍ قَالَ : قُلْتُ لِأَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ بِمَ تُعْرَفُ عَدَالَةُ الرَّجُلِ بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ حَتَّى تُقْبَلَ شَهَادَتُهُ لَهُمْ وَعَلَيْهِمْ فَقَالَ «أَنْ تُعْرِفُوهُ بِالسَّيْرِ وَالْعَقَافِ، وَكَفِّ الْبَطْنِ وَالْفَرْجِ وَالْيَدِ وَاللِّسَانِ وَتُعْرِفَ بِاجْتِنَابِ الْكِبَائِرِ الَّتِي أَوْعَدَ اللَّهُ عَذْرًا وَجَلَّ عَلَيْهَا النَّارُ مِنْ شُرْبِ الْخُمُورِ وَالزُّنَا وَالرَّبَا وَغُشُوقِ الْوَالِدَيْنِ وَالْفِرَارِ مِنَ الرَّخْفِ وَغَيْرِ ذَلِكَ وَالدَّلَالَةُ عَلَى ذَلِكَ كُلِّهِ أَنْ يَكُونَ سَاتِرًا لِجَمِيعِ عُيُوبِهِ حَتَّى يَحْرُمَ عَلَى الْمُسْلِمِينَ مَا وَرَاءَ ذَلِكَ مِنْ عَثَرَاتِهِ وَعُيُوبِهِ وَتَفْتِيْشٍ مَا وَرَاءَ ذَلِكَ وَيَجِبَ عَلَيْهِمْ تَرْكِئَتُهُ وَإِظْهَارُ عَدَالَتِهِ فِي النَّاسِ وَيَكُونُ مَعَهُ اتِّعَاهِدُ لِلصَّلَوَاتِ الْخَمْسِ إِذَا وَاطَبَ عَلَيْهِنَّ وَحَفِظَ مَوَاقِيتَهُنَّ بِحُضُورِ جَمَاعَةٍ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَأَنْ لَا يَتَخَلَّفَ عَنْ جَمَاعَتِهِمْ فِي مَصَلَّاهُمْ إِلَّا مِنْ عِلَّةٍ فَإِذَا كَانَ كَذَلِكَ لَا زِمًا لِمَصَلَّاهُ عِنْدَ حُضُورِ الصَّلَوَاتِ الْخَمْسِ فَإِذَا سُئِلَ عَنْهُ فِي قَبِيلَتِهِ وَمَحَلَّتِهِ قَالُوا مَا رَأَيْنَا مِنْهُ إِلَّا خَيْرًا، مُوَاطِبًا عَلَى الصَّلَوَاتِ مُتَعَاهِدًا لَأَوْقَاتِهَا فِي مَصَلَّاهُ فَإِنَّ ذَلِكَ يُجِيزُ شَهَادَتَهُ وَعَدَالَتَهُ بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَذَلِكَ أَنَّ الصَّلَاةَ سِتْرًا وَكِفَارَةً لِلذُّنُوبِ وَلَيْسَ يُمَكِّنُ الشَّهَادَةَ عَلَى الرَّجُلِ بِأَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي إِذَا كَانَ لَا يَحْضُرُ مَصَلَّاهُ وَيَتَعَاهَدُ جَمَاعَةَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَإِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْجَمَاعَةُ وَالْإِجْتِمَاعُ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ لِكَيْ يُعْرِفَ مَنْ يُصَلِّي مِمَّنْ لَا يُصَلِّي وَمَنْ يَحْفَظُ مَوَاقِيتَ الصَّلَوَاتِ مِمَّنْ يُضَيِّعُ وَلَوْ لَا ذَلِكَ لَمْ يُمَكِّنْ أَحَدًا أَنْ يَشْهَدَ عَلَى آخَرَ بِصَلَاةٍ لِأَنَّ مَنْ لَا يُصَلِّي لَا صَلَاحَ لَهُ بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ فَإِنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ هَمٌّ بِأَنْ يُحْرِقَ قَوْمًا فِي مَنَازِلِهِمْ، لِتَرْكِهِمُ الْحُضُورَ لِجَمَاعَةِ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَقَدْ كَانَ مِنْهُمْ مَنْ يُصَلِّي فِي بَيْتِهِ فَلَمْ يَقْبَلْ مِنْهُ ذَلِكَ وَكَيْفَ تُقْبَلُ شَهَادَةُ أَوْ عَدَالَةُ بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ مِمَّنْ جَرَى الْحُكْمُ مِنَ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ وَمِنْ رَسُولِهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ فِيهِ الْخَرَقُ فِي جَوْفِ بَيْتِهِ بِالنَّهَارِ وَقَدْ كَانَ يَقُولُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ «لَا صَلَاةَ لِمَنْ لَا يُصَلِّي فِي الْمَسْجِدِ مَعَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ إِلَّا مِنْ عِلَّةٍ» .»

Hadith.3280 - It is narrated from Abdullah ibn Abi Ya'fur, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s.):

"By what means is the righteousness ('Adalah) of a man among the Muslims recognized, so that his testimony may be accepted for or against them?"

Imam ^(a.s.) replied: "It is recognized by his modesty and chastity, by his restraint over his stomach, private parts, hands, and tongue, and by his avoidance of major sins for which Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has threatened punishment in Hell.

These sins include: drinking alcohol, fornication, usury, disobedience to parents, fleeing from battle, and other similar acts.

The sign of all this is that he covers his faults and defects, making it impermissible for Muslims to investigate or expose his errors and shortcomings.

It becomes obligatory upon them to testify to his righteousness and exhibit his piety among people.

Additionally, he must be diligent in observing the five daily prayers, maintaining their times, and attending congregational prayers with the Muslims.

He should not miss the congregation at the mosque except for a valid excuse.

If he remains steadfast in attending his place of prayer for the five daily prayers, and when asked about him in his community or neighborhood, people say:

'We have seen nothing but good from him. He is regular in prayers, punctual in observing their times, and consistently present at his place of prayer,' then this confirms his testimony and establishes his righteousness among Muslims.

This is because prayer serves as a covering and an expiation for sins.

It is not possible to testify to a man's observance of prayer unless he attends his place of worship and maintains congregation with the Muslims.

Indeed, congregation and assembly for prayer were instituted so that those who pray may be distinguished from those who do not, and those who guard the times of prayer from those who neglect them.

Without this, no one could testify to another's piety.

Whoever does not pray has no righteousness among the Muslims.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) even intended to burn the houses of those who abandoned congregational prayer, despite some of them praying at home.

This was not accepted from them.

How then can the testimony or righteousness of someone be accepted when Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, and His Messenger (peace be upon him and his family) had judged that such a person deserves to be burned in his house during the daytime?

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) used to say:

'There is no prayer for the one who does not pray in the mosque with the Muslims, except due to a valid excuse.'

CHAPTER 18 – CHAPTER ON WHOSE TESTIMONY MUST BE REJECTED AND WHOSE TESTIMONY MUST BE ACCEPTED

بَابُ مَنْ يَجِبُ رَدُّ شَهَادَتِهِ وَ مَنْ يَجِبُ قَبُولُ شَهَادَتِهِ

HADITH 3281 – 35

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3281 - رُوِيَ عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَلِيٍّ الْحَلَبِيِّ قَالَ : سُئِلَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَمَّا يَرُدُّ مِنَ الشُّهُودِ فَقَالَ «الظَّنِينُ وَ الْمُتَّهَمُ وَ الْخَصْمُ» قَالَ قُلْتُ فَالْفَاسِقُ وَ الْخَائِنُ قَالَ «هَذَا يَدْخُلُ فِي الظَّنِينِ».

Hadith.3281 - It is narrated from Ubaydullah ibn Ali Al-Halabi, who said:

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} was asked about the categories of witnesses whose testimony is to be rejected. Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The one suspected (Al-Zaneen), the accused (Al-Muttaham), and the adversary (Al-Khasm)."

I said: "What about the immoral (Al-Fasiq) and the dishonest (Al-Kha'in)?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "These fall under the category of the suspected (Al-Zaneen)."

3282 - وَ فِي حَدِيثٍ آخَرَ قَالَ : «لَا يَجُوزُ شَهَادَةُ الْمُرِيبِ وَ الْخَصْمِ وَ دَافِعٍ مَغْرَمٍ أَوْ أَجِيرٍ أَوْ شَرِيكِ، أَوْ مُتَّهَمٍ أَوْ تَابِعٍ وَ لَا تُقْبَلُ شَهَادَةُ شَارِبِ الْخَمْرِ وَ لَا شَهَادَةُ اللَّاعِبِ بِالْشَّطْرَنْجِ وَ النَّرْدِ وَ لَا شَهَادَةُ الْمُقَامِرِ».

Hadith.3282 - And in another narration, Imam ^{a.s} said:

"The testimony of the one who arouses suspicion (Al-Mureeb), the adversary (Al-Khasm), the one evading a financial obligation (Dafi' Maghrām), the hired worker (Ajir), the business partner (Shareek), the accused (Mutaham), or the follower (Tabi') is not valid.

Furthermore, the testimony of a wine drinker (Sharib Al-Khamr), a player of chess (Shatranj) and dice (Nard), and a gambler (Muqamir) is not accepted."

Hadith.3283 - And Ali ibn Asbat narrated from Muhammad ibn Al-Salt who said:

I asked Abu Al-Hasan Al-Ridha ^{a.s} about a group of travelers who were ambushed by robbers on their journey. The robbers were captured, and some of them testified in favor of the others.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Their testimony is not accepted except if it is accompanied by a confession from the robbers themselves or testimony against them from others."

Hadith.3284 - And Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Al-Alaa, from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s): "The testimony of a Muslim slave is valid against a free Muslim."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book—may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him—explained:

"This applies when the testimony is against someone other than the slave's master."

Hadith.3285 - And Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Hisham ibn Salim, from Ammar ibn Marwan, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), or it is said that one of his companions asked him, regarding a man who testifies in favor of his father, or a brother for his brother, or a man for his wife.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no harm in that if he is righteous. His testimony is accepted for his father, and a father's testimony is accepted for his son, and a brother's testimony is accepted for his brother."

Hadith.3287 - And Al-Hasan bin Zayd narrated something similar from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

"Umar bin Al-Khattab was presented with Qudamah bin Maz'un, who had drunk alcohol. Two men testified against him—one of them was a eunuch, Amr Al-Tamimi, and the other was Al-Mu'alla bin Al-Jarood. One of them testified that he saw him drinking, and the other testified that he saw him vomiting alcohol. Umar then sent for a group of the companions of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, among them Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

Umar said to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}: 'What do you say, O Abu Al-Hasan? For you are the one about whom the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: "The most knowledgeable of this nation and the one who judges with truth."'

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: 'They have not differed in their testimony, for he would not have vomited it unless he had drunk it.'

Umar then asked: 'Is the testimony of a eunuch acceptable?'

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} replied: 'The loss of his testicles is no different than the loss of some other part of his body.'"

Hadith.3295 - And it was narrated by Isma'il ibn Muslim, from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, from his father Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his forefathers, from Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, who said:

"The testimony of children, if they testified while they were young, is valid when they grow older as long as they have not forgotten it. Likewise, the testimony of Jews and Christians, if they embrace Islam, is valid. Also, the testimony of a slave, if he was made to testify and then was freed, is valid as long as the judge did not reject it before his emancipation."

And Imam ^{a.s} said:

"If the slave was freed specifically for the purpose of testimony, his testimony is not valid."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said:

As for Imam ^{a.s} statement, peace be upon him, that the judge did not reject it before his emancipation, it means that it was not rejected due to apparent immorality or a condition that undermines his integrity, not because he was a slave, for the testimony of a slave is valid.

The first to reject the testimony of a servant was Umar.

And as for Imam ^{a.s} statement, peace be upon him, that if the slave was freed for the purpose of testimony, his testimony is not valid, it appears to mean that this applies if he testified for his master.

However, if he testified for someone other than his master, his testimony is valid whether he was still a slave or had been freed, as long as he was just.

"Two just men from among you or two others from outside you." (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:106)

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The two from among you are Muslims, and the two from outside you are from the People of the Book (Ahl al-Kitab). And if none from the People of the Book can be found, then from the Magians, because the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: 'Deal with them as you would with the People of the Book.'

And this applies if a man dies in a foreign land and cannot find two Muslims to bear witness, then two men from the People of the Book may act as witnesses."

Hadith.3301 - And it was narrated by Hammad from Al-Halabi, who said:

I heard Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}, say: "Regarding a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation), there was a time when people did not stipulate that if he failed to fulfill the terms of his contract, he would revert to slavery. But today, they stipulate this condition, and Muslims are bound by their conditions. If a mukatab commits an offense requiring a legal punishment (hudud), he is punished in proportion to the extent to which he has been freed."

I asked: "What if half of him has been freed? Does his testimony in matters of divorce count?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "If he testifies alongside a man and a woman, his testimony is accepted."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, commented: This ruling was stated as a matter of taqiyyah (dissimulation). In truth, the testimony of a mukatab is acceptable when supported by two witnesses.

The inclusion of the woman in this scenario was to prevent opponents from claiming that he had accepted testimony that their Imam had rejected. However, based on our foundational principles, the testimony of women in cases of divorce is not acceptable.

An example of this is when one man has a debt upon another who is in hardship, and Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, has commanded to grant him respite until ease, as He ^{SWT} said: 'then a respite until ease.' Hadith.3309 - And it was narrated by Safwan bin Yahya from Muhammad bin Al-Fudhayl, from Abu Al-Hasan, peace be upon him.

He said: I asked him about the testimony of women—does it suffice in cases of marriage, divorce, or stoning?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The testimony of women is accepted in matters that men cannot observe. It is also valid in marriage if accompanied by one man. However, it is not accepted in divorce or bloodshed. It is accepted in cases of adultery if there are three men and two women, but the testimony of two men and four women is not accepted."

Hadith.3324 - Ali ibn Ahmad ibn Ashyam narrated that he asked Abu al-Hasan, peace be upon him, about a man whose wife became pure from her menstruation, and he said: "So-and-so is divorced," while people were listening to his words, but he did not tell them, "Bear witness." Does the divorce take effect upon her?

Imam ^{a.s} said: “Yes, this is a testimony. Would you leave her in suspense?”

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, commented: The meaning of this narration, in which the choice was left to the witness regarding the accounting of two men, applies when there are other witnesses regarding that right. Whenever it is known that the rightful person is being wronged and his right cannot be restored except through the testimony, it becomes obligatory to give it, and it is not permissible to conceal it.

3329 - وَ رَوَى جَابِرٌ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ : «مَنْ كَتَمَ الشَّهَادَةَ أَوْ شَهِدَ بِهَا لِيُهْدَرَ بِهَا دَمُ إِمْرِي مُسْلِمٍ أَوْ لِيُتَوَيَّ مَالُ إِمْرِي مُسْلِمٍ أَتَى يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَ لَوَجْهِهِ ظُلْمَةٌ مَدَّ الْبَصَرِ وَ فِي وَجْهِهِ كُدُوحٌ تَعْرِفُهُ الْخَلَائِقُ بِاسْمِهِ وَ نَسَبِهِ وَ مَنْ شَهِدَ شَهَادَةً حَقًّا لِيُخَيَّ بِهَا مَالُ إِمْرِي مُسْلِمٍ أَتَى يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَ لَوَجْهِهِ نُورٌ مَدَّ الْبَصَرِ تَعْرِفُهُ الْخَلَائِقُ بِاسْمِهِ وَ نَسَبِهِ» ثُمَّ قَالَ أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «أَلَا تَرَى أَنَّ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ يَقُولُ: ﴿وَ أَقِيمُوا الشَّهَادَةَ لِلَّهِ﴾».

Hadith.3329 - It is narrated from Jabir, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: "Whoever conceals testimony or gives false testimony to shed the blood of a Muslim or to destroy the wealth of a Muslim, will come on the Day of Judgment with darkness on his face extending as far as the eye can see, and scars on his face by which all creatures will recognize him by his name and lineage. And whoever testifies truthfully to preserve the wealth of a Muslim, will come on the Day of Judgment with light on his face extending as far as the eye can see, and all creatures will recognize him by his name and lineage."

Then Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, said: "Do you not see that Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, says: 'And establish the testimony for Allah {SWT}'?" (Surah At-Talaq 65:2)

CHAPTER 23 – CHAPTER ON FALSE TESTIMONY AND WHAT HAS BEEN REPORTED REGARDING IT

بَابُ شَهَادَةِ الزُّورِ وَمَا جَاءَ فِيهَا

🌀 HADITH 3331 – 3339 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3331 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ جَمِيلِ بْنِ دَرَّاجٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي شَهَادَةِ الزُّورِ قَالَ «إِذَا كَانَ الشَّيْءُ قَائِمًا بِعَيْنِهِ رُدَّ عَلَى صَاحِبِهِ وَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ قَائِمًا صَمِنَ بِقَدْرِ مَا أَثْلَفَ مِنْ مَالِ الرَّجُلِ».

Hadith.3331 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Jamil ibn Darraj from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding false testimony.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the thing is present in its original form, it is returned to its owner. But if it is no longer present, then the false witness is liable for the value of what he caused to be lost from the man's property."

3332 - وَ رَوَى سَمَاعَةُ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «شُهُودُ الزُّورِ يُجْلَدُونَ حَدًّا وَ لَيْسَ لَهُ وَفَتْ ذَلِكَ إِلَى الْإِمَامِ وَ يُطَافُ بِهِمْ حَتَّى يُعْرِفُوا وَ لَا يَعُودُوا » قَالَ قُلْتُ فَإِنْ تَابُوا وَ أَصْلَحُوا أَ تُقْبَلُ شَهَادَتُهُمْ بَعْدُ فَقَالَ «إِذَا تَابُوا تَابَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِمْ وَ قُبِلَتْ شَهَادَتُهُمْ بَعْدُ».

Hadith.3332 - Sama'ah narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said: "False witnesses are subjected to flogging as a punishment, and its extent is determined by the Imam. They are paraded publicly so that they may be recognized and refrain from repeating the act."

I said: "If they repent and reform, will their testimony be accepted afterward?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If they repent, Allah ^{SWT} accepts their repentance, and their testimony will be accepted thereafter."

3333 - وَ كَانَ عَلِيٌّ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ إِذَا أَخَذَ شَاهِدَ زُورٍ فَإِنْ كَانَ غَرِيبًا بَعَثَ بِهِ إِلَى حَيِّهِ وَ إِنْ كَانَ سُوقِيًّا بَعَثَ بِهِ إِلَى سُوقِهِ ثُمَّ يُطِيفُ بِهِ ثُمَّ يَحْبِسُهُ أَيَّامًا ثُمَّ يَخْلِي سَبِيلَهُ.

Hadith.3333 - It is reported that when Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} apprehended a false witness, if the person was a stranger, he would send him back to his tribe. If the person was a tradesman, Imam ^{a.s} would send him to his marketplace. Then Imam ^{a.s} would parade him publicly, imprison him for a few days, and afterward release him.

Hadith.3334 - Ibrahim ibn Abdul Hamid reported from Abu Basir, who narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding a woman for whom two witnesses testified that her husband had died. She then remarried, but later her first husband returned.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The second husband owes her the dowry because he lawfully enjoyed her intimacy. The two witnesses are to be given the prescribed punishment (for false testimony) and held liable for the dowry due to having deceived the man. The woman must observe the waiting period ('iddah) and then return to her first husband."

Hadith.3335 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub reported from Al-Ala and Abu Ayyub, who narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, regarding two men who testified against an absent man in the presence of his wife, claiming that he had divorced her.

The woman observed her waiting period (iddah) and then remarried. Later, the absent husband returned, asserting that he had not divorced her, and one of the witnesses admitted to lying.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The second husband has no claim over her, and the dowry is to be taken from the witness who retracted his testimony and returned to the second husband. They must be separated, and the woman must observe the waiting period (iddah) from the second husband. The first husband may not approach her until her waiting period has ended."

Hadith.3336 - Ali ibn Matar narrated from Abdullah ibn Sinan, who reported from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, that Imam ^{a.s} said: "False witnesses are subjected to a punishment of flogging, the duration of which is determined by the Imam. They are paraded so that people recognize them." Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, says: 'And do not accept their testimony ever, and those are the defiantly disobedient—except for those who repent.' (Surah An-Nur 24:4-5)

I asked: 'How is their repentance recognized?'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'He must publicly declare his falsehood before the witnesses where he was punished, and seek forgiveness from his Lord ^{AZJ}, the Almighty. If he does this, then his repentance becomes evident.'"

CHAPTER 24 – CHAPTER ON THE INVALIDATION OF THE CLAIMANT'S RIGHT BY ADMINISTERING AN OATH EVEN IF THEY HAVE EVIDENCE

بَابُ بُطْلَانِ حَقِّ الْمُدَّعِي بِالتَّحْلِيلِ وَإِنْ كَانَ لَهُ بَيِّنَةٌ

HADITH 3340 – 3341

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3340 - رَوَى عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ أَبِي يَعْفُورٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «إِذَا رَضِيَ صَاحِبُ الْحَقِّ بِبَيِّنَةِ الْمُنْكَرِ لِحَقِّهِ فَاسْتَحْلَفَهُ فَحَلَفَ أَنْ لَا حَقَّ لَهُ قَبْلَهُ ذَهَبَتْ الْيَمِينُ بِحَقِّ الْمُدَّعِي وَلَا دَعْوَى لَهُ» قُلْتُ وَ إِنْ كَانَتْ لَهُ بَيِّنَةٌ عَادِلَةٌ قَالَ «نَعَمْ وَ إِنْ أَقَامَ بَعْدَ مَا اسْتَحْلَفَهُ بِاللَّهِ خَمْسِينَ قَسَامَةً مَا كَانَ لَهُ حَقٌّ فَإِنَّ الْيَمِينَ قَدْ أَبْطَلَتْ كُلَّ مَا ادَّعَاهُ قَبْلَهُ مِمَّا قَدْ اسْتَحْلَفَهُ عَلَيْهِ».

Hadith.3340 - Abdullah bin Abi Ya'fur narrated from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), who said:

"If the claimant is satisfied with the oath of the defendant regarding his claim, and he requests the defendant to swear, and the defendant swears that there is no right due to the claimant upon him, then the oath nullifies the claimant's right, and he no longer has a claim."

I said: "What if the claimant has a just and valid proof?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Yes, even if he later presents fifty witnesses after having requested the defendant to swear by Allah ^(SWT), he would have no right, for the oath has invalidated all previous claims for which he had requested the defendant to swear."

Hadith.3341 - The Messenger of Allah ^(SWT), peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: "Whoever swears to you by Allah ^(SWT) regarding a right, then believe him, and whoever asks you in the name of Allah ^(SWT), then give him. The oath is for the claimant, and there is no claim for him without it."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him, commented:

Whenever a man who had taken an oath on a right repents and returns what he owes, along with the profit he gained from it, the rightful owner should take back his principal amount and half of the profit, and return the other half of the profit to the repentant man, because he is a repentant person.

This was narrated by Misma' Abu Sayyar from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, and I will mention the full wording of this narration later in this book, in the chapter on deposits (al-wadi'ah), if Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, wills.

HADITH 3343
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3343 - رُوِيَ عَنْ يَاسِينَ الصَّرِيرِ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ : قُلْتُ لِلشَّيْخِ يَعْغِي مُوسَى بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِمَا السَّلَامُ أَخْبِرْنِي عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يَدْعِي قَبْلَ الرَّجُلِ الْحَقَّ فَلَا يَكُونُ لَهُ بَيِّنَةٌ بِمَا لَهُ قَالَ «فَيَمِينُ الْمُدْعَى عَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ حَلَفَ فَلَا حَقَّ لَهُ، وَإِنْ رَدَّ الْيَمِينَ عَلَى الْمُدْعَى فَلَمْ يَحْلِفْ فَلَا حَقَّ لَهُ فَإِنْ كَانَ الْمَطْلُوبُ بِالْحَقِّ قَدْ مَاتَ وَ أُقِيمَتْ عَلَيْهِ الْبَيِّنَةُ فَعَلَى الْمُدْعَى الْيَمِينُ بِاللَّهِ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ لَقَدْ مَاتَ فَلَانٌ وَ إِنَّ حَقَّهُ لَعَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ حَلَفَ وَ إِلَّا فَلَا حَقَّ لَهُ لِأَنَّا لَا نَدْرِي لَعَلَّهُ قَدْ أَوْفَاهُ بِبَيِّنَةٍ لَا نَعْلَمُ مَوْضِعَهُمْ أَوْ بَغَيْرِ بَيِّنَةٍ قَبْلَ الْمَوْتِ فَمِنْ ثَمَّ صَارَتْ عَلَيْهِ الْيَمِينُ مَعَ الْبَيِّنَةِ وَ إِنْ ادَّعَى بِلَا بَيِّنَةٍ فَلَا حَقَّ لَهُ لِأَنَّ الْمُدْعَى عَلَيْهِ لَيْسَ بِحَيٍّ وَ لَوْ كَانَ حَيًّا لَأُزِمَ الْيَمِينُ أَوْ الْحَقُّ أَوْ يَرُدُّ الْيَمِينَ فَمِنْ ثَمَّ لَمْ يَثْبُتْ لَهُ حَقٌّ».

Hadith.3343 - It is narrated from Yasin Al-Dareer, from Abdul Rahman ibn Abi Abdullah, who said: I asked the Sheikh, meaning Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}, "Inform me about a man who claims a right against another man but has no evidence to prove his claim."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The defendant must take an oath. If he swears, then the claimant has no right. However, if the defendant refers the oath back to the claimant and the claimant refuses to swear, then he has no right either."

If the person against whom the claim is made has died and evidence is presented against him, the claimant must take an oath by Allah ^{SWT}, there is no God but He ^{SWT}, that the deceased owed him the claimed right. If he swears, the claim is valid; otherwise, he has no right.

This is because we do not know—perhaps the deceased settled the debt through evidence unknown to us or without evidence before his death. Therefore, an oath along with the evidence is required. If the claimant makes a claim without evidence, he has no right because the defendant is not alive. Had the defendant been alive, he would have been required to either take an oath, acknowledge the claim, or refer the oath back. Hence, no right is established for the claimant."

CHAPTER 27 – CHAPTER ON THE JUDGMENT REGARDING TWO CLAIMANTS EACH PRESENTING EVIDENCE THAT THE RIGHT BELONGS TO THEM

بَابُ حُكْمِ الْمُدَّعِيَيْنِ فِي حَقِّ يُقِيمُ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا الْبَيِّنَةَ عَلَى أَنَّهُ لَهُ

HADITH 3344 – 3345

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3344 - رَوَى شُعَيْبٌ عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَنَّهُ ذَكَرَ: «أَنَّ عَلِيًّا عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَتَاهُ قَوْمٌ يَخْتَصِمُونَ فِي بَغْلَةٍ فَقَامَتِ الْبَيِّنَةُ لَهُؤُلَاءِ أَنَّهُمْ أَنْتَجَوْهَا عَلَى مَذُودِهِمْ لَمْ يَبِيعُوا وَ لَمْ يَهَبُوا وَ قَامَتِ الْبَيِّنَةُ لَهُؤُلَاءِ أَنَّهُمْ أَنْتَجَوْهَا عَلَى مَذُودِهِمْ لَمْ يَبِيعُوا وَ لَمْ يَهَبُوا فَقَضَى عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ بِهَا لِأَكْثَرِهِمْ بَيِّنَةً وَ اسْتَحْلَفَهُمْ».

Hadith.3344 - It is narrated by Shu'ayb from Abu Basir, from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), that he mentioned: A group of people came to Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^(a.s), disputing ownership of a mule. Both parties presented evidence.

One group claimed that they had raised it at their feeding trough, had neither sold it nor gifted it, and provided witnesses to support their claim.

The other group also claimed that they had raised it at their feeding trough, had neither sold it nor gifted it, and provided their own witnesses.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^(a.s) ruled in favor of the group that had a greater number of witnesses and required them to take an oath to support their claim.

فَإِنْ أَقَامَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا الْبَيِّنَةَ فَإِنَّ أَحَقَّ الْمُدَّعِيَيْنِ مَنْ عُدِّلَ شَاهِدَاهُ فَإِنْ اسْتَوَى الشُّهُودُ فِي الْعَدَالَةِ فَأَكْثَرُهُمَا شُهُوداً يَحْلِفُ بِاللَّهِ وَ يُدْفَعُ إِلَيْهِ الشَّيْءُ هَكَذَا ذَكَرَهُ أَبِي رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ فِي رِسَالَتِهِ إِلَيَّ.

Hadith.3345 - Abu Basir narrated that he asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about a man who comes to a group of people and claims ownership of a house in their possession. He provides evidence, and the one in possession of the house also provides evidence that he inherited it from his father but does not know its exact history.

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, replied: "The one with more evidence is required to take an oath, and the house is given to him."

[ALSADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, commented: If the one in possession of the house claims it as his property and provides evidence, and the claimant also provides evidence for his claim, the correct ruling is that the house should be awarded to the claimant. This is because Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, has made it obligatory for the claimant to produce evidence, not for the one in possession.

However, in this case, the possessor stated that he inherited the house from his father and is unaware of its exact legal status. Therefore, the ruling requires the one with stronger evidence to take an oath and have the property awarded to him.

If a person claims real estate, an animal, or other property, and provides two witnesses, and the possessor also provides two witnesses of equal credibility, the ruling is that the property should be transferred from the possessor to the claimant because the evidence rests upon the claimant. If the property is not in the possession of either party and both claim it, then the one who presents evidence is entitled to it. If both present evidence, the one whose witnesses are deemed more credible is entitled to it. If the witnesses are equally credible, then the one with more witnesses must take an oath, and the property is awarded to him.

This explanation was mentioned by my father, may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him, in his letter to me.

CHAPTER 28 – CHAPTER ON JUDGMENT IN ALL CLAIMS

بَابُ الْحُكْمِ فِي جَمِيعِ الدَّعَاوِي

HADITH -
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

قَالَ أَبِي رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ فِي رِسَالَتِهِ إِلَيَّ أَعْلَمُ يَا بُنَيَّ أَنَّ الْحُكْمَ فِي الدَّعَاوِي كُلِّهَا أَنَّ الْبَيِّنَةَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعِي وَالْيَمِينَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعَى عَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ نَكَلَ عَنِ الْيَمِينِ لَزِمَهُ الْحَقُّ فَإِنْ رَدَّ الْمُدَّعَى عَلَيْهِ الْيَمِينَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعِي إِذَا لَمْ يَكُنْ لِلْمُدَّعِي شَاهِدَانِ فَلَمْ يَخْلِفْ فَلَا حَقَّ لَهُ إِلَّا فِي الْحُدُودِ فَلَا يَمِينُ فِيهَا وَفِي الدِّمِّ فَإِنَّ الْبَيِّنَةَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعَى عَلَيْهِ وَالْيَمِينَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعِي لِئَلَّا يَنْظَلَ دَمُ امْرِئٍ مُسْلِمٍ.

[ALSADUQ]

My father, may Allah {SWT} be pleased with him, stated in his letter to me:

Know, O my son, that the ruling concerning all claims is that the burden of proof (evidence) lies upon the claimant, and the oath is upon the defendant.

If the defendant refuses to take the oath, the right (claim) becomes binding upon him.

If the defendant refers the oath back to the claimant, in cases where the claimant does not have two witnesses, and the claimant refuses to swear, then he has no right to the claim.

However, in cases involving hudud (prescribed punishments), there is no oath, and in cases involving bloodshed (murder or bodily harm), the burden of proof lies upon the defendant, while the oath is upon the claimant—so that the life of a Muslim is not lost without justice.

CHAPTER 29 – CHAPTER ON TESTIMONY AGAINST A WOMAN

بَابُ الشَّهَادَةِ عَلَى الْمَرْأَةِ

HADITH 3346 – 3347

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3346 - رُوِيَ عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ يَفْطِينَ عَنْ أَبِي الْحَسَنِ الْأَوَّلِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «لَا بَأْسَ بِالشَّهَادَةِ عَلَى إِقْرَارِ الْمَرْأَةِ وَ لَيْسَتْ بِمُسْفِرَةٍ إِذَا عُرِفَتْ بِعَيْنِهَا أَوْ يَحْضُرُ مَنْ عَرَفَهَا». وَ لَا يَجُوزُ عَنْهُمْ أَنْ يَشْهَدَ الشُّهُودُ عَلَى إِقْرَارِهَا دُونَ أَنْ تُسْفِرَ فَيَنْظُرَ إِلَيْهَا.

Hadith.3346 - It is narrated from Ali ibn Yaqtin, from Abu al-Hasan al-Awwal ^{a.s}, who said: "There is no issue with bearing witness to a woman's acknowledgment (confession) without her unveiling her face, as long as she is identified either by her specific features or in the presence of someone who recognizes her."

[AL SADUQ]

However, in their view, it is not permissible for witnesses to testify regarding her acknowledgment without her unveiling so that they may see her directly.

Hadith.3347 - It is narrated that Muhammad ibn al-Hasan al-Saffar (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him) wrote to Abu Muhammad al-Hasan ibn Ali ^{a.s} regarding a man who wanted to testify about a woman who was not his mahram (unmarriageable relative).

He asked: "Is it permissible for him to testify about her from behind a curtain while hearing her speech, provided that two just witnesses testify that she is indeed so-and-so, the daughter of so-and-so, who is calling you to bear witness and this is her voice? Or is it not permissible to testify about her until she uncovers her face and is identified by her appearance?"

The Imam ^{a.s} replied: "She should veil her face partially (wear a niqab) and appear before the witnesses, if Allah ^{SWT} wills."

[AL SADUQ]

This reply (tawqi') was documented in his handwriting ^{a.s}.

بَابُ إِبْطَالِ الشَّهَادَةِ عَلَى الْجَنَفِ وَ الرِّبَا وَ خِلَافِ السُّنَّةِ

HADITH 3348 – 3350

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3348 - رَوَى إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ عَنِ الصَّادِقِ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَنَّهُ قَالَ : «تَبْطُلُ الشَّهَادَةُ فِي الرِّبَا وَ الْجَنَفِ وَ إِذَا قَالَ الشُّهُودُ إِنَّا لَا نَعْلَمُ خَلَّ سَبِيلَهُمْ وَ إِذَا عَلِمُوا عَزَّوْهُمْ».

Hadith.3348 - It is narrated by Isma'il ibn Muslim from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} that he said:

"Testimonies are invalidated in cases of usury (riba) and bias (janaf). If the witnesses say, 'We do not know,' then release them. However, if they are found to have known, then they should be disciplined (ta'zir)."

Hadith.3349 - In a narration from Abdullah ibn Maymun from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, it is stated:

"A man from the Ansar came to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, I wish for you to bear witness for me regarding a palm grove that I have gifted to my son.'

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) asked: 'Do you have any children besides him?' He replied: 'Yes.'

The Prophet ^{saws} then asked: 'Did you gift them as you gifted him?'

He said: 'No.'

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said: 'Indeed, we, the community of Prophets, do not bear witness to bias (janaf).'"

CHAPTER 31 – CHAPTER ON TESTIMONY BASED ON TESTIMONY

بَابُ الشَّهَادَةِ عَلَى الشَّهَادَةِ

HADITH 3351 – 3358

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3351 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: «إِذَا شَهِدَ رَجُلٌ عَلَى شَهَادَةِ رَجُلٍ فَإِنَّ شَهَادَتَهُ تُقْبَلُ وَهِيَ نِصْفُ شَهَادَةٍ وَ إِنْ شَهِدَ رَجُلَانِ عَدْلَانِ عَلَى شَهَادَةِ رَجُلٍ فَقَدْ تَبَتَّ شَهَادَةُ رَجُلٍ وَاحِدٍ».

Hadith.3351 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

"If a man testifies based on the testimony of another man, his testimony is accepted, and it counts as half a testimony. However, if two just men testify based on the testimony of one man, it is considered equivalent to the testimony of one man."

Hadith.3355 - Al-Ala narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim:

He said: I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s.} about a dhimmi (non-Muslim under Islamic protection) and a slave who bore witness to a testimony. Then the dhimmi embraced Islam and the slave was emancipated, would their testimony about what they were made witnesses to before be valid?

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Yes, if goodness is known from them afterward, their testimony is valid."

Hadith.3360 - It is narrated from Ali ibn Suwayd, who said:

I said to Abu al-Hasan al-Madhi ^(a.s.) (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^(a.s.)): "These people call me to testify against my brothers."

Imam ^(a.s.) said: 'Yes, establish the testimony for them, even if you fear harm for your brother.'

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him, said:

This is how I found it in my copy, and in another copy, I found it stated: 'If you fear harm for your brother, then do not testify.' Both meanings are close in interpretation.

The explanation is that if a disbeliever has a right over a believer and the believer is wealthy and capable of fulfilling it, then it is obligatory to establish the testimony against him, even if it causes financial loss. However, if the believer is in financial distress and the witness knows this, then it is not permissible for him to establish the testimony that could harm the believer by leading to imprisonment, displacement from his home, or the loss of his servant.

Likewise, it is not permissible for a believer to provide testimony that would lead to the killing of a believer in favor of a disbeliever. However, if the situation is different, then the testimony must be established because one of the attributes of a believer is that he does not betray his trust, whether among friends or by concealing testimony from enemies.

"Is the testimony of the executor (al-wasi) for the deceased regarding a debt owed to him by a man acceptable along with another just witness?"

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "If another just witness testifies with him, then the claimant must take an oath."

He also wrote to Imam ^{a.s.}: "Is it permissible for the executor to testify for the heir of the deceased, whether young or old, regarding a right owed to him by the deceased or by another person, especially if he is the custodian of the young heir but not the custodian of the older one?"

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "Yes, the executor should testify truthfully and must not conceal his testimony."

Furthermore, he wrote to Imam ^{a.s.}: "Is the testimony of the executor against the deceased regarding a debt, along with another just witness, acceptable?"

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "Yes, but only after an oath."

CHAPTER 34 – CHAPTER ON THE PROHIBITION OF REVIVING RIGHTS THROUGH FALSE TESTIMONIES

بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنْ إِحْيَاءِ الْحَقِّ بِشَهَادَاتِ الزُّورِ

🕒 HADITH 3363 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3363 - سئل أبو عبد الله عليه السلام عن الرجل يكون له على الرجل حق فيجحد حقه و يخلف أن ليس له عليه شيء و ليس لصاحب الحق على حقه بيئة أ يجوز له إحياء حقه بشهادة الزور إذا خشي ذهب حقه قال «لا يجوز ذلك لعلّة التدليس».

و هذا في رواية- يونس بن عبد الرحمن عن بعض أصحابه عن أبي عبد الله ع.

Hadith.3363 - Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who has a right over another man, but the latter denies his right and swears that he owes him nothing. The claimant has no evidence to support his claim. Is it permissible for him to revive his right through false testimony if he fears losing it?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It is not permissible due to the reason of deception."

Hadith.3366 - It was said to Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, "Sharik rejects our testimony."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Do not humiliate yourselves."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, explained that Imam ^{a.s} did not intend to prohibit giving testimony, as bearing witness is obligatory.

Rather, he meant to avoid taking on testimonies that would lead to humiliation when presenting them to someone who would reject them.

It is narrated from Abu Kahmas that he said: I approached Sharik with a testimony I was obliged to present.

Sharik said to me, "How can I accept your testimony when you are associated with what you are associated with?"

Abu Kahmas said: "I asked: 'What is that?'"

He replied: 'Rafd (i.e., being a Rafidi).'

I wept and said: 'You have associated me with a group I fear I may not even be worthy of belonging to.'

Then Sharik accepted my testimony."

A similar incident occurred with Ibn Abi Ya'fur and Fudayl Sukkara.

Hadith.3377 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} was asked about preemption (shufah)—to whom it applies, in what cases it is valid, and whether it applies to animals.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Preemption is obligatory in everything—be it animals, land, or goods—if the property is shared between two partners and one of them sells his share. In such a case, his partner has more right to it than anyone else. However, if there are more than two partners, then none of them has a right to preemption."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, clarified that this ruling applies specifically to animals. As for other forms of property, preemption remains obligatory for partners even if they are more than two, as supported by further narrations.

I then asked: "What if there were only two partners, and one of them wanted to sell his share, but when he proceeded with the sale, his partner said to him, 'Give it to me instead'?"

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "The partner has more right to it."

Then Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no preemption (shufah) in animals except when there is only one partner involved."

Hadith.3379 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Ali ibn Ri'ab from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s): Regarding a man who bought a house using slaves, goods, fabric, and jewels.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no preemption (shufah) for anyone in this case."

[AL SADUQ]

And if there is a house that contains multiple units, and the owners share a common courtyard, and one of them sells his unit to another person, the owner of the other unit has the right of preemption, provided it is not possible for him to relocate the door of the purchased unit to another location. But if the door can be relocated, then there is no preemption for anyone.

Whoever claims the right of preemption but says that his money is in another town, he is to be given the time required to travel to and from that town, plus an additional three days. If he fails to produce the money, then he forfeits his right of preemption.

If the claimant of preemption says to the buyer, "May Allah ^{SWT} bless what you have purchased," or requests to divide the property with him, then he has no right of preemption.

Our Sheikh, Muhammad ibn Al-Hasan (may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him), used to say that there is no preemption in gifts or items exchanged; preemption applies only to purchases made with a specified price, whether gold or silver, and when the property is undivided.

The narration of Ali ibn Ri'ab supports this.

And if a man relinquishes his share of a house or land to another person, then no one else has the right of preemption against him. And there is no power except with Allah ^{SWT}, the Most High, the Most Great.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "It is permissible for him and her, and none of the partners have any right of preemption (shufah) against her."

Hadith.3383 - It is narrated from Alaa ibn Sayabah who said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a woman who appointed a man as her agent to marry her to a man. The agent accepted the agency, and she testified to that in front of witnesses.

The agent then proceeded and performed the marriage, but afterward, the woman denied the agent's authority and claimed that she had dismissed him from the agency. She produced two witnesses who testified that she had dismissed him.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What do the people around you say about this matter?"

I said: "They say that if she dismissed him before he performed the marriage, then the agency is void and the marriage is invalid. However, if she dismissed him after he had already performed the marriage, then the marriage stands valid based on what the agent agreed upon with her and according to the conditions she specified in the agency, provided he did not exceed what she instructed."

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Do they dismiss the agent from the agency without informing him of the dismissal?"

I said: "Yes, they claim that if she appointed a man as an agent and testified in public, saying, 'Bear witness that I have dismissed him and revoked his agency,' without informing the agent directly of the dismissal, they annul all the agent's actions in marriage specifically. However, in other matters, they do not invalidate the agency unless the agent is informed of the dismissal. They argue that wealth can be returned to its owner as compensation, but the private parts cannot be compensated if a child results from the union."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Glory be to Allah ^{SWT}! How unjust is this ruling!" Marriage is even more deserving of caution, as it involves intimacy and the potential for offspring. Indeed, when a woman approached Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} seeking justice against her brother, she said: O Commander of the Faithful, I appointed my brother as my agent to marry me to a man, and I testified to that. Then, I immediately dismissed him from the agency. However, he went ahead and married me, and I have witnesses that I dismissed him before the marriage. She presented her witnesses, but the brother said: O Commander of the Faithful, she appointed me as her agent, and she did not inform me that she had dismissed me before I performed the marriage as she instructed.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked her: What do you say?

She replied: I informed him, O Commander of the Faithful.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} then asked her: Do you have evidence for this?

She replied: These are my witnesses who testify.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} turned to the witnesses and asked: What do you say?

They said: We testify that she said: 'Bear witness that I have dismissed my brother from acting as my agent to marry me to such-and-such, and that I have control over my affairs before he married me.'

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: Did she testify to this in his presence and with his knowledge? They replied: No.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} then asked: Do you testify that she informed him of the dismissal, just as she had informed him of the agency?

They replied: No.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: I find the agency valid and the marriage effective. Where is the husband?

The husband came forward, and the Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: Take her by the hand—may Allah ^{SWT} bless her for you.

The woman said: O Commander of the Faithful, make him swear that I did not inform him of the dismissal and that he did not know of my dismissal before the marriage.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: Will you swear?

The brother replied: Yes, O Commander of the Faithful.

He then took the oath, and the Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} upheld his agency and validated the marriage.

Hadith.3384 - It is narrated from Dawood ibn Al-Husayn, from Umar ibn Hanzalah, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}:

I asked him about a man who said to another, "Propose marriage to so-and-so on my behalf, and whatever you negotiate regarding the dowry, guarantee, or conditions will be binding on me and accepted."

However, he did not bring witnesses for this agreement. The second man went ahead, proposed marriage, and committed to the dowry and other demands they requested. When he returned, the first man denied all of it.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must pay half of the dowry on his behalf, as it was he who neglected her right by failing to have witnesses for the agreement he made. Thus, it becomes permissible for her to marry someone else, and the first man is not allowed to take her back unless he formally divorces her. This is because Allah ^{SWT} the Exalted says: 'Retention in kindness or release in fairness' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:229). If he does not do so, then he is sinful before Allah ^{SWT} the Almighty. However, the apparent ruling under Islamic law allows her to marry someone else, as Allah ^{SWT} has made it permissible for her."

Hadith.3385 - It is narrated from Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr, from Hisham ibn Salim, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}:

Regarding a man who appointed another as his agent (wakil) for a matter and had two witnesses testify to the appointment, the agent then proceeded to act upon the matter. Meanwhile, the principal declared, "Witness that I have dismissed so-and-so from the agency."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the agent had executed the matter before being dismissed from the agency, then the action remains valid and binding, whether the principal is pleased with it or not."

I asked: "What if the agent completed the action before learning of the dismissal or being informed that he had been removed from the agency?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, the action stands as valid."

I then asked: "What if the agent received notice of dismissal before carrying out the matter, but proceeded with it anyway?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then the action is invalid."

Imam ^{a.s} added: "An agent, once appointed, retains authority as long as he is not informed of the dismissal by a trustworthy source or directly notified in person of the termination of the agency."

Regarding a man to whom a woman entrusted her affairs—whether she was a relative or a neighbor—and he did not know her internal situation, and later discovered that she had concealed a defect:

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "The dowry is to be taken from her, and the man who married her is not held liable." He also said regarding a woman who entrusted her affairs to a man and said: "Marry me to so-and-so."

The man replied: "I will not marry you until you testify that your affair is in my hands."

She testified to this, and during the marriage contract, the man said to the suitor, "O so-and-so, upon you is such-and-such (as a condition)."

The suitor replied: "Yes."

The man then said to the witnesses, "Bear witness that this is due to her from me, and I have married her to myself."

The woman then declared, "I never intended to marry you, nor do I accept such a marriage. My affair is in my own hands, and I only entrusted you out of modesty in speaking."

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "She is to be separated from him, and he is to be disciplined for his conduct."

Hadith.3387 - In the book "Nawadir" by Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr, from multiple narrators among our companions, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}:

Concerning a man who collected the dowry of his daughter from her husband and then passed away—can she demand her dowry from her husband, or is her father's collection considered her own collection?

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "If she had authorized him to collect her dowry from her husband, then she has no right to demand it again. However, if she had not authorized him, then she has the right to claim it. In this case, the husband may seek repayment from the father's heirs—unless she was a minor under his care. In such a situation, the father's collection is valid on her behalf.

If the husband divorces her before consummation, the father may waive part of the dowry and retain part, but he does not have the authority to forgo the entire amount. This is based on the verse of Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted:

'Except when they waive it or he (the guardian) in whose hand is the marriage contract waives it.' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2: 237)

This refers to the father or anyone the woman appoints and entrusts with her affairs, such as a brother, a relative, or others."

CHAPTER 38 – CHAPTER ON JUDGMENT BY LOT

Hadith.3388 - Narrated by Hammad ibn Isa, from someone who informed him, from Hariz, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s.}:

"The first person upon whom casting lots (Qur'ah) was performed was Maryam (Mary), the daughter of Imran. This is based on the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted:

'And you were not with them when they cast their pens as to which of them should be responsible for Maryam.' (Surah Aal-E-Imran 3:44).

The lots were six in number. Then they cast lots for Yunus ^{a.s.} (Jonah ^{a.s.}) when he sailed with a group of people. When the ship was caught in turbulence, they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Yunus three times."

Imam ^{a.s.} continued: "Yunus ^{a.s.} proceeded to the edge of the ship, and there was the whale with its mouth wide open. So he threw himself in.

Similarly, when Abdul Muttalib ^{a.s.} had nine sons, he vowed that if Allah ^{SWT} granted him a tenth son, he would sacrifice him. When Abdullah ^{a.s.} was born, he could not bear to sacrifice him, as the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) was in his lineage.

So Abdul Muttalib ^{a.s.} brought ten camels and cast lots between them and Abdullah ^{a.s.}. The lot fell on Abdullah ^{a.s.}. He added ten more camels and repeated the process. The lot continued to fall on Abdullah ^{a.s.}, and he kept increasing the camels by ten each time.

Finally, when the number of camels reached one hundred, the lot fell on the camels.

Abdul Muttalib ^{a.s.} then said: 'I have not yet done justice to my Lord ^{AZJ}, ' and repeated the lot three more times.

When it fell on the camels each time, he said: 'Now I know my Lord ^{AZJ} is satisfied.'

So he sacrificed the camels."

"I asked Abu al-Hasan Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s} about a matter.

Imam ^{a.s} said to me: 'For every unknown matter, the solution lies in casting lots (Qur'ah).'

I said: 'But casting lots can be right or wrong.'

Imam ^{a.s} replied: 'Whatever Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, decrees is never wrong.'"

Whomever the lot falls upon, the child is his, and he must pay the value of the child to the owner of the bondwoman."

Imam ^{a.s} further said: "If a man buys a bondwoman, and another man comes and claims her rightfully, and she has already given birth to a child by the buyer, the bondwoman is returned to the rightful owner, while the child belongs to the buyer, but he must pay its value."

Hadith.3393 - Zur'ah narrated from Sama'ah, who said that Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} said:

"Two men disputed before Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} over a beast, each claiming that it was born in his stable. Both presented equal evidence in number.

So, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} drew lots between them. He marked the two lots with distinct signs for each claimant, and then said:

'O Allah ^{SWT}, Lord ^{AZJ} of the seven heavens and the seven earths, and Lord ^{AZJ} of the Great Throne, Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Most Merciful, the Most Compassionate—whichever of these two is the rightful owner of the beast and has the stronger claim to it, I ask You to bring forth his lot.'

Then the lot of one of them was drawn, and Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ruled in his favor."

CHAPTER 39 – CHAPTER ON GUARANTEE

بَابُ الْكَفَالَةِ

HADITH 3400 – 3405

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3400 - رَوَى سَعْدُ بْنُ طَرِيفٍ عَنِ الْأَصْبَغِ بْنِ نُبَاتَةَ قَالَ: قَضَى أَمِيرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ فِي رَجُلٍ تَكْفَّلَ بِنَفْسِ رَجُلٍ أَنْ يُحْبَسَ وَ قَالَ لَهُ «أُطْلَبُ صَاحِبَكَ» وَ قَضَى عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «أَنْهُ لَا كَفَالَةَ فِي حَدٍّ».

Hadith.3400 - Sa'd ibn Tarif narrated from Al-Asbagh ibn Nubatah:

"Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ruled in the case of a man who guaranteed the presence of another man that he should be detained, and Imam ^{a.s} said to him, "Seek your companion."

And Imam ^{a.s} ruled: 'There is no guarantee (kafalah) in matters involving prescribed punishments (hudud).'"

Hadith.3403 - It is narrated from Dawud ibn al-Husayn, from Abu al-Abbas, from Abu Abdullah (a.s.).

I asked him about a man who guarantees (takes responsibility for) another man's presence until a specified time, and if he does not bring him, he will owe such-and-such amount of dirhams. Imam (a.s.) said: "If he brings him by the specified time, then he is not liable for what he mentioned, and he remains a guarantor for his presence indefinitely unless he begins with the dirhams. If he begins with the dirhams, then he is liable for them if he does not bring him by the specified time he had set."

CHAPTER 40 – CHAPTER ON TRANSFER OF DEBT

بَابُ الْحَوَالَةِ

HADITH 3406 – 3409

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3406 - رَوَى غِيَاثُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ آبَائِهِ عَنْ عَلِيِّ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي رَجُلَيْنِ بَيْنَهُمَا مَالٌ مِنْهُ بِأَيْدِيهِمَا وَ مِنْهُ غَائِبٌ عَنْهُمَا فَاقْتَسَمَا الَّذِي بِأَيْدِيهِمَا وَ أَحَالَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا بِنَصِيْبِهِ فَقَبَضَ أَحَدُهُمَا وَ لَمْ يَفْبِضْ الْآخَرُ فَقَالَ «مَا قَبَضَ أَحَدُهُمَا فَهُوَ بَيْنَهُمَا وَ مَا ذَهَبَ فَهُوَ بَيْنَهُمَا».

Hadith.3406 - Ghiyath ibn Ibrahim narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his forefathers, from Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

Regarding two men who share property—some of it is in their possession, and some is absent—so they divide what is in their possession, and each one assigns his share. One of them collects his share, but the other does not collect his share.

Imam Ali ^{a.s} said: "Whatever is collected by one of them is shared between them, and whatever is lost is also shared between them."

Hadith.3407 - It is narrated:

When Abdullah ibn al-Hasan was on his deathbed, his creditors gathered around him and demanded repayment of their debts.

He replied: "I do not have anything to give you, but accept as your guarantor whomever you wish from my brother and my cousins— Imam Ali ibn al-Husayn ^{a.s} or Abdullah ibn Ja'far."

The creditors said: "As for Abdullah ibn Ja'far, he is wealthy but delays payments, and as for Imam Ali ibn al-Husayn ^{a.s}, he has no wealth, but he is truthful, and he is the most beloved of the two to us."

So, they sent for Imam Ali ibn al-Husayn ^{a.s} and informed him of the situation.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "I will guarantee your payment until the harvest comes," though he did not have any harvest. The creditors agreed, and he guaranteed the payment. When the harvest came, Allah ^{SWT} Almighty provided him with the means, and he repaid the debts.

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who had dinars owed to him by another man, and the debtor transferred the payment obligation to a third man in exchange for dirhams instead of dinars. Is this permissible?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, it is permissible."

Hadith.3410 - Ghiyath bin Ibrahim narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, from his forefathers, from Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}:

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) ruled regarding the floodwaters of the Valley of Mahzur that the upper part should hold the water for irrigation until it reaches the level of the sandal strap for crops and the level of the ankle for palm trees. Then the water should be released to the lower areas from that point.

Hadith.3411 - In another narration: "For crops, the water should reach up to the two sandal straps, and for palm trees, up to the two shins."

[AL SADUQ]

The ruling depends on the strength or weakness of the wadi (valley)."

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said:

I heard from someone I trust among the people of Medina that it is called Wadi Mahzur.

I also heard from our teacher, Muhammad ibn al-Hasan (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him), that he said it is Wadi Mahruz, with the placement of the unpointed "ra" before the pointed "zay." He mentioned that it is a Persian word derived from "harz al-maa," meaning water that exceeds the required amount in Persian.

Hadith.3412 - Mansur ibn Hazim asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about a courtyard situated between two houses.

Imam ^{a.s} mentioned that Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ruled that it belongs to the owner of the house from whose side the boundary rope (al-qimat) extends.

Hadith.3413 - Amr ibn Shimr narrated from Jabir, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his father, from his grandfather, from Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}:

He ruled in a case where two men disputed over a reed fence (khuss).

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "The fence belongs to the one to whom the boundary rope (al-qimat) is attached."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book (may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him) explained that the 'khuss' refers to a structure made of reeds, commonly found in rural areas between houses.

The 'qimat' is the fastening of a rope, indicating that the ownership of the fence is determined by whose side the rope is tied. Some have also said that 'qimat' refers to a stone used to secure the door.

Hadith.3420 - Narrated by Uqbah ibn Khalid from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}:

Regarding a man who dug a water channel from a mountain, and its water flowed for a year. Then another man came to the same mountain and dug another channel, but the second channel diverted the water of the first channel.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "They should measure the water flow using the buckets of the well, alternating night by night, to determine which channel has caused harm to the other. If the later channel has harmed the earlier one, then it should be removed."

And the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) judged similarly, saying:

"If the first channel has taken the water of the second channel, then the owner of the second channel has no claim over the first."

One of the men wanted to lower the level of his spring from its original position, but some of the springs, if altered in this way, could harm the others, while some would not cause harm due to the firmness of the soil.

Hadith.3423 - Al-Hasan al-Sayqal narrated from Abu Ubaydah al-Hadhdha', who said that Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

"Samurah ibn Jundub had a date palm tree in the orchard of a certain man. Whenever he came to his tree, he would see things related to the man's family that the man disliked being seen.

The man went to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) and complained about him, saying: O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, Samurah enters my property without my permission. Would you send for him and command him to seek permission, so that my family can take precautions against him?"

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) sent for Samurah and said to him: O Samurah, what is this matter that so-and-so complains about you, saying that you enter his property without permission and see things from his family that he dislikes? O Samurah, seek permission when you enter.'

Then the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) said: 'Would it please you (Samurah) to have a date palm branch in Paradise in exchange for your tree?'

He (Samurah) replied: 'No.'

The Prophet said: 'You will have three (branches in Paradise).'

He (Samurah) again said: ‘No.’

The Prophet then said: ‘I do not see you, O Samurah, except as someone who causes harm. O so-and-so, cut down his tree and throw it in his face.’”

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said:

"This hadith does not contradict the earlier hadith I mentioned in the beginning of this chapter, where the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) judged regarding a man who sold his date palms but excluded one tree, ruling that he had the right to enter and exit to reach it.

The earlier ruling applies to someone who purchased the palm tree along with its access path. However, in the case of Samurah, he owned the palm tree but did not have the right of passage to access it."

Hadith.3424 - Muhammad ibn Ali al-Halabi narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}:

I said to Imam ^{a.s.}: "Who are those whom I am obligated to provide for?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "The parents, the child, the wife, and the minor heir — meaning the brother, the brother's son, and others."

Hadith.3425 - A Bedouin came to the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, and claimed seventy dirhams as the price of a she-camel he had sold to Him ^{saws}.

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "I have paid you."

The Bedouin said: "Appoint someone between me and you who will judge between us."

Then, a man from Quraysh approached, and the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Judge between us."

The man asked the Bedouin: "What is your claim against the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}?"

He replied: "Seventy dirhams, the price of a she-camel I sold to Him ^{saws}."

The judge asked: "What do you say, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}?"

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "I have paid him."

The judge then asked the Bedouin: "What do you say?"

The Bedouin replied: "He ^{saws} has not paid me."

The judge said to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family: "Do you have any evidence that you have paid him?"

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "No."

The judge then said to the Bedouin: "Will you swear that you have not received your due and then take it?"

The Bedouin replied: "Yes."

Then the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: "I will indeed take this matter for judgment to a man who judges between us with the judgment of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic."

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, went to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, accompanied by the Bedouin.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "What is the matter, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}?"

He ^{saws} said: "O Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s}, judge between me and this Bedouin."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "O Bedouin, what is your claim against the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}?"

The Bedouin replied: "Seventy dirhams, the price of a she-camel I sold to him ^{saws}."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: "What do you say, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}?"

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "I have paid him its price."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "O Bedouin, has the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, spoken the truth in what He ^{saws} said?"

The Bedouin replied: "No, He ^{saws} has not paid me anything."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, then drew his sword and struck his neck.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Why did you do that, O Ali ^{a.s}?"

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} replied: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, we believe you concerning Allah's ^{SWT} commands and prohibitions, and regarding Paradise and Hell, reward and punishment, and the revelation of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic. Should we then not believe you concerning the price of this Bedouin's she-camel? I killed him because he denied you when I asked him, 'Has the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} spoken the truth in what he said?' and he replied: 'No, he has not paid me anything.'"

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: "You have done right, O Ali ^{a.s}, but do not repeat this again."

Then, He ^{saws} turned to the Qurayshi man who had followed him and said: "This is the judgment of Allah ^{SWT}, not what you had judged."

Hadith.3426 - In the narration of Muhammad ibn Bahr al-Shaybani, from Ahmad ibn al-Harith, who said: Abu Ayyub al-Kufi narrated to us, who said: Ishaq ibn Wahb al-Allaf narrated to us, who said: Abu Asim al-Nabbal narrated to us, from Ibn Jurayj, from al-Dahhak, from Ibn Abbas, who said:

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, came out from the house of Aisha, and a Bedouin approached him with a she-camel.

The Bedouin said: "O Muhammad, will you buy this she-camel?"

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Yes. For how much do you sell it, O Bedouin?"

The Bedouin replied: "For two hundred dirhams."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Rather, your she-camel is worth more than this."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, continued to increase the price until he purchased the she-camel for four hundred dirhams.

When the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, handed the dirhams to the Bedouin, the Bedouin grabbed the reins of the she-camel and said: "The she-camel is mine, and the dirhams are mine. If Muhammad ^{saws} has any claim, let him present evidence."

Then a man approached, and the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Do you agree to this elder who has come to judge between us?"

The Bedouin said: "Yes, O Muhammad ^{saws}."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Judge between me and this Bedouin."

The man said: "Speak, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "The she-camel is mine, and the dirhams belong to the Bedouin."

The Bedouin said: "Rather, the she-camel is mine, and the dirhams are mine. If Muhammad ^{saws} has any claim, let him present evidence."

The man said: "The case is clear, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, since the Bedouin is asking for evidence."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said to him, "Sit down." So he sat.

Then another man approached, and the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Do you agree, O Bedouin, to this elder who has come to judge between us?"

The Bedouin said: "Yes, O Muhammad ^{saws}."

When the man came closer, the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Judge between me and the Bedouin."

The man said: "Speak, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "The she-camel is mine, and the dirhams belong to the Bedouin."

The Bedouin said: "Rather, the she-camel is mine, and the dirhams are mine. If Muhammad ^{saws} has any claim, let him present evidence."

The man said: "The case is clear, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, because the Bedouin is asking for evidence."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Sit until Allah ^{SWT} brings someone who will judge between me and the Bedouin with truth."

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} approached.

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "Do you accept this young man who has come forward as a judge?"

The Bedouin said: "Yes."

When Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} drew near, the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "O Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s}, judge between me and this Bedouin."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Speak, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "The she-camel is mine, and the dirhams belong to the Bedouin."

The Bedouin said: "No, rather the she-camel is mine, and the dirhams are mine. If Muhammad ^{saws} has any claim, let him bring evidence."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Leave the she-camel with the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family."

The Bedouin replied: "I will not do so unless He ^{saws} presents evidence."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} then entered his house, took hold of the hilt of his sword, and came back.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Leave the she-camel with the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family."

The Bedouin replied: "I will not do so unless he presents evidence."

So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} struck him with a blow.

The people of Hijaz said that he struck off his head, while some people of Iraq said that he cut off one of his limbs.

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "What made you do this, O Ali ^{a.s}?"

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, we believe you concerning the revelation from the heavens, yet we do not believe you regarding four hundred dirhams?"

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said: These two narrations are not contradictory because they pertain to two different incidents. The latter incident occurred before the one I mentioned earlier.

Hadith.3427 - Muhammad ibn Bahr al-Shaybani narrated from Abd al-Rahman ibn Ahmad al-Dhuhli, who said: Muhammad ibn Yahya al-Naysaburi narrated to us, who said: Abu al-Yaman al-Hakam ibn Nafi' al-Himsi narrated to us, who said: Shu'ayb narrated from al-Zuhri, from Abdullah ibn Ahmad al-Dhuhli, who said:

'Umara ibn Khuzayma ibn Thabit narrated to me that his uncle, who was one of the companions of the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said:

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, purchased a horse from a Bedouin.

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, walked quickly to pay him the price of the horse, but the Bedouin delayed. Meanwhile, some men intercepted the Bedouin and began bargaining with him for the horse, unaware that the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, had already bought it. Some of them even offered the Bedouin a higher price.

Then the Bedouin called out: "If you want to buy this horse, then buy it; otherwise, I will sell it to someone else."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, upon hearing this, said: "Did I not already buy it from you?"

People began to gather around the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, and the Bedouin, and they started disputing.

The Bedouin said: "Bring a witness to testify that I sold it to you."

Among the Muslims who arrived, they said to the Bedouin: "The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, does not speak except the truth."

Then Khuzayma ibn Thabit came forward, listened to the argument between the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, and the Bedouin, and said: "I bear witness that you have sold it to him."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, turned to Khuzayma and said: "On what basis do you testify?"

Khuzayma replied: "By affirming your truthfulness, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}."

Then the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, declared the testimony of Khuzayma ibn Thabit equal to the testimony of two witnesses, and he called him 'Dhul Shahadatayn' (the possessor of two testimonies).

Hadith.3428 - Muhammad ibn Qays narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir {a.s}.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} was in the Mosque of Kufa when Abdullah ibn Qufl al-Taymi passed by him, carrying the armor of Talha.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "This is Talha's armor, which was taken unlawfully on the day of Basra."

Ibn Qufl said: "O Commander of the Faithful, appoint as judge between you and me the one you have approved for the Muslims."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} appointed Shurayh as the judge.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "This is Talha's armor, which was taken unlawfully on the day of Basra."

Shurayh said: "O Commander of the Faithful, bring evidence for what you claim."

So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} brought Imam Hasan ibn Ali {a.s}, who testified that it was Talha's armor and had been taken unlawfully on the day of Basra.

Shurayh said: "This is one witness, but I do not pass judgment based on a single witness until there is another."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} then brought Qanbar, who testified that it was Talha's armor and had been taken unlawfully on the day of Basra.

Shurayh said: "This is a servant, and I do not pass judgment based on the testimony of a servant."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} became angry and said: "Take the armor, for this judge has ruled unjustly three times."

Shurayh then moved away from his seat and said: "I will not judge between two people until you explain to me how I have ruled unjustly three times."

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "When I told you that it was Talha's armor, taken unlawfully on the day of Basra, you demanded evidence, even though the Messenger of Allah {SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said: 'Wherever stolen property is found, it shall be taken without the need for evidence.' I said to myself, 'Perhaps this man has not heard this Hadith.'

Then I brought you al-Hasan {a.s}, who testified, and you said: 'This is one witness, and I do not pass judgment based on a single witness until there is another.' Yet the Messenger of Allah {SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, passed judgment based on one witness and an oath. This was the second error.

Then I brought you Qanbar, who testified, and you said: 'This is a servant, and I do not accept the testimony of a servant.' But there is nothing wrong with accepting the testimony of a servant if he is just. This was the third error."

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "O Shurayh, the Imam of the Muslims is entrusted with matters greater than this."

Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir {a.s} said: "The first to reject the testimony of a servant was Rum'a."

If a woman dies and her father claims that he had lent her some of the items or servants in her possession, is his claim accepted without evidence, or is it not accepted unless he provides evidence?"

Imam ^{a.s} wrote in reply: "His claim is accepted without evidence."

Ja'far continued:

I also wrote to Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s}, referring to Imam Ali ibn Muhammad ^{a.s}: "May I be your ransom. If the deceased woman's husband, or the father of her husband, or the mother of her husband, makes a similar claim about lending some of the items or servants, like the father had claimed, would they be treated like the father in their claim?"

Imam ^{a.s} wrote in reply: "No."

Hadith.3430 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Rifa'ah ibn Musa al-Nakhkhas, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

"If a man divorces his wife, and she claims that the belongings are hers while he claims that the belongings are his, then the man is entitled to what is for men, and the woman is entitled to what is for women."

It has also been narrated:

"The woman has a greater right to the belongings because it is commonly known among the people of the area that a woman brings belongings with her to her husband's house."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said:

This refers to belongings that are typically used by women and belongings that are commonly needed by both men and women. As for items that are suitable only for men, they belong to the man. This narration does not contradict the previous one, which stated that the man is entitled to what is for men and the woman to what is for women. And Allah ^{SWT} grants success.

Hadith.3432 - Ali ibn Abdullah al-Warraq, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, narrated from Sa'd ibn Abdullah, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Isa, from Muhammad ibn Abi Umair, from Hammad, from Muhammad ibn Muslim, who said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about an oath for a mute person if a debt is claimed against him and the claimant has no evidence.

Imam {a.s} said: "Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, was once brought a case involving a mute person against whom a debt was claimed. The mute denied it, and the claimant had no evidence.

Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, said: 'Praise be to Allah {SWT}, who did not take me from this world until I clarified for the nation all that it needs.'

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: 'Bring me a copy of the Quran.'

When it was brought, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said to the mute: 'What is this?'

The mute raised his head toward the sky and gestured that it was the Book of Allah {SWT}.

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: 'Bring me his guardian.'

They brought his brother, and Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s}, seated him next to the mute.

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: 'O Qanbar, bring me ink and a plate.'

When they were brought, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said to the mute's brother: 'Say to your brother that this matter between him and the claimant is a matter of truth.'

Then Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, wrote:

'By Allah {SWT}, besides whom there is no god, Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Most Merciful, the Most Compassionate, the Overpowering, the Victorious, the One who brings harm and benefit, the Destroyer, the All-Knowing—who knows what is hidden and what is apparent—indeed, the claimant (mentioning his name) has no right or claim against (mentioning the mute's name) in any form or through any cause.'

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} washed the writing and ordered the mute to drink it.

The mute refused, so Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, ruled that the debt was binding upon him."

HADITH 3433 – 3455

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3433 - قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ : «مَنْ أَعْتَقَ مُؤْمِنًا أَعْتَقَ اللَّهُ بِكُلِّ عُضْوٍ مِنْهُ عُضْوًا مِنَ النَّارِ وَ إِنْ كَانَتْ أَنْثَى أَعْتَقَ اللَّهُ بِكُلِّ عُضْوَيْنِ مِنْهَا عُضْوًا مِنَ النَّارِ لِأَنَّ الْمَرْأَةَ بِنِصْفِ الرَّجُلِ».

Hadith.3433 - The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, said:

"Whoever frees a believing slave, Allah ^{SWT} will free a limb of his from the Fire for every limb of the slave. And if it is a female slave, Allah ^{SWT} will free two limbs of his for every limb of hers from the Fire, because a woman is equal to half of a man."

Hadith.3435 - It is narrated from Abu Basir, Abu al-Abbas, and Ubayd ibn Zurarah, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

"If a man owns his parents, or his sister, or his paternal aunt, or his maternal aunt, or his brother's daughter, or his sister's daughter"—and he mentioned the women listed in this verse—"then they all become free."

However, a man may own his paternal uncle, or his brother's son, or his sister's son, or his maternal uncle, but he may not own his mother through nursing, nor his sister, nor his paternal aunt, nor his maternal aunt. If he comes to own them, they are freed."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "What is prohibited due to lineage among women is also prohibited through nursing."

And Imam ^{a.s} said: "A man may own males except his father and his son, and he may not own any woman who is a mahram."

I said: "Does the same ruling apply in the case of nursing?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, the same ruling applies in the case of nursing."

Hadith.3437 - Muhammad ibn Qays narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, ruled regarding a slave who was jointly owned by two men. One of them freed his half while the slave was still a child, and the other retained ownership of his half.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The slave shall be valued based on his worth on the day the first owner freed his share, and the freed slave shall be required to work to pay off the value of the half that was not freed until he fulfills the amount."

3438 - وَ رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْفَضْلِ عَنْ أَبِي الصَّبَّاحِ الْكِنَانِيِّ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَنِ الرَّجُلَيْنِ يَكُونُ بَيْنَهُمَا الْأَمَةُ فَيُعْتِقُ أَحَدُهُمَا نِصْفَهُ فَتَقُولُ الْأَمَةُ لِلَّذِي لَمْ يُعْتِقْ نِصْفَهُ لَا أُرِيدُ أَنْ تُقَوِّمَنِي دَرَنِي كَمَا أَنَا

أَخْدُمَكَ وَ أَنَّهُ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَسْتَنْكِحَ النَّصْفَ الْآخَرَ قَالَ «لَا يَنْبَغِي لَهُ أَنْ يَفْعَلَ إِنَّهُ لَا يَكُونُ لِلْمَرْأَةِ فَرْجَانِ وَلَا يَنْبَغِي لَهُ أَنْ يَسْتَخْدِمَهَا وَلَا يَكُنْ يَقُومُهَا وَيَسْتَسْعِيهَا».

و فِي رِوَايَةِ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ مِثْلُهُ إِلَّا أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «وَ إِنْ كَانَ الَّذِي أَعْتَقَهَا مُحْتَاجًا فَلْيَسْتَسْعِهَا».

Hadith.3438 - Muhammad ibn al-Fudayl narrated from Abu al-Sabbah al-Kinani, who said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about two men who jointly own a female slave. One of them frees his half, and the slave says to the one who did not free his half, "I do not want to be valued; leave me as I am, and I will continue serving you."

Meanwhile, the owner intends to marry the other half of her.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He should not do that, for a woman cannot have two private parts. Nor should he use her for service. Instead, he must value her and let her work to pay off the remaining portion."

[AL SADUQ]

And in the narration of Abu Basir, it is similar, except that he said:

"If the one who freed her is in need, then let her work to pay off the value."

Hadith.3439 - Hammad narrated from al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, that he was asked about two men who jointly owned a slave, and one of them freed his share.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he did so with the intent of causing harm, he will be required to free the slave completely. Otherwise, the slave must work to pay off the value of the remaining half."

Hadith.3440 - Hariz narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim, who said:

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, "A man inherited a slave, and there were partners with him in the ownership of the slave. He freed his share for the sake of Allah ^{SWT}."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he freed his share with the intent of causing harm while being financially capable, he must compensate the heirs. But if he freed his share sincerely for the sake of Allah ^{SWT}, the portion belonging to the one who freed him is emancipated. The remaining partners may utilize the slave according to their shares."

For instance, if half of the slave is still owned by the partners, the slave will work one day for them and one day for himself.

However, if the partner freed his share with the intent of causing harm, the emancipation is invalid because he intended to create disruption for the others. In such a case, the remaining partners retain their shares."

Hadith.3443 - It is narrated from Sama'ah, who said: I asked him about a man who said to three of his slaves, "You are free," while he actually had four slaves.

Then someone said to him: "You have freed all your slaves."

He replied: "Yes."

I asked: "Is the emancipation binding for all four because he generalized them, or is it limited to the three whom he specifically mentioned?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Emancipation is binding only for those he specifically freed."

3451 - وَ سَأَلَهُ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ :

عَنْ رَجُلٍ أَعْتَقَ عَبْدًا لَهُ وَ لِلْعَبْدِ مَالٌ فَتَوَفَّى الَّذِي أَعْتَقَ الْعَبْدَ لِمَنْ يَكُونُ مَالُ الْعَبْدِ أَمْ يَكُونُ لِلَّذِي أَعْتَقَ الْعَبْدَ أَوْ لِلْعَبْدِ قَالَ «إِذَا أَعْتَقَهُ وَ هُوَ يَعْلَمُ أَنَّ لَهُ مَالًا فَمَالُهُ لَهُ وَ إِنْ لَمْ يَعْلَمْ فَمَالُهُ لَوْلَدِ سَيِّدِهِ».

Hadith.3451 - Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Abdullah asked him about a man who freed his slave, and the slave had wealth.

Then the man who freed the slave passed away.

Abd al-Rahman asked: "To whom does the wealth of the slave belong? Does it go to the one who freed the slave, or does it belong to the slave?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he freed him knowing that the slave had wealth, then the wealth belongs to the slave. But if he did not know, then the wealth belongs to the children of his master."

فِي رَجُلٍ أَعْتَقَ مَمْلُوكَهُ عِنْدَ مَوْتِهِ وَ عَلَيْهِ دَيْنٌ قَالَ «إِنْ كَانَ قِيَمَةُ الْعَبْدِ مِثْلَ الَّذِي عَلَيْهِ وَ مِثْلُهُ جَارَ عِثْقِهِ وَ إِلَّا لَمْ يَجُزْ».

Hadith.3452 - Jamil narrated from Zurarah, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding a man who freed his slave at the time of his death while he was in debt.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the value of the slave equals the amount of his debt or more, the emancipation is valid. Otherwise, it is not valid."

Hadith.3453 - Hammad narrated from al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, that he was asked about a man who said: "If I die, my slave is free," while the man was in debt.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he dies and his debt equals the value of the slave, the slave shall be sold to pay off the debt. But if the debt does not equal the value of the slave, the slave must work to pay off his master's debt, and he becomes free once the debt is fully repaid."

I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who left a slave jointly owned by several people, and one of them testified that the deceased had freed the slave.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the witness is trustworthy, he does not have to compensate the others, and his testimony is valid for his share. As for the remaining shares belonging to the heirs, the slave must work to pay off their value."

CHAPTER 49 – CHAPTER ON CONDITIONAL EMANCIPATION (TADBIR)

بَابُ التَّدْبِيرِ

🕸 HADITH 3456 – 3468 🕸

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3456 - سَأَلَ إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ أَبَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ :

عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يُعْتِقُ مَمْلُوكَهُ عَنْ دُبْرٍ ثُمَّ يَحْتَاجُ إِلَى تَمَنِّهِ قَالَ «يَبِيعُهُ» قَالَ قُلْتُ فَإِنْ كَانَ لَهُ عَنْ تَمَنِّهِ غَنَى قَالَ «إِذَا رَضِيَ الْمَمْلُوكُ فَلَا بَأْسَ».

Hadith.3456 - Ishaq ibn Ammar asked Abu Ibrahim (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim) ^{a.s}, about a man who frees his slave as a delayed emancipation (to take effect after his death) and then becomes in need of the slave's price.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may sell him."

I asked: "What if he is not in need of the price?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the slave agrees, then there is no harm."

Hadith.3458 - It is narrated by al-Ala', from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from one of the Imams ^{a.s}, peace be upon them, regarding a man who frees his male or female slave as a mudabbar (to be freed after his death) and then becomes in need of the slave's price.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, he may not sell the slave—unless he stipulates to the buyer that the slave must be freed at the time of his death."

Hadith.3459 - Abu Ibrahim (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}) was asked about a woman who made her bondwoman mudabbar (to be freed after her death). The bondwoman later gave birth to a precious daughter, and it was unclear whether the child was also mudabbar like her mother or not.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "When the pregnancy occurred, was it before or after the tadbir (declaration of delayed emancipation)?"

I said: "May I be your ransom, I do not know. Please answer regarding both situations."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the bondwoman was pregnant before the tadbir and her pregnancy was not mentioned during the declaration, then the bondwoman is mudabbar, but what is in her womb remains in bondage (not mudabbar).

However, if the tadbir occurred before the pregnancy and then she became pregnant, the child is mudabbar along with her, because the pregnancy occurred after the tadbir."

Hadith.3460 - Al-Hasan ibn Ali al-Washsha' asked Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s} about a man who made his bondwoman mudabbar (to be freed after his death) while she was pregnant.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he knew about the pregnancy of the bondwoman, then what is in her womb has the same status as her (i.e., it is also mudabbar). But if he did not know, then what is in her womb remains in bondage (not mudabbar)."

Al-Hasan ibn Ali al-Washsha' further asked him about a man who made his slave mudabbar while he was financially well-off, but later he became needy.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, if he becomes in need, it is permissible for him to sell the slave."

Hadith.3464 - Abdullah ibn Sinan asked him about a woman who freed one-third of her servant at the time of her death.

He asked: "Are her heirs required to enter into a mukataba (a contract of emancipation in exchange for payment) with the servant if they wish, or can they refuse?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, but the servant owns one-third of herself, and the heirs own two-thirds. The heirs may use her services in proportion to their share, and she has freedom over herself in proportion to the part that was freed."

I asked: "Can he use this same slave, whom he had promised freedom upon his death, to fulfill the requirement of freeing a slave for the expiation?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, it is not permissible to use the slave designated for that purpose."

Hadith.3467 - Ibn Mahbub narrated from Ali ibn Ri'ab, from Burayd ibn Mu'awiyah, who said: I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, about a man who made his wealthy slave mudabbar (to be freed after his death). The mudabbar, with the permission of his master, bought a bondwoman who bore him children. Then the mudabbar died before his master. Imam ^{a.s} said: "I believe that all the property, possessions, or estates left by the mudabbar belong to the one who made him mudabbar. As for the mother of his children, she remains a slave to the one who made him mudabbar. However, I see that her children take the same status as their father—they are mudabbar. Therefore, when the one who made their father mudabbar dies, they will be freed."

🌀 HADITH 3469 – 3493 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3469 - وَ رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سِنَانٍ عَنِ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ الْفَضِيلِ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي قَوْلِ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ: ﴿ فَكَاتِبُوهُمْ إِنْ عَلِمْتُمْ فِيهِمْ خَيْرًا ﴾ قَالَ « إِنْ عَلِمْتُمْ لَهُمْ مَالًا » قَالَ قُلْتُ ﴿ وَ أَنْوَهُمْ مِنْ مَالِ اللَّهِ الَّذِي آتَاكُمْ ﴾ قَالَ « تَصْعَعُ عَنْهُ مِنْ نُجُومِهِ الَّتِي لَمْ تَكُنْ تُرِيدُ أَنْ تَنْقُصَهُ مِنْهَا شَيْئًا وَ لَا تَزِيدَهُ فَوْقَ مَا فِي نَفْسِكَ » فَقُلْتُ كَمْ قَالَ « وَصَّعَ أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ لِمَمْلُوكٍ لَهُ أَلْفًا مِنْ سِتَّةِ آلَافٍ ».

Hadith.3469 - Muhammad ibn Sinan narrated from al-Ala' ibn al-Fudayl, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic: "Then write [a contract of emancipation] for them if you know any good in them" (Surah An-Nur 24:33).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If you know that they possess wealth."

I asked about the verse: 'And give them from the wealth of Allah which He has given you,' (Surah An-Nur 24:33).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "You reduce for them from their installments what you did not initially intend to reduce, and do not increase it beyond what you originally intended."

I asked: "How much?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, reduced one thousand out of six thousand for one of his slaves."

Hadith.3470 - Amr ibn Shimr narrated from Jabir, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who had a condition stipulated that if he failed to make payments, he would return to slavery. What if he failed before paying anything?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He does not return to slavery until three years have passed. Whatever portion he has already paid counts toward his emancipation. If he has made partial payments, they cannot return him to slavery."

3471 - وَ سُئِلَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَنْ مُكَاتَبٍ عَجَزَ عَنْ مُكَاتَبَتِهِ وَ قَدْ أَدَّى بَعْضَهَا قَالَ «يُؤَدِّي عَنْهُ مِنْ مَالِ الصَّدَقَةِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ يَقُولُ فِي كِتَابِهِ: ﴿ وَ فِي الرِّقَابِ ۝ ﴾».

Hadith.3471 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} was asked about a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who was unable to complete the payments of his contract, although he had already paid part of it.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The remaining amount should be paid on his behalf from the charity funds, as Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says in His ^{SWT} Book: 'and for freeing slaves' (Surah At-Tawbah 9:60)."

3472 - وَ سَأَلَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ أَخَاهُ مُوسَى بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِمَا السَّلَامُ : عَنْ رَجُلٍ كَاتَبَ مَمْلُوكَهُ فَقَالَ بَعْدَ مَا كَاتَبَهُ هَبْ لِي بَعْضَ مُكَاتَبَتِي وَ أَعْجَلْ لَكَ مُكَاتَبَتِي أَيْحِلُّ ذَلِكَ قَالَ «إِنْ كَانَ هِبَةً فَلَا بَأْسَ وَ إِذَا قَالَ تَحْطُهُ عَنِّي وَ أَعْجَلْ لَكَ فَلَا يَصْلُحُ».

Hadith.3472 - Ali ibn Ja'far asked his brother Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}, about a man who entered into a mukataba (a contract of emancipation) with his slave.

After the contract, the slave said: "Forgive me part of my payments, and I will pay off the remainder early."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If it is given as a gift, then there is no harm. But if he says, 'Reduce my payment in exchange for early payment,' then it is not permissible."

Hadith.3473 - Ammar ibn Musa al-Sabati narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding a mukatab (slave under a contract of emancipation) jointly owned by two partners, and one of them freed his share.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The slave serves the second partner one day and serves himself one day."

I asked: "What if the slave dies and leaves behind wealth?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The wealth is divided equally between the one who freed his share and the one who retained his share."

Hadith.3474 - Ibn Mahbub narrated from Umar ibn Yazid, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about a man who wanted to free his slave. The master had been taking an annual payment (tribute) from the slave and was satisfied with this arrangement. Meanwhile, the slave earned wealth from trade, in addition to paying the required tribute to his master.

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, said: "If the slave has paid his master what was required, then whatever he earns after fulfilling this obligation belongs to the slave."

Then Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, said: "Has Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, not prescribed obligations upon His servants? Once they fulfill them, He does not ask them about anything beyond those obligations."

I asked: "Can the slave give charity from what he earned and be freed after fulfilling his obligation to his master?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, and he will be rewarded for it."

I asked: "If the slave frees another slave from what he earned beyond the obligation, to whom does the loyalty (wala) of the freed slave belong?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may choose to align himself with whomever he wishes. If the person guarantees his liability and responsibility, then that person becomes his master and inherits from him."

I asked: "Did not the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, say, 'Loyalty (wala) is for the one who emancipates'?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "This case involves a sa'ibah (freed without specific allegiance), and his loyalty cannot belong to another slave like him."

I asked: "If the slave who freed him guarantees his liability and responsibility, does it bind him, and does he then become his master and inherit from him?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, that is not permissible. A slave cannot inherit from a free person."

Hadith.3475 - Aban narrated from Abu al-Abbas, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a man who said: "My slave is free, but he must work for me for such-and-such a number of years."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He is free, but he is obligated to fulfill the work."

I said: "Ibn Abi Layla claims that he is free and is not obligated to do anything."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He has lied! Indeed, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} freed Abu Nayzar, 'Iyad, and Riah, while requiring them to work for such-and-such a number of years. They were provided with their sustenance and clothing in a reasonable manner during those years."

Hadith.3484 - Mu'awiyah ibn Wahb narrated from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), regarding a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who entered into the contract on behalf of himself and his wealth. He had a female slave and was under a condition that he should not marry. He then freed the female slave and married her.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "He is not allowed to make changes to his wealth except for basic sustenance, and his marriage is invalid and rejected."

It was asked: "What if his master knew about the marriage and remained silent without objecting?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the master remained silent after knowing, then he has approved it."

It was further asked: "If the mukatab was later emancipated, should he renew the marriage contract or continue based on the initial contract?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may continue based on the initial marriage."

Hadith.3485 - Ali ibn al-Nu'man narrated from Abu al-Sabbah, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who pays half of his contract and still owes the remaining half. Then he offers his masters the remaining amount as a lump sum payment.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "They may take the remaining amount, and he becomes free."

And regarding a mukatab who pays part of his contract, then dies, leaving behind a son and wealth greater than the amount owed for his contract:

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The masters are paid the remaining balance of the contract, and whatever remains belongs to his son."

Hadith.3486 - Ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Abdullah ibn Sinan, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, regarding a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who dies after having paid part of his contract and has a son from his bondwoman.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If it was stipulated in the contract that if he fails to complete the payments, he would return to slavery, then his son and the bondwoman also return to slavery.

However, if no such condition was stipulated, then his son must pay the remaining balance of the contract and inherit whatever remains."

Hadith.3487 - Jamil ibn Darraj narrated from Mihzam, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) who dies and leaves behind children.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If it was stipulated in the contract that failure to complete the payments would result in returning to slavery, then his children are slaves.

However, if no such condition was stipulated, then his children must work to pay off their father's contract, and they will be freed once they complete the payments."

Hadith.3488 - Muhammad ibn Qays narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

"If a mukatab (a slave under a contract of emancipation) stipulates with his master that there will be no wala' (loyalty) upon him, or if the master stipulates that the wala' of the mukatab will belong to him and the mukatab agrees, then the wala' belongs to the master."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, ruled regarding a mukatab who had a condition in his contract that his wala' would belong to his master upon his emancipation. The mukatab married a bondwoman belonging to another man, and she bore him a child. The child was then freed.

Later, the mukatab died, and his child inherited from him.

There was a dispute regarding who would inherit from the child. Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, ruled that the child should be affiliated with the master of his father."

CHAPTER 51 – CHAPTER ON THE ALLEGIANCE OF THE FREED SLAVE

بَابُ وَلَاءِ الْمُعْتَقِ

🕒 HADITH 3494 – 3508 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3494 - رَوَى إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ : «الْوَلَاءُ لِحِمَّةٍ كُلِّحِمَةٍ النَّسَبِ، لَا تَبَاعُ وَلَا تُوهَبُ».

Hadith.3494 - Isma'il ibn Muslim narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

The Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said:

"Wala' (the bond of loyalty) is like the bond of lineage; it cannot be sold or given away as a gift."

Hadith.3495 - It was said to Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}: "Why do you say that a man's mawla (freed slave) is considered to be from him?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Because he was created from his clay, then they were separated, and captivity brought him back to him. So, he showed compassion for what was in him (the shared origin) and freed him. Therefore, he is considered to be from him."

Hadith.3497 - It is narrated from Ubaydullah ibn Ali al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who mentioned:

Barirah was married to a husband while she was still a slave. Then Aisha bought her and freed her.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, gave her the choice: if she wished, she could remain with her husband, and if she wished, she could separate from him.

Her former masters, who had sold her, had stipulated that her wala' (right of allegiance) should remain with them. The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "The wala' belongs to the one who grants freedom."

Later, meat was given to Barirah as charity, and she gifted it to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family.

Aisha, upon seeing it, commented: "The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) does not consume charity."

When the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, arrived and saw the meat hanging, he said: "What is the matter with this meat? Why has it not been cooked?"

Aisha replied: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, it was given to Barirah as charity, and you do not eat charity."

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: "It is charity for her, but for us, it is a gift."

Then He ^{saws} ordered it to be cooked.

Thus, three rulings (sunan) were derived from this case.

I entered upon Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}, along with Ali ibn Abdul-Aziz.

Imam ^{a.s.} asked me: "Who is this?"

I said: "Our mawla (freed servant)."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Did you free him or his father?"

I said: "His father."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Then this is not your mawla; this is your brother and your cousin. A mawla is one upon whom the blessing of freedom has directly been granted. But if the blessing was granted to his father, then he is your brother and cousin."

Bakr ibn Muhammad continued:

A man asked him a question in my presence and said:

"I have a slave who drinks and engages in disliked acts, and I wish to free him. Do you prefer that I free him or sell him and give his price in charity?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Freeing a slave is sometimes more virtuous, and at other times charity is more virtuous. Freeing is better when people's conditions are good, but when people's conditions are difficult, charity is better. As for this particular slave, selling him is preferable to me, given his current state."

Is it permissible for him to sell or enslave that relative?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is neither permissible for him to sell nor to enslave him. He is his mawla (freed person) and his brother in faith. If either of them dies, the other inherits from him, unless there is a closer heir than him."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may choose whomever he wishes to be his guardian. The one he chooses will be responsible for his liabilities and will inherit from him."

I asked: "What if he remains silent until he dies and does not appoint anyone as his guardian?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "His wealth will be placed in the treasury of the Muslims."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Look in the Qur'an. Wherever there is mention of the freeing of a slave, that, O Ammar, refers to the sa'ibah, who has no wala' (loyalty) to any Muslim except Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic.

So, whoever's wala' belongs to Allah ^{SWT}, it belongs to His Messenger.

And whatever belongs to His Messenger, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, its wala' belongs to the Imam.

His liabilities (for crimes or debts) are upon the Imam, and his inheritance belongs to the Imam."

Hadith.3505 - Yasin narrated from Hariz, from Sulayman ibn Khalid, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a slave who wants to purchase his freedom and secretly arranges for someone else to buy him.

Is it permissible for the person acting on behalf of the slave to buy him entirely with the slave's own money and not inform the master that the purchase is being made with the slave's money?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is not proper. However, if the slave wants to make it permissible between himself and Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, so that the wala' (bond of loyalty) belongs to him, then let him add any amount he wishes (as an extra payment) from his own money toward the purchase price. By doing so, he makes the wala' lawful, and the wala' of the slave becomes his."

Hadith.3506 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abu Ayyub, from Burayd al-Ijli, who said:

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, about a man who was obligated to free a slave but died before doing so. His son then purchased a slave with his own wealth and freed him on behalf of his father. Later, the freed slave acquired wealth and passed away, leaving an inheritance.

I asked: "Who inherits from him?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If the obligation to free the slave was due to a vow, gratitude, or was otherwise obligatory upon his father, then the freed slave is a sa'ibah (freed without claim of ownership), and no one has any claim over him."

Imam ^{a.s} continued: "However, if the freed slave had allied himself (by appointing a guardian) to one of the Muslims before dying, and that guardian accepted responsibility for his offenses and liabilities, then the guardian becomes his master and inherits from him—if the freed slave has no Muslim relatives to inherit from him."

"If the freed slave did not appoint a guardian before dying, then his inheritance goes to the Imam of the Muslims—provided he has no Muslim relatives to inherit from him."

Imam ^{a.s} further said: "If the obligation to free the slave was voluntary, and the father had instructed his son to free a slave on his behalf, then the wala' (bond of loyalty) of the freed slave and his inheritance belong to all the children of the deceased."

"In this case, the son who purchased and freed the slave based on his father's instructions is counted as one of the heirs—unless the freed slave has free Muslim relatives who can inherit from him."

Imam ^{a.s} added: "If the son purchased and freed the slave after his father's death voluntarily, without any instruction from his father, then the wala' and inheritance of the freed slave belong to the son who freed him—provided the freed slave has no inheriting relatives from among his kin."

Hadith.3513 - Asim narrated from Muhammad ibn Qays, who narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, that Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, said:

"Any man who leaves behind a concubine (surriyah) who has a child, or is pregnant with a child, or has no child, then if her master had freed her, she is free. But if he did not free her before his death, then the Book of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, has already decided her case, and the Book of Allah ^{SWT} is more deserving to be followed."

Imam ^{a.s} continued: "If she has a child and the man leaves wealth, then she is to be placed under the share of her child, and the guardians of the child shall keep her until the child grows up. At that point, the child has the right to free her if they wish."

Meanwhile, the guardians inherit the child's wealth as long as she remains a slave. If her child frees her, she becomes free. However, if her child dies without freeing her, the guardians have the option to either keep her as a slave or free her."

"Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, also ruled concerning a man who left behind a bondwoman who had borne him a daughter. The daughter was still young but capable of speaking. The daughter then freed her mother."

The guardians of the father's estate disputed this matter, but Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, upheld the daughter's act of freeing her mother."

"I came from Egypt with some slaves, and when I passed by the tax collector (al-'Ashir), he asked me about them. I said: 'They are all free.'

When I arrived in Medina, I went to Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s}, and informed him about what I had told the tax collector.

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'There is nothing upon you.'

I then said: 'Among them is a bondswoman with whom I had relations, and she is pregnant.'

Imam ^{a.s} replied: 'Isn't her child the one who will free her? When her master dies, she becomes the share of her child.'"

HADITH 3534 – 3545

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3534 - قَالَ أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «الْعَبْدُ الْآبِقُ لَا تُقْبَلُ لَهُ صَلَاةٌ حَتَّى يَرْجِعَ إِلَى مَوْلَاهُ».

Hadith.3534 - Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s), said:

"The runaway slave's prayer is not accepted until he returns to his master."

Hadith.3536 - Zayd al-Shahham narrated from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s):

He was asked about a man who fears that his slave might run away or that the slave had already run away. Should he restrain him or place a mark on his neck?

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "He is like a camel you fear might escape. If you fear that, secure him properly, feed him well, and clothe him."

I asked: "How much is sufficient to fill his hunger?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "As for us, we provide our dependents with two measures (mudd) of dates."

3537 - وَ رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : سَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ جَارِيَةٍ مُدَبَّرَةٍ أَبَقَتْ مِنْ سَيِّدِهَا سِنِينَ ثُمَّ إِنَّهَا جَاءَتْ بَعْدَ مَا مَاتَ سَيِّدُهَا بِأَوْلَادٍ وَ مَتَاعٍ كَثِيرٍ وَ شَهِدَ لَهَا شَاهِدَانِ أَنَّ سَيِّدَهَا كَانَ قَدْ دَبَّرَهَا

فِي حَيَاتِهِ مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ تَأْبِقَ قَالَ «أَرَى أَنْ جَمِيعَ مَا مَعَهَا لِلْوَرَثَةِ» قُلْتُ وَ لَا تُعْتَقُ مِنْ ثُلُثِ سَيِّدِهَا قَالَ «لَا
إِنَّمَا أَبَقْتُ عَاصِيَةً لِلَّهِ وَ لِسَيِّدِهَا فَأَبْطَلَ الْإِبَاقُ التَّدْبِيرَ».

Hadith.3537 - Muhammad ibn Muslim narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir {a.s}.

I asked him about a bondwoman who was mudadbarah (promised freedom upon the master's death). She ran away from her master for several years and later returned after her master had died. She came back with children and considerable possessions. Two witnesses testified that her master had declared her mudadbarah during his lifetime, before she had run away.

Imam {a.s} said: "I see that all the possessions she brought belong to the heirs."

I asked: "Would she not be freed from her master's one-third estate?"

Imam {a.s} replied: "No, because she fled, disobeying Allah {SWT} and her master. Her escape nullified the declaration of tadbir (conditional freedom)."

Hadith.3538 - Isma'il ibn Muslim narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq {a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir {a.s}:

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} was approached with a dispute regarding a man who had captured a runaway slave. The slave had been with him for some time, but later escaped again.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib {a.s} said: "The man must swear by Allah {SWT}, there is no god but Him, that he did not take the slave's clothes, nor anything that belonged to him, nor did he sell him, nor conspire in his release. If he swears this, he is absolved from liability."

Hadith.3542 - Ali ibn Ri'ab narrated from Abu Ubaydah, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Indeed, if a slave escapes from his masters and then steals, his hand is not cut off while he is a fugitive, because he is like one who has apostatized from Islam. However, he is invited to return to his masters and re-enter Islam. If he refuses to return to his masters, his hand is cut off for the theft, and then he is executed. And the apostate, if he steals, is treated in the same manner."

Hadith.3543 - Ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Abu Habib, from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}. He said:

"I asked him about a man who bought a slave from another man, and the seller had two slaves. The seller said to the buyer, 'Take them both, then choose one of them and return the other,' and he had already received the payment. The buyer took both slaves, but one of them escaped while in his possession.

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'He should return the one that is with him and reclaim half of the price he paid from the seller. Then, he may search for the escaped slave. If he finds him, he may choose either of them and return the other. But if he does not find him, then the slave that remains will be shared between them—half belonging to the seller and half to the buyer.'"

CHAPTER 56 – CHAPTER ON APOSTASY

بَابُ الْإِرْتِدَادِ

HADITH 3546 – 3556

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3546 - رَوَى هِشَامُ بْنُ سَالِمٍ عَنْ عَمَارِ السَّابَّاطِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ يَقُولُ : «كُلُّ مُسْلِمٍ بَيْنَ مُسْلِمَيْنِ إِرْتَدَّ عَنِ الْإِسْلَامِ وَجَحَدَ مُحَمَّدًا صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ نُبُوَّتَهُ وَكَذَّبَهُ فَإِنَّ دَمَهُ مُبَاحٌ لِكُلِّ مَنْ سَمِعَ ذَلِكَ مِنْهُ وَامْرَأَتُهُ بَائِنَةٌ مِنْهُ فَلَا تَقْرُبُهُ وَ يُقْسَمُ مَالُهُ عَلَى وَرَثَتِهِ وَ تَعْتَدُ امْرَأَتُهُ عِدَّةَ الْمَتَوَفَّى عَنْهَا زَوْجَهَا، وَ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ أَنْ يَقْتُلَهُ إِنْ أَتَى بِهِ وَ لَا يَسْتَتِيبُهُ».

Hadith.3546 - Hisham ibn Salim narrated from Ammar al-Sabati who said:

I heard Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, say: "Any Muslim who is living among Muslims and then apostasizes from Islam, denies the prophethood of Muhammad, peace be upon him and his family, and rejects him, then his blood is permissible (to be shed) for anyone who hears that from him.

His wife becomes separated from him and must not approach him. His wealth is distributed among his heirs, and his wife observes the waiting period (iddah) as if her husband had died. It is upon the Imam to execute him if he is brought before him, and he is not to be given the opportunity to repent."

Hadith.3547 - Al-Sakuni narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his forefathers, peace be upon them:

"A person who apostasizes from Islam is to be separated from his wife, his slaughtered meat is not to be eaten, and he is to be given an opportunity to repent for three days. If he repents, he is spared, but if he does not repent, he is killed on the fourth day, provided he is of sound mind."

Hadith.3550 - Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, said:

"When Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} had finished dealing with the people of Basra, seventy men from the Zutt came to him, greeted him, and spoke to him in their language.

Then Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said to them: 'Indeed, I am not as you have said. I am a servant of Allah ^{SWT}, created by Him.'

They refused to accept his words and said (may Allah ^{SWT} curse them): 'No, rather you are (God) Himself.'

So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said to them: 'If you do not retract what you have said and do not repent to Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, I will surely kill you.'

They refused to repent or retract.

Then, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, ordered that pits be dug for them, which were then connected to one another. Imam ^{a.s} cast them into these pits and covered their openings.

Imam ^{a.s} then lit a fire in one of the pits, without any of them inside, causing smoke to enter and suffocate them until they died."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said:

The extremists, may Allah ^{SWT} curse them, claim that if Ali ^{a.s} had not been a Lord ^{AZJ}, he would not have punished them with fire.

It is said to them: If he were a Lord ^{AZJ}, he would not have needed to dig pits, connect some of them to others, cover their tops, and then set fire to them. Instead, he would have created fire directly within their bodies, causing it to blaze and burn them.

However, since he was a created servant of Allah ^{SWT}, he dug the pits and did what he did in order to establish Allah's ^{SWT} ruling upon them and executed them accordingly.

If the one who punishes with fire and enforces punishment using it must be a Lord ^{AZJ}, then by this reasoning, anyone who punishes by other means, such as drowning, would not be a Lord ^{AZJ}.

Yet, we have found that Allah ^{SWT} the Exalted punished some people by drowning, others by the wind, others by the flood, and others by locusts, lice, frogs, blood, and stones of baked clay.

Indeed, Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} punished them with fire for their claim of his divinity, instead of using other forms of punishment, for a profound wisdom.

This wisdom lies in the fact that Allah ^{SWT} the Exalted has forbidden fire upon the people of His Oneness. So Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said:

"Had I been your Lord ^{AZJ}, I would not have burned you, even though you claimed my divinity. But because of your wrongdoing, you have earned from me the opposite of what the believers in Allah's ^{SWT} Oneness deserve from their Lord ^{AZJ}, the Almighty.

I am the divider of His fire by His permission—if I wish, I hasten it for you, and if I wish, I delay it. Your abode is the fire; it is your master," meaning it is more deserving of you, and what an evil destination!

And I am not your master."

Thus, Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} dealt with them for their claim of his divinity in the same way as those who worshiped idols instead of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty.

Hadith.3551 - And it is reported that two men in Kufa, who were Muslims, were brought before Commander of the Faithful Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}. A man testified that he had seen them praying to an idol.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Woe unto you! Perhaps it is someone who merely appeared similar to them, and the matter has confused you."

Then, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} sent a man to observe them. The man returned and confirmed that they were indeed praying to an idol.

So, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} summoned them and said: "Repent and return (to Islam)."

But they refused.

Then, Imam ^{a.s} dug a trench in the ground, lit a fire in it, and threw them into the fire.

This was narrated by Musa ibn Bakr from al-Fudayl, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} replied: "As for those who were born as Muslims, upon the natural disposition (Fitrah), and then apostatized—strike their necks (execute them) and do not offer them repentance.

But those who were not born upon the natural disposition (Fitrah), offer them repentance. If they repent, then leave them; but if they do not, then strike their necks (execute them).

And as for the Christians, what they are upon (their belief system) is even graver than heresy."

I wrote to Imam ^{a.s} asking about a slave who is near death, and his master frees him at that moment so that he leaves this world as a free man. Does the master earn a reward for freeing him, or is it better to leave him as a slave so that the master gains a greater reward if he dies while still owned?

Imam ^{a.s.} wrote: "It is better for the master to leave the slave as a servant at the time of his death, for this brings more reward to the master. Freeing him in such an hour offers no benefit."

Hadith.3560 - Muhammad ibn Isa al-Ubaydi narrated from al-Fadl ibn al-Mubarak:

He wrote to Abu al-Hasan Ali ibn Muhammad ^{a.s.} asking about a man who owns a slave, and the slave becomes ill. Is it better for the man to free him during his illness to gain a greater reward, or to leave him as a servant?

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "If it is during his illness, then freeing him is better for him because Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, frees a part of the master from the Fire for every part of the slave that is freed. However, if it is at the time of death, then leaving him as a servant is better than freeing him."

فِي مُكَاتَبَةٍ يَطُوقُهَا مَوْلَاهَا فَتَحْبَلُ قَالَ «يَرُدُّ عَلَيْهَا مَهْرَ مِثْلِهَا وَ تَسْعَى فِي قِيَمَتِهَا فَإِنْ عَجَزَتْ فِيهِ مِنْ أُمَهَاتِ الْأَوْلَادِ».

Hadith.3563 - Al-Sakuni narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s.) from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s.) (peace be upon them), who said:

"Imam Ali ibn Al-Hussain ^(a.s.) was asked about a contract-bound female slave (mukatabah) whose master had intercourse with her, and she became pregnant.

Imam ^(a.s.) replied: "He must pay her the equivalent of her dowry, and she must work to pay off her value. If she is unable to do so, then she is considered one of the mothers of children (Umm al-Walad)."

Hadith.3564 - Ibn Abi Sa'id al-Mukari entered upon Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} and said to him: "Has Allah ^{SWT} elevated your status to the extent that you claim what your father claims?" The Imam ^{a.s} replied: "What is wrong with you? May Allah ^{SWT} extinguish your light and bring poverty into your house! Do you not know that Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, revealed to Imran, 'I will grant you a son,' and then granted him Maryam instead, and granted Maryam, Isa? Isa is from Maryam, and Maryam is from Isa, and Isa and Maryam are one and the same. I am from my father, and my father is from me, and I and my father are one and the same." Then Ibn Abi Sa'id said to Him ^{a.s}: "Let me ask you a question." The Imam ^{a.s} replied: "I do not think you will accept my answer, for you are not from my followers. But go ahead and ask." The man said: "What if someone, upon his deathbed, declares that all his old slaves are free for the sake of Allah ^{SWT}?" The Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, indeed. Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, says: 'until it becomes like the old date stalk' (Surah Ya-Sin 36:39) Thus, any of his slaves who have been with him for six months are considered old and are set free." The narrator said that Ibn Abi Sa'id left and fell into poverty until he died, without having a shelter to spend the night in. May Allah ^{SWT} curse him!

A man came to the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, and said:

"O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, I have taught my son to read and write. In what profession should I place him?"

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, replied: "Entrust him to Allah ^{SWT} and do not place him in five professions:

Do not make him a seller of shrouds, nor a jeweler, nor a butcher, nor a grain merchant, nor a slave trader."

The man asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what is the harm in selling shrouds?"

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, explained: "The one who sells shrouds wishes for the death of my nation, while the birth of a new soul in my nation is more beloved to me than all that the sun has risen upon.

As for the jeweler, he engages in defrauding my nation.

As for the butcher, he slaughters so frequently that mercy departs from his heart.

As for the grain merchant, he hoards food against my nation, and it is more beloved to me that a servant meets Allah ^{SWT} as a thief than that he meets Him having hoarded food for forty days.

As for the slave trader, Archangel Jibril ^{a.s} came to me and said: 'O Muhammad, the worst of your nation are those who sell human beings.'"

I said to Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s.):

"A report has reached me about Hasan al-Basri, and if it is true, then 'Indeed, we belong to Allah ^(SWT) and to Him we shall return.'"

Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s.) asked: "What is it?"

I said: "I have heard that Hasan used to say, 'If my head boiled from the heat of the sun, I would not seek shade under the wall of a moneychanger, and if my liver dried up from thirst, I would not drink water earned through trade. Yet, this (trade) is my occupation, my business, and by it my flesh and blood have grown, and from it, I performed my Hajj and Umrah.'"

Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s.) then sat up and said: "Hasan has lied! Take what is fair and give what is fair, and when the time for prayer arrives, leave what is in your hands and rise for prayer. Do you not know that the companions of the cave (Ashab al-Kahf) were moneychangers?"

[AL SADUQ]

Imam ^(a.s.) meant they were money changers of speech, not of dirhams (currency).

"The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, underwent cupping. A servant from the tribe of Banu Bayadah performed the cupping, and the Prophet ^{saws} gave him payment. If it were prohibited, he would not have given him payment.

When the procedure was completed, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, asked him: 'Where is the blood?'

The servant replied: 'I drank it, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}.'

The Prophet said: 'You should not have done that, but Allah ^{SWT} has made it a barrier for you against the Fire.'

Hadith.3605 – Imam ^{a.s} said: "Beware of associating with the lowly, for it does not lead to any good."

[ALSADUQ]

The compiler of this book (may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him) said:

Reports regarding the definition of the lowly (safilah) have come in different forms:

The lowly is the one who does not care about what he says or what is said to him.

The lowly is the one who plays the tambourine.

The lowly is the one who is neither pleased by kindness nor disturbed by wrongdoing.

The lowly is the one who claims Imamate without being qualified for it.

All these are descriptions of the lowly. Anyone who possesses some or all of these characteristics must be avoided and kept away from.

"Indeed, the one who consumes the wealth of an orphan will face its consequences both in this world and in the Hereafter.

As for this world, Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, says: 'And let those fear who, if they left behind weak offspring, would be afraid for them. So let them fear Allah ^{SWT}...' (Surah An-Nisa 4:9).

And as for the Hereafter, Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, says: 'Indeed, those who devour the property of orphans unjustly are only consuming into their bellies fire. And they will be burned in a Blaze.' (Surah An-Nisa 4:10)."

He said: "I then asked him about the saying of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family), 'You and your wealth belong to your father.'"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Indeed, the father brought his case to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, this is my son, and he has wronged me concerning my inheritance from his mother.'

The father then informed him that he had spent it on him and on himself. So, the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said: 'You and your wealth belong to your father.'

The man had nothing left with him, so would the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) imprison a father for the sake of his son?"

Hadith.3671 - It was said to Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}:

"People narrate from the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) that he said: 'Charity is not permissible for a wealthy person nor for one who is strong and able-bodied.'" Imam ^{a.s} replied: "He ^{saws} indeed said it is not permissible for a wealthy person, but he ^{saws} did not say for one who is strong and able-bodied."

Hadith.3683 - It is narrated from Mu'awiyah ibn Wahb who said:

I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, "It has been mentioned to us that a man from the Ansar died while owing two dinars as debt, so the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) did not pray over him and said: 'Pray over your brother,' until one of his relatives guaranteed them on his behalf."

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} said: "That is true."

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Indeed, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) did that so they would take heed, and so that they would support one another, and so that they would not take debt lightly.

And yet the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) died while he was in debt, the Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} was killed while he was in debt, Al-Hasan ^{a.s} died while he was in debt, and Al-Husayn ^{a.s} was killed while he was in debt."

وَ إِنْ حَلَفَ مِنْ غَيْرِ أَنْ يُحْلِفَهُ ثُمَّ طَالَبَهُ بِحَقِّهِ أَوْ أَخَذَ مِنْهُ أَوْ مِمَّا يَصِيرُ إِلَيْهِ مِنْ مَالِهِ لَمْ يَكُنْ بِدَاخِلٍ فِي النَّهْيِ وَ كَذَلِكَ إِنْ اسْتَوْدَعَهُ مَالًا فَلْيَسْ لَهُ أَنْ يَأْخُذَ مِنْهُ شَيْئًا لِأَنَّهَا أَمَانَةٌ ائْتَمَنَهُ عَلَيْهَا فَلَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ أَنْ يَخُونَهُ كَمَا خَانَهُ وَ مَتَى لَمْ يُحْلِفْهُ عَلَى مَالِهِ وَ لَمْ يَأْتِمْهُ عَلَى أَمَانَةٍ وَ إِنَّمَا صَارَ إِلَيْهِ لَهُ مَالٌ أَوْ وَقَعَ عِنْدَهُ فَجَائِزٌ لَهُ أَنْ يَأْخُذَ مِنْهُ حَقَّهُ بَعْدَ أَنْ يَقُولَ مَا أَمَرَ بِهِ مِمَّا قَدْ ذَكَرْتُهُ فَهَذَا وَجْهُ اتِّفَاقِ هَذِهِ الْأَخْبَارِ وَ لَا حَوْلَ وَ لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Hadith.3702 - The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said: "Whoever swears by Allah ^{SWT} should speak the truth, and whoever is sworn to by Allah ^{SWT} should be satisfied. And whoever is not satisfied is not from Allah ^{SWT} in any way."

[AL SADUQ]

If someone swears without being made to swear and then demands his right or takes it, either directly or from what comes into his possession from the debtor's wealth, he is not included in the prohibition. Similarly, if the debtor entrusts him with some money, it is not permissible for him to take anything from it, because it is a trust, and he has been entrusted with it. Thus, it is not permissible for him to betray the trust as he was betrayed.

However, if the creditor neither made the debtor swear about his wealth nor was entrusted with any of his property, but some of the debtor's wealth came into his possession or fell into his hands, then it is permissible for him to take his rightful due after saying what he has been instructed to say, as mentioned earlier.

This is the explanation of the consistency of these narrations. There is no power and no strength except with Allah ^{SWT}.

Hadith.3714 - Abu Al-Bakhtari Wahb ibn Wahb narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} (peace be upon them), who said: Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ruled concerning a man who died and left heirs. One of the heirs acknowledged a debt against his father.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} ruled that it would be binding upon him in his share, according to what he inherited, and it would not apply to the entire estate.

If two of the heirs acknowledged the debt and they were just (trustworthy), then it would be enforced against all the heirs. However, if they were not just, they would only be liable in their shares, based on what they inherited.

Similarly, if some of the heirs acknowledged a brother or sister, the acknowledgment would only apply to their share.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Whoever acknowledges a brother, he is a partner in the wealth, but his lineage is not established.

If two heirs acknowledge him, the same applies—unless they are just (trustworthy), in which case his lineage is established, and he shares in the inheritance with them."

Hadith.3715 - Ibrahim ibn Hashim narrated that Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr (may Allah {SWT} be pleased with him) was a cloth merchant.

He lost his wealth and became poor. A man owed him ten thousand dirhams. Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr sold his house, which he lived in, for ten thousand dirhams and brought the money to the debtor's door.

Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr came out and asked: "What is this?"

The man replied: "This is your money that I owe you."

He asked: "Did you inherit it?"

The man said: "No."

He asked: "Was it gifted to you?"

The man said: "No."

He asked: "Is it the price of a property you sold?"

The man said: "No."

He asked: "Then what is it?"

The man replied: "I sold the house I live in to repay my debt."

Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr (may Allah {SWT} be pleased with him) said: "Zarih Al-Muharibi narrated to me from Abu Abdillah {a.s} that he said:

'A man should not be forced out of his home because of a debt.' Take it back; I have no need for it. By Allah {SWT}, I am in need of a dirham at this moment, yet not a single dirham of it will enter my possession."

[AL SADUQ]

Our teacher, Muhammad ibn Al-Hasan (may Allah {SWT} be pleased with him), used to narrate that if the house was spacious and the owner could suffice with part of it, he should live in what he needs and sell the rest to repay his debt. Similarly, if he could live in a smaller house at a lower price, he should sell the larger house, buy a smaller one, and use the remaining amount to settle his debt.

Hadith.3716 - Yunus ibn Abdul Rahman wrote to Al-Ridha ^{a.s}, saying: "I had ten dirhams owed to me by a man, but the ruler invalidated those dirhams and introduced new dirhams that are higher in value than the previous ones. The earlier dirhams are now devalued. What is my right upon him—the original dirhams that the ruler invalidated or the new dirhams approved by the ruler?" Imam ^{a.s} wrote in response: "You have the right to the original dirhams."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book—may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him—said: Our teacher, Muhammad ibn Al-Hasan (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him), narrated a tradition stating that the creditor is entitled to the dirhams that are accepted among the people.

The two narrations are consistent and do not conflict. If a man is owed dirhams in a specific currency, he is only entitled to that currency. However, if the debt is measured by a specified weight rather than a known currency, then he is entitled to the dirhams currently accepted among the people.

Hadith.3721 - Harun ibn Hamzah narrated from Ali ibn Abdul Aziz who said:

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} asked: "What has Umar ibn Muslim done?"

I said: "May I be your ransom! He has devoted himself to worship and abandoned trade."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Woe to him! Does he not know that the one who abandons seeking sustenance will not have his supplication answered?"

Indeed, some of the companions of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family), when the verse was revealed;

'And whoever fears Allah ^{SWT}, He will make a way out for him, and provide for him from where he does not expect' (Surah At-Talaq 65:2-3), they locked their doors and devoted themselves to worship, saying, 'We have been guaranteed provision.'

When the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) heard about this, he sent for them and said: 'What led you to do what you have done?'

They said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Exalted, has guaranteed our provision, so we have devoted ourselves to worship.'

He ^{saws} said: 'Whoever does this, Allah ^{SWT} will not answer his supplication. You must continue seeking sustenance.'

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: 'I hate a man who sits idle, opening his mouth to his Lord ^{AZI}, saying, "Provide for me," while he abandons seeking sustenance.'

Hadith.3726 - Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} used to go out every morning in Kufa and walk through its markets, visiting them one by one.

Imam ^{a.s} carried a whip with two ends, which was called "Al-Sabeebah."

Imam ^{a.s} would stand in each market and call out to the merchants, saying:

"O group of traders! Begin with seeking goodness (from Allah ^{SWT}), bless your trade with ease, draw near to the buyers, adorn yourselves with patience, avoid oppression, give justice to the oppressed, and do not approach usury.

'And give full measure and weight' and 'Do not diminish people's goods, nor act corruptly in the land, making mischief.'"

Then Imam ^{a.s} would continue walking through all the markets of Kufa before returning to sit and attend to the people's needs.

HADITH 3751 – 3752

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3751 - قَالَ أَمِيرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «جَاءَ أَعْرَابِيٌّ مِنْ بَنِي عَامِرٍ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ فَسَأَلَهُ عَنْ شَرِّ بَقَاعِ الْأَرْضِ وَخَيْرِ بَقَاعِ الْأَرْضِ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ «شَرُّ بَقَاعِ الْأَرْضِ الْأَسْوَاقُ وَهِيَ مَيْدَانُ إِبْلِيسَ يَغْدُو بِرَايَتِهِ وَيَضَعُ كُرْسِيَّهٖ وَيَبْثُ ذُرِّيَّتَهُ فَيَبِينَ مُطَفِّفٍ فِي قَفِيزٍ أَوْ طَائِشٍ فِي مِيزَانٍ أَوْ سَارِقٍ فِي ذَرْعٍ أَوْ كَاذِبٍ فِي سِلْعَةٍ فَيَقُولُ عَلَيْكُمْ بِرَجُلٍ مَاتَ أَبُوهُ وَابْنُكُمْ حَيٌّ فَلَا يَزَالُ مَعَ ذَلِكَ أَوَّلَ دَاخِلٍ وَآخِرَ خَارِجٍ» ثُمَّ قَالَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «وَوَيْلٌ لِبَقَاعِ الْمَسَاجِدِ وَآحِبِّهِمْ إِلَى اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ أَوَّلُهُمْ دُخُولًا وَآخِرُهُمْ خُرُوجًا مِنْهَا» .»

Hadith.3751 - The Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said:

A Bedouin from the tribe of Banu 'Amir came to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and asked him about the worst and the best places on earth.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) said: "The worst places on earth are the markets—they are the playgrounds of Iblis. He sets out in the morning with his banner, places his throne there, and sends out his offspring among them. There, you find someone who cheats in measuring, another who falsifies the scale, someone who steals in length, or someone who lies about merchandise. Iblis then says to them: 'Stick to a man whose father has died while your father is still alive.' And he remains there, being the first to enter and the last to leave."

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "And the best places are the mosques. The most beloved among them to Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Exalted, are those who enter first and leave last."

CHAPTER 62 – CHAPTER ON THE REWARD OF SUPPLICATION IN MARKETPLACES

بَابُ ثَوَابِ الدُّعَاءِ فِي الْأَسْوَاقِ

🕒 HADITH 3753 – 3756 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3753 - رَوَى عَاصِمُ بْنُ حُمَيْدٍ عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ :
«مَنْ دَخَلَ سُوقًا أَوْ مَسْجِدَ جَمَاعَةٍ فَقَالَ مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً: أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ وَ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ
كَبِيرًا وَ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا وَ سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ بُكْرَةً وَ أَصِيلًا وَ لَا حَوْلَ وَ لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَلِيِّ الْعَظِيمِ وَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ
عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ وَ آلِهِ عَدَلَتْ لَهُ حَجَّةٌ مَبْرُورَةٌ».

Hadith.3753 - Asim ibn Humayd narrated from Abu Basir, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

"Whoever enters a marketplace or a congregational mosque and says once:

I bear witness that there is no god but Allah ^{SWT}, alone, without any partner.

Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest, immensely great.

All praise is due to Allah ^{SWT}, abundantly.

Glory be to Allah ^{SWT}, morning and evening.

There is no power and no strength except with Allah ^{SWT}, the Most High, the Most Great.

May Allah ^{SWT} send blessings upon Muhammad and his family.

This will be equal to a blessed and accepted Hajj for him."

3754 - وَ رَوَى عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ حَمَّادٍ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ عَنْ سَدِيرٍ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «يَا أَبَا الْفَضْلِ أَمَا
لَكَ فِي السُّوقِ مَكَانٌ تَقْعُدُ فِيهِ تَعَامِلُ النَّاسَ» قَالَ قُلْتُ بَلَى قَالَ

«إِغْلَمْ أَنَّهُ مَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ يَغْدُو وَ يَرُوحُ إِلَى مَجْلِسِهِ وَ سُوقِهِ فَيَقُولُ حِينَ يَضَعُ رِجْلَهُ فِي السُّوقِ: اَللّهُمَّ إِنِّي
أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهَا وَ خَيْرَ أَهْلِهَا وَ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَ شَرِّ أَهْلِهَا إِلَّا وَكَلَّ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ بِهِ، مَنْ يَحْفَظْهُ وَ يَحْفَظْ
عَلَيْهِ حَتَّى يَرْجِعَ إِلَى مَنْزِلِهِ فَيَقُولُ لَهُ قَدْ أَجَزْتُكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَ شَرِّ أَهْلِهَا يَوْمَكَ هَذَا فَإِذَا جَلَسَ مَكَانَهُ حِينَ
يَجْلِسُ فَيَقُولُ

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ وَ أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَ رَسُولُهُ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ اَللّهُمَّ إِنِّي
أَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ فَضْلِكَ حَلَالًا طَيِّبًا وَ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ أَنْ أَظْلِمَ أَوْ أَظْلَمَ وَ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ صَفْقَةٍ خَاسِرَةٍ وَ يَمِينٍ كَاذِبَةٍ
فَإِذَا قَالَ ذَلِكَ قَالَ اَلْمَلِكُ اَلْمَوْكَلُ أَبْشِرْ فَمَا فِي سُوقِكَ اَلْيَوْمَ أَحَدٌ أَوْفَرَ نَصِيبًا مِنْكَ وَ سَيِّئَاتِيكَ مَا قَسَمَ اللَّهُ
لَكَ مُوَفَّرًا حَلَالًا طَيِّبًا مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ».

Hadith.3754 - Abdullah ibn Hammad Al-Ansari narrated from Sadeer, who said: Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said:

"O Abu Al-Fadl, do you not have a place in the market where you sit and deal with people?"

I said: "Yes."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Know that any man who goes to his seat in the market, and when he places his foot in the market says:

'O Allah ^{SWT}, I ask You for its goodness and the goodness of its people, and I seek refuge in You from its evil and the evil of its people',

Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Exalted, appoints an angel to protect him and preserve him until he returns to his home. The angel then says to him, 'I have safeguarded you from its evil and the evil of its people for this day.'

And when he sits in his place, he should say:

'I bear witness that there is no god but Allah ^{SWT}, alone, without any partner. And I bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger. O Allah ^{SWT}, I ask You for lawful, pure sustenance from Your bounty, and I seek refuge in You from wronging others or being wronged, and I seek refuge in You from a bad transaction and a false oath.'

When he says this, the appointed angel says, 'Rejoice! For there is no one in the market today with a greater share than you. And what Allah ^{SWT} has decreed for you will come to you fully, lawfully, purely, and with blessings.'" وَ الْفَصِيحُ مَا يَتَكَلَّمُ وَ الْأَعْجَمُ مَا لَا يَتَكَلَّمُ.

Hadith.3755 - It is narrated: "Whoever remembers Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Exalted, in the marketplaces, Allah ^{SWT} will forgive him in proportion to the number of those in it, both those who speak and those who do not."

[AL SADUQ]

And the speaking refers to those who talk, while the silent refers to those who do not speak.

CHAPTER 63 – CHAPTER ON SUPPLICATION WHEN PURCHASING GOODS FOR TRADE

بَابُ الدُّعَاءِ عِنْدَ شِرَاءِ الْمَتَاعِ لِلتَّجَارَةِ

🕒 HADITH 3757 – 3758 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3757 - رَوَى الْعَلَاءُ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ قَالَ قَالَ أَحَدُهُمَا عَلَيْهِمَا السَّلَامُ : «إِذَا إِشْتَرَيْتَ مَتَاعاً فَكَبِّرِ اللَّهَ ثَلَاثاً ثُمَّ قُلِ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي إِشْتَرَيْتُهُ أَلْتَمِسُ فِيهِ مِنْ خَيْرِكَ فَاجْعَلْ لِي فِيهِ خَيْراً اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي إِشْتَرَيْتُهُ أَلْتَمِسُ فِيهِ مِنْ فَضْلِكَ فَاجْعَلْ لِي فِيهِ فَضلاً اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي إِشْتَرَيْتُهُ أَلْتَمِسُ فِيهِ مِنْ رِزْقِكَ فَاجْعَلْ لِي فِيهِ رِزْقاً ثُمَّ أَعِذْ كُلَّ وَاحِدَةٍ مِنْهَا ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ».

Hadith.3757 - Al-Ala narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim who said:

One of the Imams ^(a.s) said:

"When you purchase merchandise, glorify Allah ^(SWT) (say Allahu Akbar) three times, then say:

O Allah ^(SWT), I have purchased it seeking Your goodness, so make goodness for me in it.

O Allah ^(SWT), I have purchased it seeking Your bounty, so make bounty for me in it.

O Allah ^(SWT), I have purchased it seeking Your provision, so make provision for me in it.

Then repeat each of these supplications three times."

CHAPTER 64 – CHAPTER ON SUPPLICATION WHEN PURCHASING ANIMALS

بَابُ الدُّعَاءِ عِنْدَ شِرَاءِ الْحَيَوَانِ

🕒 HADITH 3759 – 3760 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3759 - رَوَى عُمَرُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ أَبِي الْحَسَنِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «مَنْ اشْتَرَى دَابَّةً فَلْيَقُمْ مِنْ جَانِبِهَا الْأَيْسَرِ وَ يَأْخُذْ نَاصِيَتَهَا بِيَدِهِ الْيُمْنَى وَ يَقْرَأُ عَلَى رَأْسِهَا فَاتِحَةَ الْكِتَابِ وَ «قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ» وَ الْمُعَوِّذَتَيْنِ وَ آخِرَ الْحَشْرِ وَ آخِرَ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ «قُلِ ادْعُوا اللَّهَ أَوْ ادْعُوا الرَّحْمَنَ» وَ آيَةَ الْكُرْسِيِّ فَإِنَّ ذَلِكَ أَمَانٌ تِلْكَ الدَّابَّةُ مِنَ الْآفَاتِ».

Hadith.3759 - Umar ibn Ibrahim narrated from Abu Al-Hasan ^{a.s} who said:

"Whoever buys an animal should stand on its left side, hold its forelock with his right hand, and recite over its head:

Surah Al-Fatiha: the Opening of the Book,

Surah Al-Ikhlās (Qul Huwa Allahu Ahad),

Surah Al-Falaq and Surah Al-Nas (the two Mu'awwidhatayn) - two chapters of seeking refuge

The last verses of Surah Al-Hashr,

The last verse of Surah Bani Isra'il (Al-Isra'): 'Say, call upon Allah ^{SWT} or call upon the Most Merciful',

Ayat Al-Kursi

Verily, this will serve as protection for the animal from afflictions."

Hadith.3760 - Ibn Faddal narrated from Thalabah ibn Maymun, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} who said:

"When you purchase a bondwoman, say:

O Allah ^{SWT}, I seek Your ^{SWT} counsel and ask for Your ^{SWT} guidance.

And when you purchase an animal or livestock, say:

O Allah ^{SWT}, decree for me the longest life, the greatest benefit, and the best outcome among them."

CHAPTER 65 – CHAPTER ON CONDITIONS AND OPTIONS IN SALES

بَابُ الشَّرْطِ وَ الْخِيَارِ فِي الْبَيْعِ

🕒 HADITH 3761 – 3767 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3761 - رَوَى الْحَلَبِيُّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «فِي الْحَيَوَانِ كُلِّهِ شَرْطُ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ لِلْمُشْتَرِي فَهُوَ بِالْخِيَارِ فِيهَا إِنْ اشْتَرَطَ أَوْ لَمْ يَشْتَرَطَ».

Hadith.3761 - Al-Halabi narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} who said:

"For all animals, the buyer has a three-day condition (option) to return it, whether he stipulated it or not."

HADITH 3768 – 3769

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3768 - رُوِيَ عَنِ الْحَلَبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَنَّهُ قَالَ : «إِنَّ أَبِي عَلَيَّهِ السَّلَامُ اشْتَرَى أَرْضاً يُقَالُ لَهَا الْعُرَيْضُ فَلَمَّا اسْتَوْجَبَهَا قَامَ فَمَضَى فَقُلْتُ لَهُ يَا أَبَا عَجَلَةَ بِالْفَيَّامِ فَقَالَ «يَا بُنَيَّ إِنِّي أَرَدْتُ أَنْ يَجِبَ الْبَيْعُ» .»

Hadith.3768 - It is narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, that he said:

"My father ^{a.s} purchased a piece of land called Al-Urayd. When he finalized the purchase, he immediately stood up and left.

Imam Al Sadiq ^{a.s} said to Imam Al Baqir ^{a.s}: 'O father, you left in haste.'

Imam Al Baqir ^{a.s} replied: 'O my son, I wanted the sale to become binding.'"

CHAPTER 67 – CHAPTER ON THE RULING OF A BALANCED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT BETWEEN TWO MEN WITH A KNOWN CONDITION AND A SPECIFIED TERM

بَابُ حُكْمِ الْقَبَالَةِ الْمُعَدَّلَةِ بَيْنَ الرَّجُلَيْنِ بِشَرْطِ مَعْرُوفٍ إِلَى أَجَلٍ مَعْلُومٍ

HADITH 3770 – 3771

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3770 - رُوِيَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ قَالَ : قُلْتُ لِأَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ إِنَّا نَخَالِطُ قَوْمًا مِنْ أَهْلِ السَّوَادِ وَ غَيْرِهِمْ فَتَبِيعُهُمْ وَ نَرْبِحُ عَلَيْهِمْ الْعَشْرَةَ اثْنِي عَشَرَ وَ الْعَشْرَةَ ثَلَاثَةَ عَشَرَ وَ نُؤَخِّرُ ذَلِكَ فِيمَا بَيْنَنَا وَ بَيْنَهُمْ أَلْسَنَةً وَ نَحْوَهَا فَيَكْتُبُ الرَّجُلُ لَنَا بِهَا عَلَى دَارِهِ أَوْ عَلَى أَرْضِهِ بِذَلِكَ الْمَالِ الَّذِي فِيهِ الْفَضْلُ الَّذِي أَخَذَ مِنَّا شَرَى بِأَنَّهُ قَدْ بَاعَهُ وَ أَخَذَ الثَّمَنَ فَتَعِدُهُ إِنْ هُوَ جَاءَ بِالْمَالِ فِي وَقْتِ بَيْنَنَا وَ بَيْنَهُ أَنْ نَرُدَّ عَلَيْهِ الشَّرَاءَ وَ إِنْ جَاءَنَا أَلَوْفَتْ وَ لَمْ يَأْتِنَا بِالْدَّرَاهِمِ فَهُوَ لَنَا فَمَا تَرَى فِي الشَّرَاءِ فَقَالَ «أَرَى أَنَّهُ لَكَ إِذَا لَمْ يَفْعَلْ وَ إِنْ جَاءَ بِالْمَالِ لِلْوَقْتِ فَتَرُدُّ عَلَيْهِ».

Hadith.3770 - It is narrated from Sa'id ibn Yasar who said: I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}:

"We deal with some people from the rural areas and others. We sell to them and make a profit - sometimes ten becomes twelve, and sometimes ten becomes thirteen. We allow them to defer payment for a year or so, and they provide us with a written guarantee secured by their house or land for the amount, including the added profit.

We then agree that if they bring the payment within the specified time, we will cancel the sale and return the property to them. However, if the deadline passes and they do not bring the payment, the property becomes ours.

What do you think about this transaction?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "I see that it is yours if they fail to meet the condition. But if they bring the payment within the agreed time, you must return the property to them."

Hadith.3771 - Ishaq ibn Ammar narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}:

A man asked him while I was present, saying: "A Muslim man needed to sell his house, so he came to his brother and said: 'I will sell you my house. It is more beloved to me that it belongs to you than to someone else, on the condition that if I bring you its price within a year, you will return it to me.'"

He ^{a.s.} said: "There is no problem with this. If he brings its price within a year, he should return it to him."

I asked: "What if the property yields a significant income during that time? Who does the income belong to?"

He ^{a.s.} said: "It belongs to the buyer. Do you not see that if it were to burn down, it would be his loss?"

[AL SADUQ]

Our teacher, Muhammad ibn Al-Hasan (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him), said:

Whenever a financial agreement (qabalah) is established between two men before a third party for a specified term, and they write an agreement between them to obligate themselves to abide by it, the intermediary must act according to the agreement and not exceed it.

It is not permissible for him to delay returning that written agreement to its rightful owner at the time it is due.

I also heard him (our teacher Muhammad ibn Al-Hasan), may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him say: I heard our elders (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with them) say that agreements are not treated as binding judgments (ahkam). If agreements were treated as judgments, they would be invalidated. Muslims are bound by their conditions as long as they conform to the Book of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Exalted.

If the debtor brings part of the payment at the due time or before it, but does not pay the full amount, the intermediary must verify the amount received from the debtor by documenting it in the presence of witnesses - if the debtor is solvent.

If the debtor is not solvent, then additional security should be required.

If the intermediary instructs the return of the payment to the person from whom it was received, this would be preferable and more secure.

If the agreement specifies terms different from this, the intermediary should enforce them, if Allah ^{SWT} wills.

CHAPTER 68 – CHAPTER ON SALES

بَابُ الْبَيْعِ

HADITH 3772 – 3860

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3772 - رَوَى مَنْصُورُ بْنُ حَازِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : «إِذَا اشْتَرَيْتَ مَتَاعاً فِيهِ كَيْلٌ أَوْ وَزْنٌ فَلَا تَبِعْهُ حَتَّى تَقْبِضَهُ إِلَّا أَنْ تُؤَلِّيَهُ فَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ فِيهِ كَيْلٌ وَلَا وَزْنٌ فَبِعْهُ .»
يَعْنِي أَنَّهُ يُؤَكِّلُ الْمُشْتَرِيَ بِقَبْضِهِ.

Hadith.3772 - Mansur ibn Hazim narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} who said:

"If you purchase goods that require measuring or weighing, do not sell them until you take possession of them - unless you appoint someone to take possession on your behalf. However, if the goods do not require measuring or weighing, then you may sell them immediately."

[AL SADUQ]

This means that the buyer can authorize someone to take possession of the goods on his behalf.

Hadith.3773 - Abd Al-Rahman ibn Abi Abdillah narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}:

I asked him about a man who owed a kurr (a measure) of food and then purchased a kurr from another man. He said to the seller, "Go and take your right (measure) from the food I owe."
Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that."

Hadith.3774 - Abdullah ibn Muskan narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdillah ^(a.s):

Regarding a man who purchased food with dirhams from another man, took half of it, and then returned later - after the price of the food had either increased or decreased.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If, on the day he purchased it, they agreed on a fixed price, then that price applies. But if no price was fixed, then it is sold at the price of the day it is taken."

Imam ^(a.s) also said about a man who had two types of the same food, priced equally, but one was better than the other, and he mixed them together and sold them at one price:

"It is not permissible for him to do that, as it deceives the Muslims, unless he makes it clear (to the buyer)."

Hadith.3775 - Ishaq ibn Ammar narrated from Abu Al-Utard who said:

I asked Abu Abdillah ^(a.s) about a man who purchases food, and its price changes before he takes possession of it.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "I prefer that he honors the agreement (at the original price), just as he would have taken the benefit if there had been an increase in value."

Muhammad ibn Al-Qasim Al-Hannat asked him, "May Allah ^{SWT} keep you well. I sell food to a man on credit, and when I go to collect payment, the price of the food has changed, and he says, 'I do not have dirhams.' What should I do?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Take from him at the price of the day."

Muhammad asked: "I understand, may Allah ^{SWT} keep you well, but what if it is the same food he purchased from me?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Do not take it from him until he sells it and gives you the payment."

Muhammad said: "May Allah ^{SWT} humble me! He initially gave me a concession, but when I questioned further, he imposed a stricter rule upon me."

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.} about a group of people who board a ship to purchase food. They negotiate the price, and one of them buys it. Then the others request portions of the food from him, and he provides it to them while the seller handles the weighing and receives the payment.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in this. I do not see it as anything other than them sharing in the purchase."

I said: "The seller calls a measurer to weigh it for us, and we have laborers who check the measurement, but sometimes it is slightly more or less."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in it, as long as the error is not significant."

قَالَ وَ قُلْتُ لِأَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ أَشْتَرِي الطَّعَامَ مِنَ الرَّجُلِ ثُمَّ أُبِيعُهُ مِنْ رَجُلٍ آخَرَ قَبْلَ أَنْ أَكْتَالَهُ فَأَقُولُ إِبْعَثْ وَكِيلَكَ حَتَّى يَشْهَدَ كَيْلَهُ إِذَا قَبَضْتُهُ قَالَ «لَا بَأْسَ».

Hadith.3780 - It is narrated from Khalid ibn Hajjaj Al-Karkhi, who said:

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}: "I buy food on deferred payment until a specified time, and then merchants request to buy it from me before I take possession of it."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in selling it on deferred payment, as you purchased it, but you are not allowed to hand it over or take possession of it before you actually receive it."

I asked: "Once I take possession of it, may I be your ransom, can I then hand it over using its measured amount?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in that if they are satisfied with it."

Imam ^{a.s.} also said: "Any food you purchase from a field (baydar) or a district (tassuj), and then Allah ^{SWT} causes it to perish, the buyer is only entitled to his principal amount.

But if he purchases food with a general description and does not specify a village or location, then the seller is obligated to deliver it."

I further asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}: "I buy food from a man and then sell it to another man before measuring it, saying to him, 'Send your agent to witness its measurement when I take possession of it.'"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in that."

Hadith.3781 - Ibn Muskan narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}:

Regarding a man who purchased a measured amount of food from another man, and then the seller said to the buyer, "Buy this other sack without measuring it, for it contains the same amount as the one you already purchased."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "This is not permissible unless it is measured."

Imam ^{a.s.} further said: "Any food for which a specific measurement has been stipulated cannot be sold without measuring it. Such sales, based on estimation, are disapproved in the case of food."

Hadith.3787 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, who reported from Abu Abdillah ^(a.s.):

I asked him about a man who buys fruits and then sells them before taking possession of them.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "There is no harm if he finds profit in them; let him sell."

Imam ^(a.s.) was asked about purchasing palm trees, grapevines, and fruits for three or four years.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "There is no harm in it, as you may say, 'If it does not yield in this year, it will yield in the next.' But if you buy it for one year, do not purchase it until the fruit has matured."

Imam ^(a.s.) was also asked about a man who buys specific fruits from a piece of land, and then all the fruits of that land are destroyed.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "They disputed this matter before the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family), and they would continue to argue about it. So when he saw that they would not stop disputing, he forbade that sale until the fruit matures. However, he did not prohibit it entirely; rather, he forbade it due to their disputes."

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "There is no harm in it."

It was mentioned that one of his servants was sitting with him, and the servant said:

"He indeed sells and excludes certain measures (Awsaq)" - referring to Abu Abdillah ^(a.s.).

Imam ^(a.s.) then looked at him and did not disapprove of what he had said.

Hadith.3789 - Zur'ah narrated from Sama'ah, who said:

I asked him about selling fruits—whether it is permissible to buy them before their buds appear.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "No, except if he buys something along with it, like fresh greens or vegetables, and says: 'I am buying these greens, this palm tree, and this tree for such and such price.'"

If the fruit does not emerge, the buyer's capital will be in the greens and vegetables."

Imam ^(a.s.) was also asked about buying tree leaves, whether it is permissible to buy them for three or four harvests.

Imam ^(a.s.) said: "If you see the leaves on the tree, then buy as many harvests as you wish."

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: We purchase merchandise on credit, and a man comes and asks, "For how much was it valued for you?" I reply, "It was valued at such and such," and then I sell it to him at a profit.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If you sell it on a profit basis (Murabaha), then he is entitled to the same credit period as you."

I became distressed and said: "We are ruined!"

Imam ^{a.s} asked: "Why?"

I said: "Because the goods I sell on a Murabaha basis are purchased from me, and if I deduct from the principal amount to state its valuation, it would cause difficulty."

When Imam ^{a.s} saw what troubled me, Imam ^{a.s} said: "Shall I not open for you a door that will bring you ease?"

I said: "Indeed, please do!"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Say, 'It cost me such and such, and I sell it to you for such and such,' and do not mention the word 'profit' (Ribh)."

Hadith.3796 - Bashshar ibn Yasar narrated:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who sells merchandise for deferred payment (on credit). Can he buy it back from the one to whom he sold it?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, there is no problem with it."

I then asked him: "Can I buy back my own merchandise?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It is not your merchandise, nor your cattle, nor your sheep."

Hadith.3797 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, who reported from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}:

He was asked about a man who buys a garment from the market for his family and takes it with a condition that he may return it if not accepted, but he is offered a profit if his family keeps it.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he desires the profit, then he must make the garment binding upon himself (as a confirmed purchase) and should not intend in his heart to return the garment to its owner if it is returned to him."

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a group of people who buy Herawi, Karawi, Marwazi, or Quhi bundles of clothes. A man among them purchases ten garments, stipulating a condition that each garment is worth five dirhams, or less, or more.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "I do not like this type of sale. What if he does not find any choice among them except five garments, and the rest are all the same?"

Then Isma'il, his son, said to him: "They have stipulated that he must take ten garments from them."

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} repeatedly responded: "He has only stipulated with them to take the best among them. What if he only finds five that are suitable, and the rest are all the same?"

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "I do not like this type of sale."

BUYING OF SLAVES AND ITS RULINGS

Hadith.3810 - It is narrated from Mu'awiyah ibn Ammar who said: I heard Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} say: A group of captives from Yemen were brought to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family). When they reached Al-Juhfa, their provisions ran out, so they sold a young girl whose mother was with them. When they arrived before the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family), He ^{saws} heard the girl crying and asked: "What is this?" They replied: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, we needed provisions, so we sold her daughter." The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) then sent someone to bring her back and said: "Sell them both together or keep them both together."

Hadith.3816 - In a narration from Jamil ibn Darraj, from Zurara, he said: "I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who buys a slave, who does the wealth of the slave belong to?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If the seller knew that the slave had wealth, then it belongs to the buyer. However, if the seller was unaware, then it belongs to the seller."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, commented: "These two narrations are consistent and not contradictory. The explanation is that if a person sells a slave and the buyer stipulates ownership of the slave's wealth, then if the seller was unaware of this wealth, it belongs to the buyer. However, if the buyer does not stipulate ownership of the wealth, and the seller is unaware of its existence, then it belongs to the seller. If the seller was aware of the wealth and did not exclude it during the sale, then the wealth belongs to the buyer."

Hadith.3834 - Yaqub ibn Shuayb narrated:

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about a man who owes me loads of goods measured by a specific scale, but he sends me loads that are less than the specified measurement I am owed. Can I take them without measuring precisely (mujazafah)?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it."

He said: I also asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who owes another person a hundred kur of dates and owns date palms. He comes to him and says, "Give me these date palms in place of what you owe me."

It was as if Imam ^{a.s} disliked it.

He said: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about two men who jointly own date palms, and one of them says to the other, "Choose, either you take this date palm for such and such a specified measure and give me half of this measure, whether it increases or decreases, or I will take it under the same terms."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it."

Hadith.3839 - It is narrated from Dawood bin Sirhan, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

I had two sacks of musk—one was moist, and the other was dry. I started with the moist one and sold it.

Then I took the dry one to sell, but I found that I was not offered the price it was worth, and they would not pay me more than the price of the moist musk.

So I asked Imam ^{a.s} about that, whether it was permissible for me to mix them.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, unless you inform them."

He said: "So I mixed them and then informed them."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it if you inform them."

But he refused to accept them from me, and I had already touched her before sending him the payment."

Imam ^(a.s) said: "I see that the bondwoman should be appraised at a fair value. If her value is more than what you sent him, then you must pay him the difference. However, if her value is less than what you sent him, then the surplus belongs to him."

I said: "May I be your ransom, what if I find a defect in her after having touched her?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "You do not have the right to return her, but you are entitled to claim the difference between her value when healthy and her value with the defect from him."

I purchased a bondwoman for Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}.

When I was about to pay them, I said: "I will try to get a discount from them."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, indeed the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) forbade seeking a discount after the deal has been concluded."

So the slave releases him and declares him free from blame, desiring what he has been given. Then, later, the master finds the dirhams that he gave the slave in a place where the slave had kept them and takes them. Is it lawful for him?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No."

I said: "Is not the slave and his wealth the property of his master?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "This is not one of those cases."

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Tell him to return the money to the slave, for it is not lawful for him. He gave it to the slave as a ransom for himself to avoid punishment and retribution on the Day of Judgment."

I said: "Does the slave have to pay zakat on it if a year passes over it?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, unless he invests it in trade. And a slave is not given anything from zakat."

Hadith.3859 - Ibn Bukayr narrated from Zurara, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

Samurah ibn Jundab had a date-palm tree in the garden of a man from the Ansar, and the house of the Ansari had the pathway leading to the garden. Samurah would come and enter without seeking permission.

The Ansari said to him: "You come and enter while we are in a state that we dislike you seeing us in. When you come, seek permission so that we may prepare ourselves, and then we will permit you to enter."

Samurah replied: "I will not do so. It is my property, and I will enter it without seeking permission."

The Ansari then went to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) and complained to him and informed him of the situation.

The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) sent for Samurah, and he came.

The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said to him: "Seek permission before entering."

Samurah refused and said the same as he had said to the Ansari.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) offered to buy the tree from him for a price, but he refused.

The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) kept increasing the offer, but Samurah refused to sell.

When the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) saw this, He ^{saws} said to him: "You will have a date-palm tree in Paradise."

Yet Samurah refused to accept this as well.

Then the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) ordered the Ansari to uproot the tree and throw it to him and said: "There should be no harm and no causing of harm."

3861 - رَوَى أَبَانٌ عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ الْفَضْلِ قَالَ : سَأَلْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَنْ بَيْعِ الْكَلَالِ إِذَا كَانَ سَيِّحاً يَعْمِدُ الرَّجُلُ إِلَى مَائِهِ فَيَسْوِقُهُ إِلَى الْأَرْضِ فَيَسْقِيهِ الْحَشِيشَ وَهُوَ الَّذِي حَفَرَ النَّهْرَ وَ لَهُ الْمَاءُ يَزْرَعُ بِهِ مَا يَشَاءُ فَقَالَ «إِذَا كَانَ الْمَاءُ لَهُ فَلْيَزْرَعْ بِهِ مَا شَاءَ وَ يَبِيعْهُ بِمَا أَحَبَّ».

Hadith.3861 - Aban narrated from Isma'il bin Al-Fadl who said: I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about selling pasture when it is irrigated by flowing water, where a man directs his water to the land, irrigates the grass, and he is the one who dug the canal and owns the water, planting with it whatever he wishes.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the water is his, then he may plant with it whatever he wishes and sell it for whatever he likes."

Hadith.3862 - Sama'ah asked him about purchasing fodder crops, where a man buys them but does not harvest them, and then decides to leave them until they produce spikes of barley or wheat. He had bought them from their roots, and any tax due on them was the responsibility of the cultivator.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he stipulated at the time of purchase that he may either cut them as fodder or leave them as they are until they produce spikes, then there is no harm. Otherwise, it is not proper for him to leave them until they produce spikes."

Hadith.3863 - Sama'ah asked him about a man who purchased grazing land for fifty dirhams, or more or less, to graze his livestock, and then wanted to allow others to graze with him and charge them a fee.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may allow others to graze with him for part of what he paid. For example, if he includes others for forty-nine dirhams and his livestock grazes for one dirham, there is no harm in it. However, he is not allowed to sell the grazing rights for fifty dirhams and graze with them unless he has done some work on the pasture, such as digging a well or channeling a stream with the consent of the pasture owners. In that case, there is no harm in selling it for more than what he purchased it for, because he has added value through his work, making it permissible for him."

Hadith.3867 - It is narrated from Sa'id bin Yasar who said: I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about a man who has a share of water usage in a canal along with others, and they are partners in it. If some of them no longer need their share of the water, can they sell it?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, if he wishes, he may sell it for silver coins, or if he wishes, he may sell it for a measure of wheat."

Hadith.3869 - Sama'ah asked him about a man who purchased fodder crops but did not harvest them and left them until they turned into barley. He had stipulated with the landowner at the time of purchase that any incident or damage would be the responsibility of the landowner.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If he stipulated with the landowner at the time of purchase that he may leave it to grow into spikes or cut it as fodder, then he is bound by his condition. However, if he did not stipulate this, it is not proper for him to leave it until it becomes spikes. If he does so, then he is responsible for its tax and expenses, and he is entitled to what it produces."

[AL SADUQ]

And if a man buys date palms to cut them down for their trunks, but he leaves them as they are without cutting them and later returns to find the palms bearing fruit, the fruit belongs to him— unless the owner of the palms was watering and maintaining them.

And if a man plants crops on land without the owner's permission, and when the crops grow, the landowner comes and says, "You planted without my permission, so the crops belong to me, and I will compensate you for your expenses," then the crops belong to the planter, and the landowner is entitled to rent for his land.

Hadith.3870 - It is narrated from Muhammad bin Ali bin Mahbub who said: A man wrote to the 'Jurist' (Imam Hasan ibn Ali Al-Askari ^(a.s)) regarding a case where a man had a mill situated on a river that passed through a village. The village belonged to one or two men. The owner of the village wanted to divert the water to his village through a different channel, which would disable the mill. He asked whether he had the right to do so.

The 'Jurist' Imam ^(a.s) responded: "He should fear Allah ^(SWT) and act in a fair manner, and he should not harm his believing brother."

He also asked about a man who had a canal in a village, and another man wanted to dig another canal above it. He inquired about the required distance between them so that one would not harm the other, especially if the land was either hard or soft.

The 'Jurist' Imam ^(a.s) responded: "It should be done in such a way that neither of them harms the other, if Allah ^(SWT) wills."

Hadith.3875 - Umar bin Hanzalah narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} regarding a man who sold a piece of land, claiming it contained ten jaribs, and the buyer purchased it with its boundaries specified, paid the price, concluded the sale, and they separated.

However, when the land was measured, it turned out to be only five jaribs.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the buyer wishes, he may reclaim the excess amount of his payment and keep the land, or if he wishes, he may cancel the sale and take back all his money, unless the seller owns additional land adjacent to the specified boundaries and fulfills the remainder of the agreed quantity. In that case, the sale remains valid, and the seller must complete the agreed quantity. However, if the seller does not own any additional land in that area beyond what he sold, then the buyer has the option to keep the land and reclaim the excess amount of his payment, or cancel the sale entirely and recover all his money."

Hadith.3876 - Al-Ala' narrated from Muhammad bin Muslim who said: I asked him about purchasing land from Jews and Christians.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it. Indeed, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) conquered Khaybar and made an agreement with them that the land would remain in their hands, they would work on it and cultivate it. So, there is no harm if you purchase something from it. And any people who revive and develop a piece of land, they have the right to it, and it belongs to them."

The daughter claimed that her mother had transferred the ownership of the house to her and sold portions of it, leaving a remaining portion beside the house of one of our brothers.

This brother was reluctant to purchase it due to the absence of the son and the concern that buying it might not be permissible, as there was no news about the son.

Imam ^{a.s} asked: "How long has he been missing?"

I said: "For many years."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He should wait for the son's absence for ten years, and then he may purchase it."

Imam ^{a.s} responded: "He is entitled only to what he purchased by its name and specified location, if Allah ^{SWT} wills."

Hadith.3885 - He wrote to Imam ^{a.s} regarding a man who said to two witnesses, "Bear witness that the entire house which he owns in such-and-such a location, with all its boundaries, belongs to so-and-so, along with all the belongings he has in the house."

However, the witnesses did not know what the belongings were.

Imam ^{a.s} responded: "It is valid if the purchase encompasses all of that, if Allah ^{SWT} wills."

Hadith.3886 - He wrote to Imam ^{a.s} regarding a man who owned several plots of land and was preparing to leave for Mecca. The village was several stages away from his residence, and he did not have enough time to specify the boundaries of his land. Instead, he identified the four boundaries of the entire village and said to the witnesses, "Bear witness that I have sold to so-and-so (the buyer) the entire village, with its specified boundaries."

However, in reality, he only owned some plots of land within that village. The question was whether this sale was valid for the buyer, given that the seller acknowledged ownership of the whole village.

Imam ^{a.s} responded: "It is not permissible to sell what one does not own. However, the purchase is valid for the portion that the seller actually owns."

Hadith.3887 - He wrote to Imam ^(a.s) regarding a man who made another person a witness that he had sold an estate to another man. The estate consisted of several plots of land, but the boundaries were not specified at the time the witness was called.

The seller then said: "When they bring you the boundaries, testify to them."

The question was whether it was permissible for the witness to testify in such a case.

Imam ^(a.s) responded: "Yes, it is permissible, and all praise is due to Allah ^(SWT)."

Hadith.3888 - He wrote to Imam ^(a.s) asking whether it is permissible for a witness, who was called to testify about the sale of an estate without specifying its boundaries, to later testify to the boundaries based on the statements of other people from the village who identified and confirmed the boundaries of the estate.

The question was whether this witness, who initially testified to the sale, could now testify to the boundaries based on their statements.

Imam ^(a.s) responded: "Do not testify except based on the statement of the owner of the property, if Allah ^(SWT) wills."

Hadith.3889 - It is narrated from Jarrah Al-Mada'ini who said: I asked Abu Abdillah ^(a.s) about a house that contains three rooms, and these rooms do not have separate enclosures.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Permission is required for the rooms, but there is no need for permission regarding the house."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, explained: This refers to a house used for income, where tenants reside either by lease or as temporary occupants. Such houses do not require permission to enter the general premises; rather, permission is specifically required for the rooms.

However, for a house that is not intended for rental income, no one is permitted to enter it without explicit permission.

CHAPTER 71 – CHAPTER ON SHARECROPPING AND LEASING

بَابُ الْمَزَارَعَةِ وَالْإِجَارَةِ

HADITH 3890 – 3916

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3890 - رُوِيَ عَنْ يَعْقُوبَ بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ : سَأَلْتُهُ عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يُعْطِي الرَّجُلَ أَرْضَهُ وَفِيهَا مَاءٌ وَ نَخْلٌ وَ فَاكِهَةٌ فَيَقُولُ إِسْقِ هَذَا مِنْ الْمَاءِ وَ أَعْمُرْهُ وَ لَكَ نِصْفُ مَا أَخْرَجَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ مِنْهُ قَالَ «لَا بَأْسَ» قَالَ وَ سَأَلْتُهُ عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يُعْطِي الرَّجُلَ الْأَرْضَ الْخَرِبَةَ فَيَقُولُ أَعْمُرْهَا وَ هِيَ لَكَ ثَلَاثَ سِنِينَ أَوْ أَرْبَعَ أَوْ خَمْسَ سِنِينَ أَوْ مَا شَاءَ قَالَ «لَا بَأْسَ بِذَلِكَ» قَالَ وَ سَأَلْتُهُ عَنِ الرَّجُلِ تَكُونُ لَهُ الْأَرْضُ مِنْ أَرْضِ الْخَرَاجِ عَلَيْهَا خَرَاجٌ مَعْلُومٌ وَ رَبِّمَا زَادَ وَ رَبِّمَا نَقَصَ فَيَذْفَعُهَا إِلَى الرَّجُلِ عَلَى أَنْ يَكْفِيَهُ خَرَاجَهَا وَ يُعْطِيَهُ مَائَتِي دِرْهَمٍ فِي السَّنَةِ قَالَ «لَا بَأْسَ».

Hadith.3890 - It is narrated from Ya'qub bin Shu'ayb, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who gives his land, which has water, palm trees, and fruits, to another man and says, "Irrigate this with water, cultivate it, and you will have half of what Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Glorious, produces from it."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it."

I also asked him about a man who gives another man a piece of ruined land and says, "Rebuild it, and it is yours for three years, or four, or five years, or for whatever period you decide."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that."

I further asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who owns a piece of land from the lands subject to tax (kharaj) with a fixed tax, which sometimes increases and sometimes decreases. He leases it to another man under the condition that the lessee will cover its tax and pay him two hundred dirhams annually.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that."

Hadith.3892 - Shu'ayb narrated from Abu Basir, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

"If you lease land with the consent of its owners, based on specific conditions you agreed upon with them, then any surplus from its cultivation belongs to you, provided you fulfill your agreement with them. If you repair anything in it or construct buildings on it, then you are entitled to the rent of its buildings, except for what is already in the possession of its cultivators (dahaaqeen)."

The tenant planted crops, palm trees, and other fruit-bearing trees without seeking the landlord's permission.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "He is responsible for paying the rent.

The landlord should evaluate the plants and crops, and compensate the tenant if he had sought permission for planting them. However, if the tenant did not seek permission, he is still responsible for paying the rent, but the plants and crops belong to him. He may uproot them and take them wherever he wishes."

Afterward, harvest is divided, the authorities take their share, and from the remaining portion, the non-Muslim receives one-third while I take the rest."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that."

I then asked: "Is he required to return to me what I spent on the seeds and then divide the remaining harvest?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No. You partnered with him based on the agreement that the seeds, cattle, and land are provided by you, while he is responsible for the labor and effort."

Hadith.3899 - Al-Hasan bin Mahbub narrated from Khalid bin Jarir, the brother of Ishaq bin Jarir, who said: Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a piece of land that a man wanted to lease. He was asked which form of leasing (qabalah) is permissible.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He may lease it from its owners for a specified amount and for a specified number of years. He should cultivate it and pay the required tax (kharaj). However, if there are non-Muslim laborers ('uluj) working on it, he must not include them in the lease agreement, for that is not permissible."

Hadith.3900 - Al-Hasan bin Mahbub narrated from Khalid, from Abu Al-Rabi', who said: Abu Abdillah ^(a.s) was asked about a man who leases land from the landowners (dahaakeen) and then subleases it for more than what he leased it for, while also being responsible for paying the taxes required by the authorities.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no harm in that. Land is not like a hired worker or a rented house, as the profit from a worker or a house is prohibited."

Hadith.3901 - If a man rents a house for ten dirhams, lives in two-thirds of it, and subleases one-third of it for ten dirhams, there is no harm in that.

However, he must not sublease it for more than what he rented it for.

Hadith.3902 - Abu Abdillah ^(a.s) was asked about a man who rented land from the kharaj lands for a specified amount of dirhams or a specified quantity of food. He then subleased it, piece by piece or plot by plot, for a known price, and gained a profit over what he rented it for from the authorities without spending anything on it.

Or, he subleased parts of the land while providing seeds and expenses to the tenants, resulting in a profit beyond his rental cost, and he maintained the land.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If you rent land and spend on it or maintain it, then there is no harm in what you have described."

[AL SADUQ]

And there is no harm if a man rents land for one hundred dinars, subleases part of it for ninety-five dinars, and develops the rest of it.

Hadith.3904 - It is narrated from Abu Al-Rabi', from Abu Abdillah ^(a.s), regarding a man who cultivates another man's land on the condition that one-third is allocated for the oxen, one-third for the seeds, and one-third for the landowner.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "He should not specify shares for the oxen or the seeds. Instead, he should say to the landowner, 'I will cultivate your land, and you will receive such-and-such portion of what Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Glorious, produces from it.'"

Hadith.3905 - Abu Al-Rabi' said that Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who comes to the people of a village that has been overburdened by the authorities, making them unable to pay its taxes. The village remains in their possession, but it is unclear whether it fully belongs to them or if others have a share in it.

They hand over the village to him on the condition that he pays its taxes. He takes possession of it, pays the taxes, and ends up with a significant surplus.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that, as long as such an agreement was made with them."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it. Indeed, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) made an agreement with the Jews of Khaybar when it was conquered, granting them the land based on 'al-khabr,' and 'al-khabr' means half."

Hadith.3913 - It is narrated from Muhammad Al-Tayyar, who said:

I entered Medina looking for a house to rent. I came across a property with two rooms separated by a door, and a woman was living there.

She said: "Would you like to rent this room?"

I said: "But there is a door between the two rooms, and I am a young man."

She said: "I will close the door between me and you."

So, I moved my belongings into the room and said to her: "Close the door."

She said: "I need it open for ventilation. Leave it."

I replied: "No, I am a young man, and you are a young woman, close it."

She said: "Stay in your room. I will not come to you or approach you," but she refused to close the door.

So I went to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} and asked him about this matter.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Move out of there, for when a man and a woman are left alone in a house, the third one among them is Satan."

Hadith.3914 - Abu Hammam wrote to Abu Al-Hasan ^(a.s) regarding a man who rented a property from another man. The landlord then sold the property in the presence of the tenant, who did not object to the sale and witnessed it. The buyer later died, leaving heirs. The question was whether the property would revert to the heirs as inheritance or remain with the tenant until the lease period ended.

Imam ^(a.s) wrote in response: "It remains in the hands of the tenant until the lease period ends."

[ALSADUQ]

I also asked our Sheikh, Muhammad bin Al-Hasan (may Allah ^(SWT) be pleased with him), about a man who rented a property to another man, whether he could sell it.

He said: "He cannot sell it before the lease period ends unless he stipulates to the buyer that the tenant's rights must be honored until the lease period is completed."

CHAPTER 72 – CHAPTER ON LIABILITY FOR THOSE WHO TAKE PAYMENT FOR REPAIRING SOMETHING BUT CAUSE DAMAGE INSTEAD

بَابُ مَا يَجِبُ مِنَ الضَّمَانِ عَلَى مَنْ يَأْخُذُ أَجْرًا عَلَى شَيْءٍ لِيُصْلِحَهُ فَيُفْسِدُهُ

HADITH 3917 – 3919

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3917 - رَوَى حَمَّادٌ عَنِ الْحَلَبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: فِي الرَّجُلِ يُعْطَى الثَّوبَ لِيُصْبَغَهُ فَيُفْسِدُهُ فَقَالَ «كُلُّ عَامِلٍ أُعْطِيَته أَجْرًا عَلَى أَنْ يُصْلِحَ فَأَفْسَدَ فَهُوَ ضَامِنٌ».

Hadith.3917 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, regarding a man who gives a garment to someone to dye it, but the dyer ruins it.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Any worker whom you pay to repair or improve something but ends up damaging it is liable."

CHAPTER 73 – CHAPTER ON THE LIABILITY OF ONE WHO CARRIED SOMETHING AND CLAIMED ITS LOSS

بَابُ ضَمَانِ مَنْ حَمَلَ شَيْئًا فَادَّعَى ذَهَابَهُ

🕒 HADITH 3920 – 3933 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3920 - رَوَى حَمَّادٌ عَنِ الْحَلَبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي جَمَالٍ يَحْمِلُ مَعَهُ الزَّيْتُ فَيَقُولُ قَدْ ذَهَبَ أَوْ أَهْرَقَ أَوْ قُطِعَ عَلَيْهِ الطَّرِيقُ «فَإِنْ جَاءَ عَلَيْهِ بِبَيِّنَةٍ عَادِلَةٍ أَنَّهُ قُطِعَ عَلَيْهِ أَوْ ذَهَبَ فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ شَيْءٌ وَإِلَّا ضَمِنَ» وَفِي رَجُلٍ حَمَلَ مَعَهُ رَجُلٌ فِي سَفِينَتِهِ طَعَامًا فَتَقَصَّ قَالَ «هُوَ ضَامِنٌ» قُلْتُ لَهُ إِنَّهُ رَبَّمَا زَادَ قَالَ «تَعْلَمُ أَنَّهُ زَادَ فِيهِ شَيْئًا» قُلْتُ لَا قَالَ «هُوَ لَكَ».

Hadith.3920 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, regarding a camel driver who carries oil and claims that it was lost, spilled, or taken by robbers.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he brings trustworthy evidence that it was stolen, lost, or taken, then he is not liable. Otherwise, he is responsible for compensating it."

And regarding a man who transported food for another man in his boat, but the quantity decreased,

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He is liable."

I said to him: "Sometimes the quantity increases."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Do you know that he added anything to it?"

I said: "No."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then it belongs to you."

Hadith.3921 - Imam ^{a.s} said:

"Regarding the washer (ghassal) and the goldsmith (sawwagh), if something is stolen from them and they do not provide clear evidence proving that it was stolen, whether it is little or much, then they are liable. However, if they establish proof with clear evidence, then they are not liable. But if they fail to present evidence and merely claim that the item was lost, they are responsible for compensating it unless they provide proof to support their claim."

Hadith.3923 - It is narrated about a camel driver who was hired to transport oil to a certain land. He claimed that some of the oil skins were torn, causing the oil to spill.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The owner may take the remaining oil if he wishes."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "The camel driver's claim that the skins were torn is not accepted unless supported by trustworthy and just evidence."

And Imam ^{a.s} added: "Any man who rents an animal, and it is attacked by a wolf, which injures its eye and causes it to die, is liable for it unless he is a trustworthy and just person."

Hadith.3927 - Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} used to hold the dyer, launderer, and goldsmith liable as a precaution to protect people's belongings. However, he did not hold them liable for damages caused by drowning, fire, or overwhelming events.

And if a ship sinks along with its cargo, and people recover what washes up on the shore, it belongs to its owners, and they have the strongest claim to it. But whatever people dive for and the owner abandons, it belongs to those who recover it.

Hadith.3935 - Safwan bin Yahya narrated from Ya'qub bin Shu'ayb, who said:

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s.} about a man who makes an advance payment of 100 dirhams for wheat or dates.

When the debt becomes due, the seller says, "By Allah ^{SWT}, I only have half of what is owed to you. Take half in wheat and the other half in cash if you wish."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm if he takes the cash just as he had given it."

He continued: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who owes me a basket of ripe dates, and I take instead a basket of fresh dates, which is less in quantity.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in that."

I then asked: "What if I take instead a basket of dried dates, which is more in quantity?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm as long as it is mutually agreed upon."

I also asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who owes another 100 measures of dates, and the creditor offers to take the debtor's palm trees as payment.

Imam ^{a.s} seemed to dislike this.

I then asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who is owed loads of fresh or dried dates and sends dinars to the debtor, saying, "Buy with these and settle my debt."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm if he trusts him."

Hadith.3945 - Ubaydullah bin Ali Al-Halabi narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}:

Imam ^{a.s.} was asked about a man who lent dirhams in advance for five measures of wheat or barley until a specified time.

When the payment became due, the debtor was unable to repay the full amount of wheat or barley. The creditor wanted to take half, a third, or less or more of the food, and receive the remaining amount in dirhams equivalent to the value of the rest.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm in that."

Imam ^{a.s.} was also asked about saffron, where a man lent dirhams in advance for twenty mithqals, or more or less.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm if the debtor cannot deliver the full amount of saffron. The creditor may take half, a third, or two-thirds of his right and receive the remaining value of what is owed in dirhams."

Hadith.3946 - Imam ^{a.s.} was asked about a man who lends in advance for sheep, both two-year-olds and younger ones, until a specified time.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "There is no harm if the debtor cannot deliver all the sheep he owes. The creditor may take half, a third, or two-thirds of the sheep, and receive the remaining value of what is owed in dirhams. He should take less than what was agreed upon, but must not take more than their agreed value."

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: "Is it permissible to enter into a Salam contract for food with a man who does not currently possess the food or livestock, but promises to purchase it and deliver it when the due date arrives?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If he guarantees it for a specified term, then there is no harm in it."

I then asked: "What if he delivers part of it and delays the rest? Is that permissible?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes."

CHAPTER 75 – CHAPTER ON HOARDING AND PRICING

بَابُ الْحُكْرَةِ وَالْأَسْعَارِ

HADITH 3954 – 3974

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3954 - رُوِيَ عَنْ غِيَاثِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «لَيْسَ الْحُكْرَةُ إِلَّا فِي الْجَنْطَةِ وَالشَّعِيرِ وَالتَّمْرِ وَالزَّيْبِ وَالسَّمْنِ وَالزَّيْتِ».

Hadith.3954 - It is narrated from Ghiyath bin Ibrahim, who reported from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}: "Hoarding (Ihtikar) applies only to wheat, barley, dates, raisins, ghee, and oil."

3955 - وَ مَرَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ بِالْمُحْتَكَرِينَ فَأَمَرَ بِحُكْرَتِهِمْ أَنْ تُخْرَجَ إِلَى بُطُونِ الْأَسْوَاقِ وَ حَيْثُ يَنْظُرُ النَّاسُ إِلَيْهَا فَقِيلَ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ لَوْ قَوَّمتْ عَلَيْهِمْ فَعَضَبَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ حَتَّى عَرَفَ أَلْعَضَبُ فِي وَجْهِهِ وَ قَالَ «أَنَا أَقْوَمُ عَلَيْهِمْ إِنَّمَا السَّعْرُ إِلَى اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ يَرْفَعُهُ إِذَا شَاءَ وَ يَخْفِضُهُ إِذَا شَاءَ».

Hadith.3955 - The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, once passed by some hoarders and commanded that their hoarded goods be brought out into the marketplaces where people could see them.

Someone then suggested to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family:

"Would you set a price for them?"

At this, the Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, became angry, and his anger was apparent on his face.

Prophet ^{saws} said: "Am I to set prices for them? Indeed, pricing is in the hands of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic. He raises it when He wills and lowers it when He wills."

Hadith.3957 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Salamah al-Hannat, who said that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, asked: "What is your occupation?"

I replied: "I am a wheat seller, and sometimes I arrive during a time of demand, and sometimes I arrive during a time of stagnation, so I hold onto it."

Imam ^{a.s} asked: "What do the people around you say about this?"

I said: "They say I am a hoarder."

Imam ^{a.s} then asked: "Do others besides you sell it?"

I said: "I sell only a small portion compared to the whole market."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "There is no harm in that. This issue arose with a man from Quraysh named Hakim ibn Hizam. Whenever food entered Medina, he would buy all of it.

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, passed by him and said: 'O Hakim ibn Hizam, beware of hoarding.'"

CHAPTER 77 – CHAPTER ON THE OBLIGATION TO RETURN THE SOLD ITEM DUE TO THE OPTION OF INSPECTION

بَابُ وُجُوبِ رَدِّ الْمَبِيعِ بِخِيَارِ الرُّؤْيَةِ

🕸 HADITH 3976 – 3978 🕸

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

3976 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ جَمِيلِ بْنِ دَرَّاجٍ قَالَ :

سَأَلْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ عَنْ رَجُلٍ اشْتَرَى صِيعَةً وَ قَدْ كَانَ يَدْخُلُهَا وَ يَخْرُجُ مِنْهَا فَلَمَّا أَنْ نَقَدَ أَلْمَالَ صَارَ إِلَى الصِّيعَةِ فَفَتَّشَهَا ثُمَّ رَجَعَ فَاسْتَقَالَ صَاحِبَهُ فَلَمْ يَقْلُهُ فَقَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «لَوْ قَلَبَهَا وَ نَظَرَ مِنْهَا إِلَى تِسْعٍ وَ تِسْعِينَ قِطْعَةً ثُمَّ بَقِيَ مِنْهَا قِطْعَةً لَمْ يَرَهَا لَكَانَ لَهُ فِي ذَلِكَ خِيَارُ الرُّؤْيَةِ».

Hadith.3976 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrates from Jamil ibn Darraj, who said:

I asked Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} about a man who purchased a property. He used to enter and leave it, but after paying the price and inspecting the property, he returned and requested the seller to annul the sale, but the seller refused.

Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, said: "Even if he had examined and inspected ninety-nine parts of it, and one part remained unseen, he would still have the right of option (Khiyar al-Ru'yah) based on inspection."

Hadith.3978 - Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, entered the market of the date sellers. There, He ^{a.s} saw a woman crying while disputing with a date seller.

Imam ^{a.s} said to her: "What is the matter?"

She replied: "O Commander of the Faithful, I bought dates from this man for one dirham, but the bottom of the container was filled with poor-quality dates, unlike what I had seen at the top."

Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, said to the seller: "Return her money."

The seller refused, and Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} repeated the instruction three times, but the seller continued to refuse.

So, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} struck him with his staff until he returned the money to the woman.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} used to dislike covering the dates to conceal their defects.

Hadith.3999 - Imam ^{a.s} said:

"A man came to Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} and said: "I have inherited wealth, and I know that the one from whom I inherited it used to engage in usury. I am certain that there is usury in it, and this knowledge makes even the lawful portion unpleasant for me. I have asked the jurists of Iraq and Hijaz, and they said it is not permissible for me to consume it because of what it contains."

Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said to him:

"If you know that there is a specific portion of it that is usury and you know its rightful owners, then take your principal amount and return what is beyond that. But if it is mixed, then consume it with ease and satisfaction, for the wealth is yours. Avoid what its previous owner used to do. Indeed, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) forgave what has passed of usury and prohibited what remains.

So whoever was ignorant of it, his ignorance is excused until he becomes aware of it. Once he knows it is prohibited, it becomes forbidden for him, and punishment becomes obligatory upon him if he engages in it, just as it is obligatory upon one who consumes usury."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What if he finds another deal that he prefers over what you have, can he leave you and go for it? Or if you find a better deal, can you leave him and pursue it?"
I said: "Yes."
Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then there is no harm."

Hadith.4021 - Abd al-Rahman ibn al-Hajjaj asked Imam ^(a.s) about a man who buys food from another man who does not have it in his possession and buys it immediately (without delay).

Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no harm in it."

I said: "But they consider it invalid among us."

Imam ^(a.s) said: "What do they say about salam (forward contracts)?"

I said: "They see no harm in it because it is for a specified term. However, if it is without a specified term and not in the seller's possession, they say it is invalid."

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If there is no specified term, then it is even more justified."

Then Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no harm in a man buying food that is not in the seller's possession, whether on credit or immediately, without specifying a term, unless it is for items that are not commonly available, such as grapes, melons, and similar goods outside their season. In such cases, it is not proper to buy them immediately."

I heard Imam ^{a.s} say that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) asking for help. The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) said: "Who has a loan (to give)?"

One of the Muslims said: "I have."

So the Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) said: "Give him four wasqs of dates." The man gave him the dates.

Later, the man came back to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) asking for repayment.

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "It will be provided, and I will give it to you."

He returned again, and the Prophet ^{saws} said: "It will be provided, and I will give it to you."

He came back once more, and the Prophet ^{saws} repeated: "It will be provided, and I will give it to you."

The man then said: "You have asked too much, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}."

The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) laughed and said: "Who has a loan (to give)?"

A man stood up and said: "I have."

The Prophet ^{saws} asked: "How much do you have?"

He said: "As much as you wish."

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "Give him eight wasqs."

The man said: "I only owe four."

The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) replied: "And four more as well."

Hadith.4031 - Ya'qub ibn Shu'ayb asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who lends dirhams of lower quality and then receives better-quality dirhams in return, with the borrower's consent.

He ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it."

And this was also narrated from Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

[AL SADUQ]

Usury is of two types: one that is consumed and one that is not consumed.

As for the type that is consumed, it is when you give a gift to someone seeking a better return than what you gave. This is what Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, referred to in His saying:

'And whatever you give as usury so that it may increase in the wealth of people, it does not increase with Allah ^{SWT}.' (Surah Ar-Rum 30:39)

And as for the type that is not consumed, it is when a man lends another man ten dirhams on the condition that he repays more than that. This is the usury that Allah ^{SWT} has prohibited in His words:

'O you who believe, fear Allah ^{SWT} and give up what remains of usury, if you are believers. But if you do not, then be informed of a war from Allah ^{SWT} and His Messenger. And if you repent, you will have your principal amounts; you will not wrong and you will not be wronged.' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:278-279)

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, has commanded the one who consumed usury to return the excess he took over his principal amount, even the flesh that has grown on his body due to what he gained from usury. He must reduce it.

If he repents, he should frequently visit the bathhouse to decrease his flesh.

And if a man says to another: 'Exchange your horse for my horse, and I will give you extra,' this is not valid and is impermissible.

However, he may say: 'Give me your horse for such and such amount, and I will give you my horse for such and such amount.'"

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: "A man comes to me with dirhams, and I buy them from him with dinars. Then I give him a pouch containing more dinars than the value of his dirhams.

I say to him: 'From these dinars, such and such amount is the price of your dirhams.'

He takes the pouch from me, then returns it and says: 'Keep it with you for me.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the pouch contains enough to cover the value of his dirhams, then there is no harm in it."

Hadith.4043 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Abd al-Rahman ibn al-Hajjaj, who said:

I asked Imam ^{a.s} about currency exchange, and I said to Imam ^{a.s}: "Sometimes during travel, the caravan may hurry, and we are unable to find the Damascene and Basran currencies. However, only the Damascene and Basran currencies are accepted in Nishapur."

Imam ^{a.s} asked: 'What is the caravan?'

I said: 'It refers to a group of people who travel together and prepare for departure. If they hurry, they may not find the required currencies, so we sell them the lower-quality coins, exchanging 1,050 of these for 1,000 Damascene coins.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'There is no good in this. Why don't you add gold to it to account for the excess amount?'

I said to Imam ^{a.s}: "Can I buy 1,000 and a dinar with 2,000 dirhams?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no harm in it. My father ^{a.s} was bolder than us towards the people of Medina. He used to do this, and they would say it is merely a tactic."

They would claim that if a man brought a dinar, he would not receive 1,000 dirhams, and if he brought 1,000 dirhams, he would not receive a dinar."

Then Imam ^{a.s} used to say: 'What an excellent thing it is to flee from the unlawful to the lawful.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes."
Imam ^{a.s} further said: " Imam Ali ibn Al-Hussain ^{a.s} used to say, 'It belongs to its owner, do not touch it.'"

He (Ali ibn Ja'far) said: I also asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who finds a dirham, a piece of clothing, or a riding animal, what should he do?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He should announce it for one year. If its owner does not come forward, he should keep it as part of his property until its claimant appears, and then he must return it. If he dies, he should include it in his will, and he is responsible for it."

Hadith.4050 - Ibn Mahbub narrated from Jamil ibn Salih, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who found a dinar in his house.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Does anyone else enter his house?"

I said: "Yes, many people enter."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then it is considered lost property (luqata)."

I asked: "What about a man who found a dinar in his locked box?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Does anyone else put their hand into his box or place something in it?"

I said: "No."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then it belongs to him."

I wrote to al-Tayyib Imam Ali ibn Muhammad Al-Hadi ^{a.s}: "I was in the Sacred Mosque (Masjid al-Haram) and saw a dinar. I reached out to take it, and then I found another one. I searched the pebbles and found a third. I took them and announced them, but no one claimed them. What do you advise regarding this matter?"

Imam ^{a.s} wrote in reply: "I have understood what you mentioned about the dinars. If you are in need, then give one-third of them in charity. But if you are wealthy, then give all of them in charity."

Hadith.4054 - Abu Khadijah Salim ibn Mukram al-Jammal narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} that Dharih asked him about a servant who picks up lost property.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What does a servant have to do with lost property? A servant does not own anything for himself, so he should not interfere with it.

It is proper for a free person to announce it for one year in a public gathering. If its owner comes, he should return it to him. Otherwise, it becomes part of his property.

If he dies, it becomes inheritance for his children and those who inherit from him. But if the owner comes after that, they must return it to him."

Hadith.4063 - Al-Hajjal narrated from Dawud ibn Abi Yazid, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

A man said to Imam ^{a.s}: "I have come across some wealth, and I fear for my safety because of it. If I were to find its owner, I would return it to him and be free from it."

Imam ^{a.s} said to him, "By Allah ^{SWT}, if you were to find its owner, would you truly return it to him?"

The man replied: "Yes, by Allah ^{SWT}."

Imam ^{a.s} then said: "By Allah ^{SWT}, it has no owner other than me."

Imam ^{a.s} then made the man swear to distribute it as Imam ^{a.s} instructed.

The man swore, and Imam ^{a.s} said: "Go and distribute it among your brothers, and you are safe from what you feared."

So, the man divided it among his brothers.

Hadith.4064 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

"The best approach for a person regarding lost property (luqata) when they find it is to leave it and not touch it. If people were to leave what they find, its owner would eventually come and take it."

[AL SADUQ]

And if the found item (luqata) is less than a dirham, then it belongs to you, and you do not have to announce it.

If you find a worn-out dinar in the sacred precinct (Haram), it belongs to you, and you do not have to announce it.

If you find food in a desolate place, then estimate its value for yourself on behalf of its owner, and eat it; if its owner comes, return the value to him.

If you find a lost item in an inhabited house, then it belongs to its residents; and if it is found in a deserted ruin, then it belongs to whoever finds it.

Hadith.4065 - Sulaiman ibn Dawud al-Minqari narrated from Hafs ibn Ghiyath al-Nakha'i, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s) about a Muslim man who was entrusted with dirhams or goods by a thief, and the thief is also a Muslim. Should he return them to him?

Imam ^(a.s) said: "He should not return them to him. If he is able to return them to their rightful owner, he should do so. Otherwise, he should treat them as lost property (luqata), announcing them for one year.

If the rightful owner is found, he should return them to him. Otherwise, he should give them in charity.

If the owner later comes forward, he should be given the choice between accepting the reward for the charity or demanding repayment.

If he chooses the reward, it is his. If he chooses repayment, the person must compensate him, and the reward for the charity remains with the one who gave it."

Hadith.4083 - It is narrated from Ishaq ibn Ammar, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} or (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}), who said:

"A borrowed item (ariyyah) is not guaranteed by the borrower unless it is stipulated, except in the case of gold or silver, as these are guaranteed whether stipulated or not."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "If an item is borrowed without the owner's permission and it perishes, the borrower is liable for it."

Hadith.4086 - The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) borrowed seventy coats of mail made of iron from Safwan ibn Umayyah al-Jumahi before he embraced Islam.

Safwan asked: "O Abu al-Qasim, is this a seizure or a loan?"

The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) replied: "No, it is a loan to be returned."

Thus, it became a precedent that a loan (ariyyah) must be returned if stipulated.

After Safwan embraced Islam, he was once sleeping in the mosque when his cloak was stolen. Safwan pursued the thief, retrieved the cloak, and brought him to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family). He also presented two just witnesses against the thief.

The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) ordered that the thief's right hand be cut off. Safwan said: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, will you cut off his hand because of my cloak? I have already gifted it to him."

The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) said: "Why did you not say this before bringing the matter to me?"

The sentence was then carried out, establishing the precedent that if a case reaches the Imam and evidence is presented, the prescribed punishment (hadd) cannot be waived.

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book (may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him) commented:

"There is no cutting of the hand for theft committed in mosques or in places where entry is allowed without permission, such as bathhouses, mills, and inns. The Prophet (may Allah ^{SWT} bless him and his family) ordered the cutting of the thief's hand because he stole the cloak and concealed it. If he had not hidden it, the punishment would have been a discretionary penalty (ta'zir), not the cutting of the hand."

Hadith.4089 - It is narrated from Muhammad ibn Ali ibn Mahbub, who said:

A man wrote to the 'Jurist' (Imam Hasan ibn Ali Al-Askari ^{a.s}) regarding a case where someone entrusted another person with a deposit (wadi'ah) and instructed him to keep it in his own house, or gave no specific instruction. However, the man placed it in his neighbor's house, and it was lost.

Does he bear responsibility if he disobeyed the instruction or moved it out of his possession?

The 'Jurist' (Imam Hasan ibn Ali Al-Askari ^{a.s}) replied: "He is liable for it, if Allah ^{SWT} wills."

Hadith.4090 - Ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Habib al-Khath'ami, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who has wealth in his possession as a deposit (wadi'ah). Can he take from it without the owner's permission?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He should not take from it unless he has the means to repay it."

I then asked: "What if he finds someone who guarantees it for him, but he himself does not have the means to repay, and he has the guarantor testify on his behalf, can he take from it?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes."

Hadith.4091 - It is narrated from Misma' Abu Sayyar, who said:

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: "I had entrusted a man with some wealth, but he denied it and swore an oath against it. After two years, he returned to me with the wealth I had entrusted him and said, This is your wealth, take it. And here are four thousand dirhams I earned as profit, it is also yours. Please forgive me."

I took back my wealth but refused to take the profit. I held off from taking the entrusted wealth as well until I could consult your opinion. What do you advise?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Take half of the profit and give him the other half. Then forgive him, for this man has repented, and Allah ^{SWT} 'loves those who repent'."

Hadith.4092 - Ishaq ibn Ammar asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who entrusted another man with one thousand dirhams, but the money was lost.

The trustee claimed that the amount was a loan, while the depositor insisted it was a deposit (wadi'ah).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The money is binding upon him (the trustee) unless he provides evidence that it was a deposit."

CHAPTER 92 – CHAPTER ON PLEDGING (RAHN)

بَابُ الرَّهْنِ

HADITH 4094 – 4120

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4094 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ جَمِيلِ بْنِ دَرَّاجٍ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فِي رَجُلٍ رَهْنٌ عِنْدَ رَجُلٍ رَهْنًا فَضَاعَ الرَّهْنُ قَالَ «هُوَ مِنْ مَالِ الرَّاهِنِ وَ يَرْتَجِعُ الْمُرْتَهَنُ عَلَيْهِ بِمَالِهِ».

Hadith.4094 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Jamil ibn Darraj, who said that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who gave collateral (rahn) to another man, but the collateral was lost.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is the responsibility of the pledger (rahin), and the pledgee (murtahin) has the right to claim his money from him."

Hadith.4096 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Ishaq ibn Ammar, who said:

I asked Abu Ibrahim (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}) about a man who takes a slave as collateral (rahn), and the slave suffers an injury, such as losing an eye or any reduction in his physical condition. Who bears the loss for such a deficiency?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It is upon his master."

I said: "The people say that if you give a slave as collateral and he falls ill, loses an eye, or suffers a physical defect, the man's wealth should decrease in proportion to the loss in the slave."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What do you think, if the slave committed murder, who would bear the liability for his crime?"

I replied: "His liability would remain upon him."

Hadith.4101 – He (narrator) said: I asked him about a man who deposited collateral (rahn) with another man against a debt of one thousand dirhams, while the value of the collateral was two thousand dirhams, but the collateral was lost.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The creditor shall reclaim from the debtor the surplus value of what was pledged. If the value of the collateral was less than the debt, the creditor shall reclaim the remaining balance from the debtor. However, if the value of the collateral equaled the debt, then the collateral suffices as payment for the debt."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, added:

"This ruling applies when the collateral is lost due to the creditor's negligence. However, if it is lost while securely stored or by overpowering circumstances, the creditor may reclaim the debt from the debtor, as confirmed by the narration."

Hadith.4105 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Ishaq ibn Ammar, who said:

"I asked Abu Ibrahim (Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^(a.s)) about a man who has a pledged item (rahn) in his possession but does not know to whom it belongs.

Imam ^(a.s) said: 'I do not recommend that he sell it until its owner comes.'

I said: 'He does not know to whom it belongs.'

Imam ^(a.s) replied: 'Does it have any excess value or deficiency?'

I said: 'What if it has excess or deficiency, what should he do?'

Imam ^(a.s) said: 'If it has a deficiency, it is easier; he may sell it and be rewarded for what remains. However, if it has excess value, that is more difficult; he should sell it and hold the surplus until its owner comes.' "

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him, commented:

"This applies if the owner is unknown and there is no expectation of his return. However, if the owner is identified, it is not permissible to sell it until the owner comes."

The value of the pledge did not exceed the creditor's due amount. I asked whether the creditor could take it for his claim or if all creditors shared in it. Imam ^{a.s} wrote: "All creditors are equal in this matter and must distribute it among themselves in proportion to their claims."

He further said: I wrote to Imam ^{a.s} about a man who died, leaving heirs. Then someone came forward, claiming a debt against him and that he held a pledge for it.

Imam ^{a.s} wrote: "If he has a claim against the deceased but has no evidence for it, he may take his due from what is in his possession and return the remainder to the heirs. However, if he admits to what he possesses, he is bound by it and must provide evidence for his claim. He must fulfill his right after swearing an oath. If he cannot provide evidence and the heirs deny the claim, then the heirs must take an oath of knowledge, swearing by Allah ^{SWT} that they have no knowledge of any right owed to him by their deceased."

"How does the collateral (rahn) remain valid in cases where it is an animal, a mount, silver, or goods, and it gets destroyed due to fire or theft, causing the owner's loss or a decrease in its value, and there is no evidence to support the claim of loss?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If all of his goods are completely destroyed and nothing remains, then there is nothing (no liability) upon him."

And if the collateral is worth less than the debt and is destroyed, the debtor must pay the remaining amount owed to the creditor.

But if the value of the collateral equals the debt, then there is no further obligation on either party."

"I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about the report that has been narrated: 'Whoever relies more on a pledge (rahn) than on his believing brother, I am free from him.'

Imam ^{a.s} replied: 'That applies when the truth becomes manifest, and our Qaim (the Mahdi Imam Muhammad ibn Hassan Al-Mahdi ^{a.s}) from among the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s} rises.'

I then asked about the report that says: 'The profit earned by a believer from another believer is riba (usury).'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'That applies when the truth becomes manifest, and our Qaim ^{a.s} from among the Ahlulbayt ^{a.s} rises. As for today, there is no harm if a believer sells to his believing brother and earns profit from him.' "

CHAPTER 93 – CHAPTER ON HUNTING AND SLAUGHTERING

بَابُ الصَّيْدِ وَالدَّبَائِحِ

HADITH 4121 – 4235

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَبَارَكَ وَتَعَالَى ۖ يَسْأَلُونَكَ مَاذَا أُحِلَّ لَهُمْ قُلْ أُحِلَّ لَكُمُ الطَّيِّبَاتُ وَمَا عَلَّمْتُم مِّنَ الْجَوَارِحِ مُكَلِّبِينَ تُعَلِّمُونَهُنَّ مِمَّا عَلَّمَكُمُ اللَّهُ فَكُلُوا مِمَّا أَمْسَكْنَ عَلَيْكُمْ وَادْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ ۖ

[AL SADUQ]

Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, said:

"They ask you what has been made lawful for them. Say: Lawful to you are all good things, and what you have taught of hunting animals, trained as hounds, teaching them of what Allah ^{SWT} has taught you. So eat of what they catch for you, and mention the name of Allah ^{SWT} upon it." (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:4).

Hadith.4121 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurara, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, that he said:

"Regarding the hunting of a dog, if its owner releases it and pronounces the name of Allah ^{SWT}, then he may eat whatever it catches for him, even if it kills. And if it eats from it, then eat what remains.

If the dog is not trained, but the owner trains it at the moment he releases it, he may eat from it, for it is considered trained.

However, apart from dogs, such as animals hunted by cheetahs, falcons, and similar creatures, do not eat from their catch you reach it and perform the proper slaughtering (dhabh). This is because Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, said: 'Mukallibeen' (those who train hunting dogs) Thus, apart from dogs, their catch is not lawful to eat unless you reach it and slaughter it properly."

Hadith.4144 - Imam ^(a.s) said: "If you send your hunting dog after a game and you catch up with it but do not have a blade to slaughter it with, then let the dog kill it, and you may eat from it."

[AL SADUQ]

If you send your dog after game and another dog joins it, do not eat from it unless you are able to slaughter it properly.

If you shoot at it while it is on a mountain and it falls and dies, then do not eat it.

If you shoot it and your arrow strikes it, and it falls into water and dies, then eat it if its head remains out of the water; but if its head is in the water, then do not eat it.

As for a bird, if someone captures it by holding its wings, it belongs to the one who caught it unless the owner is known, in which case it should be returned to him.

I said: "What about eggs found in thickets?" Imam ^{a.s} said: "If both ends are equal, then do not eat it, but if the two ends are different, then eat it." I asked: "What about water birds?" Imam ^{a.s} said: "Eat whatever has a crop, and do not eat what does not have a crop." In another narration, Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the bird glides and flaps, but its flapping is more than its gliding, then it may be eaten; but if its gliding is more than its flapping, then it should not be eaten. From water birds, what has a crop or a spur may be eaten, and what lacks them should not be eaten."

"Do not eat the catfish, nor the eel, nor the zabir, nor the tafi, which is that which dies in the water and floats on the surface of the water."

[AL SADUQ]

And if you find fish and do not know whether it has been properly slaughtered or not, and its proper slaughtering is that it is taken out of the water alive, then take it and throw it into the water.

If it floats on the water lying on its back, then it is not properly slaughtered; but if it is on its front, then it is properly slaughtered. Similarly, if you find meat and do not know whether it is properly slaughtered or is carrion, then throw a piece of it onto fire. If it contracts, then it is properly slaughtered; but if it loosens on the fire, then it is carrion.

Hadith.4184 - Al-Husayn ibn al-Mukhtar narrated from Al-Husayn ibn Ubayd Allah ^{SWT} who said: I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}, "We are in the mountains and we send the shepherds to the sheep. Sometimes a sheep is injured or something happens to it, and they slaughter it. Can we eat it?" Imam ^{a.s.} said: "No, for it is a matter of proper slaughtering, and only a Muslim can be trusted with it."

THAT WHICH IS SLAUGHTERED NOT FACING THE QIBLA OR WHEN THE TASMIYAH (MENTIONING THE NAME OF ALLAH) IS OMITTED.

Hadith.4186 - And Muhammad ibn Muslim asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, about an animal that was slaughtered not facing the Qibla.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Eat, there is no harm in that as long as it was not done intentionally."

He further asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who slaughtered an animal without mentioning the name of Allah ^{SWT}.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he forgot, let him mention the name of Allah ^{SWT} when he remembers and say: 'In the name of Allah ^{SWT}, at its beginning and at its end.'"

THE LAWFUL AND UNLAWFUL OF THE MEATS OF ANIMALS.

Hadith.4197 - Muhammad ibn Muslim asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, about the meat of horses, beasts of burden, mules, and donkeys.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is permissible, but people find it repugnant."

[AL SADUQ]

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, only forbade eating the meat of domesticated donkeys at Khaybar to prevent their backs from being depleted. That was a prohibition of dislike (karahah), not a prohibition of unlawfulness (tahrim).

There is no harm in eating the meat of wild donkeys, nor in consuming the flesh of deer (al-yahamir).

There is also no harm in drinking the milk of female donkeys or cheese made from it.

However, it is not permissible to eat anything from the mutated creatures (masukh), which include:

Monkeys, pigs, dogs, elephants, wolves, rats, rabbits, lizards (al-dabb), peacocks, ostriches, chameleons (al-du'muṣ), catfish (al-jirri), crabs, turtles, bats, spotted animals (al-baq'a'), foxes, bears, jerboas (al-yarbu'), and hedgehogs (al-qanfudh).

These are mutated creatures, and it is not permissible to eat them.

Hadith.4199 - And it was narrated by Al-Washsha from Dawud Al-Raqqi who said:

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: A man from the followers of Abu Al-Khattab forbade me from riding Bukht (a type of camel) and eating the meat of 'musarwal' pigeons (pigeons with feathered legs). Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} replied: 'There is no harm in riding the Bukht, drinking their milk, eating their meat, or eating the meat of musarwal pigeons.'

However, Imam ^{a.s} forbade riding the Jallalat (animals that feed on filth) and drinking their milk, and Imam ^{a.s} said: "If any of their sweat touches you, then wash it."

And regarding a 'jallalah' she-camel, Imam ^{a.s} said: 'It should be confined for forty days before it becomes permissible for slaughter and consumption.'

As for a 'jallalah' cow, Imam ^{a.s} said: 'It should be confined for thirty days.'

Hadith.4203 - Ibn Muskan narrated from Abdul Rahim Al-Qasir, who said:

I heard Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, say:

"Indeed, when Ibrahim ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, intended to slaughter the ram, Iblis came to him and said: 'This belongs to me.'

Ibrahim ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, replied: 'No.'

Iblis said: 'I have a share in it,'

Ibrahim ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, responded: 'No.'

Iblis then began naming each part of the sheep, but Ibrahim ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, rejected him until he finally mentioned the spleen (al-tihal).

At that point, Ibrahim ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, gave it to him. Therefore, it is considered the morsel of Satan."

Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

"If meat is placed with the spleen on a skewer, the meat may be eaten if it is placed above the spleen.

However, if it is placed below the spleen, it should not be eaten. Its dripping (fat and juices) may be consumed because the spleen is enclosed in a membrane, and nothing comes out of it unless it is punctured. If it is punctured, its contents will leak out, and the dripping below it should not be consumed.

If a permissible fish is placed on a skewer with a catfish or any other fish that is not permissible to eat, the fish with scales may be eaten if it is placed above the catfish or the non-permissible fish on the skewer. However, if it is placed below the catfish, it should not be eaten."

I said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: "May I be your ransom! What do you say about eating 'Kan'at'?"
Imam ^{a.s} replied: "There is no harm in eating it."
I said: "But it has no scales."
Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Indeed, it does! However, it is a fish with bad manners that rubs against everything. If you look at the base of its ears, you will find scales."

Hadith.4213 - Abdul Azim ibn Abdullah al-Hasani narrated from Abu Ja'far Muhammad ibn Ali al-Ridha ^{a.s}, peace be upon him:

I asked Imam ^{a.s} about what has been sacrificed for other than Allah ^{SWT}.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Whatever is slaughtered for an idol, a statue, or a tree, Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden it, just as He ^{SWT} has forbidden carrion, blood, and the flesh of swine.

'But if one is forced by necessity, without willful disobedience nor transgressing due limits, then there is no sin upon him' to eat from the carrion."

I then asked Imam ^{a.s}: "O son of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, when does carrion become permissible for one who is compelled by necessity?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "My father ^{a.s} narrated to me from his father ^{a.s}, from his forefathers, peace be upon them all, that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, was asked: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, we may find ourselves in a land where we are struck by severe hunger. When does carrion become lawful for us?'

Prophet ^{saws} said: 'As long as you have not had a morning or evening meal, or found herbs to sustain yourselves, then you may consume it.'"

Abdul Azim said: I asked Imam ^{a.s}: "O son of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what is the meaning of Allah's ^{SWT} statement:

'But whoever is forced by necessity, neither desiring it nor transgressing its limits, then there is no sin upon him' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:173)

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The 'transgressor' (al-'adi) is the thief, and the 'oppressor' (al-baghi) is the one who hunts out of arrogance or for amusement, not to provide sustenance for his dependents. Neither of these two is permitted to eat carrion in a state of necessity. It remains forbidden for them in times of necessity just as it is forbidden in times of ease. Likewise, they are not allowed to shorten their prayers or fasts during travel."

I then asked Imam ^{a.s} about Allah's ^{SWT} statement:

'And (forbidden to you is) that which dies by strangling, and that beaten to death, and that which dies from falling, and that which is gored, and that which a wild beast has eaten—except what you are able to slaughter properly.' (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:3)

Imam ^{a.s} said: "'The strangled' (al-mun-khaniqah) is that which dies by suffocation; 'the beaten' (al-mawqoodah) is that which falls ill and perishes from its illness, showing no movement; 'the fallen' (al-mutaraddiyah) is that which falls from a high place to a lower one, such as from a mountain or into a well, and dies;

'the gored' (al-natihah) is that which is gored by another animal and dies; and

'that which a wild beast has eaten' is what has been attacked by a predator and then dies.

'That which is slaughtered on altars' (al-nusub) refers to what is sacrificed on a stone or idol. However, if any of these are caught while still alive and slaughtered properly (zakat), then it is permissible."

I then asked about Allah's ^{SWT} statement:

'And (forbidden is) that you seek division by arrows.' (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:3)

Imam ^{a.s} said: "During the pre-Islamic era (Jahiliyyah), people used to buy a camel collectively, shared among ten individuals. They would then divide its shares using arrows. There were ten arrows, seven with shares and three without shares.

As for those with shares, they were: 'al-Fadh' (the single), 'al-Taw'am' (the twin), 'al-Nafis' (the valuable), 'al-Hils' (the covering), 'al-Musbil' (the extended), 'al-Mu'alla' (the elevated), and 'al-Raqib' (the watcher).

Those without shares were: 'al-Safih' (the wasteful), 'al-Manih' (the granted), and 'al-Waghd' (the despicable).

They would cast lots among the ten participants. Whoever's name came up with one of the three arrows without shares had to pay one-third of the camel's price. They would continue this process until the three arrows without shares fell to three individuals, obliging them to pay for the camel.

Then they would slaughter the camel, and the seven who paid nothing would eat from it, while the three who paid for it would neither eat from it nor benefit in any way.

When Islam came, Allah ^{SWT} Almighty prohibited this practice as part of what He ^{SWT} forbade. Allah ^{SWT} said:

'And (forbidden is) that you seek division through arrows. That is disobedience.' (Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:3)

This means it is unlawful."

Hadith.4215 - Muhammad ibn 'Udhafir narrated from his father, who narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s.}:

I asked Imam ^{a.s.}: "Why did Allah ^{SWT} make wine, dead meat, blood, and the flesh of pigs forbidden?"

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, did not forbid these things to His servants while permitting everything else out of mere preference for what He ^{SWT} made lawful or out of disdain for what He ^{SWT} forbade.

Rather, Allah ^{SWT} created the creatures and knew what sustains their bodies and what benefits them, so He ^{SWT} made it lawful for them and permitted it.

And He ^{SWT} knew what harms them, so He ^{SWT} prohibited it for them. However, He ^{SWT} made it lawful for one in necessity during a time when his body cannot survive without it, and He ^{SWT} commanded him to take from it only as much as is necessary, and no more."

Then Imam ^{a.s.} said: "As for carrion (dead meat), no one who consumes it experiences anything but a weakened body, diminished strength, and interrupted offspring. The one who eats carrion does not die except suddenly.

As for blood, it causes the one who consumes it to develop jaundice, wild behavior, and hardness of the heart, along with a lack of compassion and mercy. Such a person cannot be trusted with his close ones or those who accompany him.

As for flesh of pigs, Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, transformed some people into various forms, such as pigs, apes, and bears. Then He ^{SWT} forbade the consumption of these deformed beings so that no benefit would be derived from them, and their punishment would not be taken lightly.

As for wine, He ^{SWT} forbade it due to its effects and its corruption."

Then Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Indeed, a habitual drinker of wine is like an idol worshipper. It causes trembling, destroys one's dignity, and drives one to commit forbidden acts, such as spilling blood and engaging in fornication. When intoxicated, he cannot be trusted even with his own household, as he loses his senses. Wine increases its drinker in nothing but evil."

Hadith.4231 - It was said to Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}:

"We have heard that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: 'Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, despises the house filled with meat and the fattened meat.'"

So Imam ^{a.s} replied: "We eat meat and love it. What the Prophet, peace be upon him, meant was the house where the flesh of people is consumed through backbiting. And by 'fattened meat,' he meant the one who is arrogant and boastful in his walk."

Hadith.4234 - Al-Halabi asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s) about killing snakes.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Kill everything you find in the wilderness except the jinn."

And he forbade killing the household spirits (Awamir) and said:

"Do not leave them out of fear of their consequences, for the Jews during the time of the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT), peace be upon him and his family, used to say that whoever killed a household spirit would suffer such-and-such misfortune."

Then the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT), peace be upon him and his family, said:

"Whoever refrains from killing them out of fear of their consequences is not from me. Rather, leave them alone because they do not intend to harm you."

Imam ^(a.s) also said: "I sometimes killed them in their houses."

Hadith.4253 - Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, said:

"I guarantee that whoever mentions the name of Allah ^{SWT} upon his food will not suffer any harm from it."

Then Ibn al-Kawwa' said:

"O Commander of the Faithful, I ate food last night, mentioned the name of Allah ^{SWT} upon it, and yet it caused me discomfort."

Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, replied:

"You ate different types of food, but you mentioned the name of Allah ^{SWT} on some and did not mention it on others, O foolish one!"

It is also narrated: "Whoever forgets to mention the name of Allah ^{SWT} on each type of food should say: 'In the name of Allah ^{SWT}, on its beginning and its end.'"

Hadith.4256 - Amr ibn Qays al-Masir narrated:

I entered upon Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, in Medina, and there was a dining table before him, and Imam ^{a.s} was eating.

I said to Imam ^{a.s}: "What is the proper etiquette for this table?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "When you place it, mention the name of Allah ^{SWT}, and when you remove it, praise Allah ^{SWT}. Clean up what is around the table, for this is its etiquette."

He said: Then I turned, and there was a jug placed there. So I said to Imam ^{a.s}, "What is the proper etiquette for the jug?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Drink from the side of its lip, and mention the name of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic. When you lift it from your mouth, praise Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic. Avoid drinking from the spot near the handle, for that is the seat of Satan. This is its etiquette."

"There are twelve qualities related to the dining table that every Muslim must know, four of them are obligatory, four are recommended practices (Sunnah), and four are etiquettes:

As for the obligatory ones, they are: recognition (of Allah ^{SWT}), contentment, mentioning the name of Allah ^{SWT} (Bismillah), and gratitude.

As for the recommended practices, they are: performing ablution before eating, sitting on the left side, eating with three fingers, and licking the fingers.

As for the etiquettes, they are: eating from what is directly in front of you, taking small bites, chewing well, and avoiding looking at people's faces."

"I believe that one should only swear by Allah ^{SWT}.

As for a man's saying, 'No, by your enemy,' this is from the sayings of Jahiliyyah (the pre-Islamic era of ignorance). If people were to swear by this or similar expressions, swearing by Allah ^{SWT} would be abandoned.

As for a man's saying, 'Ya Hanah, Ya Hanah' (O so-and-so), it is merely calling a name, and I see no harm in it.

And as for saying, 'By the life of Allah ^{SWT}', (La 'amr Allah ^{SWT}) and 'By the oath of Allah ^{SWT}' (Aym Allah ^{SWT}), these are indeed swearing by Allah ^{SWT}."

Hadith.4294 - I asked him about a woman who vowed to offer her wealth as an offering to the House of Allah ^{SWT} if she lent some of her belongings to so-and-so. Then, some of her family members lent those belongings without her permission.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "She is not required to offer the offering. The true offering is what is made as a dedication to Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, as an offering to the Ka'bah. That is what must be fulfilled when it is made for Allah ^{SWT}. But matters like this are of no consequence, and an offering that does not mention the name of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, is not valid."

Hadith.4297 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq {a.s} said:

"An oath is of two types. One type is when a man swears upon something that he is not obligated to do, yet he swears that he will do it.

The other type is when he swears upon something that he is obligated to do; in this case, if he does not fulfill it, he must offer expiation.

The second type has three categories. One of them is an oath for which a man will be rewarded if he swears falsely, another for which there is neither expiation nor reward, and the third for which there is no expiation but the punishment is entering the Fire.

As for the oath for which a man will be rewarded if he swears falsely and for which no expiation is required, it is when a person swears to protect the life of a Muslim or his property from an oppressor or a thief or anyone who intends harm.

As for the oath for which there is neither expiation nor reward, it is when a person swears upon something but later finds an option that is better than his oath, so he leaves the oath and chooses what is better.

And as for the oath whose punishment is entering the Fire, it is when a man swears falsely to take the wealth or rights of another Muslim unjustly. This is a 'Ghamus' oath, which necessitates the Fire, and there is no expiation for it in this world."

[AL SADUQ]

It is not permissible to feed a single child in expiation for an oath, but two children may be considered as one adult. If a person finds no one for the expiation except one or two individuals, he should repeat the feeding for them until the requirement is fulfilled.

Hadith.4298 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said that a false oath leaves homes deserted of their inhabitants.

[ALSADUQ]

Regarding vows (nadhir), they are of two types. The first type is when a man says, "If such-and-such happens, I will fast, pray, give charity, perform Hajj, or do some act of goodness." In this case, if condition is fulfilled, he has option to either fulfill the vow or leave it, as it is not binding. The second type is when a man says, "If such-and-such happens, then it is an obligation upon me for the sake of Allah ^{SWT} to do such-and-such." In this situation, the vow becomes binding, and he cannot abandon it. He must fulfill it, and if he fails, he is required to offer expiation.

The expiation for breaking a vow is the same as the expiation for breaking an oath, which is to feed ten needy people from the average food that one provides to their own family.

For each needy person, the expiation is either one mudd of food or providing clothing, with each man receiving two garments, or freeing a slave. If one cannot afford these options, then fasting for three days is required. This is expiation for your oaths when you swear and then break them. If a man vows to fast every Saturday, Sunday, or all days continuously, he is not allowed to abandon it except for a valid reason. He is also not required to fast during travel or illness unless he had specifically intended to include these situations in his vow. If he breaks his fast without a valid reason, he must feed ten needy people for each day missed.

If a man vows to fast on a specific day for the rest of his life, and that day coincides with Eid al-Fitr, Eid al-Adha, or the days of Tashreeq, or if he is traveling or falls ill, Allah ^{SWT} has exempted him from fasting on these days. Instead, he should fast on another day as a substitute.

If a man makes a vow without specifying what he vowed, he has the choice to fulfill it by giving charity, praying two units of prayer, fasting a day, or feeding a needy person with a loaf of bread.

If a man vows to give a large amount of wealth in charity without specifying the amount, then the definition of "large" is eighty or more, based on the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT} has given you victory in many places" (Surah At-Tawbah 9:25), where "many" refers to eighty places.

If a man vows to fast for a day or a month without specifying which day or month in his vow, and then breaks his fast, there is no expiation required. Instead, he must fast another specified day or month as a replacement, in accordance with his vow. However, if he vows to fast on a specific, well-known day or month, then he must fast that exact day or month. If he does not fast it or fasts it but then breaks it, he must offer expiation.

If a man vows to fast on a specific day and that day coincides with a day of obligation toward his family, he must fast another day in its place and also free a believing slave. It is important to note that a blind slave does not suffice for expiation, whereas a slave who is missing a limb, such as one who is maimed, crippled, one-eyed, or lame, is acceptable. However, a slave who is completely paralyzed does not fulfill the requirement for expiation.

In the case of zihar, it is permissible for a young boy born into Islam to be involved. If a man imposes an oath upon his debtor that he must not leave the town without informing him, then the debtor is not allowed to leave until he notifies the creditor. However, if the debtor fears that the creditor will prevent him from leaving and that this will result in harm to him and his family, he may leave without notifying the creditor, and there is no blame upon him for doing so.

If a man claims money from another man without any evidence and his claim is invalid, then if the amount claimed reaches thirty dirhams, he should give it to the claimant and not take an oath. However, if the amount is more than thirty dirhams, he should take an oath and not give it.

If a man owns a female slave, and his wife is upset by her presence and becomes jealous, leading him to say, "She is charity upon you," then if he made her an offering to Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, he is no longer permitted to approach her. However, if he did not mention Allah ^{SWT} when making the statement, then the female slave remains his property, and he may do with her as he pleases.

I asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s.}: "O son of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, it has been narrated to us from your forefathers (peace be upon them) that for someone who has intercourse or breaks their fast in the month of Ramadan, there are three expiations. It has also been narrated from them (peace be upon them) that there is only one expiation. Which of the two narrations should we follow?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "Both are correct. If a person has intercourse unlawfully or breaks their fast by consuming something unlawful during the month of Ramadan, then three expiations are required, freeing a slave, fasting for two consecutive months, and feeding sixty needy people. In addition, the person must make up the fast for that day.

However, if the person had lawful intercourse or broke their fast by consuming something lawful, then only one expiation is required, along with making up the fast for that day.

And if the person did so out of forgetfulness, then nothing is required of him."

Hadith.4336 - Zurarah ibn A'yun narrated that Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about the creation of Hawwa (Eve). It was said to him that some people claim Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, created Hawwa from the leftmost rib of Adam.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Glory be to Allah ^{SWT} and far exalted is He ^{SWT} above such a claim. Does the one who says this believe that Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, lacked the power to create Adam's spouse from something other than his rib? Does he provide an opportunity for those who seek to cast doubts to say that Adam married a part of himself if she was created from his rib? What is wrong with these people? May Allah ^{SWT} judge between us and them."

Then Imam ^{a.s} said: "Indeed, when Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, created Adam ^{a.s} from clay and commanded the angels to prostrate before him, He ^{SWT} caused Adam to fall into a deep sleep. He ^{SWT} then created Hawwa for him and placed her in the indentation between his thighs. This was done so that the woman would be dependent upon the man."

Imam ^{a.s} continued: "Hawwa began to move, which caused Adam to wake up due to her movement. When he woke up, he was told to move away from her. When he looked at her, he saw a beautiful creation resembling his own image, except that she was female. He spoke to her, and she responded to him in his language."

Adam ^{a.s} then asked her: 'Who are you?'

She replied: 'A creation whom Allah ^{SWT} created, as you can see.'

Adam ^{a.s} then said: 'O Lord ^{AZJ}, what is this beautiful creation whose closeness has comforted me and whose sight has pleased me?'

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, said: "O Adam, this is My servant Hawwa. Do you wish for her to be with you, to comfort you, converse with you, and be subject to your command?"

Adam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, O Lord ^{AZJ}, and for that, I offer You praise and thanks for as long as I live."

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, then said: "Propose to her through Me ^{SWT}, for she is My servant, and she may also be suitable for you as a wife for fulfilling desires."

Allah ^{SWT} then instilled in Adam the natural desire and had already taught him knowledge of all things.

Adam ^{a.s} said: "O Lord ^{AZJ}, I propose to her through You ^{SWT}. What is Your ^{SWT} satisfaction regarding this matter?"

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, said: "My satisfaction is that you teach her the principles of My religion."

Adam ^{a.s} replied: "That is upon me, O Lord ^{AZJ}, if You ^{SWT} will grant her to me."

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, said: "I have willed it and have married her to you. Now take her to yourself."

Adam ^{a.s} then said to her: "Come to me."

But she replied: "No, you come to me."

Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, then commanded Adam ^{a.s} to go to her. Had it not been so, women would have approached men and proposed themselves.

This is the story of Hawwa (peace be upon her)."

As for the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious: "O mankind, fear your Lord ^{AZJ}, who created you from a single soul and created from it its mate, and dispersed from both of them many men and women" (Surah An-Nisa 4:1),

It is narrated that Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, created Adam's spouse from his clay, as mentioned in the verse: "And dispersed from both of them many men and women" (Surah An-Nisa 4:1).

[ALSADUQ]

As for the narration that states, "Hawwa was created from Adam's left rib," it is authentic. However, its meaning is that she was created from the clay that remained from his left rib. For this reason, men have one rib fewer than women.

Hadith.4337 - Zurarah narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} that Adam ^{a.s} had a son named Sheeth, whose name means "Gift of Allah ^{SWT}." He was the first successor appointed among humans on earth. After Sheeth, Adam ^{a.s} had another son named Yafith.

When both sons reached maturity, Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, intended to continue human progeny and fulfill what was decreed by His ^{SWT} command. To enforce the prohibition of marriage between brothers and sisters, Allah ^{SWT} sent down, after the afternoon (Asr) on a Thursday, a heavenly woman from Paradise named Nazlah. Allah ^{SWT} commanded Adam ^{a.s} to marry her to Sheeth, and so he did.

The next afternoon, on Friday, Allah ^{SWT} sent down another heavenly woman from Paradise named Munzalah. Allah ^{SWT} commanded Adam ^{a.s} to marry her to Yafith, and so he did.

Sheeth and Nazlah had a son, and Yafith and Munzalah had a daughter. When these children grew up, Allah ^{SWT} commanded Adam ^{a.s} to marry the daughter of Yafith to the son of Sheeth. Adam obeyed this command, and from their lineage came the chosen ones among the prophets and messengers.

Far be it from Allah ^{SWT} that human propagation occurred as some have claimed—through marriage between brothers and sisters. Instead, Allah ^{SWT} ensured the preservation of purity and honor in the lineage through divine arrangements.

Hadith.4357 - Mas'adah ibn Ziyad narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s) from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) (peace be upon them) that he said: "Women are of four types, there are those who are like a fertile spring, those who are abundant and productive, those who are burdensome and oppressive, and those who are like a shackle infested with lice."

[AL SADUQ]

Ahmad bin Abi Abdillah Al-Barqi explained:

A woman described as Jami' Mujmi' refers to one who is abundant in goodness and fertile.

A woman described as Rabi' Murbi' is one who has a child in her lap and another in her womb.

A woman described as Karb Muqmi' is one who has bad manners with her husband.

A woman described as Ghull Qamil is one who is like a restrictive shackle (ghull) for her husband, infested with lice, resembling a shackle made of skin in which lice gather and eat it, such that he cannot rid himself of them. This term serves as an Arab metaphor for someone who is a source of continual distress and hardship.

Hadith.4358 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Dawud al-Karkhi, who said: I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, "My wife has passed away. She was compatible with me, and I am thinking about getting married."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Consider carefully where you place yourself, with whom you share your wealth, and to whom you reveal your religion, secrets, and trust. If you must proceed, then marry a virgin who is known for goodness and good character.

Know that women are created differently: among them are those who are a blessing and those who are a burden; among them are like the crescent moon that delights its owner when it appears; and among them are like darkness. Whoever finds a righteous woman is happy, and whoever is deceived by one has no recourse for revenge.

Women are of three types:

A woman who is fertile, loving, and supports her husband in his worldly and religious affairs, not helping life's hardships against him.

A woman who is barren, neither beautiful nor of good character, and does not help her husband in anything good.

And a woman who is loud, argumentative, fault-finding, belittles much, and is not content with little."

بَابُ مَا يُسْتَحَبُّ وَ يُحْمَدُ مِنْ أَخْلَاقِ النِّسَاءِ وَ صِفَاتِهِنَّ

HADITH 4362 – 4369

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4362 - قَالَ أَمِيرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: «تَزَوَّجْ سَفْرَاءَ عَيْنَاءَ عَجْزَاءَ مَرْبُوعَةً فَإِنْ كَرِهْتَهَا فَعَلَيَّ الصَّدَاقُ».

Hadith.4363 - The Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family), when intending to marry a woman, would send someone to look at her and said: "Smell her neck, for if her neck smells good, her scent will also be pleasant. And if her ankles are fleshy, her private parts will be well-developed."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him, explained that 'al-leet' refers to the side of the neck, and 'al-araf' means a pleasant fragrance, as mentioned in the verse: 'And He will admit them into Paradise, which He has made known to them' (Surah Muhammad 47:6), meaning He ^(SWT) has made it fragrant for them.

It is also said that 'al-araf' refers to fragrant incense. The phrase 'darima ka'buha' means that her ankles are fleshy, and a woman described as 'darmaa' has well-fleshed feet and ankles. The term 'ka'thab' refers to the private parts.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) said: "Shall I not inform you of the best of your women?"

They said: "Yes, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, tell us."

He ^{saws} said: "The best of your women is the one who is loving and fertile, modest and chaste, honorable among her family, humble with her husband, displaying her beauty to her husband while guarding herself from others. She listens to his words, obeys his commands, and when he is alone with her, she offers him what he desires, without imitating the mannerisms of men."

Hadith.4375 - The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) passed by a group of women, stopped, and said:

"O assembly of women! I have not seen those who are deficient in intellect and religion more capable of taking away the reasoning of men of understanding than you. Indeed, I have observed that you will form the majority of the inhabitants of Hell on the Day of Judgment. So, seek closeness to Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, as much as you can."

One of the women asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what is the deficiency in our religion and intellect?"

He ^{saws} replied: "As for the deficiency in your religion, it is due to the menstruation that afflicts you, during which one of you may remain for a period, as Allah ^{SWT} wills, without praying or fasting. And as for the deficiency in your intellect, it is because the testimony of a woman is equivalent to half the testimony of a man."

Hadith.4376 - The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) said: "Shall I not inform you about the worst of your women?"

They said: "Yes, O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, tell us."

He said: "The worst of your women is the one who is humble and submissive with her family but domineering and arrogant with her husband. She is barren, spiteful, and does not refrain from committing indecency. She flaunts herself when her husband is absent but is reserved and guarded when he is present. She does not listen to his words nor obey his commands. When he is alone with her, she behaves stubbornly like a difficult mount that resists being ridden. She neither accepts his apology nor forgives his faults."

بَابُ مَا يُسْتَحَبُّ مِنَ الدُّعَاءِ وَ الصَّلَاةِ لِمَنْ يُرِيدُ التَّزْوِيجَ

HADITH 4387
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4387 - رَوَى مُثَنَّى بْنُ الْوَلِيدِ الْحَنَاطُ عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ قَالَ قَالَ لِي أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «إِذَا تَزَوَّجَ أَحَدُكُمْ كَيْفَ يَصْنَعُ» قُلْتُ مَا أَذْرِي جُعِلَتْ فِدَاكَ قَالَ «إِذَا هُمْ بِذَلِكَ فَلْيُصَلِّ رَكَعَتَيْنِ وَ يَحْمَدُ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ وَ يَقُولُ: اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أُرِيدُ التَّزْوِيجَ فَقَدِّرْ لِي مِنَ النِّسَاءِ أَعْفَهُنَّ فَرْجاً وَ أَحْفَظَهُنَّ لِي فِي نَفْسِهَا وَ مَالِي وَ أَوْسَعَهُنَّ رِزْقاً وَ أَعْظَمَهُنَّ بَرَكََةً وَ قَيِّضْ لِي مِنْهَا وَلِداً طَيِّباً تَجْعَلْهُ لِي خَلِفاً صَالِحاً فِي حَيَاتِي وَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِي».

Hadith.4387 - Muthanna ibn al-Walid al-Hannat narrated from Abu Basir, who said:

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} said to me: "When one of you intends to get married, what should he do?"

I replied: "I do not know, may I be your ransom."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "When he makes up his mind for that, let him perform two units of prayer, praise Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, and say:

'O Allah ^{SWT}, I intend marriage, so decree for me from among the women the one who is most chaste in her private parts, best in preserving herself for me, my wealth, and the most abundant in sustenance, and the greatest in blessings. Grant me from her a good offspring whom You ^{SWT} make for me a righteous successor during my life and after my death.'"

Hadith.4393 - Hisham ibn Salim and Muhammad ibn Hakim narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said: "If the father and the grandfather both arrange the marriage, the marriage arranged by the first one will take precedence. However, if both arranged the marriage simultaneously, then the grandfather has greater authority."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, stated: No one has authority over a woman except her father as long as she has not married and remains a virgin. If she is no longer a virgin, then her father cannot arrange her marriage without her consent. If she has both a father and a grandfather, the grandfather has authority over her as long as the father is alive, because the father has authority over his children and what they own. However, if the father dies, the grandfather cannot arrange her marriage except with her permission.

Hadith.4395 - It is narrated from Abdul Hamid ibn Awad, who reported from Abdul Khaliq, that he said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a previously married woman (thayyib) who arranges her own marriage proposal.

He replied: "She has full authority over herself. She may entrust her affairs to whomever she wishes, provided he is a suitable match, as long as she has been married to a husband prior to this."

"He should consult her. If she remains silent, it is her consent, but if she refuses, he should not marry her off. If she says, 'Marry me to so-and-so,' then he should marry her to someone she approves of.

As for an orphan girl under the care of a man, he should not marry her off except to someone she is pleased with."

Hadith.4398 - When Abu Talib ^{a.s}, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy upon him, arranged the marriage of the Prophet Muhammad (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) to Khadijah bint Khuwaylid ^{s.a}, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy upon her, after proposing to her through her father, or as some say, through her uncle.

Abu Talib ^{a.s}, stood by the doorposts, addressing the gathering of Quraysh who were present.

Abu Talib ^{a.s} began by praising Allah ^{SWT}, saying:

"All praise is due to Allah ^{SWT}, who made us from the progeny of Ibrahim and the descendants of Isma'il, who established for us a sacred house that is frequented (by pilgrims) and a secure sanctuary to which the fruits of all things are brought.

He ^{SWT} has made us the rulers over the people in our land.

My nephew, Muhammad ibn Abdullah ibn Abdul-Muttalib ^{saws}, cannot be compared to any man of Quraysh except that He ^{saws} surpasses them in virtue, nor can He ^{saws} be equated with anyone except that He ^{saws} holds greater honor than them.

Though He ^{saws} may possess little wealth, wealth is merely a fleeting provision and a transient shade.

He ^{saws} has an interest in Khadijah ^{s.a}, and she ^{s.a} has an interest in Him ^{a.s}.

The dowry, whether its immediate or deferred portion, will be paid from my wealth.

He ^{saws} holds a great position, a lofty status, and an eloquent and persuasive tongue."

Following this address, Khadijah ^{s.a} was married to the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family), and He ^{saws} consummated the marriage the following day.

The first child she ^{s.a} bore for Him ^{saws} was Abdullah ibn Muhammad (peace and blessings be upon him and his family).

"All praise is due to Allah ^{SWT}, the Completer of blessings through His ^{SWT} mercy, and the Guide to gratitude through His ^{SWT} favor.

May Allah ^{SWT} send blessings upon Muhammad ^{saws}, the best of His ^{SWT} creation, in whom He ^{SWT} gathered all virtues that He ^{SWT} distributed among the previous messengers, and He ^{SWT} entrusted his inheritance to those whom He ^{SWT} chose for his succession. May Allah ^{SWT} grant him peace and blessings in abundance.

Here stands (your political ruler) Commander of Faithful, who has married me to his daughter in accordance with what Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Glorious, has ordained for Muslim women over believing men, either to retain them honorably or to release them kindly.

I have offered her as a dowry what the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) offered to his wives, which is twelve uqiyah and a nashsh (approximately 500 dirhams). And I have added to it, from my own wealth, one hundred thousand (dirhams).

O' (political ruler) Commander of the Faithful, you have married her to me, have you not?"

He (al-Ma'mun) replied: "Yes."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "I accept, and I am satisfied."

Hadith.4401 - Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} said: "Indeed, the most deserving of conditions to be fulfilled are those by which you make lawful access to private parts."

[AL SADUQ]

The Muhammadan tradition regarding the dowry is five hundred dirhams. Therefore, whoever exceeds this tradition should be reverted to it. If a man gives his wife one dirham or more from the five hundred dirhams, and then consummates the marriage, she is entitled only to what she has already received before consummation.

Any amount that a woman stipulates as a debt upon her husband from her dowry remains obligatory for him to pay during his lifetime or after his death. However, it is preferable that the heirs do not demand what the woman did not claim during her lifetime, unless she had explicitly made it a debt upon her husband.

Whatever the husband gives her, and she accepts as her dowry before consummation, is considered her dowry.

The reason why the dowry of the Sunnah is set at five hundred dirhams is that Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, has decreed upon Himself that if a believer recites one hundred takbirs (Allahu Akbar), one hundred tasbihs (Subhan Allah ^{SWT}), one hundred tahlils (La ilaha illa Allah ^{SWT}), one hundred tahmids (Alhamdulillah), and sends blessings upon the Prophet and his family (peace be upon them) one hundred times, then asks Allah ^{SWT} to marry him to one of the women of Paradise, Allah ^{SWT} will indeed grant him a heavenly spouse and make that the dowry.

Furthermore, if a man marries off his daughter, he is not entitled to consume her dowry.

Hadith.4402 - It is narrated from Jabir ibn Abdullah Al-Ansari that he said:

When the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, married Sayyidah Fatimah ^{s.a} to Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, peace be upon them, some people from Quraysh came to Him ^{saws} and said: "You have married Ali ^{a.s} with a trivial dowry."

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, replied to them:

"It was not I, who married Ali ^{a.s}, but Allah ^{SWT}, Mighty and Majestic, married Him ^{a.s} to Her ^{s.a}.

On the night I was taken on the Night Journey to the Sidrat al-Muntaha (Lote Tree at the Utmost Boundary), Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, revealed to the Lote Tree, 'Scatter your ornaments.' It then scattered pearls and jewels upon the maidens of Paradise, who exchanged them as gifts and took pride in them, saying, 'This is from the scattering for Sayyidah Fatimah ^{s.a}, the daughter of Muhammad ^{saws}, peace be upon him and his family."

When the night of the wedding arrived, the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, brought his grey mule and covered it with a cloak. He ^{saws} said to Sayyidah Fatimah ^{s.a}, peace be upon her, "Mount it."

He ^{saws} then commanded Salman, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, to lead it, while the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, walked behind it.

While they were on the way, the Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, heard a sound and saw Archangel Jibril (Gabriel) ^{a.s}, descending with seventy thousand angels, and Mika'il (Michael), peace be upon him, with seventy thousand angels.

The Prophet, peace be upon him and his family, said: "What has brought you down to earth?"

They said: "We have come to escort Sayyida Fatimah ^{s.a}, peace be upon her, to her husband."

[AL SADUQ]

Archangel Jibril ^{a.s} proclaimed "Allahu Akbar" (Allah ^{SWT} is the Greatest), and Mika'il, peace be upon him, followed with the same proclamation, as did the angels.

Then Muhammad ^{saws}, peace be upon him and his family, also proclaimed "Allahu Akbar." From that night, the custom of proclaiming "Allahu Akbar" during weddings was established.

Hadith.4404 - It is narrated by Musa ibn Bakr from Imam Abu al-Hasan al-Awwal ^{a.s}, peace be upon him, that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace and blessings be upon him and his family, said: "There is no feast except on five occasions; at a wedding, at childbirth (nifas), at circumcision, when a man buys a house, and upon returning from Hajj."

The wedding refers to marriage, childbirth refers to the postnatal period, circumcision refers to the act of circumcision, buying a house refers to acquiring a new home, and returning from Hajj refers to returning from pilgrimage to Mecca.

🌀 HADITH 4405 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4405 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ لِبَعْضِ أَصْحَابِهِ : «إِذَا أُدْخِلْتَ عَلَيْكَ أَهْلُكَ فَخُذْ بِنَاصِيَّتِهَا وَاسْتَقْبِلْ بِهَا الْقِبْلَةَ وَ قُلْ: اَللّٰهُمَّ بِأَمَانَتِكَ أَخَذْتُهَا وَ بِكَلِمَاتِكَ اسْتَحْلَلْتُ فَرْجَهَا فَإِنْ قَضَيْتَ لِي مِنْهَا وَلَدًا فَاجْعَلْهُ مُبَارَكًا سَوِيًّا وَ لَا تَجْعَلْ لِلشَّيْطَانِ فِيهِ شِرْكَاءَ وَ لَا نَصِيبًا.»

Hadith.4405 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, said to some of his companions:

"When your wife is brought to you, take hold of her forelock, face her toward the Qibla, and say: 'O Allah ^{SWT}, I have taken her with Your ^{SWT} trust, and by Your ^{SWT} words, I have made her lawful for myself. If You ^{SWT} decree for me from her a child, then make him blessed, righteous, and sound, and do not allow Satan to have any share or portion in him.'"

CHAPTER 118 – CHAPTER ON THE TIMES WHEN INTERCOURSE IS DISLIKED

بَابُ الْأَوْقَاتِ الَّتِي يُكْرَهُ فِيهَا الْجِمَاعُ

🌙 HADITH 4406 – 4413 🌙

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4406 - رَوَى سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ الْجَعْفَرِيُّ عَنْ أَبِي الْحَسَنِ مُوسَى بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُهُ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ أَتَى أَهْلَهُ فِي مُحَاقِ الشَّهْرِ فَلَيْسَ لَهُ لِسْقِطِ الْوَلَدِ».

Hadith.4406 - Sulaiman bin Ja'far al-Ja'fari narrated from Abu al-Hasan Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}, that he said: "Whoever approaches his wife during the waning phase of the moon, let him be prepared for the miscarriage of the child."

Hadith.4407 - Al-Hasan bin Mahbub narrated from Abu Ayyub al-Khazzaz, from Amr bin Uthman, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked Imam ^{a.s}: "Is it disliked to have intercourse at certain times?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, it is disliked during a night when the moon is eclipsed, during the day when the sun is eclipsed, between sunset and the disappearance of twilight, from the rising of dawn until the rising of the sun, during black, red, and yellow winds, and during earthquakes."

Imam ^{a.s} continued: "The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, peace be upon him and his family, spent a night with one of his wives, and the moon was eclipsed that night. He ^{saws} refrained from intimacy.

His ^{saws} wife said to him: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, may my father and mother be sacrificed for you, is all of this due to dislike?"

He ^{saws} replied: "Woe to you! This celestial event has occurred, and I disliked to take pleasure and engage in something (worldly) at such a time. Indeed, Allah, the Exalted, has reproached a people, saying: 'And if they see a piece of the sky falling, they would say, "A heap of clouds!"'" (Surah At-Tur 52:44)

By Allah ^{SWT}, no one engages in intimacy during these times that I ^{saws} have described, having heard this explanation, and is granted a child from that intimacy, except that they will see what they dislike."

Hadith.4408 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, said:

"Do not have intercourse at the beginning of the month, in its middle, or at its end. For whoever does so should prepare himself for the possibility of miscarriage.

And if the child is born, it is likely to suffer from mental instability.

Do you not see that most cases of insanity occur at the beginning, middle, and end of the month?"

CHAPTER 119 – CHAPTER ON SAYING THE NAME OF ALLAH {SWT} BEFORE INTERCOURSE

بَابُ التَّسْمِيَةِ عِنْدَ الْجَمَاعِ

🌀 HADITH 4414 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4414 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «إِذَا أَتَى أَحَدُكُمْ أَهْلَهُ فَلْيَذْكُرِ اللَّهَ فَإِنَّ مَنْ لَمْ يَذْكُرِ اللَّهَ عِنْدَ الْجَمَاعِ وَكَانَ مِنْهُ وَلَدٌ كَانَ ذَلِكَ شِرْكًا شَيْطَانٍ وَ يُعْرِفُ ذَلِكَ بِحُبِّنَا وَ بُغْضِنَا».

Hadith.4414 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s.}, said: "If one of you approaches his wife, let him remember Allah ^{SWT}, for whoever does not remember Allah ^{SWT} during intercourse, and a child is born from it, that child will have a share of Satan's partnership. This can be recognized by the child's love or hatred for us."

CHAPTER 120 – CHAPTER ON THE PERMISSIBLE DURATION FOR ABSTAINING FROM INTERCOURSE FOR ONE WHO HAS A YOUNG FREE WIFE

بَابُ حَدِّ الْمُدَّةِ الَّتِي يَجُوزُ فِيهَا تَرْكُ الْجَمَاعِ لِمَنْ عِنْدَهُ الْمَرْأَةُ الشَّابَّةُ الْحُرَّةُ

HADITH 4415
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4415 - سَأَلَ صَفْوَانُ بْنُ يَحْيَى أَبَا الْحَسَنِ الرَّضَا عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : عَنِ الرَّجُلِ تَكُونُ عِنْدَهُ الْمَرْأَةُ الشَّابَّةُ فَيُمْسِكُ عَنْهَا الْأَشْهُرَ وَالسَّنَةَ لَا يَقْرِبُهَا لَيْسَ يُرِيدُ الْإِضْرَارَ بِهَا يَكُونُ لَهُمْ مُصِيبَةٌ يَكُونُ فِي ذَلِكَ آثِمًا قَالَ «إِذَا تَرَكَهَا أَرْبَعَةَ أَشْهُرٍ كَانَ آثِمًا بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ إِلَّا أَنْ يَكُونَ بِإِذْنِهَا».

Hadith.4415 - Safwan ibn Yahya asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s}, about a man who has a young wife and refrains from approaching her for months or even a year, not intending to harm her but due to some hardship or difficulty they are facing. Is he considered sinful for this? The Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If he refrains from her for four months, he is sinful after that unless it is with her consent."

CHAPTER 121 – CHAPTER ON WHAT ALLAH {SWT}, THE ALMIGHTY, HAS MADE PERMISSIBLE AND PROHIBITED IN MARRIAGE

بَابُ مَا أَحَلَّ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ مِنَ النِّكَاحِ وَ مَا حَرَّمَ مِنْهُ

🕒 HADITH 4416 – 4494 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4416 - رُوِيَ عَنْ أَبِي الْمَغْرَاءِ عَنِ الْحَلَبِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: «لَا تُتَزَوَّجُ الْمَرْأَةُ الْمُسْتَغْلِيَّةُ بِالرِّثَا وَلَا يُزَوَّجُ الرَّجُلُ الْمُسْتَغْلِي بِالرِّثَا إِلَّا أَنْ تُعَرَفَ مِنْهُمَا التَّوْبَةُ».

Hadith.4416 - It is narrated from Abu al-Maghra from Al-Halabi who said that Abu Abdullah {a.s}, said: "A woman who openly commits adultery should not be married, nor should a man who openly commits adultery be given in marriage, unless repentance is known from both of them."

4417 - رَوَى دَاوُدُ بْنُ سِرْحَانَ عَنْ زُرَّارَةَ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ قَوْلِ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ:

○ الزَّانِي لَا يَنْكِحُ إِلَّا زَانِيَةً أَوْ مُشْرِكَةً وَالزَّانِيَةُ لَا يَنْكِحُهَا إِلَّا زَانٍ أَوْ مُشْرِكٌ ○

قَالَ «هُنَّ نِسَاءٌ مَشْهُورَاتٌ بِالزِّنَا وَ رِجَالٌ مَشْهُورُونَ بِالزِّنَا شَهَرُوا بِالزِّنَا وَ عُرِفُوا بِهِ وَ النَّاسُ الْيَوْمَ بِتِلْكَ الْمَنْزِلَةِ مَنْ أُقِيمَ عَلَيْهِ حَدُّ الزِّنَا أَوْ شَهَرَ بِالزِّنَا لَمْ يَنْبَغِ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُنَاكِحَهُ حَتَّى يَعْرِفَ مِنْهُ تَوْبَةً».

Hadith.4417 - It is narrated by Dawood bin Sirhan from Zurarah, who said that Abu Abdullah {a.s}, was asked about the saying of Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic:

"The adulterer does not marry except an adulteress or a polytheist, and the adulteress does not marry except an adulterer or a polytheist." (Surah An-Nur 24:3)

Imam {a.s} said: "They are women known for adultery and men known for adultery, who have been publicly infamous for committing adultery and are recognized for it."

Today, people in such a situation, whether the prescribed punishment for adultery has been carried out on them or they are publicly known for adultery, should not be married until their repentance is established."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah {SWT} have mercy on him, said: Whoever declares enmity against the family of Muhammad, peace be upon them, has no share in Islam. For this reason, their marriage has been prohibited.

"Two groups from my nation have no share in Islam: those who harbor enmity against my household and declare war against them, and those who are extreme in religion and deviate from it."

[AL SADUQ]

Whoever deems it lawful to curse the Commander of the Faithful, peace be upon him, rise against Muslims, and kill them, is prohibited from marriage because it leads to destruction. The ignorant may assume that every dissenter is a Nasibi, but this is not the case.

"Where are you regarding the simple and innocent women, those who know nothing?"

I said: "But people say that humanity is divided into two types: believer and disbeliever."

Hadith.4430 - Muhammad ibn Ismail ibn Bazi reported that he asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s}, about a woman who had been afflicted with drinking wine and became intoxicated, then married herself to a man while in her intoxicated state.

When she sobered up, she denied it but then assumed that the marriage might be binding, so she remained with the man out of caution based on that marriage.

He asked whether this was lawful for her or if the marriage was invalid due to the intoxication, and whether the man had any claim over her.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If she remained with him after she sobered up, then that is her consent."

He then asked: "Does such a marriage become valid for her?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes."

Hadith.4443 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Yunus ibn Yaqub, who narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} regarding a man who freed his female slave and made her emancipation her dowry, then divorced her before consummating the marriage.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He makes her work to pay off half of her value. If she refuses, then she serves him one day and herself one day."

Imam ^{a.s} further said: "If she has a child and he has wealth, he pays on her behalf half of her value, and she becomes fully free."

Hadith.4444 - Ali ibn Jafar narrated from his brother Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s} that he said: I asked him about a man who said to his female slave, "I have freed you and made your emancipation your dowry."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "She is freed, and she has the choice, if she wishes, she may marry him, and if she wishes, she may not."

If she marries him, then he should give her something. However, if he said: 'I have married you and made your dowry your emancipation,' then the marriage is valid, and he does not have to give her anything."

Hadith.4456 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurara ibn Ayan, who reported from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir {a.s.}:

He was asked about a man who had a wife and then committed fornication with her mother, her daughter, or her sister.

Imam {a.s.} said: "No unlawful act has ever rendered lawful acts unlawful. His wife remains lawful to him."

And Imam {a.s.} further said: "There is no harm if a man commits fornication with a woman and then marries her afterward.

He compared this to a man who steals a date from a palm tree and then buys it later—there is no harm in doing so.

It is also permissible for him to marry her mother, daughter, or sister afterward. If he is already married to the woman and then marries her mother, daughter, or sister and consummates the marriage, but later finds out the relationship, he should separate from the latter, while his first wife remains lawful to him.

However, he should not approach his first wife until the womb of the woman he separated from has been cleared.

If a man commits fornication with his son's wife, his father's wife, his son's concubine, or his father's concubine, this does not make them unlawful for their husbands or owners.

However, if he commits such an act with a concubine while she is lawfully his, she becomes forever unlawful to his son or his father.

Similarly, if a man lawfully marries a woman, she becomes forever unlawful to his son or his father."

I asked Imam {a.s.} about a man who committed fornication with a woman and then later wanted to marry her.

Imam {a.s.} said: "If she repents, she becomes lawful for him."

I asked: "And how can her repentance be known?"

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about a man who married a woman in Iraq, then traveled to Syria and married another woman, only to later discover that she was the sister of his wife in Iraq.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must separate from the one he married in Syria, and he cannot approach the one in Iraq until the waiting period ('iddah) of the one in Syria is completed."

I asked: "What if he married a woman and then married her mother, not knowing that she was her mother?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Allah ^{SWT} excuses his ignorance in this matter."

Then Imam ^{a.s} continued: "When he learns that she is the mother, he must not approach her, nor approach the daughter until the waiting period of the mother is completed. After the mother's waiting period ends, it becomes lawful for him to marry the daughter."

I asked: "What if the mother bears a child?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The child is his, inherits from him, and is both his son and the brother of his wife."

Hadith.4459 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Malik ibn Atiyyah, from Abu Ubaydah, who reported from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}:

Regarding a man who instructed another man to marry him to a woman from the people of Basra, from the tribe of Banu Tamim, but the intermediary instead married him to a woman from the people of Kufa, also from the tribe of Banu Tamim.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He has disobeyed his command. The intermediary is responsible for half the dowry to the woman's family. There is no waiting period ('iddah) for her, and there is no inheritance between them."

Someone present then asked: "What if he instructed him to marry a woman without specifying the land or tribe, and later the man who gave the order denied ever instructing him after the marriage had been performed?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the intermediary has proof that he was instructed to arrange the marriage, then the dowry is the responsibility of the one who gave the order. However, if the intermediary has no proof, then the dowry falls upon the intermediary to pay to the woman's family. There is no inheritance between them, and there is no waiting period ('iddah) for her. She is entitled to half the dowry if a specific dowry was stipulated. If no dowry was specified, then she is entitled to nothing."

Hadith.4461 - Muhammad ibn Qays narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}.

Regarding a man who had four wives and divorced one of them, then married another woman before the divorced wife had completed her waiting period.

Imam ^{a.s} ruled: "The latter wife must return to her family until the divorced wife completes her waiting period. After that, the latter wife must observe a new waiting period. If he had consummated the marriage with her, she is entitled to her dowry. However, if he had not consummated the marriage, she has no dowry and no waiting period required for her. After her waiting period ends, if her family wishes, they may give her back in marriage to him, and if they wish, they may refuse."

Imam ^{a.s.} was asked about a man who had three wives, then married another woman but did not consummate the marriage with her. Later, he wanted to emancipate a bondwoman and marry her.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "If he divorces the woman with whom he had not consummated the marriage, then there is no harm in him marrying another woman on that same day. However, if he divorces one of the three wives with whom he had consummated the marriage, he cannot marry another woman until the waiting period of the divorced wife is completed."

Hadith.4468 - Jamil ibn Salih narrated from Abu 'Ubaydah, who said:

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about a man who had three unmarried daughters.

He married one of them to a man but did not specify which daughter to the husband or the witnesses. The husband had already agreed upon a dowry for her.

When the time came for the husband to consummate the marriage, he was informed that the bride was the eldest daughter. However, the husband said to the father, "I only intended to marry your youngest daughter."

Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} replied: "If the husband had seen all the daughters and had not specified one of them, then the decision is based on the father's word. However, the father must, before Allah ^{SWT} (Glorified and Exalted), give the husband the daughter he intended to marry off at the time of the marriage contract.

But if the husband had not seen all the daughters and no specific one was identified during the marriage contract, then the marriage is invalid."

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said: "Each woman is entitled to the dowry due to consummation. If their guardian deliberately caused this mix-up, he must pay the dowry.

Neither man may approach his wife until her waiting period ('iddah) ends. Once the waiting period is over, each woman returns to her original husband based on the first marriage contract."

It was asked: "What if the women die before the waiting period ends?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The husbands may reclaim half of the dowry from their heirs, and the two husbands inherit from them."

It was further asked: "What if the husbands die while the wives are still in the waiting period?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The wives inherit from their husbands and are entitled to half of the dowry. After completing the waiting period for the first incident, they must observe another waiting period as widows of their deceased husbands."

In another narration, it is reported:

"This (form of marriage) was only allowed for Musa ibn Imran ^{a.s} because he knew through divine revelation whether he would complete the specified term or not, and he fulfilled it by completing the longer of the two terms."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is permissible."

It was then asked: "If he remained with her as long as Allah {SWT} willed and then divorced her, is she required to observe a waiting period (iddah)?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, did he not experience pleasure with her, and did she not experience pleasure with him?"

Imam ^{a.s} was further asked: "Is she required to perform ritual purification (ghusl) due to their intimacy?"

Ima ^{a.s} replied: "If she experiences sexual discharge during their intimacy, then she is required to perform ghusl."

Finally, Imam ^{a.s} was asked: "Does he have the right to reclaim any part of the dowry (mahr) if he divorces her?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No."

In return, she made a condition that she would not marry anyone after him.

They also pledged that if either of them failed to fulfill their commitment, all their wealth, possessions, and slaves would be given as charity to the poor, and their slaves would be set free. Then, Durais went to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} and mentioned this matter to him.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The daughter of Humran has her rights, but that will not prevent us from speaking the truth. Go and marry and take concubines, for this agreement has no binding effect."

After that, Durais married and took a concubine, and children were born to him afterward.

Hadith.4489 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abu Walad al-Hannat, who said:

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who instructed another man to marry a woman for him in Medina, specifying her by name, while the one giving the instruction was in Iraq. The one instructed went and married her to him. Then he returned to Iraq and found that the one who had given the instruction had died.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It should be examined. If the instructed person married her to him before the one who gave the instruction died, and then the one who gave the instruction died afterward, then the dowry in all such cases will be considered part of the inheritance, like a debt. But if he married her to him after the one who gave the instruction had died, then there is no obligation on the one who gave the instruction nor on the one who carried it out, and the marriage is invalid."

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about a man who marries a woman, and she has a daughter from another man. Can he marry his son to her daughter?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If the daughter is from a husband she had before he married her, then there is no harm. But if the daughter is from a husband she had after he married her, then no, it is not permissible."

Then, after remaining for years without consummating the marriage, he divorced her.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must look at what the orchard has yielded in produce from the day he married her, and he should give her half of it, along with half of the orchard itself, unless she pardons him and agrees to settle for something that pleases her from him, for that is closer to piety."

Hadith.4492 - Ishaq ibn Ammar narrated from Abu al-Hasan Imam Musa ibn Jafar Al-Kadhim ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a man who married a woman on the basis of giving her his slave and the slave's wife, and he delivered them to her. Then the slave's wife died while in the possession of the woman, and afterward, he divorced her before consummating the marriage.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he had evaluated their worth for her at the time of the marriage, then the second (the slave) should also be evaluated. After that, the remaining value of the original dowry at the time of the marriage should be assessed, and the woman must return it to the husband. Then the husband must give her half of what remains from that value."

Hadith.4493 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abu Ayyub, from Humran, who said: Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who married a young bondwoman who was a virgin and had not yet reached maturity. When he consummated the marriage, he deflowered her and caused her to lose her virginity completely.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he consummated the marriage with her when she was nine years old, then there is no liability upon him. However, if she had not yet reached nine years of age, or was slightly younger than that at the time he consummated the marriage and deflowered her, then he has caused her harm and rendered her unfit for other marriages. In such a case, it is upon the Imam to impose upon him the payment of her full dowry. But if he keeps her and does not divorce her until she dies, then there is no liability upon him."

CHAPTER 122 – CHAPTER ON CASES IN WHICH MARRIAGE IS INVALIDATED

بَابُ مَا يُرَدُّ مِنْهُ النِّكَاحُ

🕌 HADITH 4495 – 4499 🕌

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4495 - رَوَى صَفْوَانُ بْنُ يَحْيَى عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «الْمَرْأَةُ تُرَدُّ مِنْ أَرْبَعَةِ أَشْيَاءَ مِنَ الْبَرَصِ وَالْجَذَامِ وَالْجُنُونِ وَالْقَرْنِ وَالْعَقْلِ مَا لَمْ يَقَعْ عَلَيْهَا فَإِذَا وَقَعَ عَلَيْهَا فَلَا».

Hadith.4495 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Abdur-Rahman ibn Abi Abdillah, who said: Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} said: "A woman can be returned (in marriage) for four reasons; leprosy, vitiligo, insanity, and genital defects (imperforation or obstruction), as long as the marriage has not been consummated. However, if consummation has taken place, then she cannot be returned."

Hadith.4496 - Muhammad ibn Muslim asked Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about a man who married a woman from a family and later found her to be one-eyed, but they had not disclosed this to him. Does he have the right to return her? Imam ^{a.s} said: "He cannot return her. Marriage can only be annulled for reasons of insanity, leprosy, and vitiligo."

I said: What if he has already consummated the marriage with her? What should he do then?

He ^{a.s} said: "She is entitled to her dowry for what has been made lawful to him from her private parts. However her guardian, who married her off, must compensate him with an amount equal to what he paid as dowry."

Only marriage can be annulled due to vitiligo, leprosy, insanity, or defects of the genitalia (impairing intimacy)."

I asked: "What if he has already consummated the marriage? What happens to her dowry?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The dowry is hers because he has made lawful what was private to her. Her guardian who arranged the marriage must compensate him with an amount equal to what he gave as dowry."

بَابُ التَّفْرِيقِ بَيْنَ الزَّوْجِ وَ الْمَرْأَةِ بِطَلَبِ الْمَهْرِ

HADITH 4500

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4500 - رَوَى عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ الْجَمِيلِيُّ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كَتَبْتُ إِلَى أَبِي الْحَسَنِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ رَجُلٌ زَوَّجَ ابْنَتَهُ مِنْ رَجُلٍ فَرَعِبَ فِيهِ ثُمَّ زَهَدَ فِيهِ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ وَ أَحَبَّ أَنْ يُفَرَّقَ بَيْنَهُ وَ بَيْنَ ابْنَتِهِ وَ أَبِي الْخَتَنِ ذَلِكَ وَ لَمْ يُجِبْ إِلَى الطَّلَاقِ فَأَخَذَهُ بِمَهْرِ ابْنَتِهِ لِيُجِيبَ إِلَى الطَّلَاقِ وَ مَذْهَبُ الْأَبِ التَّخَلُّصُ مِنْهُ فَلَمَّا أَخَذَ بِالْمَهْرِ أَجَابَ إِلَى الطَّلَاقِ فَكَتَبَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «إِنْ كَانَ الزَّهْدُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ الدِّينِ فَلْيَعْمِدْ إِلَى التَّخَلُّصِ وَ إِنْ كَانَ غَيْرَهُ فَلَا يَتَعَرَّضْ لِذَلِكَ».

Hadith.4500 - Abdullah ibn Jafar al-Himyari narrated from Al-Hasan ibn Malik, who said:

I wrote to Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s.} about a man who had married his daughter to another man. Initially, he was pleased with him, but later he lost interest in him and wished to separate his daughter from him.

However, the son-in-law refused to comply and did not agree to divorce her. The father then demanded the dowry of his daughter from him to compel him to agree to the divorce. The father's intention was to free his daughter from the marriage. When the dowry was demanded, the son-in-law agreed to the divorce.

Imam ^{a.s.} wrote in reply: "If the disinterest is based on religious grounds, then let him seek to free himself from the situation. However, if it is for any other reason, he should not interfere in the matter."

"And the mothers shall suckle their children for two full years." (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:233)

Imam ^(a.s) said: "As long as the child is being nursed, the parents share equal rights over it. But when the child is weaned, the father has more right to it than the mother. However, if the father dies, the mother has more right to the child than the paternal relatives.

If the father finds someone to nurse the child for four dirhams, and the mother says, 'I will not nurse him except for five dirhams,' then he has the right to take the child away from her. Nevertheless, it is better and more beneficial for the child to remain with its mother."

Hadith.4513 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Malik ibn Atiyyah, from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, who said:

A woman came to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) and said: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what is the right of a husband over his wife?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "She must obey him and not disobey him. She must not give anything in charity from his house except with his permission, and she must not observe voluntary fasting except with his permission. She must not deny him herself, even if she is on the back of a camel. She must not leave her house without his permission. If she leaves without his permission, the angels of the heavens, the angels of the earth, the angels of wrath, and the angels of mercy will curse her until she returns to her house."

She then asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, who has the greatest right over a man?"

He ^{saws} said: "His parents."

She asked: "And who has the greatest right over a woman?"

He ^{saws} said: "Her husband."

She then asked: "Do I have the same right over him as he has over me?"

He ^{saws} replied: "No, not even one out of a hundred."

She said: "By the One who sent you as a Prophet with truth, no man will ever have control over my neck!"

CHAPTER 128 – CHAPTER ON THE WIFE'S RIGHTS OVER HER HUSBAND

بَابُ حَقِّ الْمَرْأَةِ عَلَى الزَّوْجِ

🕒 HADITH 4525 – 4538 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4525 - رَوَى الْعَلَاءُ بْنُ رَزِينٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ: «أَوْصَانِي جِبْرِيلُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ بِالْمَرْأَةِ حَتَّى ظَنَنْتُ أَنَّهُ لَا يَنْبَغِي طَلَاقُهَا إِلَّا مِنْ فَاحِشَةٍ مُبَيَّنَةٍ».

Hadith.4525 - Al-Alaa ibn Razin narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} said:

"Archangel Jibril ^{a.s} advised me regarding women so much that I thought divorce should not be permissible except in the case of clear indecency."

Hadith.4527 – Ibrahim ^{a.s}, the Friend of the Most Merciful ^{SWT}, complained to Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, about the behavior of Sarah ^{s.a}. So Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, revealed to him:

"The example of a woman is like the example of a rib, if you try to straighten it, it will break, and if you leave it as it is, you will benefit from it."

I asked: "Who said this?"

Imam ^{a.s} became angry and then said: "By Allah ^{SWT}, this is the saying of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family)."

Hadith.4532 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Abdullah ibn Sinan, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

A man from the Ansar, during the time of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family), went out for some errands and instructed his wife not to leave her house until he returned.

Her father became ill, so the woman sent a message to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) saying: "My husband has gone out and instructed me not to leave my house until he returns, but my father is ill. Do you command me to visit him?"

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "No, stay in your house and obey your husband."

Then her father died, so she sent another message, saying: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, my father has died. Do you command me to perform the funeral prayer for him?"

He (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "No, stay in your house and obey your husband."

After the man was buried, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) sent her a message saying: "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forgiven you and your father because of your obedience to your husband."

بَابُ الْغَيْرَةِ

HADITH 4540 – 4543

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4540 - قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ :

«كَانَ أَبِي إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ غَيُورًا وَ أَنَا أَغْيَرُ مِنْهُ وَ أَرْغَمَ اللَّهُ أَنْفَ مَنْ لَا يَغَارُ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ».

Hadith.4540 - The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "My father Ibrahim ^{a.s} was protective, and I am more protective than him. May Allah ^{SWT} humble the one among the believers who is not protective."

Hadith.4542 - He ^{saws} said:

"Indeed, the fragrance of Paradise can be perceived from a distance of five hundred years, but one who is disobedient to his parents and a cuckold (dayyuth) will not perceive it."

It was asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, who is the dayyuth?"

He (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "The one whose wife commits adultery, and he is aware of it."

Hadith.4543 - Muhammad ibn al-Fudhayl narrated from Shurayh al-Wabishi, from Jabir, from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) who said:

Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, has not ordained jealousy (ghayrah) for women, but He ^{SWT} has ordained jealousy for men, because Allah ^{SWT}, Mighty and Majestic, has permitted a man to marry four free women and what his right hand possesses, whereas He ^{SWT} has made lawful for a woman only her husband.

So if a woman seeks another besides her husband while being married to him, she is considered by Allah ^{SWT}, Mighty and Majestic, as an adulteress. Jealousy is found among those who act contrary to what is proper, but as for believing women, they do not exhibit such jealousy."

Hadith.4544 - Ismail ibn Muslim narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his forefathers (peace be upon them), who said:

A woman came to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) and said: "I have a husband who is harsh with me, and I made something (a charm or spell) to make him more affectionate toward me."

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said to her: "Woe to you! You have polluted the seas, corrupted the earth, and the righteous angels and the angels of the heavens and the earth have cursed you."

The woman then fasted during the day, prayed during the night, shaved her head, and wore rough clothing as an act of repentance. When this was reported to the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family), he said: "None of this will be accepted from her."

Hadith.4545 - Abdullah ibn al-Qasim narrated from Abdullah ibn Sinan, who said:

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}: "I purchase a bondwoman from a trustworthy man who informs me that he has not touched her since she menstruated and then purified herself. Is it permissible for me to have relations with her?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "It is not permissible for you to have relations with her until she undergoes one menstrual cycle (for istibra'). However, you are allowed to engage in activities other than intercourse. Indeed, those who purchase bondwomen and have relations with them before ensuring they are free from pregnancy through istibra', such people are committing adultery with their wealth."

Hadith.4547 - Al-Alaa narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim, who said: I asked him about a man who purchased a bondwoman and her previous owner had not had relations with her. Should he still observe an istibra' (waiting period) for her womb?

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes."

I asked: "What about a bondwoman who has not yet menstruated? What should he do with her?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Her matter is more severe. If he has relations with her, he must not ejaculate until it becomes clear whether she is pregnant or not."

I asked: "How long will it take for this to become clear?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "In forty-five nights."

Hadith.4548 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurara, who said:

I asked Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) about a man whose slave married a woman without his permission and then consummated the marriage. Later, the master found out about it.

Imam ^(a.s) said:

"It is up to the master - if he wishes, he can separate them, and if he wishes, he can approve their marriage. If the master separates them, the woman is entitled to whatever dowry was given to her unless it was excessive, in which case it is reduced. But if the master approves their marriage, they remain upon their original marriage contract."

I then said to Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s): "Was the slave sinful in entering into the marriage without permission in the first place?"

Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) replied:

"What he did was something permissible and lawful; he did not disobey Allah ^(SWT), the Mighty and Majestic. Rather, he disobeyed his master but did not violate any law of Allah ^(SWT).

This is not like committing something forbidden by Allah ^(SWT), such as marrying a woman who is in her waiting period or similar acts."

Hadith.4549 - Aban ibn Uthman narrated that a man named Ibn Ziyad al-Ta'i said: I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}: "I was a slave and got married without the permission of my masters. Then Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, granted me freedom. Should I renew the marriage contract?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Were they aware that you had married?"

I said: "Yes, they knew and remained silent without objecting."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Their silence is considered approval. You remain upon your original marriage contract."

Hadith.4550 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Ishaq ibn Ammar, who said: I asked Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s} about a man who purchased a pregnant slave whose pregnancy was evident and had relations with her.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What he did was a reprehensible act."

I said: "What is your ruling in this matter?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Did he practice withdrawal (coitus interruptus) or not?"

I said: "Please explain the ruling in both cases."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he practiced withdrawal, then he must fear Allah ^{SWT} and never repeat this action. But if he did not practice withdrawal, he must not sell the child, nor consider the child an inheritor. Instead, he must emancipate the child and allocate some of his wealth to provide for the child's living expenses, because he has nourished the child with his own seed."

Hadith.4555 - Ismail ibn Abi Ziyad narrated from Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^(a.s) from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s), from his forefathers (peace be upon them) that the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said:

"Any free woman who marries herself to a slave without the permission of his masters has made her private parts permissible unlawfully, and she is not entitled to a dowry."

CHAPTER 138 – CHAPTER ON THE RULINGS REGARDING MALE SLAVES AND FEMALE BONDWOMAN

بَابُ أَحْكَامِ الْمَمَالِيكِ وَالْإِمَاءِ

HADITH 4556 – 4581

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4556 - رَوَى الْحَسَنُ بْنُ مَحْبُوبٍ عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ عَطِيَّةَ عَنْ دَاوُدَ بْنِ فَزَقْدٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ رَجُلٍ اشْتَرَى جَارِيَةً مُدْرِكَةً وَ لَمْ تَحْضْ عِنْدَهُ حَتَّى مَضَى لَهَا سِتَّةُ أَشْهُرٍ وَ لَيْسَ بِهَا حَبْلٌ قَالَ «إِنْ كَانَ مِثْلُهَا تَحِيضٌ وَ لَمْ يَكُنْ ذَلِكَ مِنْ كِبَرٍ فَهَذَا عَيْبٌ تُرَدُّ مِنْهُ».

Hadith.4556 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Malik ibn Atiyyah, from Dawud ibn Farqad, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a man who purchased a mature bondwoman who had not menstruated while with him for six months, and there was no sign of pregnancy.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If it is customary for someone like her to menstruate, and her condition is not due to old age, then this is a defect for which she can be returned."

Hadith.4557 - Aban ibn Uthman narrated from Al-Hasan al-Sayqal, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

I heard him being asked about a man who purchased a bondwoman and had relations with her before observing an istibra' (waiting period) to ensure she was not pregnant.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What he did was wrong. He should seek forgiveness from Allah ^{SWT} and not repeat it."

Then it was said: "What if he sold her to another man, who also had relations with her without observing an istibra'? Then the second man sold her to a third man, who also had relations with her without observing an istibra', and it later became clear that she was pregnant while with the third man?"

Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} said: "The child belongs to the [current] owner of the bed (al-firash), and for the adulterer (al-ahir), there is nothing but loss (al-hajar)."

"Ten categories of bondwomen are prohibited:

You may not combine between a mother and her daughter.

You may not combine between two sisters.

You may not take your bondwoman if she is pregnant by another until she delivers.

You may not take your bondwoman if she is your paternal aunt through breastfeeding.

You may not take your bondwoman if she is your maternal aunt through breastfeeding.

You may not take your bondwoman if she is your sister through breastfeeding.

You may not take your bondwoman if she is the daughter of your brother through breastfeeding.

You may not take your bondwoman if she has a husband.

If the slave had consummated the marriage with her, then she is entitled to the dowry for what was made lawful to him from her. However, if he had not consummated the marriage, then the marriage is invalid.

But if she chooses to remain with him after learning that he is a slave, then he has the right to keep her as his wife."

Hadith.4569 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Sadan ibn Muslim, from Abu Basir, from one of the Imams (peace be upon them), regarding a man who married his bondwoman to a free man for a dowry of four hundred dirhams. He paid two hundred dirhams in advance and delayed the payment of the remaining two hundred dirhams. The husband then consummated the marriage with her.

Later, her master sold her to another man. Who is responsible for the remaining two hundred dirhams?

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If the husband did not pay the remainder of the dowry before she was sold, then neither he nor anyone else owes it. And when her master sold her, she became separated from the free husband, provided he was aware of this ruling."

[AL SADUQ]

It has already been mentioned that the sale of a bondwoman is equivalent to her divorce.

There, he claimed to be a free man from a certain tribe and married a woman from that land, fathered children with her, and then she died, leaving behind wealth, property, and her children in his care.

Later, his master came to that land, reclaimed the slave and all that was in his possession, and the slave admitted to being his property.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "As for the slave, he belongs to his master. However, the wealth and property belong to the children of the deceased woman. A slave does not inherit from a free person."

I said: "May I be your ransom! What if the woman had no children or heirs when she died? Who would the wealth and property belong to?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "All that she left behind would belong exclusively to the Imam of the Muslims."

The slave then fled from his master, and the wife of the slave came seeking maintenance from the master of the slave.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "She has no right to maintenance from the master of the slave, and her marriage bond with the slave is severed, because the slave's escape is considered a divorce, and he is like one who has apostatized from Islam."

I asked: "If the slave returns to his master, does his wife return to him?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If her waiting period (iddah) has ended and she has married another husband, then he has no claim over her. However, if she has not married another, she remains his wife based on the original marriage contract."

“Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} ruled in the case of a woman who allowed her slave to have relations with her and married him:

She is to be given one hundred lashes, and the slave is to be given fifty lashes. The slave is then to be sold in a manner that ensures he is distanced from her (bi-sughrin minha).

It is forbidden for any Muslim to sell her a mature slave after that incident.”

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, O Fudayl."

I asked: "What do you say about a man who has a precious bondwoman who is a virgin, and he permits his brother to enjoy her, but only in ways other than intercourse? Is it permissible for him to deflower her?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, he is only allowed what has been made lawful for him. Even if he permitted him only to kiss her, nothing beyond that would be lawful for him."

I asked: "What if he permitted him everything except intercourse, but his desire overcame him, and he deflowered her?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He should not do that."

I asked: "If he did, would he be considered a fornicator?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, but he would be a betrayer and must compensate the owner of the bondwoman with one-tenth of her value."

Hadith.4578 - Sulayman al-Farra' narrated from Hariz, from Zurara, who said: I asked Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) about a man who permits his brother to have relations with his bondwoman.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "There is no harm in it."

I asked: "What if she gives birth to a child?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Let him take his child and return the bondwoman to her owner."

I said: "But what if he did not permit him to do that?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "By granting permission, he has implicitly allowed it, and he cannot guarantee that such an outcome would not occur."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book (may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him) stated: These two narrations are consistent and not contradictory.

The narration of Hariz from Zurara, where it says "let him take his child," means he should purchase the child at its value unless a condition was stipulated that the child would be free.

Then, one of them permitted his partner to have relations with her.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "She is lawful for him. If either of them dies before the other, then half of her becomes free from the one who died, and the other half remains mudabbar."

I asked: "What if the surviving partner wishes to have relations with her? Is that permissible?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "No, unless her freedom is fully established, and then he marries her with her consent whenever he wishes."

I asked: "Hasn't half of her already become free, making her the owner of half of herself, while the other half belongs to the surviving partner?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Yes."

I asked: "What if she permits her master to have relations with her?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "That is not permissible for him."

I asked: "Why is it not permissible for her to do that, while you allowed the first owner to permit his partner to have relations with her?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "Because a woman cannot gift, lend, or permit her private parts. However, she has authority over herself for the day that she owns her freedom, and the one who designated her as mudabbar has authority over her for his day.

If he wishes to marry her temporarily (mutah) for something, whether small or large, on the day that she owns her freedom, he may do so."

In those days, women were trustworthy, but today they are not trustworthy, so inquire about them."

[AL SADUQ]

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) made Mut'ah lawful and did not prohibit it until he was taken (from this world).Ibn Abbas recited the verse: 'So for whatever you enjoy from them to a specified term, give them their due compensation as an obligation from Allah ^{SWT}' (Surah An-Nisa 4:24).The proofs against its deniers have been presented in the book Ithbat al-Mut'ah (Establishing the Legitimacy of Mut'ah).

I asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about Mutah (temporary marriage).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Yes, if she is knowledgeable (about its rulings)."

I said: "May I be your ransom! What if she is not knowledgeable?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then explain it to her and say it to her. If she accepts, then marry her. But if she refuses and is not satisfied with your explanation, then leave her. And beware of al-Kawashif, al-Dawai, al-Baghaya, and married women."

I asked: "What are al-Kawashif?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Those who expose themselves, whose houses are known, and they are approached."

I asked: "What are al-Dawai?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Those who invite others to themselves and are known for corruption."

I asked: "What are al-Baghaya?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Those who are well-known for fornication."

I asked: "What about married women?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Those divorced contrary to the prescribed manner (not in accordance with the Sunnah)."

Hadith.4587 - It is narrated from Muhammad ibn Ismail ibn Bazee who said:

A man asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} about a man who marries a woman in Mutah (temporary marriage) and stipulates with her that he will not seek a child from her. However, she later gives birth to a child, and the man denies the child.

Al-Ridha ^{a.s} expressed strong disapproval of this and said:

"He denies it? How can he deny it?" - emphasizing the gravity of such an act.

The man then asked: "What if he suspects her (of wrongdoing)?"

Imam Al-Ridha ^{a.s} replied: "You should not marry except a trustworthy woman. Verily, Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, said:

'The fornicator does not marry except a fornicatress or a polytheist, and the fornicatress does not marry except a fornicator or a polytheist, and this has been forbidden for the believers.'" (Surah Al-Nur, 24:3)

Hadith.4599 - Yunus ibn Abdul Rahman reported:

I asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} about a man who married a woman in Mut'ah (temporary marriage). Later, her family came to know about it, and they married her off to another man in a public marriage, although she was a truthful woman.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "She must not allow her new husband to approach her until her waiting period ('iddah) and contract have ended."

I said: "What if her contract specifies a term of one year, and her new husband cannot wait that long?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then her husband should fear Allah ^{SWT} and waive the remaining time for her. Indeed, she has been put to trial, and this world is a place of peace, and believers live in taqiyyah (dissimulation)."

I asked: "What if he waives the remaining days for her, and her waiting period ends? What should she do?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "When she meets her new husband, she should say: 'O man, my family forced me and married me off without consulting me. But now, I am pleased. So, let us begin today with a new, proper marriage between us.'"

I also asked Al-Ridha ^{a.s}: "What about a woman who marries in Mut'ah, and after her contract ends, she marries another man before completing her waiting period?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "What concern is it to you? The sin of that act is upon her."

When he extends his hand toward her, Allah ^{SWT} writes a good deed for him. When he approaches her, Allah ^{SWT} forgives a sin for him. And when he performs ghusl (ritual purification), Allah ^{SWT} forgives him a number of sins equal to the drops of water that pass over his hair."

Hadith.4603 - Al-Qasim ibn Muhammad al-Jawhari narrated from Ali ibn Abi Hamzah:

I read in a man's letter to Abu al-Hasan ^{a.s} about a man who married a woman in Mut'ah (temporary marriage) for a specified period. When the term between them ended, he asked whether it was permissible for him to marry her sister.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It is not permissible for him until her waiting period ('iddah) has ended."

Hadith.4604 - Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Nasr asked al-Ridha ^{a.s} about a man who marries a woman in Mut'ah (temporary marriage).

Is it permissible for him to marry her daughter permanently?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "No."

Hadith.4605 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurara, who said:

I heard Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} saying:

"The waiting period ('Iddah) for Mut'ah (temporary marriage) is forty-five days."

Imam ^{a.s} then demonstrated by holding up his hand and showing forty-five days.

"When the specified term ends, the separation occurs without the need for divorce."

[AL SADUQ]

If he wishes to extend the term, he must provide her with another dowry (Sadaq), whether small or large, as mutually agreed upon.

The dowry applies to both Mut'ah and permanent marriage.

There is no inheritance between them in Mut'ah if one of them dies during the specified term.

It is permissible for a man to contract Mut'ah even if he has a wife and is residing with her in the same city.

Hadith.4606 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Abdur-Rahman ibn Al-Hajjaj, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a woman who entered into a Mut'ah (temporary marriage) and then her husband passed away.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "She must observe an 'Iddah (waiting period) of four months and ten days."

Then Imam ^{a.s} continued: "If her term ends while he is still alive, her waiting period is one and a half menstrual cycles, similar to what is required for a female slave."

I asked: "Does she need to observe mourning (Hadd)?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, but if she stayed with him for a day, two days, or even just an hour during the day, the waiting period becomes obligatory, but mourning (Hadd) is not required."

Hadith.4607 - Umar ibn Udhaynah narrated from Zurara, who said:

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about the waiting period ('Iddah) for a woman in a Mut'ah (temporary marriage) if her husband passes away.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It is four months and ten days."

Then Imam ^{a.s} continued:

"O Zurara, for every type of marriage—whether the woman is free or a slave, and regardless of whether the marriage was permanent (Nikah), temporary (Mut'ah), or through ownership (Milk Yamin)—if the husband dies, the waiting period ('Iddah) is four months and ten days."

"However, the waiting period ('Iddah) for a divorced woman is three months, and for a divorced female slave, it is half the waiting period of a free woman. Similarly, the waiting period ('Iddah) for a woman in Mut'ah is the same as that for a female slave."

Hadith.4608 - It was said to Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}: "Why has Allah ^{SWT} prescribed four witnesses for proving adultery (Zina) and only two witnesses for proving murder?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, has made Mut'ah (temporary marriage) lawful for you, and He ^{SWT} knew that it would be denied and rejected by people. Therefore, He ^{SWT} required four witnesses as a precaution for you.

Had it not been for this requirement, people would have accused you unjustly. And it is rare for four people to come together and testify about the same matter."

Hadith.4634 - In a narration from Rabi' ibn Abdullah:

When the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) took the pledge of allegiance from the women, he brought a vessel, filled it with water, and dipped his hand into it. Then he withdrew his hand and instructed the women to dip their hands into the vessel and immerse them.

He ^{a.s} would greet women, and they would return the greeting. Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} would also greet women but disliked greeting young women.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "I fear that their voice might please me, and thereby I would fall into sin greater than the reward I seek."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, commented that the Imam ^{a.s} said this as an example for others, even though he expressed it in reference to himself.

He ^{a.s} also intended to caution against the possibility that someone might falsely assume he could be attracted to their voices, leading to disbelief.

The words of the Imams (peace be upon them) have meanings and interpretations that only the knowledgeable comprehend.

CHAPTER 142 – CHAPTER ON SUPPLICATION FOR SEEKING OFFSPRING

بَابُ الدُّعَاءِ فِي طَلَبِ الْوَلَدِ

HADITH 4660

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4660 - قَالَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ الْحُسَيْنِ عَلَيْهِمَا السَّلَامُ لِبَعْضِ أَصْحَابِهِ : «قُلْ فِي طَلَبِ الْوَلَدِ «رَبِّ لَا تَذَرْنِي فَرْدًا وَ أَنْتَ خَيْرُ الْوَارِثِينَ» وَ اجْعَلْ «لِي مِنْ لَدُنْكَ وَلِيًّا يَرِثُنِي» فِي حَيَاتِي وَ يَسْتَغْفِرْ لِي بَعْدَ مَوْتِي وَ اجْعَلْهُ لِي خَلْقًا سَوِيًّا وَ لَا تَجْعَلْ لِلشَّيْطَانِ فِيهِ نَصِيبًا اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَ أَتُوبُ إِلَيْكَ إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ سَبْعِينَ مَرَّةً فَإِنَّهُ مِنْ أَكْثَرِ مِنْ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ رَزَقَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى مَا تَمَنَّى مِنْ مَالٍ وَ وَلَدٍ وَ مِنْ خَيْرِ الدُّنْيَا وَ الْآخِرَةِ فَإِنَّهُ يَقُولُ ۞ اسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّكُمْ إِنَّهُ كَانَ غَفَّارًا يُرْسِلِ السَّمَاءَ عَلَيْكُمْ مِدْرَارًا وَ يُفْضِلْكُمْ بِأَمْوَالٍ وَ بَنِينَ وَ يَجْعَلْ لَكُمْ جَنَّاتٍ وَ يَجْعَلْ لَكُمْ أَنْهَارًا ۞»

Hadith.4660 - Ali ibn Al-Husayn (peace be upon them) said to one of his companions:

"When seeking a child, say:

'My Lord ^{AZJ}, do not leave me alone [without offspring], and You ^{SWT} are the best of inheritors' and add;

'Grant me from Yourself ^{SWT} a successor who will inherit from me during my life and seek forgiveness for me after my death. Make him well-formed in creation and do not allow Satan to have any share in him. O Allah ^{SWT}, I seek Your ^{SWT} forgiveness and repent to You ^{SWT}. Indeed, You ^{SWT} are the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful.'

Repeat this seventy times. For whoever frequently says this supplication, Allah ^{SWT} the Exalted will grant him whatever he wishes of wealth, children, and the goodness of this world and the Hereafter.

For Allah ^{SWT} says: 'Seek forgiveness from your Lord ^{AZJ}; indeed, He ^{SWT} is ever Forgiving. He ^{SWT} will send rain to you in abundance and supply you with wealth and children and make for you gardens and make for you rivers' (Surah Nuh 71:10–12)."

CHAPTER 143 – CHAPTER ON BREASTFEEDING

بَابُ الرِّضَاعِ

HADITH 4661 – 4686

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4661 - رُوِيَ عَنْ سَمَاعَةَ بْنِ مِهْرَانَ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «الرِّضَاعُ وَاحِدٌ وَعِشْرُونَ شَهْرًا فَمَا نَقَصَ فَهُوَ جَوْرٌ عَلَى الصَّبِيِّ».

Hadith.4661 - It was narrated from Sama'ah ibn Mihran that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said: "Breastfeeding is for twenty-one months, and anything less than that is an injustice to the child."

Hadith.4662 - Sa'd ibn Sa'd asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} about whether a child can be breastfed for more than two years.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Two years."

I asked: "If it exceeds two years, is there any obligation upon the parents because of that?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No."

Hadith.4665 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Hisham ibn Salim from Burayd al-Ijli who said: I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}: "What is the meaning of the saying of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) –

'What is unlawful through lineage is also unlawful through breastfeeding'? Explain it to me."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Every woman who nurses, with the milk of her husband, the child of another woman, whether the child is male or female, that is the breastfeeding (ridha') referred to by the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (may Allah bless him and his family).

But any woman who nurses, with the milk of two different husbands (one after the other), the child of another woman, whether male or female, this is breastfeeding that does not fall under the ruling of the statement of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} 'What is prohibited through breastfeeding is the same as what is prohibited through lineage.'"

Hadith.4666 - The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said:

"There is no breastfeeding after weaning."

[AL SADUQ]

Its meaning is that if a child has been breastfed for two full years and then drinks milk from another woman after that, such breastfeeding does not establish a prohibition, because it is breastfeeding after weaning.

Hadith.4684 - Imam Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said: "A free woman cannot be forced to breastfeed a child, but a but a bondwoman (umm al-walad) can be compelled to do so."

[AL SADUQ]

If the father finds someone willing to breastfeed the child for four dirhams, and the mother says, "I will not breastfeed him except for five dirhams," then he has the right to take the child away from her. However, what is better and kinder for the child is to leave the child with the mother. Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: 'But if you disagree, then another woman may breastfeed the child for him' (Surah Al-Talaq 65:6).

HADITH 4687

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4687 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «رَجُلٌ هَذَا رَجُلًا أَصَابَ إِنْبَاءٌ فَقَالَ يَهْنِيكَ الْفَارِسُ فَقَالَ لَهُ الْحَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ «مَا عَلِمُكَ أَنْ يَكُونَ فَارِسًا أَوْ رَاجِلًا» فَقَالَ لَهُ جُعِلْتُ فِدَاكَ فَمَا أَقُولُ قَالَ «تَقُولُ شَكَرْتُ أَلَوَاهِبَ وَبُورِكَ لَكَ فِي الْمَوْهُوبِ، وَبَلَغَ أَشُدَّهُ وَرُزِقَتْ بَرَّةٌ».

Hadith.4687 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

A man congratulated another man on the birth of a son by saying, "May this young warrior bring you joy!"

Imam Hasan ibn Ali ^{a.s} said to him: "How do you know whether he will be a warrior or one who walks on foot?"

The man replied: "May I be sacrificed for you! What should I say then?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Say: May you thank the Giver, may the gift be blessed for you, may he reach maturity, and may you be granted his righteousness."

CHAPTER 145 – CHAPTER ON THE VIRTUE OF CHILDREN

بَابُ فَضْلِ الْأَوْلَادِ

HADITH 4688 – 4709

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4688 - فِي رَوَايَةِ السَّكُونِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ : «أَوْلَدُ الصَّالِحِ رِيحَانَةٌ مِنْ رِيَاحِينَ الْجَنَّةِ».

Hadith.4688 - In the narration of Al-Sakooni, the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said:

"A righteous child is a flower from the flowers of Paradise."

Hadith.4697 - Hamzah ibn Humran narrated through his chain of transmission that a man came to the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) while another man was sitting with Him ^{saws}.

The man informed the Prophet ^{saws} about the birth of his child, and the color of the man's face changed.

The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) asked him: "What is the matter with you?"

The man replied: "It's nothing."

The Prophet ^{saws} said: "Speak."

The man said: "I left while my wife was in labor, and I was informed that she gave birth to a daughter."

The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said to him: "The earth will carry her, the sky will shade her, and Allah ^{SWT} will provide for her. She is a sweet flower that you will smell."

Then the Prophet ^{saws} turned to his companions and said: "Whoever has one daughter will be burdened with care.

Whoever has two daughters, then seek help from Allah ^{SWT} for him.

Whoever has three daughters, the obligation of jihad and every hardship is lifted from him.

And whoever has four daughters, O servants of Allah ^{SWT}, help him! O servants of Allah ^{SWT}, support him! O servants of Allah ^{SWT}, have mercy on him!"

بَابُ الْعَقِيقَةِ وَالتَّحْنِيكِ وَالتَّسْمِيَةِ وَالكُنْيَةِ وَحَلْقِ رَأْسِ الْمَوْلُودِ وَثَقْبِ أُذُنَيْهِ وَالحِثَانِ

HADITH 4710 – 4730

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4710 - رَوَى عُمَرُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُهُ يَقُولُ: «كُلُّ إِمْرِيٍّ مُرْتَهَنٌ، يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ بِعَقِيقَتِهِ وَ الْعَقِيقَةُ أَوْجَبُ مِنَ الْأُضْحِيَّةِ».

Hadith.4710 - Umar ibn Yazid narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said: "Every person is held in pledge on the Day of Judgment by their Aqiqah, and the Aqiqah is more obligatory than the sacrificial offering (Udhiyyah)."

Hadith.4714 - Ammar Al-Sabati narrated from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said:
"Aqiqah is obligatory for those who are wealthy. As for the poor, when they become financially capable, they should perform it. If they are unable to do so, then nothing is required of them. If Aqiqah was not done for a person until a sacrifice (Udhiyyah) was offered on their behalf, the sacrifice suffices for them. Every newborn is held in pledge by their Aqiqah."
Imam ^{a.s} also said regarding Aqiqah: "A ram should be slaughtered on their behalf. If a ram is not available, anything permissible for sacrifice in Udhiyyah will suffice. If that is not possible, then a lamb, the largest among the lambs of the year, should be offered."

Hadith.4715 - In the narration of Muhammad ibn Marid from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, he said: I asked him about the Aqiqah.
Imam ^{a.s} replied: "It can be a sheep, a cow, or a camel. Then the child should be named, and his head should be shaved on the seventh day. Charity should be given in gold or silver equal to the weight of the shaved hair. If the newborn is a boy, a male animal should be sacrificed on his behalf, and if it is a girl, a female animal should be sacrificed for her."

Hadith.4716 - Abu Talib ^{a.s}, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, performed the Aqiqah for the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) on the seventh day after his birth.

He invited the family of Abu Talib, and when they asked: "What is this?"

Abu Talib ^{a.s} replied: "This is the Aqiqah of Ahmad ^{saws}."

They asked: "Why did you name him Ahmad ^{saws}?"

Abu Talib ^{a.s} said: "I named him Ahmad ^{saws} because of the praise (maḥmadah) He ^{saws} receives from the inhabitants of the heavens and the earth."

[AL SADUQ]

It is permissible to perform the Aqiqah for a male child with a female animal and for a female child with a male animal. It has also been narrated that two female animals may be sacrificed for a male child and one for a female child. Whatever is practiced in this regard is acceptable.

The parents should not eat from the Aqiqah meat, although it is not forbidden for them.

If the mother eats from it, it is said that she may not nurse the child. The midwife (qabilah) should be given a leg portion, specifically the thigh.

However, if the midwife is the man's mother or lives within his household, she is not entitled to anything unless he chooses to give her.

The meat may be divided as it is, limb by limb, or it may be cooked and distributed with bread and broth. It should only be given to those who are followers of the Ahlulbayt (ahl al-wilayah).

Hadith.4726 - It was narrated from Murazim ibn Hakim Al-Azdi that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said regarding the circumcision of a child:

"One should say:

O Allah ^{SWT}, this is Your ^{SWT} Sunnah and the Sunnah of Your Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family), and it is our following of You ^{SWT} and Your Prophet ^{saws} by Your ^{SWT} will, Your ^{SWT} desire, and Your ^{SWT} decree for a matter You ^{SWT} have willed, a decision You ^{SWT} have made obligatory, and a command You ^{SWT} have executed.

You ^{SWT} have made him taste the heat of iron in his circumcision and cupping for a matter You ^{SWT} know better than I do. O Allah ^{SWT}, purify him from sins, increase his lifespan, protect his body from afflictions and his flesh from pain, increase him in wealth, and remove poverty from him. Indeed, You ^{SWT} know while we do not."

Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} also said: "Whoever does not say this at the time of his child's circumcision should say it before the child reaches puberty. If he says it, the child will be protected from the heat of iron, whether from killing or anything else."

[AL SADUQ]

It is also recommended that when a child is born, the adhan (call to prayer) should be recited in the right ear, the iqamah in the left ear, and the child should be given a taste of the water from the Euphrates at the moment of birth, if possible.

CHAPTER 147 – CHAPTER ON THE STATE OF BELIEVERS' CHILDREN WHO PASS AWAY

بَابُ حَالِ مَنْ يَمُوتُ مِنْ أَطْفَالِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ

HADITH 4731 – 4738

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4731 - رَوَى أَبُو زَكْرِيَّا عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «إِذَا مَاتَ طِفْلٌ مِنْ أَطْفَالِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ نَادَى مُنَادٍ فِي مَلَكَوَتِ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ أَلَا إِنَّ فُلَانًا بَنَ فُلَانٍ قَدْ مَاتَ فَإِنْ كَانَ مَاتَ وَالِدَاهُ أَوْ أَحَدُهُمَا أَوْ بَعْضُ أَهْلِ بَيْتِهِ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ دُفِعَ إِلَيْهِ يَغْذُوهُ وَإِلَّا دُفِعَ إِلَى فَاطِمَةَ عَلَيْهَا السَّلَامُ تَغْذُوهُ حَتَّى يَفْقَدَ أَبَوَاهُ أَوْ أَحَدَهُمَا أَوْ بَعْضُ أَهْلِ بَيْتِهِ فَتَدْفَعَهُ إِلَيْهِ».

Hadith.4731 - Abu Zakariya narrated from Abu Basir who said that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said:

"When a child from the children of the believers dies, a caller announces in the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, 'Indeed, so-and-so, the son of so-and-so, has passed away.'

If his parents, one of them, or a family member from the believers had already passed away, the child is entrusted to them to nurture him.

If none of them had passed away, the child is entrusted to Sayyidah Fatimah ^{s.a} to nurture and care for them until their parents, one of them, or a family member arrives, and then she hands the child over to them."

Hadith.4732 - In the narration of Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub from Ali ibn Ri'ab from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, he said:

"Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, has entrusted Ibrahim ^{a.s} and Sarah ^{s.a} with the care of the children of the believers. They nourish them from a tree in Paradise that has teats like those of cows, inside a palace made of pearl.

On the Day of Judgment, these children will be dressed, perfumed, and presented to their parents. They will be kings in Paradise along with their parents. This is in accordance with the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic:

'And those who believe and whose descendants follow them in faith – We will join them with their descendants'" (Surah At-Tur 52:21).

Hadith.4742 - In the narration of Hariz from Zurara, from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Baqir ^{a.s}, that Imam ^{a.s} said:

"On the Day of Judgment, Allah ^{SWT} will argue against seven groups: the child, the one who died between the prophets, the elderly person who reached the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) but did not comprehend, the simple-minded, the insane person who did not understand, the deaf, and the mute. Each one of them will present an argument before Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Then Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, will send a messenger to them who will kindle a fire and say to them, 'Your Lord ^{AZJ} commands you to leap into it.'

Whoever leaps into it, it will become cool and peaceful for him, but whoever refuses will be taken to the Fire."

[AL SADUQ]

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said: These reports are consistent and not contradictory. The children of the polytheists and disbelievers will be with their parents in the Fire, but they will not suffer from its heat so that the argument against them will be more conclusive. When they are commanded on the Day of Judgment to enter a fire that will be kindled for them, with the assurance of safety, if they do not trust in it and do not believe His ^{SWT} promise concerning something similar to what they have already witnessed, the proof against them will be stronger.

HADITH 4743 – 4750

4743 - قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ: «دَعِ ابْنَكَ يَلْعَبُ سَبْعَ سِنِينَ وَ يُؤَدِّبْ سَبْعَ سِنِينَ وَ الزِّمَّهُ نَفْسَكَ سَبْعَ سِنِينَ فَإِنْ أَفْلَحَ وَ إِلَّا فَإِنَّهُ مِمَّنْ لَا خَيْرَ فِيهِ».

Hadith.4743 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said: "Let your child play for seven years, then discipline him for seven years, and then keep him close to yourself for seven years. If he succeeds, then that is well; but if not, then he is among those in whom there is no good."

Hadith.4745 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said: "Whoever feels the coolness of our (Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}) love in his heart should frequently pray for his mother, for she did not betray his father."

[ALSADUQ]

During the time of the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family), if there was doubt about a child's lineage, the child would be presented with the guardianship (wilayah) of the Commander of the Faithful, Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}.

If the child accepted it, his lineage would be attributed to the one he was claimed to belong to. However, if he rejected it, his lineage would be denied.

BOOK OF DIVORCE (TALAQ)

كِتَابُ الطَّلَاقِ

CHAPTER 150 – CHAPTER ON THE TYPES OF DIVORCE

بَابُ وُجُوهِ الطَّلَاقِ

HADITH -
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

الطَّلَاقُ عَلَى وُجُوهِ وَلَا يَقَعُ شَيْءٌ مِنْهَا إِلَّا عَلَى ظَهْرٍ مِنْ غَيْرِ جَمَاعٍ بِشَاهِدَيْنِ عَدْلَيْنِ وَ الرَّجُلُ مُرِيدٌ لِلطَّلَاقِ غَيْرَ مُكْرَهٍ وَلَا مُجْبَرٍ فَمِنْهَا طَلَاقُ السُّنَّةِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْعِدَّةِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْغَائِبِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْغُلَامِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْمَغْثُوهِ وَ طَلَاقُ النَّبِيِّ لَمْ يُدْخَلْ بِهَا وَ طَلَاقُ الْحَامِلِ وَ طَلَاقُ النَّبِيِّ لَمْ تَبْلُغِ الْمَجِيضَ وَ طَلَاقُ النَّبِيِّ قَدْ بَيَّسَتْ مِنَ الْمَجِيضِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْأَخْرَسِ وَ طَلَاقُ السَّرِّ وَ مِنْهُ التَّخْيِيرُ وَ الْمُبَارَاةُ وَ الشُّوْزُ وَ الشَّقَاقُ وَ الْخُلْعُ وَ الْإِيْلَاءُ وَ الظَّهَارُ وَ اللَّعَانُ وَ طَلَاقُ الْعَبْدِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْمَرِيضِ وَ طَلَاقُ الْمَفْقُودِ وَ الْخَلِيَّةُ وَ الْبَرِيَّةُ وَ الْبَتَّةُ وَ الْبَائِنُ وَ الْحَرَامُ وَ حُكْمُ الْعَيْنِ.

Divorce takes various forms, and none of them is valid except when performed during a period of purity without intercourse, in the presence of two just witnesses, and with the husband willingly intending the divorce without coercion or compulsion.

Among the types of divorce are: the divorce according to the Sunnah, the divorce of a woman observing the waiting period, the divorce of an absentee husband, the divorce of a minor boy, the divorce of an insane person, the divorce of a woman who has not been consummated, the divorce of a pregnant woman, the divorce of a woman who has not yet reached menstruation, the divorce of a woman who has reached menopause, the divorce of a mute person, and secret divorce.

Other forms include divorce through mutual choice, mutual renunciation, discord and conflict, khul (divorce at the wife's request with compensation), oath of abstinence (Ila'), zihar (a husband likening his wife to a forbidden relation), lian (mutual cursing in cases of adultery accusation), the divorce of a slave, the divorce of a sick person, the divorce of an absent or missing person, and various terms used for divorce such as khaliah (divorce with renunciation), bariah (divorce with full release), batta (final and irrevocable divorce), ba'in (irrevocable divorce), and haram (forbidden divorce).

Additionally, the rulings concerning an impotent husband are also addressed within the laws of divorce.

CHAPTER 151 – CHAPTER ON DIVORCE ACCORDING TO THE SUNNAH

بَابُ طَلَاقِ السُّنَّةِ

HADITH 4751 - 4760

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

رُوي عن الأئمة عليه السلام أن طلاق السُّنَّةِ هو أنه إذا أراد الرجل أن يطلق امرأته تربص بها حتى تحيض وتظهر ثم يطلقها في قبل عدتها بشاهدين عدلين في موقف واحد بلفظة واحدة فإن أشهد على الطلاق رجلاً وأشهد بعد ذلك الثاني لم يجز ذلك الطلاق إلا أن يشهدهما جميعاً في مجلس واحد فإذا مضت بها ثلاثة أشهر فقد بانث منه وهو خاطب من الخطاب والأمر إليها إن شاءت تزوجته وإن شاءت فلا فإن تزوجها بعد ذلك تزوجها بمهر جديد فإن أراد طلاقها طلاقاً للسُّنَّةِ على ما وصفت وما صفت متى طلقها طلاق السُّنَّةِ فجائز له أن يتزوجها بعد ذلك وسمي طلاق السُّنَّةِ طلاق الهدم متى استوفت قروءها وتزوجها ثانية هدم الطلاق الأول وكل طلاق خالف السُّنَّةَ فهو باطل ومن طلق امرأته للسُّنَّةِ فله أن يراجعها ما لم تنقض عدتها فإذا انقضت عدتها بانث منه وكان خاطباً من الخطاب ولا تجوز شهادة النساء في الطلاق وعلى المطلق للسُّنَّةِ نفقة المرأة والسكنى ما دامت في عدتها وهما يتوارثان حتى تنقضي العدة.

It has been narrated from the Imams (peace be upon them) that talaq al-sunnah (divorce according to the prescribed method) is that when a man intends to divorce his wife, he waits until she menstruates and then becomes pure. He should then divorce her before engaging in intimacy during her waiting period, in the presence of two just witnesses, in a single sitting, and with a single utterance. If he testifies before one man and later before another, such a divorce is not valid unless both witnesses are present together in the same session.

If she completes three periods of purity, she is then separated from him, and he becomes like any other suitor.

The choice is hers - if she wishes, she may remarry him, and if she does not, she is free not to do so. If he wishes to remarry her, he must do so with a new dowry. If he later wishes to divorce her again, he must do so according to the sunnah, as described. If he divorces her in the prescribed manner, it remains permissible for him to remarry her thereafter.

This type of divorce is referred to as talaq al-hadm (divorce of annulment), meaning that if she completes her waiting period and he remarries her, the previous divorce is annulled. Any divorce that does not conform to the prescribed sunnah is invalid.

If a man divorces his wife according to the sunnah, he has the right to take her back as long as her waiting period has not ended. Once the waiting period ends, she is separated from him, and he becomes like any other suitor.

The testimony of women alone is not acceptable in matters of divorce. The husband who divorces according to the sunnah is responsible for the financial maintenance and housing of his wife as long as she is in her waiting period. They also continue to inherit from one another until the waiting period concludes.

Hadith.4751 - Al-Qasim ibn Muhammad Al-Jawhari narrated from Ali ibn Abi Hamzah, who said that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} said: "There is no divorce except according to the Sunnah. Indeed, Abdullah ibn Umar divorced his wife three times in one sitting while she was menstruating. The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) rejected his divorce and said: 'Whatever contradicts the Book of Allah ^{SWT} must be referred back to the Book of Allah ^{SWT}.'"

Hadith.4752 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi that Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} was asked about a man who said to his wife, "If I marry another woman over you or spend a night away from you, then you are divorced."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: 'Whoever sets a condition outside of the Book of Allah ^{SWT}, it is neither binding upon him nor for him.'"

Imam ^{a.s} was also asked about a man who said: "Any woman I marry while my mother is alive is divorced."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "There is no divorce except after marriage, and no emancipation except after ownership."

Hadith.4753 - In the narration of Al-Nadr ibn Suwayd from Abdullah ibn Sinan, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, it was reported about a man who said: "My wife is divorced and my slaves are free if I ever drink something forbidden or even something permissible like tilā' (a type of fermented drink) ever again."

Imam ^{a.s} said: "As for what is forbidden, he must never approach it - whether he swore an oath or not. But as for tilā' (a type of fermented drink), he has no right to prohibit what Allah ^{SWT} has made lawful.

Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, said: 'O Prophet, why do you forbid what Allah ^{SWT} has made lawful for you?' (Surah At-Tahrim 66:1).

Therefore, it is not permissible to swear an oath to forbid what is lawful, to permit what is unlawful, or to sever family ties."

"Is it permissible for her to leave and spend nights away from her home for work and to fulfill her needs?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied in writing: "There is no harm in that if Allah knows her intention is sincere."

Talaq al-‘iddah (divorce during the waiting period) is that when a man intends to divorce his wife, he should divorce her during a state of purity (ṭuhr) in which he has not had intercourse with her, and in the presence of two just witnesses. Then, he may reconcile with her on the same day or afterward before she menstruates, and he should have witnesses for this reconciliation.

When she menstruates and then becomes pure, he may divorce her a second time without intercourse and in the presence of witnesses. He can then reconcile with her whenever he wishes before she menstruates again, ensuring witnesses are present for the reconciliation. He may also engage in marital relations with her, and she remains with him until she experiences her second menstrual cycle.

Once she becomes pure after her second menstruation, he may divorce her a third time while she is in a state of purity without intercourse, again in the presence of witnesses. If he does this, she is permanently separated from him and is not permissible for him until she marries another man.

The least form of reconciliation is for him to kiss her or to deny the divorce, in which case his denial of the divorce counts as reconciliation.

Reconciliation is permissible without witnesses, just as marriage is, but it is disliked without witnesses due to legal matters concerning ḥudud (Islamic penalties), inheritance, and authority.

If a man divorces his wife for the waiting period three times - each once after the other as described - and then she marries another man, the previous husband cannot take her back until that marriage is properly dissolved.

If a man divorces his wife three times for the waiting period ('iddah), one after another as described, and then the woman marries another man but he does not consummate the marriage with her and subsequently divorces her or dies before consummation, and she completes her waiting period ('iddah), it is not permissible for her first husband to remarry her. She can only return to her first husband if she marries another man in a permanent marriage, the second husband consummates the marriage with her, and then divorces her or dies. After completing her waiting period from the second husband, the first husband may then marry her again if he wishes.

However, if she marries a man in a temporary marriage (mut'ah), even if he consummates the marriage and then separates from her or dies, it does not make it permissible for her first husband to remarry her. The remarriage to another man must be a permanent marriage that includes consummation. Only after she completes her waiting period following this marriage can her first husband marry her again.

If she marries a slave, he is considered one of the husbands, and the same ruling applies.

Furthermore, if a man divorces his wife three times for the waiting period, and she marries another man, then returns to her first husband and is divorced again, and this cycle repeats until she has been divorced nine times, she becomes permanently forbidden to him and can never return to him.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "This refers to a man who divorces his wife, and when her waiting period ('iddah) is about to end, he reconciles with her, then divorces her again. He repeats this process three times. Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, forbade such behavior."

Hadith.4763 - Al-Qasim ibn al-Rabi' al-Ṣaḥḥaf narrated from Muḥammad ibn Sinan that Abu al-Ḥasan Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} wrote to him in response to his questions:

"The reason for allowing divorce up to three times is to provide a period of reflection between each instance, from the first to the third, for any renewed affection that may arise or for the calming of anger if it had been present.

This process serves as a warning and a means of disciplining the woman and deterring her from disobeying her husband. If a woman engages in what is improper by neglecting her husband's obedience, she becomes deserving of separation and estrangement.

As for the reason why a woman becomes permanently forbidden (ḥaram) to her husband after nine divorces, it is a form of punishment to prevent the man from taking divorce lightly and from oppressing the woman. It encourages him to be thoughtful, attentive, and reflective in his actions. This also brings both parties to despair of ever reconciling after nine divorces."

Hadith.4764 - Ali ibn al-Ḥasan ibn Ali ibn Faḍḍal narrated from his father that he asked Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} about the reason why a woman divorced for the third time (ṭalaq al-ʿidda) does not become lawful again for her husband "until she marries another husband".

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted and Glorious, has only permitted divorce twice, as He ^{SWT} said: 'Divorce is twice. Then, either keep [her] in an acceptable manner or release [her] with good treatment' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:229).

This applies to the third divorce. Due to the man's persistence in engaging in what Allah ^{SWT} dislikes - namely, pronouncing a third divorce, Allah ^{SWT} made her unlawful for him, and she does not become lawful for him 'until she marries another husband'.

This is to prevent people from taking divorce lightly and to stop them from harming women."

[AL SADUQ]

Additionally, a woman divorced for the third time becomes completely separated (ba'ina) from her husband upon witnessing the first drop of blood from her third menstruation. She does not become lawful for him again until she marries another husband.

Hadith.4765 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurarah that Abu Jafar ^{a.s} said:

CHAPTER 154 – CHAPTER ON THE DIVORCE BY A YOUNG BOY

بَابُ طَلَاقِ الْغُلَامِ

HADITH 4769
بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4769 - رَوَى زُرْعَةُ عَنْ سَمَاعَةَ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ طَلَاقِ الْغُلَامِ وَ لَمْ يَحْتَلِمَ وَ صَدَقْتِهِ فَقَالَ «إِذَا طَلَّقَ لِلسُّنَّةِ وَ وَضَعَ الصَّدَقَةَ فِي مَوْضِعِهَا وَ حَقَّهَا فَلَا بَأْسَ وَ هُوَ جَائِزٌ».

Hadith.4769 - Zura'ah narrated from Sama'ah who said: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about the divorce issued by a young boy who has not yet reached puberty and about his giving of charity. Imam ^{a.s} said: "If he divorces according to the Sunnah and places the charity in its rightful place and for its due purpose, then there is no harm, and it is valid."

CHAPTER 155 – CHAPTER ON THE DIVORCE BY AN INSANE PERSON

بَابُ طَلَاقِ الْمَعْتُوهِ

🌀 HADITH 4770 – 4772 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4770 - رَوَى عَبْدُ الْكَرِيمِ بْنُ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَلْبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ طَلَاقِ الْمَعْتُوهِ أَلَزَائِلِ الْعَقْلِ أَوْ يَجُوزُ فَقَالَ «لَا» وَ عَنِ الْمَرْأَةِ إِذَا كَانَتْ كَذَلِكَ يَجُوزُ بَيْعُهَا وَ صَدَقَتُهَا فَقَالَ «لَا».

Hadith.4770 - Abd al-Karim ibn 'Amr narrated from al-Ḥalabi from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about the divorce of a mentally impaired person whose intellect is diminished, whether it is permissible?

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "No."

I (narrator) also asked about a woman in the same condition, whether it is permissible to sell her property or manage her dowry?

He replied: "No."

Hadith.4771 - Ḥammad ibn 'Isa narrated from Shu'ayb, from Abu Baṣīr, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, that Imam ^{a.s} who was asked about the validity of a divorce issued by a mentally impaired person (ma'tooh).

Imam ^{a.s} responded: "What do you mean by that?"

I said: "The foolish one who lacks sound reasoning."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, it is valid."

[AL SADUQ]

The author of this book (may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him) clarified:

This means that if the divorce is carried out by his guardian on his behalf, it is valid. However, if he himself pronounces the divorce, it is not valid. This is supported by corroborating evidence.

Hadith.4772 - Şafwan ibn Yahya narrated from Abu Khalid al-Qammat, who said:

I said to Abu Abdillah ^{a.s.}: "A man who sometimes understands his own position and at other times denies it, can his guardian (wali) issue a divorce on his behalf?"

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "What is wrong with him? Can he not divorce himself?"

I said: "He does not understand the rules of divorce, and if he divorces today, he might say tomorrow that he did not divorce."

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "I see him (wali) as being in the position of an Imam - that is, the guardian (wali) has authority over him."

Hadith.4773 - Muhammad ibn al-Fudayl narrated from Abu al-Sabbah al-Kinani, who reported from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} that he said:

"If a man divorces his wife before consummating the marriage, she is entitled to half of her dowry. However, if he had not specified a dowry for her, then 'provision must be made for her in a fair manner', 'according to the means of the wealthy and according to the means of the poor.' She does not have to observe any waiting period (iddah) and may marry whomever she wishes immediately."

Hadith.4774 - Amr ibn Shimr narrated from Jabir, who reported from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} regarding the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty:

"Then if you divorce them before you have touched them, there is no waiting period (iddah) for you to count against them. So provide for them and release them in a gracious manner." (Surah Al-Ahzab 33:49)

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Provide for them," meaning adorn them with whatever you are able to from kindness, for they return with sorrow, loneliness, great grief, and become a subject of gloating for their enemies. Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, is generous, feels shy, and loves those who possess modesty. The most honorable among you is the one who honors his wives the most.

Hadith.4780 - Ubayd ibn Zurarah asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a woman whose husband passed away before consummating the marriage.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "She is entitled to inheritance and must observe the complete waiting period (iddah). If he had specified a dowry for her, she is entitled to half of it, and if he had not specified a dowry, she is entitled to nothing."

[AL SADUQ]

Additionally, a woman whose husband has passed away is not entitled to housing or financial maintenance.

Hadith.4783 - Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} ruled concerning a woman whose husband passed away without consummating the marriage, saying:

"She must not remarry until she completes a waiting period (iddah) of four months and ten days, which is the prescribed waiting period for a woman whose husband has passed away."

[AL SADUQ]

As for a divorced woman, her waiting period begins from the day her husband divorces her. However, the waiting period for a woman whose husband has died begins from the day she receives the news of his death because she must observe mourning (ihdad), whereas a divorced woman is not required to observe mourning.

Hadith.4787 - Zurarah narrated from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s.):

"The divorce of a pregnant woman is a single divorce, and once she delivers what is in her womb, she is separated from him."

[ALSADUQ]

Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, said:

"And for those who are pregnant, their term is until they deliver their burden." (Surah At-Talaq 65:4)

Therefore, if a man divorces his wife and she delivers on the same day or the next, her waiting period (iddah) has ended, and it is permissible for her to marry.

However, her new husband cannot consummate the marriage until she becomes pure (completes her postpartum period).

A pregnant woman who is divorced must observe the shorter of the two waiting periods. If three months pass before she delivers, her waiting period is over, but she cannot remarry until she gives birth. However, if she delivers before the completion of three months, her waiting period ends immediately.

On the other hand, a pregnant woman whose husband has passed away must observe the longer of the two waiting periods. If she delivers before the completion of four months and ten days, her waiting period is not over until the full four months and ten days pass.

Conversely, if four months and ten days pass before she delivers, her waiting period does not end until she gives birth.

Hadith.4788 - Ali ibn Abi Hamzah narrated from Abu Basir from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said: I heard Imam ^{a.s} say, "A pregnant divorced woman is to be provided for until she delivers her child, and she has more right to nurse her child as long as she accepts compensation similar to what another woman would accept.

Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says:

'No mother should be harmed because of her child, nor should any father because of his child. And upon the heir is the same responsibility' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:233)

There should be no harm caused to the child nor to the mother in matters of nursing. She is not entitled to take compensation for nursing beyond two complete years, but if they both agree to wean the child before that 'by mutual consent and consultation,' then it is acceptable.

And 'weaning' means the cessation of breastfeeding."

Imam ^{a.s} ruled that she must be separated from him and that he should not propose to her again until the longer of the two waiting periods is completed. If the woman's guardians wish, they may marry her to him, and if they wish, they may prevent it. If they prevent it, they must return his wealth to him."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Anything she delivers that is clearly recognized as a pregnancy, whether fully developed or not, her waiting period is completed with that, even if it is a lump of flesh."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "I heard him say that if a man divorces his wife and she claims to be pregnant, she should wait for nine months. If she gives birth, then so be it, but if not, she must observe a waiting period of three months, after which she is completely separated from him."

If three full white months pass without any blood, she is separated by that. However, if three menstrual cycles occur, even if there are not three full months between them, she is separated by the menstruation."

[AL SADUQ]

Ibn Abi Umayr said that Jamil ibn Darraj explained this, saying: "If nearly three months pass—lacking only a day—and then she menstruates, and again nearly three months pass—lacking only a day—and she menstruates, and then once more nearly three months pass—lacking only a day—and she menstruates, then in this case, her waiting period is counted by menstruation and not by months. But if three full white months pass without menstruation, then she is separated."

Hadith.4806 - Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Nasr Al-Bazanti asked Abu Al-Hasan Al-Ridha ^(a.s) about a man who has a wife but remains silent and does not speak.

Imam ^(a.s) asked: "Is he mute?"

He replied: "Yes, and we know from his behavior that he dislikes and detests his wife. Is it permissible for his guardian to divorce her on his behalf?"

Imam ^(a.s) said: "No, but he should write it down and have witnesses for it."

He said: "May Allah ^(SWT) correct you, but he neither writes nor hears. How can he divorce her?"

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "Through actions that clearly indicate his intention, such as what you mentioned of his dislike and hatred for her."

[AL SADUQ]

My father (may Allah ^(SWT) be pleased with him) said in his letter to me:

"If a mute man wants to divorce his wife, he places her veil on her head to show that she has become unlawful for him. If he wants to take her back, he removes the veil from her to show that she has become lawful for him."

Hadith.4807 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abdul Rahman ibn Al-Hajjaj who said:

I asked Abu Al-Hasan ^{a.s} about a man who secretly married a woman without his family knowing while she remained in her family's house. He wanted to divorce her but could not reach her to know when she menstruates or when she becomes pure.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "This is like a man who is absent from his wife, so he should divorce her based on lunar months and months."

I asked: "What if he sometimes has access to her and sometimes does not, so he knows her condition? How should he divorce her then?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If a month passes without him reaching her, he should divorce her at the beginning of the next month with witnesses, writing down the month in which he divorces her and bringing two witnesses to testify to the divorce. Once three months have passed, she is completely separated from him, and he becomes like any other suitor. However, he must provide for her during those three months in which she observes her waiting period."

[AL SADUQ]

My father (may Allah ^{SWT} be pleased with him) said in his letter to me:

"Know, my son, that the origin of the matter of giving the choice (to divorce) is that Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, was displeased with a statement made by some of the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) wives.

They said: 'Does Muhammad ^{saws} think that if he divorces us, we will not find suitable husbands from Quraysh to marry us?'

So, Allah ^{SWT} commanded His Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) to separate himself from his wives for twenty-nine nights.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) secluded himself in the chamber of Umm Ibrahim.

Then this verse was revealed:

'O Prophet! Say to your wives: If you desire the life of this world and its adornment, then come, I will provide for you and release you in a gracious manner. But if you desire Allah ^{SWT}, His Messenger, and the Hereafter, then indeed Allah ^{SWT} has prepared for the good-doers among you a great reward' (Surah Al-Ahzab 33:28-29).

They chose Allah ^{SWT} and His Messenger ^{saws}, so divorce did not occur. But if they had chosen themselves, they would have been separated."

And Hafsa said: 'If He ^{saws} divorces us, we will find suitable husbands among our people from Quraysh.'

Then, the divine revelation was withheld from the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) for twenty-nine days.

Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, was displeased for His ^{SWT} beloved Messenger ^{saws}, so Allah ^{SWT} revealed:

'O Prophet! Say to your wives: If you desire the life of this world and its adornment, then come, I will provide for you and release you in a gracious manner. However, if he gives her the choice or places the matter in her hands with the testimony of two witnesses during her waiting period, then she has the option as long as they have not separated. If she chooses herself (i.e., separation), then it is counted as one divorce, and he has the right to take her back. 🕸 HADITH 4816 🕸

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4816 - رَوَى حَمَّادٌ عَنْ الْحَلَبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «الْمُبَارَاةُ أَنْ تَقُولَ الْمَرْأَةُ لِرَوْجِهَا لَكَ مَا عَلَيْكَ وَ أَتْرُكْنِي فَتَرَكَهَا إِلَّا أَنَّهُ يَقُولُ لَهَا إِنْ ارْتَجَعْتَ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ فَأَنَا أَمْلِكُ بِبُضْعِكَ». وَ رُوِيَ: «أَنَّهُ لَا يَنْبَغِي لَهُ أَنْ يَأْخُذَ مِنْهَا أَكْثَرَ مِنْ مَهْرِهَا بَلْ يَأْخُذُ مِنْهَا دُونَ مَهْرِهَا وَ الْمُبَارَاةُ لَا رَجْعَةَ لِرَوْجِهَا عَلَيْهَا».

Hadith.4816 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

"Mutual separation (mubara'ah) is when a woman says to her husband, 'You are free from any obligation I have upon you, so leave me,' and he leaves her.

However, he should say to her, 'If you reclaim anything from what you have given up, then I have authority over you.'"

It is also narrated: "It is not appropriate for him to take more from her than her dowry; rather, he should take less than her dowry. In mutual separation (mubara'ah), the husband has no right to take her back."

[AL SADUQ]

Disobedience (nushuz) can occur from both the man and the woman.

As for the man's disobedience, it is as Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says in His Book:

"And if a woman fears ill-treatment or aversion from her husband, there is no blame upon them if they reconcile between themselves, and reconciliation is better" (Surah An-Nisa 4:128)

This refers to a situation where a woman is with her husband, but he is displeased with her and intends to divorce her. She then says to him, "Keep me and do not divorce me, and I will relinquish what is due to me and allow you my day and night."

This arrangement becomes acceptable to him. This was narrated by Al-Mufaddal ibn Salih from Zayd Al-Shahham from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}.

When a woman becomes disobedient (nashiz) like a man's disobedience, it leads to khul' (a form of divorce initiated by the wife). A woman's disobedience is when she does not obey her husband in matters of intimacy.

This is as Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says:

"And those [wives] from whom you fear arrogance [disobedience]—advise them; [then if they persist], forsake them in bed; and [finally], strike them. But if they obey you, seek no means against them. Indeed, Allah ^{SWT} is Most High, Most Great" (Surah An-Nisa 4:34)

Forsaking them in bed means turning his back to her, and striking refers to gently striking with a miswak (tooth-stick) or something similar, in a kind manner.

If they obey you, then do not seek a way against them, for Allah ^{SWT} is Most High and Most Great.

CHAPTER 165 – CHAPTER ON MARITAL DISCORD (SHIQAQ)

بَابُ الشَّقَاقِ

HADITH 4817 – 4819

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

الشَّقَاقُ قَدْ يَكُونُ مِنَ الْمَرْأَةِ وَالرَّجُلِ جَمِيعًا وَهُوَ مِمَّا قَالَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ
 ﴿وَإِنْ خِفْتُمْ شِقَاقَ بَيْنِهِمَا فَأَبْعَثُوا حَكَمًا مِنْ أَهْلِهِ وَحَكَمًا مِنْ أَهْلِهَا﴾
 فَيَخْتَارُ الرَّجُلُ رَجُلًا وَتَخْتَارُ الْمَرْأَةُ رَجُلًا فَيَجْتَمِعَانِ عَلَى فُرْقَةٍ أَوْ عَلَى صُلْحٍ فَإِنْ أَرَادَا الْإِصْلَاحَ أَصْلَحَا مِنْ غَيْرِ أَنْ
 يَسْتَأْمِرَا وَإِنْ أَرَادَا أَنْ يُفَرِّقَا فَلَيْسَ لَهُمَا أَنْ يُفَرِّقَا إِلَّا بَعْدَ أَنْ يَسْتَأْمِرَا الرَّوْجَ وَالْمَرْأَةَ.

[AL SADUQ]

Disputes (shiqaq) can arise from both the husband and the wife. This is related to what Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has said:

"And if you fear discord between them, appoint an arbitrator from his family and an arbitrator from her family." (Surah An-Nisa 4:35)

The husband should choose a representative from his family, and the wife should choose a representative from hers. These two arbitrators will then meet to decide either on separation or reconciliation.

If they intend reconciliation, they may proceed with it without seeking further permission. However, if they wish to separate the couple, they are not allowed to do so unless they seek the consent of both the husband and the wife.

Hadith.4817 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said: I asked him about the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic: "Appoint an arbitrator from his family and an arbitrator from her family" (Surah An-Nisa 4:35).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "The two arbitrators do not have the authority to separate the couple until they consult both the husband and the wife and set conditions upon them. If they both agree, they may choose to reconcile or separate. If they choose to reconcile, it is valid, and if they choose to separate, it is also valid."

[AL SADUQ]

The author of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, said: When I reached this point, I recalled a discussion involving Hisham ibn Al-Hakam with some opponents regarding the two arbitrators at the Battle of Siffin—Amr ibn Al-As and Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari. I wished to include it here, even though it does not directly relate to the subject of this chapter.

The opponent argued that the two arbitrators, by accepting arbitration, intended to reconcile the two parties.

Hisham responded: "Rather, they did not intend reconciliation between the two parties."

The opponent asked: "On what basis do you say this?"

Hisham replied: "From the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, concerning the two arbitrators: 'If they both desire reconciliation, Allah ^{SWT} will cause harmony between them' (Surah An-Nisa 4:35).

Since they disagreed and could not agree on any matter, and Allah ^{SWT} did not cause harmony between them, we know that they did not intend reconciliation."

This narration was reported by Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr from Hisham ibn Al-Hakam.

Hadith.4821 - In the narration of Hammad from Al-Halabi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}, he said: "The waiting period (iddah) of a woman who undergoes khul' is the same as that of a divorced woman. Her khul' counts as her divorce, and it suffices even if it is not explicitly called a divorce. However, khul' is not valid for a woman until she says to her husband, 'By Allah ^{SWT}, I will not honor your oath, I will not obey your command, I will not perform ghusl for you after intimacy, I will indeed bring someone you dislike into your bed, and I will allow others to enter upon you without your permission.' Previously, people used to permit khul' for less than this, but when a woman says this to her husband, it becomes lawful for him to take from her what he has taken, and she will remain with him with two remaining divorce opportunities. The khul' counts as one divorce." Imam ^{a.s.} also said: "These words must come from her," meaning without being instructed to say them.

Imam ^{a.s} was also asked whether a woman who undergoes khul' is entitled to any compensation (mutah).

Hadith.4823 - In the narration of Muhammad ibn Humran from Muhammad ibn Muslim, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, that Imam ^{a.s} said:

"If a woman says to her husband, in any form, 'I will not obey any of your commands,' whether she explains it in detail or not, it becomes permissible for him to take what he has taken from her, and he has no right to take her back."

[AL SADUQ]

A man is allowed to take from a woman who undergoes khul' more than the dowry he gave her, based on the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic:

"If you fear that they will not uphold the limits of Allah ^{SWT}, then there is no blame upon them for what she gives to secure her release" (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:229).

However, in the case of mubara'ah (mutual separation), he may only take less than the dowry he gave her, because the woman seeking khul' exceeds limits in her speech, unlike in mubara'ah.

Hadith.4824 - Hammad narrated from Al-Halabi who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who abandons his wife without divorcing her or taking an oath, leaving her for a year without approaching her bed.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must return to his wife."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "Any man who swears an oath (ila ') against his wife—ila ' being when he says, 'By Allah ^{SWT}, I will not have relations with you for such and such time' or 'By Allah ^{SWT}, I will anger you,' and then he continues to upset her, he is to be given four months.

After those four months, he will be brought forward. If he reconciles with his wife, which means returning to her, then 'Indeed, Allah ^{SWT} is Forgiving, Merciful' (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:226).

But if he does not reconcile, he will be forced to divorce her. However, no divorce will occur between them until he is brought forward, and even after the four months, he will be compelled either to reconcile or to divorce."

It is also narrated: "If he reconciles, meaning he returns to marital relations, then so be it. Otherwise, he will be imprisoned in a pen made of reeds and will be subjected to hardship in food and drink until he divorces her."

Additionally, it is narrated: "Whenever the Imam of the Muslims commands him to divorce and he refuses, his neck shall be struck (execution) due to his defiance against the authority of the Imam of the Muslims."

Hadith.4825 - In the narration of Aban ibn Uthman from Mansur, he said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.} about a man who swears an oath (ila') against his wife, and four months pass.

Imam ^{a.s.} said: "He is to be brought forward. If he decides on divorce, she is separated from him, and she must observe the waiting period (iddah) of a divorced woman. But if he does not divorce her, he must offer expiation for his oath and continue the marriage."

[AL SADUQ]

Additionally, there is no zihar (a form of divorce by comparison) or ila' (an oath of abstention) until the man has consummated the marriage with his wife.

Hadith.4826 - Al-Hasan bin Mahbub narrated from Jamil bin Salih, from Al-Fudayl bin Yasar, who said:

I asked Abu Abdillah (peace be upon him) about a man who has only performed the marriage contract (mamluk, meaning he has not yet consummated the marriage) and then declares zihar (a pre-Islamic form of divorce where a husband likens his wife to a prohibited relative).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "There is no zihar and no ila' (an oath to abstain from marital relations) until he consummates the marriage with her."

I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about zihar (a form of divorce by comparison).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Zihar applies only when a man likens his wife to someone who is permanently unlawful for him, such as his mother, sister, paternal aunt, or maternal aunt. Zihar does not occur through an oath."

I asked: "How does it occur?"

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "A man says to his wife, while she is in a state of purity and without having had intercourse with her, 'You are to me as unlawful as the back of my mother or my sister,' and he intends by this statement to make zihar."

Hadith.4829 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Aban and others, from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), who said:

"During the time of the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family), there was a man named Aws ibn Al-Samit who was married to a woman named Khawlah bint Tha'labah. One day, he said to her: 'You are to me as the back of my mother.'

He immediately regretted his words and said to her: 'O woman, I think you have become unlawful for me.'

Khawlah went to the Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^(SWT), my husband said to me, "You are to me as the back of my mother." This statement in the past used to make a wife unlawful for her husband.'

The Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family) said to her: 'O woman, I think you have indeed become unlawful for him.'

She then raised her hands to the sky and said: 'I complain to You ^(SWT) about the separation from my husband.'

Allah ^(SWT), the Mighty and Majestic, revealed:

'Indeed, Allah ^(SWT) has heard the statement of the woman who disputes with you concerning her husband and complains to Allah ^(SWT). And Allah ^(SWT) hears your dialogue; indeed, Allah ^(SWT) is All-Hearing, All-Seeing. Those among you who declare their wives unlawful to them (by zihar) are not their mothers. Their mothers are none but those who gave birth to them. And indeed, they utter an evil statement and a falsehood. But indeed, Allah ^(SWT) is Pardoning and Forgiving'' (Surah Al-Mujadilah 58:1-2).

Then Allah ^(SWT), the Mighty and Majestic, revealed the expiation for this, saying:

'And those who pronounce zihar from their wives and then wish to go back on what they said, must free a slave before they touch one another. This is what you are admonished with, and Allah ^(SWT) is All-Aware of what you do. But whoever does not find [a slave to free] must fast for two consecutive months before they touch one another. And whoever is unable must feed sixty poor people'' (Surah Al-Mujadilah 58:3-4).

[AL SADUQ]

Zihar (a form of divorce by comparison) occurs in two forms.

The first is when a man says to his wife, "You are to me as the back of my mother," and remains silent without adding any conditions. In this case, he must offer expiation before engaging in intercourse with her. If he engages in intercourse before performing the expiation, he becomes obligated to offer another expiation.

The second form is when a man says to his wife, "You are to me as the back of my mother if I do such and such."

In this case, no expiation is required until he actually does the specified action and then engages in intercourse with her. Once he carries out what he swore upon and has intercourse, the expiation becomes mandatory.

The prescribed expiation for zihar is to free a slave. If he cannot find a slave, he must fast for two consecutive months before resuming relations with his wife. If he is unable to fast, he must feed sixty poor people, giving each person a mudd (a specific measure) of food. If he cannot afford that, he must fast for eighteen days.

إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ هَاشِمٍ فِي نَوَادِرِهِ.

Hadith.4830 - It is narrated:

"If he is unable to provide the required feeding (it'ām), he should give charity (ṣadaqah) according to what he is capable of."

[AL SADUQ]

Zihar does not take effect if it is uttered in a state of anger, nor does it apply if the man pronounces zihar without intending to make his wife unlawful to him. If a slave performs zihar against his wife, he is required to fast for half the period that a free man must fast, and he is not obligated to free a slave or give charity because a slave owns no wealth.

If a man says to his wife, "You are to me like some of my female relatives who are permanently unlawful to me," it is considered zihar.

Likewise, if a man says to his wife, "You are to me as the back of my mother," or "like her stomach," or "like her hand," or "like her leg," or "like her ankle," or "like her hair," or "like any part of her body," with the intention of making her unlawful to him, it is also regarded as zihar.

This was mentioned by Ibrahim ibn Hashim in his book Nawadir.

Hadith.4831 - Ibn Mahbub narrated from Abu Ayyub Al-Khazzaz, from Burayd ibn Mu'awiyah, who said: I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^(a.s) about a man who declared zihar (a form of divorce by comparison) against his wife and then divorced her with one divorce.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "If he divorces her with one divorce, the zihar becomes nullified, and the divorce cancels the zihar."

I asked: "Can he take her back?"

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "Yes, she is still his wife. However, if he takes her back, he must fulfill the obligation required of one who has performed zihar before engaging in intercourse with her."

I asked: "If he leaves her until her waiting period (iddah) ends and she gains full control over herself, and then he marries her again afterward, is he still bound by the previous zihar before engaging in intercourse?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "No, she has been completely separated from him and has gained control over herself."

I asked: "If he declared zihar against her but did not have intercourse with her and left her without touching her, although he still saw her uncovered, does anything become obligatory upon him in this case?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "She is his wife, and it is not forbidden for him to have intercourse with her. However, he must fulfill what is required of one who has performed zihar before having intercourse with her, as she remains his wife."

I asked: "If she complains to the authorities, saying, 'This is my husband who has declared zihar against me but holds on to me without touching me out of fear of the obligation that comes with zihar,' what is to be done?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "It is not obligatory for the authority to compel him to free a slave, fast, or feed the poor if he has nothing to free, cannot fast, and does not have the means to give charity. However, if he is capable of freeing a slave, then it is upon the Imam to compel him to free a slave or give charity before he touches her or after he has done so."

Hadith.4832 - Aban narrated from Al-Hasan Al-Sayqal who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man who performs zihar (a form of divorce by comparison) against his wife.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must offer expiation."

I asked: "What if he engages in intercourse with her before offering expiation?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Then he has violated one of Allah's ^{SWT} limits. He must seek Allah's ^{SWT} forgiveness and abstain until he fulfills the expiation."

[AL SADUQ]

The author of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, explained that this ruling applies to zihar that is conditional. However, in the case of zihar that is unconditional, if the man engages in intercourse with his wife before offering expiation, an additional expiation becomes obligatory upon him, as previously mentioned.

If a man who has performed zihar divorces his wife, the obligation of expiation is lifted. However, if he takes her back, the expiation becomes obligatory upon him again. But if he leaves her until her waiting period (iddah) ends and she marries another man who then divorces her or dies, and the first husband remarries her and consummates the marriage, the expiation is no longer required.

Additionally, a child born into Islam is sufficient for fulfilling the expiation of zihar (in the case where freeing a slave is the expiation).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "He must offer expiation three times."

I asked: "What if he engages in intercourse with her before offering the expiation?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "He must seek Allah's ^{SWT} forgiveness and abstain until he completes the expiation."

Hadith.4835 - Jamil ibn Darraj asked Imam ^{a.s} about zihar and when the obligation of expiation becomes due upon the one who declares it.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "When he intends to have intercourse with his wife."

I asked: "If he divorces her before having intercourse with her, is expiation still required of him?"

Imam ^{a.s} said: "No, the expiation is no longer required."

I then asked: "If he begins fasting (as expiation) but becomes ill and breaks his fast, must he start over or continue from where he left off?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If he fasted for a month and then became ill, he must start over. But if he fasted more than a month by a day or two, he should continue from where he left off."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "The ruling for a free man and a slave is the same, except that a slave is obligated to fulfill half of what is required from a free man in terms of expiation."

I asked Imam ^{a.s}: "If a man performs zihar (a form of divorce by comparison) in the month of Sha'ban and cannot find something to free (as expiation), what should he do?"

He ^{a.s} replied: "He should wait until he fasts the month of Ramadan and then fast two consecutive months afterward. If he performs zihar while he is traveling, he should wait until he returns. And if he begins fasting and then acquires wealth, he should continue with what he had already started."

Hadith.4837 - Sama'ah narrated from Abu Basir, who said:

I heard Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} say: "A man came to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, I have performed zihar (declared my wife as unlawful to me).'"

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said: 'Go and free a slave.'

The man replied: 'I do not have one.'

The Prophet ^{saws} said: 'Then go and fast for two consecutive months.'

The man replied: 'I am not able to do so.'

The Prophet ^{saws} said: 'Then go and feed sixty poor people.'

The man replied: 'I do not have the means.'

The Messenger of Allah ^(SWT) (peace be upon him and his family) then said: 'I will give charity on your behalf.'

He (peace be upon him and his family) gave him dates to feed sixty poor people and said:

"Go and give this in charity."

The man said: "By the One who sent you with the truth as a Prophet ^{saws}, I do not know anyone between these two mountains (of Madinah) who is more in need of this than me and my family."

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said: "Then go and feed your family with it."

[AL SADUQ]

The author of this book, may Allah ^(SWT) have mercy on him, commented:

This narration regarding zihar is rare and uncommon because the well-known context for this type of expiation is related to the expiation for someone who breaks a fast in the month of Ramadan.

HADITH 4851 – 4858

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4851 - رَوَى أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ بْنُ أَبِي نَصْرٍ الْبَزَنْطِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْكَرِيمِ بْنِ عَمْرِو عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «لَا يَقَعُ اللَّعَانُ حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ الرَّجُلُ بِامْرَأَتِهِ». وَلَا يَكُونُ اللَّعَانُ إِلَّا بِتَفْيِ الْوَلَدِ وَإِذَا قَذَفَ الرَّجُلُ امْرَأَتَهُ وَ لَمْ يَنْتَفِ مِنْ وَلَدِهَا جُلِدَ ثَمَانِينَ جَلْدَةً فَإِنْ رَمَى امْرَأَتَهُ بِالْفُجُورِ وَ قَالَ إِنِّي رَأَيْتُ بَيْنَ رِجْلَيْهَا رَجُلًا يُجَامِعُهَا وَ أَنْكَرَ وَلَدَهَا فَإِنْ أَقَامَ عَلَيْهَا بِذَلِكَ أَرْبَعَةَ شُهُودٍ عُذُولٍ رُجِمَتْ وَ إِنْ لَمْ يَقُمْ عَلَيْهَا أَرْبَعَةَ شُهُودٍ لَاعَنَهَا فَإِنْ امْتَنَعَ مِنْ لِعَانِهَا ضُرِبَ حَدَّ الْمُفْتَرِي ثَمَانِينَ جَلْدَةً فَإِنْ لَاعَنَهَا دُرِيَ عَنْهُ الْحَدُّ.

Hadith.4851 - Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Nasr Al-Bazanti narrated from Abdul Karim ibn Amr, from Abu Basir, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}, who said:

"Lian (the mutual curse between spouses) does not take place unless the man has consummated the marriage with his wife."

[AL SADUQ]

Lian only occurs when the husband denies the paternity of a child. If a man accuses his wife of adultery without denying his child, he is to be lashed eighty times. However, if a man accuses his wife of adultery and says, "I saw a man between her legs having intercourse with her," and he also denies the child, then if he brings forward four just witnesses, she is to be stoned. If he cannot present four witnesses, he must perform lian against her. If he refuses to perform lian, he is subjected to the punishment for false accusation (qadhf), which is eighty lashes. But if he performs lian, the punishment is lifted from him.

4852 - وَ سَأَلَ الْبَزَنْطِيُّ أَبَا الْحَسَنِ الرِّضَا عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : فَقَالَ لَهُ أَصْلَحَكَ اللَّهُ كَيْفَ الْمُلَاعَنَةُ قَالَ «يَفْعُدُ الْإِمَامُ وَ يَجْعَلُ ظَهْرَهُ إِلَى الْقِبْلَةِ وَ يَجْعَلُ الرَّجُلَ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَ الْمَرْأَةَ وَ الصَّبِيَّ عَنْ يَسَارِهِ».

Hadith.4852 - Al-Bazanti asked Abu Al-Hasan Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s.}:

"May Allah ^{SWT} rectify your affairs, how is the procedure of li 'an (mutual cursing) carried out?"

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "The Imam sits with his back facing the Qibla, placing the man on his right side and the woman along with the child on his left side."

Hadith.4853 - In another narration, it is described that the man stands and swears four times by Allah ^{SWT}, saying: "Indeed, I am of the truthful in what I have accused her of."

Then the Imam says to him, "Fear Allah ^{SWT}, for the curse of Allah ^{SWT} is severe."

The man then says, "May the curse of Allah ^{SWT} be upon me if I am among the liars in what I have accused her of."

Then the woman stands and swears four times by Allah ^{SWT}, saying, "Indeed, he is among the liars in what he has accused me of."

The Imam then says to her, "Fear Allah ^{SWT}, for the anger of Allah ^{SWT} is severe."

She then says, "May the anger of Allah ^{SWT} be upon me if he is among the truthful in what he has accused me of."

[AL SADUQ]

If the woman refuses (nakalat) to perform the li'an (mutual curse), she is to be stoned, and the stoning should be carried out from behind her and not from the front. This is because striking and stoning should not target the face; rather, they should be directed at the body and limbs, while the face and private parts must be avoided.

If the woman is pregnant, she is not to be stoned. However, if she does not refuse to perform li'an, the punishment of stoning is lifted from her, and they are separated permanently. She will never be permissible for him again.

If anyone calls her child the offspring of adultery (ibn zaniyah), they are to be lashed the prescribed punishment for false accusation. If the man later acknowledges the child after the li'an, the child will be attributed to him, but the wife will not be returned to him. If the father dies, the child inherits from him. However, if the child dies, the father does not inherit from him; rather, the inheritance goes to the mother. If the mother is not alive, the inheritance goes to the child's maternal relatives, and no one from the father's side inherits from him.

If a man accuses his mute wife of adultery, they are to be separated. If a slave accuses his wife of adultery, they must perform li'an just as free men and women do.

Li'an applies between a free man and a free woman, between a slave and a free woman, between a free man and a female slave, between a male slave and a female slave, and between a Muslim man and a Jewish or Christian woman.

Hadith.4854 - Al-Alaa narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim who said: I asked Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about a free man performing li'an (mutual cursing) against a female slave.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, if it was her master who married her to him."

4855 - فَأَمَّا خَبَرُ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ مَحْبُوبٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ سِنَانٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «لَا يَلَاعِنُ الرَّجُلُ الْحُرَّ الْأَمَّةَ وَلَا الذَّمِّيَّةَ وَلَا الَّتِي يَتَمَتَّعُ بِهَا».

فَأَنَّهُ يَعْنِي الْأَمَّةَ الَّتِي يَطُوهَا بِمِلْكِ الْيَمِينِ وَالذَّمِّيَّةَ الَّتِي هِيَ مَمْلُوكَةٌ لَهُ وَ لَمْ تُسْلِمَ وَالْحَدِيثُ الْمَقْسَرُ يَحْكُمُ عَلَى الْمُجْمَلِ وَإِذَا لَاعَنَ الرَّجُلُ امْرَأَتَهُ وَ هِيَ حُبْلَى ثُمَّ ادَّعَى وَلَدَهَا بَعْدَ مَا وَلَدَتْ وَ زَعَمَ أَنَّهُ مِنْهُ رَدَّ إِلَيْهِ الْوَلَدَ وَ لَا يُجْلَدُ لِأَنَّهُ قَدْ مَضَى الثَّلَاغُنَ رَوَى ذَلِكَ الْبَرْزَنْطِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْكَرِيمِ عَنِ الْحَلَبِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ.

Hadith.4855 - As for the narration of Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub from Abdullah ibn Sinan, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said: "A free man does not perform li'an (mutual cursing) against a female slave, nor against a non-Muslim woman (dhimmiyyah), nor against a woman with whom he is in a temporary marriage (mut'ah),"

[AL SADUQ]

For he means the bondwoman whom he has intercourse with through ownership, milk al yamin, and the Dhimmi woman who is his possession and has not embraced Islam.

And the explained narration takes precedence over the general one.

And if a man performs mutual imprecation, lian, with his wife while she is pregnant, then later, after she gives birth, he claims the child and asserts that it is his, the child is returned to him, and he is not subjected to lashing because the mutual imprecation has already taken place.

This was narrated by al Bazanti from Abd al Karim from al Halabi from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}.

Hadith.4856 - Muhammad ibn Ali ibn Mahbub narrated from Muhammad ibn Isa, from Al-Husayn ibn Alwan, from Amr ibn Khalid, from Zayd ibn Ali ^{a.s} regarding a man who accused his wife of adultery and then left, only to return and find that she had passed away.

Zayd ^{a.s} said: "He is given a choice between two options.

It is said to him: 'If you wish, you can accept the blame upon yourself, in which case the prescribed punishment (hadd) will be carried out on you, and you will be entitled to her inheritance. However, if you choose to admit to your accusation, you must perform li'an (mutual cursing) with her closest living relative, and in that case, you will not inherit from her.'"

Hadith.4857 - Al-Hasan ibn Ali Al-Kufi narrated from Al-Husayn ibn Saif, from Muhammad ibn Sulayman, from Abu Ja'far Al-Thani ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him: "May I be sacrificed for you, why is it that when a man accuses his wife of adultery, his testimony consists of four oaths by Allah ^{SWT}, but if someone else, such as a father, brother, son, or even a stranger - accuses her, he is subjected to the hadd punishment unless he provides clear evidence for his claim?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: " Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} was asked the same question and said: 'If a husband accuses his wife and claims, "I saw it with my own eyes," his testimony is four oaths by Allah ^{SWT}.

However, if he says he did not see it himself, he is told to bring evidence for his claim, and if he fails, he is treated like anyone else.'

This is because Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, has given the husband a special access to his wife that no one else has—neither a father, a son, nor anyone else. He has access to her day and night, so it is valid for him to say, 'I saw.'

But if anyone else were to say, 'I saw,' it would be said to him, 'How did you have access to such a place to witness this alone? You are under suspicion and must be subjected to the hadd punishment that Allah ^{SWT} has prescribed for you.'"

Hadith.4858 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Abdul Rahman ibn Al-Hajjaj who said:

Abbad Al-Basri asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, while I was present with him, "How does a man invoke the mutual imprecation (li'an) against his wife?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "A man from among the Muslims came to the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) and said: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what do you say about a man who enters his house and finds another man with his wife, engaged in intercourse, what should he do about them?"

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) turned away from him, and the man left. That man was, in fact, the one who had been afflicted with this situation concerning his wife.

Then, revelation descended from Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, with the ruling regarding their case.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) sent for the man and called him.

He ^{saws} said to him: 'Are you the one who saw a man with your wife?'

He replied: 'Yes.'

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) then said: 'Go and bring your wife to me, for Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, has revealed the ruling concerning you and her.'

The husband brought his wife, and the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) had her stand before him ^{saws}.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said to the husband: "Bear witness four times by Allah ^{SWT} that you are among the truthful in what you have accused her of."

The man testified accordingly.

Then the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace be upon him and his family) said: "Pause," and He ^{saws} admonished him, saying, "Fear Allah ^{SWT}, for the curse of Allah ^{SWT} is severe."

He ^{saws} then instructed him: "Now bear witness the fifth time that the curse of Allah ^{SWT} is upon you if you are among the liars."

The man testified the fifth time.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) then ordered that the man be set aside and turned to the woman, saying: "Bear witness four times by Allah ^{SWT} that your husband is among the liars in what he has accused you of."

She testified accordingly.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) then said: "Pause," and He ^{saws} admonished her, saying, "Fear Allah ^{SWT}, for the anger of Allah ^{SWT} is severe."

He ^{saws} then told her: "Now bear witness the fifth time that the anger of Allah ^{SWT} is upon you if your husband is among the truthful in what he has accused you of."

She testified the fifth time.

The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) then separated them and said: "You two can never be joined together in marriage again after you have both engaged in li'an."

HADITH 4859 – 4874

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4859 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْفَضِيلِ عَنْ أَبِي الْحَسَنِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «طَلَاقُ الْعَبْدِ إِذَا تَزَوَّجَ إِمْرَأَةً حُرَّةً أَوْ تَزَوَّجَ وَلِيدَةً قَوْمٍ آخَرِينَ إِلَى الْعَبْدِ وَ إِنْ تَزَوَّجَ وَلِيدَةً مَوْلَاهُ كَانَ لَهُ أَنْ يَفْرُقَ بَيْنَهُمَا أَوْ يَجْمَعَ بَيْنَهُمَا إِنْ شَاءَ وَ إِنْ شَاءَ نَزَعَهَا مِنْهُ بِغَيْرِ طَلَاقٍ».

Hadith.4859 - Muhammad ibn Al-Fudayl narrated from Abu Al-Hasan ^{a.s}, who said:

"The divorce of a slave who marries a free woman or marries a bondwoman belonging to another people is in the hands of the slave himself. However, if he marries a bondwoman owned by his master, the master has the authority to either separate them or keep them together if he wishes. Additionally, if he wants, he can take her away from him without the need for a formal divorce."

Hadith.4860 - Ibn Udhaynah narrated from Zurarah, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} and Abu Abdullah Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, who both said:

"A slave cannot validly perform a divorce or marriage except with the permission of his master." I asked: "If the master himself arranged his marriage, who then has the authority over the divorce?"

They ^{a.s} replied: "The authority over the divorce remains with the master, as Allah ^{SWT} has set forth the example: 'Allah sets forth a parable: a slave who is owned and has no power over anything...' (Surah An-Nahl 16:75) and 'anything' here refers to divorce."

Hadith.4861 - Al-Qasim ibn Muhammad Al-Jawhari narrated from Ali ibn Abi Ḥamzah, from Abu Baṣīr, from Abu Abdullah Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, who said:

I asked him about a man who marries off his bondswoman (amah) to a free man or to a slave belonging to another group of people.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The master does not have the right to take her back from her husband. However, if he sells her and the one who purchases her wishes to separate her from her husband, he is permitted to do so."

Hadith.4862 - Ibn Bukayr narrated from Zurarah, who said:

I asked Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} about a slave who married without the permission of his master.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "This matter is up to the master. If he wishes, he can approve the marriage, and if he wishes, he can separate them."

I said: "May Allah ^{SWT} rectify your affairs! Al-Ḥakam ibn 'Uṭaybah, Ibrahim al-Nakha'i, and their companions say that the marriage is invalid from the outset, and the master's approval does not make it lawful."

Imam ^{a.s} responded: "He only disobeyed his master but did not disobey Allah ^{SWT}. Therefore, if the master approves it, the marriage becomes valid."

Hadith.4869 - Muḥammad ibn Al-Fuḍayl narrated from Abu Al-Ṣabbāḥ Al-Kinani, from Abu Abdullah ^(a.s), who said: "If a bondwoman is sold while she has a husband, the buyer has the choice—if he wishes, he may separate them, and if he wishes, he may leave her with her husband. However, if he chooses to leave her with him, he can no longer separate them after agreeing to that."

Imam ^(a.s) further said: "If a male slave is sold, then his new master has the same choice as the buyer of the bondwoman. But if the master consents to leave them together, he cannot separate them after that consent."

Hadith.4870 - Al-Ḥasan ibn Maḥbub narrated from Malik ibn ‘Aṭiyyah, from Sulayman ibn Khalid, who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a man whose father was a slave and whose father had a wife who was a mukatabah (a bondwoman under a contract for her freedom) and had already paid part of what she owed.

The son of the slave said to her: "Would you like me to help you complete your manumission payment so that you can fulfill what you owe, on the condition that you will not have the option to separate from my father once you gain your freedom?"

She agreed, and he gave her the amount for her manumission.

I asked: "Would she still have the choice to leave his father after that?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "No, she does not have the option. Muslims are bound by their conditions."

Hadith.4874 - Muḥammad ibn Qays narrated from Abu Jafar Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} who said:

"The Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} ruled concerning a concubine of a man who bore a child for her master. The master then married her to his slave.

Later, the master passed away and freed her. She then married the slave, and when he died, her child inherited from him. Then the child passed away, and she inherited her husband, the slave. They both came to dispute, with the man saying, 'She is my wife, and I will not divorce her,' while the woman said: 'He is my slave, and he has not been intimate with me.'

She was asked: 'Did he have intercourse with you since he became your slave?'

She replied: 'No.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'Had he been intimate with you after becoming your slave, I would have punished you. Go, for he is your slave; he has no right over you. You may sell him if you wish, enslave him if you wish, or free him if you wish.'

Hadith.4875 - Abdullah ibn Miskan narrated from Faql ibn 'Abd al-Malik al-Baqbaqi who said:

I asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s) about a man who divorced his wife while he was ill.

Imam ^(a.s) said: "She inherits from him during his illness for up to a year if he dies from that illness. She observes the waiting period ('iddah) from the day he divorced her, following the waiting period of a divorced woman. After her waiting period ends, she may remarry. However, she will inherit from him within the span of a year if he dies from that illness. If he dies after a year has passed, then she has no right to inheritance."

Hadith.4883 - In a narration from Umar ibn Udhayna through Buraid ibn Mu'awiyah, it is reported that he asked Abu Abdullah ^(a.s) about the ruling concerning the wife of a missing person.

Imam ^(a.s) replied: "As long as she remains silent about him and is patient, she should be left as she is. However, if she raises the matter to the authority, the ruler will wait for four years. Then, a letter will be sent to the region where he was lost, inquiring about him.

If news of his life is received, she must remain patient. If no information about his life is found after four years, the guardian of the missing husband will be summoned and asked if the missing person has any wealth.

If he has wealth, it should be spent on her until his life or death becomes known. If he has no wealth, the guardian will be instructed to provide for her. If he agrees, she cannot remarry as long as he supports her. However, if he refuses to provide for her, the ruler will compel him to issue a divorce while she is in a state of purity.

This divorce by the guardian will be considered as a divorce by the husband. If the husband returns before her waiting period ends and wishes to reconcile, she remains his wife and is counted as having two remaining divorces. But if the waiting period ends before his return and reconciliation, she becomes permissible for other men, and the first husband has no claim over her."

Hadith.4884 - In another narration, it is reported:

"If the missing husband has no guardian, the ruler will pronounce the divorce on his behalf, witnessing it with two just witnesses. This divorce by the ruler will be considered as the husband's divorce. The woman will then observe a waiting period (iddah) of four months and ten days. After completing this period, she may remarry if she wishes."

Hadith.4888 - Musa ibn Bakr narrated from Zurara who said: I asked Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} about a woman who was informed that her husband had passed away, so she observed her waiting period (iddah) and remarried. Then her first husband returned, leading both her first and second husbands to separate from her. I asked how long she should observe the waiting period for people (before remarrying).

Imam ^{a.s} said: "Three menstrual cycles (qur). Indeed, her womb is cleared after three menstrual cycles, which makes her lawful for all men."

[AL SADUQ]

Zurara added that some people had said she must observe two separate waiting periods, one for each husband, but Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} rejected this and stated that she must only observe three menstrual cycles (qur) to become lawful for marriage.

Hadith.4890 - Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Nasr al-Bazanti narrated from Muhammad ibn Sama'ah, from Zurara, from Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} who said: I asked Imam ^{a.s} about a man who said to his wife: "You are forbidden to me." Imam ^{a.s} replied: "If I had authority over him, I would have struck his head and said to him, 'Allah ^{SWT} the Exalted has made her lawful for you, so who has made her forbidden for you?' He has done nothing more than lie, claiming that what Allah ^{SWT} has made lawful for him is forbidden. This does not count as divorce nor does it require any expiation." I then asked Imam ^{a.s} about the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic: "O Prophet! Why do you forbid (yourself) what Allah ^{SWT} has made lawful for you, seeking to please your wives? And Allah ^{SWT} is Forgiving, Merciful. Allah ^{SWT} has already ordained for you (Muslims) the dissolution of your oaths." (Surah At-Tahrim 66:1-2) Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had forbidden himself from his bondwoman Mariyah and had sworn not to approach her. The expiation was made obligatory on him because of his oath, not because of the prohibition."

CHAPTER 174 – CHAPTER ON THE RULING REGARDING AN IMPOTENT HUSBAND

بَابُ حُكْمِ الْعِنِّينِ

🌀 HADITH 4891 – 4898 🌀

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4891 - رَوَى مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ بْنِ مَحْبُوبٍ عَنْ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الْفَضْلِ الْهَاشِمِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لَهُ أَوْ سَأَلَهُ رَجُلٌ عَنْ رَجُلٍ ادَّعَتْ عَلَيْهِ امْرَأَتُهُ أَنَّهُ عِنْنٌ وَ يُنْكِرُ ذَلِكَ الرَّجُلُ قَالَ «تَحْشَوْهَا الْقَابِلَةُ بِالْخُلُوقِ وَ لَا يَعْلَمُ الرَّجُلُ وَ يَدْخُلُ عَلَيْهَا فَإِنْ حَرَجَ وَ عَلَى ذِكْرِهِ الْخُلُوقُ صَدَقَ وَ كَذَبَتْ وَ إِلَّا صَدَقَتْ وَ كَذَبَ».

Hadith.4891 - Muhammad ibn Ali ibn Mahbub narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from his father, from Abdullah ibn al-Fadl al-Hashimi, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s} who said:

I asked Imam ^{a.s}, or a man asked Imam ^{a.s}, about a man whose wife accused him of being impotent while the man denied it.

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "The midwife should apply khaluq (a type of perfume) to her without the man's knowledge. Then the man should enter upon her. If he comes out and khaluq is found on his private part, he has spoken the truth and she has lied. But if it is not found, then she has spoken the truth and he has lied."

4892 - وَ فِي خَبَرٍ آخَرَ قَالَ الصَّادِقُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ : «إِذَا ادَّعَتِ الْمَرْأَةُ عَلَى زَوْجِهَا أَنَّهُ عِنْنٌ وَ أَنْكَرَ الرَّجُلُ أَنْ يَكُونَ كَذَلِكَ فَالْحُكْمُ فِيهِ أَنْ يَفْعَدَ الرَّجُلُ فِي مَاءٍ بَارِدٍ فَإِنْ اسْتَرَخَى ذَكَرُهُ فَهُوَ عِنْنٌ وَ إِنْ تَشَنَّجَ فَلَيْسَ بِعِنْنٍ».

Hadith.4892 - In another narration, Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} said:

"If a woman accuses her husband of being impotent ('innin) and the man denies it, the ruling in this case is that the man should sit in cold water. If his private part becomes relaxed, then he is indeed impotent. But if it becomes tense, then he is not impotent."

4893 - وَ رُوِيَ فِي خَبَرٍ آخَرَ: «أَنَّهُ يُطْعَمُ السَّمَكُ الطَّرِيَّ ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ ثُمَّ يُقَالُ لَهُ بُلْ عَلَى الرَّمَادِ فَإِنْ ثَقَبَ بَوْلُهُ الرَّمَادَ فَلَيْسَ بِعِنْنٍ وَ إِنْ لَمْ يَثْقُبْ بَوْلُهُ الرَّمَادَ فَهُوَ عِنْنٌ».

Hadith.4893 - In another narration, it is reported:

"The man is to be fed fresh fish for three days, and then he is instructed to urinate on ashes. If his urine penetrates through the ashes, he is not impotent. However, if his urine does not penetrate the ashes, then he is indeed impotent."

Hadith.4894 - Safwan ibn Yahya narrated from Aban, from Ghiyath, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.}, who said: "In the case of an impotent man, if it is confirmed that he is indeed impotent and unable to approach women, they are to be separated. However, if he engages in intercourse with her even once, they are not to be separated. Moreover, a man cannot be rejected due to any physical defect."

Hadith.4895 - Al-Hasan ibn Mahbub narrated from Khalid ibn Jarir, from Abu Al-Rabi' Al-Shami, who said: Abu Abdullah ^{a.s.} was asked about a man who married a woman and stayed with her for several days but was unable to consummate the marriage. However, he had seen from her what would make it forbidden for anyone else. Then he divorced her. He was asked whether it would be permissible for him to marry her daughter.

Imam ^{a.s.} replied: "It is not permissible for him as he has seen from her mother what he has seen."

Hadith.4899 - It has been narrated from Abu Said al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) advised Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s}, saying:

"O Ali ^{a.s}, when the bride enters your house, remove her shoes when she sits, wash her feet, and pour the water from the entrance of your house to the farthest part of your home. If you do this, Allah ^{SWT} will remove seventy thousand kinds of poverty from your house and bring in seventy thousand kinds of blessings. Seventy mercies will descend upon her, fluttering over her head, and their blessings will reach every corner of your house. The bride will be protected from insanity, leprosy, and vitiligo as long as she remains in that house.

Prevent the bride, during her first week, from consuming milk, vinegar, coriander, and sour apples.

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: 'O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, why should I prevent her from these four things?'

He (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: 'Because the womb becomes barren and cold from these four things, which affect childbearing. A simple mat in the corner of the house is better than a woman who does not bear children.'

Imam Ali ibn Abi Talib ^{a.s} asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, what is the reason for avoiding vinegar?"

He (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: "If she menstruates while consuming vinegar, she will never attain complete purity. Coriander provokes menstruation in her womb and makes childbirth difficult for her. Sour apples cut off her menstruation and may cause illness for her."

Then he (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said:

"O Ali ^{a.s}, do not approach your wife for intimacy at the beginning, middle, or end of the month, for insanity, leprosy, and mental disorder may affect her and your child.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not engage in intimacy with your wife after noon, for if a child is conceived at that time, it may be cross-eyed, and Satan rejoices at cross-eyed humans.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not speak during intimacy, for if a child is conceived, there is a risk that it may be born mute. And let no one look at the private parts of his wife; rather, he should lower his gaze during intimacy, for looking at the private parts causes blindness in the offspring.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not engage in intimacy with your wife while imagining another woman, for I fear that if a child is conceived, it may be born as an effeminate or feminine-minded person.

O Ali ^{a.s}, if a person is in a state of major ritual impurity (junub) while in bed with his wife, he should not recite the Quran, for I fear that a fire from the sky may descend upon them and burn them."

The compiler of this book, may Allah ^{SWT} have mercy on him, explained that the prohibition refers specifically to the recitation of the verses of prostration (Ayat al-Aza'im), and not to other parts of the Quran.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) continued saying:

"O Ali ^{a.s}, do not engage in intimacy with your wife unless you have a cloth with you and she has a cloth with her, and do not wipe yourselves with the same cloth, for the desire will accumulate upon desire, which leads to enmity between you, eventually resulting in separation and divorce.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not have relations with your wife while standing, for that is the behavior of donkeys. If a child is conceived in that state, he will urinate in the bed like donkeys that urinate everywhere.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not have relations with your wife on the night of Eid al-Adha, for if a child is conceived, he may be born with six fingers or four fingers.

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not engage in intimacy with your wife under a fruit-bearing tree, for if a child is conceived in such a place, he may become a harsh and ruthless killer or a commander over others."

O Ali ^{a.s}, do not have relations with your wife in the presence of the sun and its brightness unless you lower a covering to conceal yourselves, for if a child is conceived in such a state, he will live in misery and poverty until he dies.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not engage in intimacy with your wife between the call to prayer (adhan) and the commencement of prayer (iqamah), for if a child is conceived, he will be eager to shed blood.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, when your wife is pregnant, do not have relations with her unless you are in a state of ablution (wudu), for if a child is conceived, he will be blind of heart and stingy in hand.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not have relations with your wife on the night of the middle of Shaban, for if a child is conceived, he will be unfortunate and may have a mark on his face.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not have relations with your wife in the final days of the month, when only two days remain, for if a child is conceived, he will become a tax collector or an aide to oppressors, and the destruction of many people will be at his hands.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not have relations with your wife on the rooftops of buildings, for if a child is conceived, he will become a hypocrite, a show-off, and an innovator in religion.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, when you set out on a journey, do not engage in intimacy with your wife on the night of your departure, for if a child is conceived, he will spend his wealth inappropriately.

The Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) then recited: "Indeed, the spendthrifts are brothers of the devils."

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not have relations with your wife when you are leaving on a journey of three days and nights, for if a child is conceived, he will become a supporter of every oppressor against you.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, engage in intimacy with your wife on Monday nights, for if a child is conceived, he will be a guardian of the Book of Allah ^{SWT} and content with what Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has decreed.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, if you have relations with your wife on Tuesday night and a child is conceived, he will be granted martyrdom after bearing witness to La ilaha illa Allah ^{SWT} (There is no god but Allah ^{SWT}) and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}. He will not be punished alongside the polytheists, and he will have a pleasant scent, a merciful heart, generous hands, and a tongue pure from gossip, lies, and false accusations.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, if you have relations with your wife on Thursday night and a child is conceived, he will become a judge among judges or a scholar among scholars.

If you have relations with her on Thursday during the time when the sun is at its zenith, and a child is conceived, Satan will not approach him until he reaches old age. He will be righteous and Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, will grant him safety in both religion and worldly matters.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, if you have relations with her on Friday night and a child is conceived, he will become an eloquent speaker and a persuasive orator.

If you have relations with her on Friday after the afternoon (Asr) prayer and a child is conceived, he will be known, famous, and a scholar.

If you have relations with her on Friday night after the late evening (Isha) prayer, it is hoped that the child will be among the abdal (pious individuals), if Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, wills.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, do not have relations with your wife in the early hours of the night, for if a child is conceived, there is a risk that he may become a sorcerer and one who prefers the worldly life over the Hereafter.

O Ali ^{a.s.}, safeguard this advice of mine just as I have preserved it from Jibril ^{a.s.}."

Hadith.4900 - A man from the companions of Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} complained about his wife.

Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} stood up to deliver a sermon and said:

"O people! Do not obey women in every matter and do not entrust them with wealth. Do not leave them to manage household affairs, for if they are left to act as they wish, they will lead to destruction and overstep the authority of the owner.

Indeed, we have found them lacking in piety when fulfilling their needs and impatient when pursuing their desires. Vanity is inherent in them even as they grow older, and pride clings to them even when they become weak.

They do not appreciate abundance when denied little; they forget the good but remember the bad. They rush into slander, persist in transgression, and align themselves with Satan. So, handle them with care in all circumstances and speak kindly to them so they may act righteously."

As for the misfortune of a woman, it is in her high dowry and her disobedience to her husband.

As for the mount, it is in its bad temperament and its refusal to allow itself to be ridden.

And as for the house, it is in its narrow space, its bad neighbors, and its many defects."

"Indeed, Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, dislikes for you, O nation, twenty-four traits and has forbidden you from them.

He ^{SWT} dislikes frivolity during prayer, boasting in charity, laughing among graves, peeking into homes, and looking at the private parts of women."

He ^{saws} said: "It leads to blindness."

He ^{SWT} has disliked speaking during intercourse.

He ^{saws} said: "It leads to muteness."

He ^{SWT} has disliked sleeping before the last ('Isha) prayer and disliked talking after the last ('Isha) prayer.

He ^{SWT} has disliked bathing under the open sky without a loincloth, disliked intercourse under the open sky, and disliked entering rivers without a loincloth.

He ^{saws} said: "There are inhabitants and dwellers from among the angels in the rivers."

He ^{SWT} has disliked entering bathhouses without a loincloth, disliked talking between the adhan and the iqamah for the morning prayer until the prayer is completed, disliked sailing in the sea during a storm, and disliked sleeping on a rooftop that is not enclosed."

He ^{saws} said: "Whoever sleeps on a rooftop that is not enclosed, the protection (of Allah) is lifted from him."

He ^{SWT} has disliked a man sleeping alone in a house and disliked a man approaching his wife while she is in menstruation. If he does so and the child is born with leprosy or vitiligo, then he should blame none but himself.

He ^{SWT} has disliked a man approaching a woman after having experienced a wet dream until he has performed ghusl from the dream he saw. If he does so and the child is born insane, then he should blame none but himself.

He ^{SWT} has disliked a man speaking to a leper unless there is a distance of at least one arm's length between them.

He ^{saws} said: "Flee from a leper as you would flee from a lion."

He ^{SWT} has disliked urinating on the bank of a flowing river and disliked relieving oneself under a fruit-bearing tree that has ripened, or a palm tree that has borne fruit.

He ^{SWT} has disliked putting on shoes while standing, disliked entering a dark house unless there is a lamp or fire in front of him, and disliked blowing (with the mouth) during prayer."

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Because the honor of the Qur'an is in his heart, and pure faith is in his chest. He is a servant obedient to Allah ^{SWT} and His Messenger ^{saws}, and he is truthful."

Imam ^{a.s} was asked: "Why is the believer sometimes the most stingy?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Because he earns his sustenance from lawful means, and seeking lawful sustenance is difficult. Therefore, he dislikes parting with it, knowing how precious it is. But if he is generous, he only spends it where it is appropriate."

Imam ^{a.s} was asked: "Why is the believer sometimes the most desirous in marriage?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "To protect his chastity from unlawful relations and so that his desires do not sway him in one direction or another. Thus, when he attains what is lawful, he suffices with it and feels no need for anything else."

Imam ^{a.s} also said: "The strength of the believer is in his heart. Do you not see that he may appear physically weak and thin, yet he stands in prayer at night and fasts during the day?"

CHAPTER 176 – CHAPTER ON RECOGNIZING THE MAJOR SINS FOR WHICH ALLAH {SWT}, THE ALMIGHTY, HAS THREATENED WITH HELLFIRE

بَابُ مَعْرِفَةِ الْكَبَائِرِ الَّتِي أَوْعَدَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ عَلَيْهَا النَّارَ

🕒 HADITH 4931 – 4967 🕒

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

4931 - رَوَى عَلِيُّ بْنُ حَسَّانَ الْوَاسِطِيُّ عَنْ عَمِّهِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ كَثِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ: «إِنَّ الْكَبَائِرَ سَبْعٌ فِينَا أَنْزَلَتْ وَ مِنَّا أَسْجَلَتْ فَأُولَئِهَا الشُّرْكُ بِاللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ وَ قَتْلُ النَّفْسِ «الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ» عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ وَ أَكْلُ مَالِ الْيَتِيمِ وَ عُقُوقُ الْوَالِدَيْنِ وَ قَذْفُ الْمُحْصَنَةِ وَ الْفِرَارُ مِنَ الرَّحْفِ وَ انْكَارُ حَقِّنَا فَأَمَّا الشُّرْكُ بِاللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ فَقَدْ أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ فِينَا مَا أَنْزَلَ وَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ فِينَا مَا قَالَ فَكَذَّبُوا اللَّهَ وَ كَذَّبُوا رَسُولَهُ فَأَشْرَكُوا بِاللَّهِ وَ أَمَّا قَتْلُ النَّفْسِ «الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ»

فَقَدْ قَتَلُوا الْحُسَيْنَ بْنَ عَلِيٍّ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ وَ أَصْحَابَهُ وَ أَمَّا أَكْلُ مَالِ الْيَتِيمِ فَقَدْ ذَهَبُوا بِفَيْئِنَا الَّذِي جَعَلَهُ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ لَنَا فَأَعْطَوْهُ غَيْرَنَا وَ أَمَّا عُقُوقُ الْوَالِدَيْنِ فَقَدْ أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ تَبَارَكَ وَ تَعَالَى ذَلِكَ فِي كِتَابِهِ فَقَالَ عَزَّ وَ جَلَّ: ﴿الْبَيْتِ أُولَى بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ مِنْ أَنْفُسِهِمْ وَ أَزْوَاجُهُ أُمَّهَاتُهُمْ﴾ ﴿فَعَقُّوا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَ آلِهِ فِي ذُرِّيَّتِهِ وَ عَقُّوا أُمَّهُمْ خَدِيجَةَ فِي ذُرِّيَّتِهَا وَ أَمَّا قَذْفُ الْمُحْصَنَةِ فَقَدْ قَذَّفُوا فَاطِمَةَ عَلَيْهَا السَّلَامُ عَلَى مَنَابِرِهِمْ وَ أَمَّا الْفِرَارُ مِنَ الرَّحْفِ فَقَدْ أَعْطَوْا أَمِيرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ بَيْعَتَهُمْ طَائِعِينَ غَيْرَ مُكْرَهِينَ فَفَرُّوا عَنْهُ وَ خَذَلُوهُ وَ أَمَّا انْكَارُ حَقِّنَا فَهَذَا مِمَّا لَا يَتَنَازَعُونَ فِيهِ».

Hadith.4931 - Ali ibn Hassan al-Wasiti narrated from his uncle, Abdur-Rahman ibn Kathir, from Abu Abdullah ^{a.s}, who said:

"Indeed, the major sins are seven, revealed concerning us and made permissible against us. The first of them is associating partners with Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, the killing of a soul 'which Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden' (Almighty and Majestic), consuming the wealth of an orphan, disobedience to parents, accusing a chaste woman, fleeing from the battlefield, and denying our (Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}) right.

As for associating partners with Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty, Allah ^{SWT} has revealed regarding us what He ^{SWT} has revealed, and the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) has spoken about us what He ^{saws} has spoken. But they denied Allah ^{SWT} and denied His Messenger ^{saws}, thus associating partners with Allah ^{SWT}.

And as for the killing of a soul 'which Allah has forbidden', Indeed, they killed Imam Hussain ibn Ali ^{a.s} and his companions.

As for consuming the wealth of the orphan, they took away our (Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}) rightful share of the spoils that Allah ^{SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, had assigned to us and gave it to others instead of us.

As for disobedience to parents, Allah ^{SWT}, the Blessed and Exalted, revealed this in His ^{SWT} Book, saying: 'The Prophet is closer to the believers than their own selves, and his wives are their mothers' (Surah Al-Ahzab 33:6). Yet, they disobeyed the Messenger of Allah ^{SWT} (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) concerning his progeny, and they disobeyed their mother Khadijah through her children.

As for accusing a chaste woman, they accused Sayyida Fatimah ^{s.a} from their pulpits.

As for fleeing from the battlefield, they pledged allegiance to the Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} willingly, without coercion, but they abandoned Him ^{a.s} and betrayed Him ^{a.s}.

As for denying Our (Ahlulbayt ^{a.s}) right, this is they do without dispute."

has certainly drawn upon himself the wrath of Allah, and his refuge is Hell—and wretched is the destination’ (Surah Al-Anfal 8:16).

And consuming usury, for Allah {SWT}, the Exalted, says: ‘Those who consume usury will not stand except as one stands who is being beaten by Satan into insanity’ (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:275).

And Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘O you who have believed, fear Allah and give up what remains [due to you] of usury, if you should be believers. But if you do not, then be informed of a war from Allah and His Messenger...’ (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:278-279).

And sorcery, for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘And they certainly knew that whoever purchased it would have no share in the Hereafter...’ (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:102).

And fornication, for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘And whoever does that shall meet a penalty. The punishment will be doubled for him on the Day of Resurrection, and he will abide therein humiliated—except for those who repent and believe...’ (Surah Al-Furqan 25:68-70).

And the false oath (al-yamin al-ghamus), for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘Indeed, those who exchange the covenant of Allah and their oaths for a small price will have no share in the Hereafter...’ (Surah Aal-e-Imran 3:77).

And misappropriation (ghulul), for Allah {SWT}, the Exalted, says: ‘And whoever misappropriates [an item], he will bring forth what he misappropriated on the Day of Resurrection...’ (Surah Aal-e-Imran 3:161)."

And withholding the obligatory Zakat, for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘On the Day when it will be heated in the fire of Hell and their foreheads, their sides, and their backs will be branded with it: This is what you hoarded for yourselves, so taste what you used to hoard’ (Surah At-Tawbah 9:35).

And false testimony and concealing testimony, for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘And whoever conceals it, his heart is sinful’ (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:283).

And drinking intoxicants, for Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, has equated it with the worship of idols.

And deliberately abandoning prayer or anything that Allah {SWT}, the Almighty and Majestic, has made obligatory, for the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him and his family) said: ‘Whoever deliberately abandons prayer has indeed removed himself from the protection of Allah, the Almighty and Majestic, and the protection of His Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him and his family).’

And breaking covenants and severing family ties {SWT}, for Allah, the Almighty and Majestic, says: ‘For them is the curse, and for them is the worst home’ (Surah Ar-Ra’d 13:25).

Then ‘Amr ibn ‘Ubayd left, crying loudly and saying, 'Perished is the one who speaks based on his own opinion and disputes with you (Imam {a.s}) in virtue and knowledge!'"

Hadith.4934 - Imam Ali ibn Musa Ar-Ridha ^{a.s} wrote to Muhammad ibn Sinan in response to his questions:

"Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden the killing of a soul because of the corruption it would cause among creation if it were permitted, leading to their annihilation and the disruption of order.

Allah ^{SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, has forbidden disobedience to parents because it entails abandoning reverence for Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, and respect for parents. It also involves ingratitude for blessings, the nullification of gratitude, and leads to a decrease and eventual cessation of offspring due to the lack of respect and recognition of parents' rights, the severing of family ties, and the parents' disinterest in their children, resulting in neglecting their upbringing due to the child's failure to honor them.

Allah ^{SWT}, the Exalted, has forbidden adultery because of the corruption it brings, such as the killing of souls, the loss of lineage, neglect in raising children, the disruption of inheritance, and other forms of corruption that arise from it.

And Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forbidden the slandering of chaste women because it leads to the corruption of lineage, denial of children, disruption of inheritance, neglect in upbringing, and the loss of relationships and associations. It also includes grave sins and causes that lead to the corruption of creation.

Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden the consumption of an orphan's wealth unjustly due to many reasons related to corruption. The foremost of these is that when a person consumes the wealth of an orphan unjustly, it is as if he has contributed to the orphan's death. The orphan is not self-sufficient, cannot manage his own affairs, and has no one to care for him as his parents would. Thus, when his wealth is consumed, it is as though he has been killed, leading him to poverty and destitution, in addition to what Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden and the punishment He has set, as Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, says: 'And let those fear [injustice] who, if they left behind weak offspring, would be fearful for them. So let them fear Allah and speak words of appropriate justice' (Surah An-Nisa 4:9)."

And Abu Ja'far Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} said: "Indeed, Allah ^{SWT} has promised two punishments for consuming the wealth of an orphan: a punishment in this world and a punishment in the Hereafter."

Thus, the prohibition of consuming the wealth of an orphan ensures the preservation of the orphan, their independence, and the safety of their descendants from facing the same consequences due to the punishment Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has promised. Additionally, it prevents the orphan from seeking revenge when they grow up and stops the spread of hatred, enmity, and hostility, which could lead to mutual destruction.

Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden fleeing from the battlefield because it weakens the religion, shows disregard for the messengers and just Imams (peace be upon them), and results in abandoning their support against enemies. It leads to punishment for denying what they called toward—acknowledging the Lordship ^{AZJ} of Allah ^{SWT}, establishing justice, and rejecting oppression—thus allowing oppression and corruption to prevail. Moreover, it emboldens the enemy against Muslims, leading to captivity, killing, and the nullification of Allah's ^{SWT} true religion and other forms of corruption.

Allah {SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forbidden reverting to a nomadic life after migration because it entails turning away from religion, abandoning the support of prophets and divine proofs (peace be upon them), and causing corruption while nullifying the rights of those deserving them. This prohibition is not due to merely living in the desert. For this reason, if a person fully understands the religion, it is impermissible for them to live among the ignorant and those who instill fear, as there is a risk they may abandon knowledge, associate with the ignorant, and persist in ignorance.

The reason for the prohibition of usury is due to what Allah {SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forbidden and because of the corruption it brings to wealth. When a person buys one dirham with two dirhams, the value of one dirham is legitimate while the other is invalid. Thus, both selling and buying through usury result in loss for both the buyer and the seller in every case. Therefore, Allah {SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forbidden usury due to the corruption it causes in wealth, just as He has prohibited handing over wealth to the foolish because of the fear that they would squander it, until their sound judgment is observed. For this reason, Allah {SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, has forbidden usury.

The sale involving usury is like selling one dirham for two dirhams. The reason for the prohibition of usury, even after clear evidence, is because it reflects disregard for what Allah {SWT} has forbidden. It becomes a major sin after clarification, and Allah's {SWT} prohibition of it is only due to treating the sacred and forbidden lightly. Taking it lightly leads to disbelief.

The reason for the prohibition of deferred usury (riba al-nasi'ah) is because it leads to the loss of kindness, the destruction of wealth, people becoming overly focused on profit, abandoning loans, and neglecting charitable lending, which is a form of kindness. It results in corruption, oppression, and the eventual destruction of wealth."

Hadith.4937 - Hisham ibn al-Hakam asked Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} about the reason for the prohibition of usury.

Imam ^{a.s} said: "If usury had been permissible, people would have abandoned trade and the things they need. Therefore, Allah ^{SWT} forbade usury so that people would turn away from what is unlawful toward what is lawful, engaging in trade, buying, and selling, allowing these practices to continue among them through lending."

"The magician among the Muslims is to be executed, but the magician among the disbelievers is not to be executed."

It was asked: "O Messenger of Allah ^{SWT}, why is the magician among the disbelievers not executed?"

He ^{saws} replied: "Because polytheism is greater than magic, and indeed, magic and polytheism are closely linked."

Hadith.4940 - It is narrated from Isma'il ibn Mihran, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from Jabir, from Sayyidah Zaynab bint Ali ^{s.a}, who said that Sayyidah Fatimah ^{s.a}, peace be upon them all stated in her sermon regarding Fadak:

"Allah ^{SWT} has placed upon you a covenant that He ^{SWT} advanced to you and a successor He ^{SWT} has appointed over you—the Book of Allah ^{SWT}. Its insights are clear, its signs are evident, its inner meanings are unveiled, and its proofs are manifest. It is a guide whose listening is continuous for creation, a leader whose followers are led to Allah's ^{SWT} pleasure, and it brings salvation to its adherents.

Within it are the explanations of Allah's ^{SWT} illuminated arguments, His ^{SWT} defined prohibitions, His ^{SWT} encouraged virtues, His ^{SWT} comprehensive instructions, His ^{SWT} granted allowances, and His ^{SWT} prescribed laws.

Allah ^{SWT} has obligated faith as purification from polytheism, prayer as a means of distancing from arrogance, zakat as an increase in sustenance, fasting as a clarification of sincerity, Hajj as a strengthening of religion, justice as a source of comfort for hearts, obedience as a system for the community, leadership (Imamate) as a means to unite the people, jihad as an honor for Islam, patience as aid in seeking rewards, enjoining good as a benefit for the public, honoring parents as protection from Allah's ^{SWT} anger, maintaining family ties as a cause for increasing progeny, legal retribution as a safeguard for blood, fulfilling vows as a path to forgiveness, giving full measure and weight as a safeguard against cheating, avoiding the slander of chaste women as protection from curse, abstaining from theft as a guarantee of chastity, and refraining from consuming the wealth of orphans as protection from injustice.

Justice in rulings ensures comfort for the subjects, and Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden polytheism to ensure sincerity in His Lordship ^{AZJ}.

So, 'Fear Allah ^{SWT} as He ^{SWT} should be feared' in what Allah ^{SWT} has commanded you and refrain from what He has prohibited you from."

[AL SADUQ]

And the sermon is lengthy, and we have taken from it what was necessary.

Hadith.4945 - Zurah ibn Muhammad al-Hadrami narrated from Samaah ibn Mihran, who said: I heard Imam {a.s} say: "Indeed, Allah {SWT}, Blessed and Exalted, has promised two punishments for consuming the wealth of an orphan.

One is the punishment in the Hereafter, which is the Fire, and the other is the punishment in this world, as stated by Allah {SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic: 'And let those fear (Allah {SWT}) who, if they left behind weak offspring, would be afraid for them. So let them fear Allah {SWT} and speak words of appropriate justice.' (Surah An-Nisa 4:9)

This means that one should fear that Allah {SWT} might deal with his own offspring as to what (wrong) he has done to these orphans."

Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s} entered the Sacred Mosque (Masjid al-Haram), and some people said: "Why don't you send one of you to ask him a question?"

So a young man from among them approached him and asked: "O uncle, what is the greatest of the major sins?"

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Drinking alcohol."

The young man returned and informed them.

They said to him (the boy): "Go back to him."

They persisted until he returned to Imam ^{a.s} and asked again.

The Imam ^{a.s} said:

"Did I not already tell you, O son of my brother, that it is drinking alcohol? Indeed, drinking alcohol leads its drinker to adultery, theft, the killing of a soul which Allah ^{SWT} has forbidden, and associating partners with Allah ^{SWT}. The consequences of alcohol surpass every sin, just as its tree rises above all other trees."

Hadith.4958 - Hisham ibn al-Hakam and Abu Basir narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} who said:

"There was a man in earlier times who sought worldly gains through lawful means but could not attain them. Then he sought them through unlawful means, yet still could not attain them.

So, Satan came to him and said: 'O man, you have sought the world through lawful means and could not obtain it, and you sought it through unlawful means and still could not obtain it. Shall I guide you to something that will increase your worldly gains and followers?'

The man replied: 'Yes.'

Satan said: 'Invent a new religion and call people to it.'

So, the man did so, and the people responded to him and obeyed him, and he gained from the world.

Then he reflected and said: 'What have I done? I invented a religion and called people to it. I see no repentance for me except that I go to those I invited and turn them away from it.'

So, he began approaching his followers, saying: 'What I invited you to was false, and I only invented it.'

But they responded, 'You are lying! It is the truth, but you have doubted your religion and abandoned it.'

When he saw this, he took a chain, fixed it to a peg, placed it around his neck, and said: 'I will not release it until Allah ^{SWT} accepts my repentance.'

Then Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic, revealed to a prophet from among the prophets:

'Say to so-and-so: By My ^{SWT} Might and My ^{SWT} Majesty, even if you call upon Me ^{SWT} until your limbs fall apart, I ^{SWT} will not respond to you until you return those who died upon what you called them to and turn them away from it.'

Hadith.4959 - Bakr ibn Muhammad al-Azdi narrated from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s} that Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said:

"Indeed, the one who harbors doubt and persists in disobedience is in the Fire; they are neither from us nor connected to us."

Hadith.4960 - In the narration of Abdullah ibn Maymun from Abu Abdullah Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s}, from his father, Imam Muhammad ibn Ali Al-Baqir ^{a.s}, from his forefathers (peace be upon them), it is reported that Imam ^{a.s} said:

"The adulterer has six traits, three in this world and three in the Hereafter.

As for those in this world: his face loses its brightness, he inherits poverty, and his destruction is hastened.

As for those in the Hereafter: the wrath of the Lord ^{AZJ}, a severe reckoning, and eternal residence in the Fire."

Hadith.4961 - Muhammad ibn Abi Umayr narrated from Ishaq ibn Hilal, from Abu Abdillah ^{a.s}, who said:

"Indeed, Commander of the Faithful ^{a.s} said: 'Shall I not inform you of the gravest form of adultery?'

They said: 'Yes.'

Imam ^{a.s} said: 'It is when a woman brings another man onto her husband's bed and bears a child from him, then attributes that child to her husband. That woman is the one whom Allah ^{SWT} will neither speak to nor look at on the Day of Judgment, nor will He ^{SWT} purify her, and for her is a painful punishment.'"

Hadith.4966 - Imam Jafar ibn Muhammad Al-Sadiq ^{a.s} was asked about the saying of Allah ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic:

"Indeed, Allah ^{SWT} does not forgive associating partners with Him, but He forgives what is less than that for whom He wills." (Surah An-Nisa 4:48)

Imam ^{a.s} was asked whether major sins are included in Allah's ^{SWT} will (to forgive).

Imam ^{a.s} replied: "Yes, that is up to Him ^{SWT}, the Mighty and Majestic. If He ^{SWT} wills, He ^{SWT} will punish for them, and if He ^{SWT} wills, He ^{SWT} will forgive."
